

ARRANGING PEACE WITH SOCIALISTS

Amicable Settlement of Serious Situation in Little Falls Promised.

HONORS ARE ABOUT EVEN

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Little Falls, N. Y., October 19.—A note of peace to-night came into the serious situation that has prevailed here during the past several days as a result of the arrest of a number of Socialist leaders, including Mayor George B. Lunn, of Schenectady, for addressing strikers in Clinton Park without permission, and the indications are that the clashing between the local authorities and the invading hosts will now end with honors about even.

It was finally agreed that the charges against Mayor Lunn and his companions in jail at Herkimer should be reduced from a charge of rioting to a charge of committing a misdemeanor, the case against them should be continued until next Tuesday, and that in the meantime they should be paroled.

Mayor Lunn, however, insisted that Charles Edwards Russell, Socialist candidate for Governor, should have the privilege of addressing the strikers in Clinton Park Monday next, and the Little Falls authorities made this concession to the Schenectady executive.

The truce between the Socialists and the local authorities is expected to develop into complete peace, and it is improbable there will be further trouble.

Major Lunn and his wife and the seven Socialists who for the past two nights occupied cells in the Herkimer County jail with the Schenectady executive returned home to-night while a crowd of many hundreds gathered at the railroad station and cheered their departure.

The day that brought peace in a very menacing situation was filled with dramatic episodes. The first was the arrest of Dr. Algernon Craspey, the former Episcopal minister, as with the Bible in hand he attempted to read the sermon on the Mount to a crowd of strikers in Clinton Park.

(Advertisement.) Of $50 or serve fifty days in jail by Recorder Collins this afternoon. The recorder found Bakaman guilty of blocking a public highway and refusing to move on when ordered to do so.

A few minutes before the truce was passed up, Mayor Lunn and Chief of Police Long had an exciting encounter in Recorder Collins's court. Hot words passed between them, and to a remark by Chief Long, Mayor Lunn shouted, "You are a liar." The court was in an uproar in a moment, but quiet was finally restored, and as the case proceeded Chief Long remarked, plainly audible throughout the court, "You big, red slob, your day is doomed."

TWO NEGROES SHOT

Wagon Man First Hit, So Assaulted From Second Bullet. Eugene Winston and Joe Smith, both colored, were shot last night by a negro said to be Bennie Braxton, who escaped. The shooting took place at Seventeenth and Clay Streets. Braxton is said to have quarreled with Winston and opened fire on him. His aim was poor, and his bullet struck Smith. Not disturbed when he saw Smith fall, Braxton again aimed at Winston, and despite the fact that the latter had taken to his heels he fired a second time and was successful. Both men were shot through the thigh. They were treated by Dr. H. T. Hawkins, City Hospital ambulance surgeon, who said their condition was not serious. A warrant for the arrest of Braxton was sworn out.

Reports Horse Stolen. W. F. Drinkard, of 423 1-2 North Sixth Street, yesterday reported to the police that his stable, in the rear of 521 North Fourth Street, was entered some time during the night and a bay horse stolen. There was no clue to the identity of the thief.

Wanted for Forger. The Richmond police were yesterday asked to look for F. W. McNeilson, alias Nelson, who is wanted in Fredericksburg on a forgery charge.

PREPARED ATTACK NOT MADE PUBLIC

Carnegie Withholds It When He Hears of Roosevelt's Injury.

NEWS HORRIFIES HIM

Admires the Colonel, Although Not Agreeing With Him Politically.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) New York, October 19.—Andrew Carnegie returned from his highland home, Skibo, to-day, on the White Star liner Baltic, and although he had prepared a long statement attacking Colonel Roosevelt, when he saw the ship news reporters in his stateroom he raised his hands and cried: "Terrible, terrible."

He'd heard the news about the Roosevelt shooting by wireless. "It was a terrible shock," he said. "I have always admired Colonel Roosevelt individually, although I don't agree with him politically, and the news has horrified me. He is, as I have always known, honest and sincere and patriotic."

The Laird of Skibo also admires Emperor William. "I'm democratic," he said, "and I don't worship the crowned heads, but I like Emperor William. I like the stand he has taken on temperance. He is a fine character."

Asked what he thought of the Balkan situation, he said it was to be deplored, but was not surprising. "There'll always be trouble from that quarter," said Mr. Carnegie, "unless the powers take up the subject and settle it once for all. Let's hope this will be the last of wars."

Mr. Carnegie said in connection with his eulogy on Emperor William that he has always been temperate, but that he takes a dram of whiskey now and then when his doctor orders it. He showed a diminutive silver flask of Scotch.

With Mr. Carnegie came Mrs. Carnegie and Miss Carnegie. They have been abroad since May. Mrs. Alex Tweedie, of London, arrived on the Baltic. Mrs. Tweedie is the author of a life of Frodo Diaz, and when she was told that the aged ex-President's nephew, Colonel Diaz, is attacking Madero, she was very much interested. "Colonel Diaz is a competent man in every way," she said. "He has much of the temperament and force of his uncle. Four months ago I visited the latter. He is living in two rooms in a little hotel in Paris. He has no money and they are living a simple life and are very proud of their poverty. Despite his eighty-two years he is yet vigorous, although he is deaf in one of his ears. He is very unhappy over the condition of Mexico. They have never had a moment of peace since he left Mexico."

WILL ADOPT PLAN OF UNIFICATION

Louisville, Ky., October 19.—Unification of all the missionary, benevolent and philanthropic activities of the Christian churches in this country and Canada, and administration of these movements by one central organization was decided upon here to-day by delegates to the International Convention of Disciples of Christ.

Having once decided a question that has been debated for nearly half a century, the delegates lost no time in beginning to make that decision effective. Tentative examination was adopted and eight members of a committee of fifteen named to look after the preliminary work. The other seven will be named by the seven organizations which are to participate in the unification.

WM. ROCKEFELLER WILL BE WITNESS

House Committee Wants to Hear What He Knows About Money Trust. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Washington, October 19.—Charles E. Smith, sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives, went to New York to-day to serve a subpoena on William Rockefeller to appear before the House committee investigating the money trust.

As amusing story was being told around the Capitol to-day of an unsuccessful effort to subpoena Mr. Rockefeller. It appears that a policeman who is on the Capitol Hill and resides in Brooklyn, was going home for vacation and suggested that if given a special commission as an assistant sergeant-at-arms of the House he would combine business and pleasure, and while enjoying vacation could at the same time serve the oil man with the subpoena. As the days went by and the Brooklyn man did not return the papers served, inquiries were made to him. The reply came back that Mr. Rockefeller was ill and he couldn't see him. Finally the sergeant-at-arms, under direction of the committee, decided that the man required his personal attention.

Man Nearly Bleeds to Death When Struck in the Street. J. E. Southward, of 298 Orleans Street, Fulton, almost bled to death yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock, when a vein in his left leg was ruptured as he was walking through Main Street at Seventeenth. Dr. H. T. Hawkins, City Hospital ambulance surgeon, responded to an emergency call. When he arrived he found Southward weak from the loss of blood. The flow was speedily stopped and Southward removed to his home. Had it not been for quick treatment, it was said, the man would have died.
