

RACES MARK SECOND DAY CARD

Steeplechase Again Furnishes Only Thrill, When Two Riders Are Dismounted.

Featureless races marked the second day of the race meet at the Fair grounds yesterday. None of the thrills brought forth spectators from the crowd, which was by far the largest of any attending the second day since the establishment of the Fair. The day was ideal, and the track faster than on the opening day.

The only race which caused excitement was the steeplechase. Haines, riding Toplight, the favorite, was dismounted. A stable boy standing near mounted the horse and finished second, though he was disqualified. Jackson, on Lady Frances, also had a spill, but pluckily remounted, and was rewarded with second money for his efforts.

The banner card of the meet is offered for to-day. Two stake races—the 2:15 trot, for $1,000, and the 2:37 trot, for $2,000—will bring out fields of the best harness horses seen here in years. In addition, there will be three races on the flat and one over the hurdles. The races will begin at 11:30 o'clock.

The first event, a 2:20 pace, open, was won handsily by King Charlie in three straight heats, with Mary Ellen, a Washington horse, second, and Helen H. third. The fastest time of the race was made in the first heat—2:18 1-4.

Virginia Augusta, an added starter, after taking the first heat of the 2:15 trot, was outtraced by Prince Helice, the big bay, capturing the three succeeding heats and the race. Commissioner was an easy third, with Nellie McZeus taking third money.

Senegambian repeated for his owner, "Snapper" Garrison, by running away from a big field in the five and a half furlong dash, getting away in front and never being headed. Takahira, David Dunlop's horse, was second, with Agnes May third.

Amoret, the favorite, ran away with his field in the six-furlong dash, finishing far in front. Deduction took second money, and Marie third.

The steeplechase took the crowd and furnished the only thrills of the day. Toplight, the favorite, fell, throwing his rider, at the sixth jump. Lady Frances had the mount, regained his saddle and finished in the money. Toplight, ridden by a stable boy, finished second, but his rider failed to make weight and so was disqualified.

The last race on the card, over a mile and a sixteenth, was won in a drive by Hedge Rose, with the favorite, Royal Prince, close, and the mare's flanker, Rose F. and Little England, ran what looked like a dead heat, but third money was awarded Rose F.

NEW COACH FOR VIRGINIA'S TEAM

Dr. Maddux, Former End, Arrives to Help Speed Elliott Develop Eleven.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Four coaches looked after the Virginia football squad to-day, the new arrival being Dr. H. Cabell Maddux, U. S. Army, a former end of the Varsity eleven. Head Coach Elliott spending his time with the crowd and third team in quest of new linemen.

The first and second teams engaged in a half hour's light scrimmage, the regulars being given a few new plays. The second and third teams then went at it in earnest, competing only when it became too dark to play. Quarterback Haddock came away for a seventy-yard run and recovered. Haddock showed up well in the game.

Several injuries occurred in the usual practice, including Captain Todd, Coach Thomas and Haddock. A couple had their heads hurt, but the rest of the team was able to return to the field for the regular game at 3 o'clock.

Thousands Who Watched The Times-Dispatch Scoreboard Yell Frantically as Boston Wins.

The thousands of people who milled back and forth and took turns at keeping an eye on The Times-Dispatch electric score board yesterday afternoon were Red Sox rooters. There wasn't any doubt about that. There was big cheering to be sure, when New York took the lead, but when Boston put one over in the sixth, and three more in the seventh, the screaming and yelling was loud enough to terrify a deaf cat in Fulton.

The Giant followers came back in the ninth when Merkle scored on a grand double, and bedlam broke out again, but it wasn't a marker to the yell that went up when Crandall, the last man up, hit the air and ended the game.

From a scoreboard standpoint it was some game. Just as quickly as a play was made at the Polo Grounds that fact would be flashed, and a little electric bulb told what had happened. The lights danced all over the field, on and around the bases, while three set in a backed up by fast fielding, held the Phillies score throughout the game.

ALL WELL PLEASED WITH W. & L. SQUAD

Game With Western Maryland Shows Vast Improvement in Football Team.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lexington, Va., October 2.—The second game of the season on Wilson Field showed a marked improvement in the White and Blue team over the previous week's contest. The team was enabled to introduce nearly every phase of the game, and showed a better variety of plays than was possible in the first game. The score of 19 to 14, by which Western Maryland was defeated, is not really indicative of the relative strength of the two teams.

The first touchdown made by Western Maryland resulted after a series of penalties inflicted on the Washington and Lee team for offside playing, holding and using the hands in interference, which amounted to more than the actual gains made by the Maryland boys. The second touchdown came as a result of a long forward pass, with only ten seconds more to play, at a time when all of the regulars had been replaced by substitutes and Captain Miller was the only first team man in the line-up.

Stewart, the big left tackle, had his shoulder badly injured, and will possibly be out of the game for two weeks or more. Edwards, who scored the first touchdown, and whose amazing drives through the line was one of the features of the game, was also injured, but not seriously, and will not be kept from the line-up that faces Georgetown Saturday.

The game was marred by considerable wrangling, both sides frequently being penalized for offside plays and holdings. Variety, however, showed a decided improvement in form, fumbling not being as frequent as in the previous game, and the interference of the backs was much faster and more compact. The forward pass was worked to a great extent by both sides, Washington and Lee using it to advantage in a half dozen or more trials. Western Maryland offered a variety of trick plays, but on only two or three occasions were they enabled to gain with them. They were particularly good in executing the long "scissors" pass, at one time gaining about thirty yards by using it.

Only straight football was used by Washington and Lee, their principal gains being effected by wide end runs and line drives. Peoples was especially good in smashing through the line, on one occasion breaking through the line and running forty yards for a touchdown. Miles, Terry and Bone also tore off yard after yard when called on. Raftery played his usual heady game, and secured a beautiful drop kick from a difficult angle in the third quarter.

Francis played a steady game, his catching of forward passes being one of the decided features of the game. Barker, the guardian of the other extreme of the line, played his usual consistent game, while Hibbart also showed up well. The two big guards, Rogers and Captain Miller, and Moore, at center, allowed nothing to come through the centre of the line, and spilled many of the Western Maryland plays.

In the last quarter Coach Kelly allowed every member of the squad to get in the game, and several of the "scrubs" showed up in good form. The first three days of this week will be spent in secret practice, with a final scrimmage on Thursday. About twenty men will be taken to Georgetown, and Coach Kelly will make no prediction, he has several plays up his sleeve that are liable to prove surprises, and he is expecting, if his men remain in condition, to have the team make a creditable showing for themselves.

"Cannon Ball" Beahring, who has not been allowed to play in any game as yet, expects to be in such shape as to allow him to get in the game Saturday. With the exception of the injury to Stewart, the team is in good fighting trim, and it is with a feeling of confidence that they meet the first big struggle on the schedule.
