

BUCKNELL SAYS PROSPECTS GOOD

Coach Dickson Has Larger Squad, With Many Vets Back in Line.

Lewisburg, Pa., September 19.—Coach Dickson, of the Bucknell team, had thirty men on the field in uniform this afternoon. This is the largest squad that has been on the Bucknell campus for several years before the opening of school. Since Monday Dickson has been drilling the candidates morning and afternoon. Prospects appear unusually bright, as of last year's fast team the following are reported: Shafner, Feamer, Reading, Dunkle, White, Richardson, Hearn, Vandyne, White, and Jordan, Keyser, Lee-haucke, Gdnac and Cruikshank. A number of the promising new men who have appeared are: Hill, Williams, Beckler, Conway Hall, Luken, Northumberland, Hill, Bucknell Academy, Sanders and Kreon, Franklin High.

AMUSEMENTS.

Academy of Music—To-night and Saturday night and Saturday matinee, "The Rose Maid."
Bijou Theatre—To-night, Harrington Reynolds, in "The Angelus." Next week, "The Vampire."
Colonial Theatre—Vaudeville.
Empire Theatre—Vaudeville.
Little Theatre—Pictures and Songs.

A Liberal Education.

As usual Lyman H. Howe brought to the Academy yesterday for his annual engagement an entertainment which stamps him as the peer of all producers of events historical and otherwise, pictorially. His travels have become standardized. His audiences, those who are familiar with his methods and his offerings, appreciate the man and his endeavors. Those who regard him merely as a reproducer of ordinary films presenting ordinary things, however something to learn and are poor performers. For it is not alone in performance. For it is not alone in performance. For it is not alone in performance. For it is not alone in performance.

The present season's performance opens with views of the quaint and picturesque rivers of France and carries us into the beauties of that ever beautiful and historic country. Then follows a study of the chameleon, something interesting to all, but especially interesting to those of us who are interested in nature studies. A sky ride from Gotha to Düsseldorf, in Germany, puts us into the very heart of the country traveled. We see the curious houses, the elaborate castles and even get a glimpse of the natives. Just before the first intermission a little comedy is injected when "The Detective and the Rope" introduces a refractory cow. Charles, the City Beautiful, follows. It is hard to do justice to the views offered, they cover such a wide range. Any one seeing these views could never be a stranger in Paris, whether put down at the Hotel de Ville or lost beneath the massive arches of Eiffel Tower. One sees it all; the Pantheon, the Bourne, the Church of the Sacred Heart, the Hotel de Clugny, the Metropolitan Railway and Viaduct, the Petit Palais, the Hotel des Invalides, Napoleon's Tomb, the Place de la Concorde, where hundreds of heads, including those of Marie Antoinette and Louis XIV, fell beneath the guillotine during the Reign of Terror, the Church of the Madeleine, the Palace of Versailles, and in fact every point of interest in the great city. It is a grand trip.

Bob Burman winning his auto race on a half-mile track is also shown. Two additional animal studies, the first of bees in their daily task of gathering and depositing honey and the second of animals of all kinds, from the denizens of jungles to the family kind are likewise given.

But the crowning feature of the entertainment is the Burial of the Maine. Not a detail is left out. One sees the dead martyrs carried in their coffins from the Municipal Chambers, in Havana, to the Caballera Wharf. One watches the Cuban jockies as with bared heads they march, doing honor to the heroes. Admiral Sigbee and Chaplain Father Chadwick, together with President Gomez, of Cuba, are clearly seen in the line. It is an impressive and an inspiring scene, the Stars and Stripes floating grandly above the battleship North Carolina, as the burdens of sorrow are deposited on her decks to be transported to America. Finally the Maine is cast adrift. To see the goes, almost un-willingly, as if she knows that it is to be her last voyage. For a while she floats, but finally, with her colors flying, she dips at the bow and gradually settles in her last resting place. It brought one closer to the great tragedy which put two nations to war. Howe's Travel Festival is more than entertaining, it is education and less in those who fail to take advantage of the opportunity to see it.

Doctors Advise Tyroe's Powder for Women

Thousands of women are using various forms of antiseptics to prevent disease and safeguards to good health. Many such preparations in use are actually worthless, while others are positively dangerous, except when used under a physician's directions. Tyroe's Antiseptic Powder is absolutely safe to use, and has been recommended by physicians for more than twenty-one years. It is also the most economical germ-destroyer known, as a 25 cent package will make two gallons standard antiseptic solution. It dissolves instantly in water, and when used as a douche is unequalled. Being absolutely non-poisonous, it should be kept constantly on hand in a convenient form, and sold by druggists everywhere. Send for booklet and samples. J. E. Tyroe, Chemist, Washington, D. C.

GREAT DEMAND FOR DICTIONARIES

Coupon Clippers Refuse to Accept Any but the Best, and Interest Continues.

Attorney—Do you know the defendant's reputation for veracity?
Witness—I do. It is very good.
Attorney—Do you know what the word veracity means?
Witness—Sure. It's being a good business man.

This cross-examination occurred during a trial in a Western State, and the lawyers are laughing about it yet. It would never have occurred had the witness been the possessor of The New Websterian 1912 Dictionary, Illustrated.

Get a dictionary. You might be called upon as a character witness for a friend at any time. You owe it to yourself and your friends to be prepared for such emergencies.

Six consecutive coupons and a small expense bonus will secure the much-valued volume for you. This Dictionary is NOT published by the original publishers of Webster's Dictionary or by their successors.

It has been revised and brought up to the present date in accordance with the best authorities from the greatest universities, and is published by the well-known Syndicate Publishing Co., of New York City.

No home is a home and no office a real office without a dictionary. When you are unable to tell what a man is talking about you might just as well give up trying to do business. A knowledge of language is essential. When a man increases his vocabulary he has provided an asset greater than money. Money spent like water that once goes over the mill-wheel, does not come back, but a vocabulary may be used in getting the money back, and the money will buy more water.

Speaking of lawyers—a well-known attorney was overheard telling a friend in a street car that he would not take $4 for the New Websterian, Illustrated, which The Times-Dispatch presented to him.

MACK PICKS SOX TO WIN SERIES

Can't See Anything But Victory for Champs of Ban Johnson's League.

Philadelphia, September 19.—Baseball fans here were somewhat surprised to-day to learn that Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, had broken his hitherto invariable rule against making predictions, by picking the Boston Americans as the likely winners of the approaching world's series with the New York Nationals.

Here is Mack's opinion on the subject: "The Boston Red Sox should win the world's championship of 1912 with as much ease as we captured it in 1911. Some people seem to be under the impression that the Boston team is liable to waver when the big games are staged. But there is not a cub or youngster in the line-up. All are tried and true, and will go through the series without a quiver."
