

Lingerie Blouses; Special

Voile and Batiste $2.98 Fifteen Pretty Models Copies of $5 Blouses

In addition to the six models illustrated, there are fourteen other styles equally dainty, pretty and modish. Sizes, 34 to 44.

All the smartest features of the new season's blouse fashions are cleverly introduced in these models. The three-quarter length sleeves, the new wide flat collars, the pleated frills, the hemstitched borders of tinted voile, the light Bulgarian embroideries—novel notes characteristic of the season's best styles—have been copied from models by the leading French and American designers.

Materials—Of voile and batiste. Collars and cuffs—Sailor, turn-back, French, square and round styles. Sleeves—Three-quarter and long. Buttons—Of white and colored glass. Yokes—Of colored embroidery and net, designed in Val.

Third Floor.

Where Fourth Street Meets Broad

The Store of To-Day and To-Morrow.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Wharton L. Donaldson, who have been guests of Judge and Mrs. R. Carter Scott here, left town Saturday for their home in Pittsburgh, Pa. A number of delightful affairs were given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson during their stay here, notable among which was a luncheon at the Westmoreland Club on Friday, at which Mr. and Mrs. John G. Farland were hosts. The table was decorated with a silver vase of American Beauty roses, and bouquets of sweet peas marked the places of the guests present. Mr. and Mrs. Farland and their guests at luncheon, Judge and Mrs. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson and Miss Fanny Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson were also entertained at a tea given at the Country Club of Virginia and were guests at dinner of the Misses Hobson.

Returning to School. Miss Alice Reid and her guests, Misses Beattie Shinn, Pleasure and Emily Lawton, who have been spending their Easter vacation here, will leave today for Springside, Chestnut Hill, near Philadelphia, where they will resume their studies. Miss Anne Roy Johnston, Miss Margaret Bellows and Miss Anne Valentine also return to Springside today.

Miss Martha Valentine, who is a student at Lakewood, N. J., will return to school today, after having spent some time here with her mother, Mrs. Walter S. Smith. Miss Alice Blair and Miss Nell Wise are returning to Oldfields, near Baltimore, today.

Miss Virginia Chesterman, who is a student at Phillips College, left town week for school, after spending Easter in Richmond.

At Woman's Club. William H. Meredith will deliver an address on "Arbitration" at the Woman's Club to-night at 8:30 o'clock. Instead of this afternoon, as previously announced. Members have the privilege of inviting their guests.

Younger Set Entertained. Miss Frances H. Scott gave a box party at the Academy of Music on Friday evening to witness the performance of "A Daughter of Heaven." Miss Scott's guests included a number of the younger boys and girls, who are spending their Easter vacation in Richmond.

Recent Affairs. A very pretty dinner given last week.

Woman's Suffrage. If women were called upon to register their votes at the most satisfactory flour for all purposes the plurality of ballots would read Dunlop Flour.

Made in Richmond. Used for Generations. Makes Everything. Sold on 4 Continents. The Dunlop Mills, Richmond, Va.

REINACH, Inc. 107 E. BROAD STREET MILLINERY—Women's and Misses' Outer Apparel. Shades to Order at Ryan-Smiths. The Low Profit Policy Store. Stiff Pianos. And Players—the most made, at makers' prices.

clusive society in New York, and is attracting the greatest attention and notice in the fashionable Kalkreuth bocker set there.

Marriage Announced. Mr. and Mrs. David Straus have announced the marriage of their daughter, Estelle, to Louis Jandorf, of Baltimore. The ceremony took place on Wednesday, March 26.

Program for Tuesday. The program for the organ recital to be given at the Church of the Covenant to-morrow evening by James Womble, organist of the First English Lutheran Church, follows:

- 1. Suite Gothique. Boellmann
2. Anthem, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." Williams
Miss Caroline Bragg, John G. Womble, Mrs. N. P. Norris, soloists.
3. (a) Berceuse. Read
(b) Gondoliers. Nevin
4. Solo, "In Verdure Glad." Haydn
5. Minuet. Guilman
6. (a) Elegy. Coleridge Taylor
(b) Arietta.
7. Anthem, "As It Began to Dawn." Foster
Mrs. E. L. Norton, Horace Powell, soloists.
8. (a) Eloquent. Smith
(b) Romance from "Tannhauser." Wagner
9. Anthem, "O Day of Love Eternal." Bartlett
Mrs. E. L. Norton, soloist.
10. Jubilate. Silver

Leaving Town. Mrs. W. Keith Mitterdorf, of New York, who has been visiting Miss Mary Spence at the Hanover, left Saturday to spend a short time with her mother, Mrs. Lewis Borchers, at her home, "Edmore," near Charlottesville. Mrs. Mitterdorf will return to New York in a few days.

The Misses Bouldin, of Baltimore, who have been spending the winter at the Jefferson Hotel here, left town last week for Atlanta. They will spend the spring season in Atlanta before returning to their home in Baltimore.

Doules—Montgomery. Mrs. Minnie B. Montgomery, of 1718 Grove Avenue, announces the marriage of her daughter, Sarah Elizabeth, to James Arthur Douglas, also of this city. The marriage took place in Washington on Tuesday, March 25. After an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Douglas will return to Richmond, where they expect to make their home.

Meetings To-Day. Mrs. Clarence G. Burton, State president of the King's Daughters, has issued a call for a meeting of the members of all circles of the King's Daughters in the city working for the Sheltering Arms Free Hospital to meet at the hospital this morning at 10 o'clock in the interest of the entertainment, "Angels in April," to be given for the hospital on April 15 and 16 at the Academy of Music. All members of circles who can attend are requested to do so. St. John's Circle of King's Daughters will hold a very important meeting this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. T. Hancock, 2701 East Grace Street, at 4 o'clock. This will be the last regular meeting before the entertainment to be given for the hospital on April 15 and 16 at the Academy of Music.

In and Out of Town. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Scott and their children are returning today from a short visit to "Royal Orchard," in Albemarle.

Miss Mary Tomlin Anderson, of this city, is spending some time in Baltimore.

Health Hints for Women. Tyro's Antiseptic Powder contains no poisons. Better than any other powder for the face. The ideal household germicide of wash, etc. and $1.00. All druggists. Booklet and sample free.

J. S. TYROE, Chemist, Washington, D. C.

WE MAKE A SPECIALTY of packing household goods and china for shipment.

Rountree-Sutherland-Cherry Corporation. Use Pratt's Astral Oil for Incubators.

N. Klein & Son, Inc. 620 East Broad. See Our 1913 Patterns of GO-CARTS and CARRIAGES.

Rothert & Co. Fourth and Broad. Sample Shoes, Half Price.

ALBERT STEIN KING OF SHOES, Corner 5th and Broad.

DETROIT GAS RANGES. ALASKA REFRIGERATORS. OLD HICKORY FURNITURE. SOLD ONLY BY

JURGENS. The English flat last, for men and women; tans and gumshoes. $5.50 and $4.00. Regular $5.00 values.

Hohelmer's. Northwest Corner Third and Broad. HAVE YOU SEEN THE New Method Gas Ranges

PETTIT & CO.'S? GOOD YEAR FOR MENHADEN. Experienced Fishermen Base Prediction on Infallible Sign.

THE FREED CO. 91 EAST BROAD STREET. The Latest in Ice Cream and Cakes from Shepherd's New Factory 2008 W. Broad St. Call Md. 7148 trimmed with silk frogs; $1.50 value, 98c. Good large cut cambric Night Robes, low neck, 50c.

Men's Fine Cambric and Madras Pajamas

more, where she is the guest of relatives.

Miss Margo Schull, who has been the guest of Miss Nancy Perkins here for a week at the residence of her home in Philadelphia.

Miss Josephine Pinckney, who was one of the bridesmaids at the Smith wedding, has returned to her home in Charleston, S. C.

Miss Ida Blankenship, of Roanoke, who has been the guest of Miss Elise Wilson, at Crewe, for two weeks, returned to her home last week, accompanied by Mrs. Herbert Wilson.

Thomas Atkinson, Jr., has returned to Richmond after a short stay at "Rocklands," the Atkinson estate, near Gordonsville.

Miss Martha Purcell has returned to Richmond after spending a week at the home of Miss Jennie at the University of Virginia.

Miss Marion Ryland has been the recent guest of Dr. W. L. Broadus at his home in Bowling Green.

Miss Phyllis Jones, who has been visiting Miss Margaret Minor at "Gale Hill," Albemarle County, has returned to the city.

Mrs. J. W. Lowell, of this city, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Saunders, at her home in Roanoke.

Miss Mollie Wallace has returned to her home in Caroline County, after a visit to Mrs. T. B. Gill here.

Oscar Franz, of Gordonsville, has been the recent guest of relatives in this city.

Mrs. L. N. Vaughan, who spent the winter in California, will shortly return to Virginia and open her home, "Pasadena," near Ashland.

Mrs. John Knapp, of West Point, spent several days with relatives in Richmond last week.

Mrs. R. H. Cobbs has returned to Blackstone, after spending Easter with her sister, Mrs. R. K. Barnes, in this city.

Misses Sallie and Annie Braxton, of Fredericksburg, attended the opening of the John Marshall House here on Friday.

Miss Katherine Scott has returned to her home here, after a visit to friends in Gordonsville.

Dr. Walter M. Brunet, of Petersburg, Va., who was called home on account of his mother's illness, has returned to New York.

ASHLAND NEWS NOTES. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Ashland, Va., March 30.—Mrs. J. N. Vaughan has returned from California, where she spent the winter with relatives.

Mrs. Frank Day left Saturday for Baltimore to visit her sister, Mrs. Edward Day.

Dr. Hatcher and Dr. R. E. Blackwell, of Randolph-Macon College, are in Staunton attending the Baltimore Conference.

Miss Mary Lee Bennett is the weekend guest of Miss Boggs.

Mrs. B. Morgan Shepherd has returned from a delightful visit to Mrs. R. W. W. of Charlottesville.

Robert W. Marve, of Norfolk, was the recent guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. W. Marve.

Miss R. Augusta Nixon has returned from Claremont, where she was the guest of relatives.

Fred Prosser, who was recently operated on at Johnston-Willis Hospital, is rapidly recovering and will visit his sister, Mrs. B. M. Shepherd, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Daniels have returned to their home at Cape Charles, after spending Easter at the Henry Clay Inn.

Mrs. Ralph Lee and children, of Claremont are visiting Mrs. H. C. Scott.

DAUGHTER SUCCEEDS TO HIS VISCOUNTY

Addition to Great Britain's Peeresses Caused by Death of Lord Wolseley.

BY LA MARQUESE DE FONTENOY. GREAT BRITAIN'S peeresses in their own right have received an accession to their numbers, through the death of Field Marshal Lord Wolseley, whose only child, a daughter some forty years of age, now succeeds to his viscounty. There is only one other viscountess in her own right, namely, the venerable Lady Hambleden who was raised to the peerage for the services rendered to the government by her husband, William Henry Smith, who died as first lord of the Treasury, as governing member of the House of Commons, and as one of the leading orators of his time. At her death the viscounty of Hambleden will pass to her only son, the Hon. William F. D. Smith, who represented Devonshire for many years, and with her high forehead, thoughtful gray eyes and simply-dressed brown hair, is a typical Englishwoman. Her favorite pastime is the collection of book-plates, in which she has been engaged ever since her tenth year. Other of her treasures consist of a gold chaineau worn by George IV., crystal balls fired from cannon by the Sepoy rebels at Lucknow, and collected by her father and the other soldiers among whom they fell, and last, but not least, the final letter received from General "Chinns" Gordon. It is a simple little scrap of paper, bearing in Gordon's familiar handwriting the words, "Khartoum all right 10, 12, 24, C. E. Gordon." By the time that this letter had reached Lord Wolseley at Korti, on the Nile, sewn in the hem of an Arab messenger's garment, Khartoum had fallen.

A very serious question remains as to whether Lady Wolseley will find that she has sufficient money on which to support her peerage. For when the government bestowed it upon her father it refrained from endowing the peerage with an annuity of $10,000 for her own life and for that of the next holders of the peerage, as had been done in the case of other Scottish soldiers, and caused Parliament to vote to him, in lieu thereof, two grants of money amounting together to the sum of a quarter of a million dollars.

Though so clever as a soldier and so able as a military organizer, Wolseley was not a good business man. He was so unfortunate in his investments that he is credited with having lost all the money comprised in the parliamentary grant, and some years ago was forced by financial stress to sell his charming country seat at Glynde, in Sussex, and all the treasures with which he had surrounded himself there, comprising many valuable engravings, paintings, fine old furniture, and above all, many beautiful specimens of Sevres, Crown Derby, and Old Staffordshire china.

However, he had his pay as a field marshal, as well as certain other military allowances, on which to live, in addition to which King Edward, when he heard of the reverse of the field marshal, placed at his disposal one of the best suites of apartments in Hampton Court Palace, where he was able to reside at a comfortable and well-provided by the crown. The field marshal's widow and daughter will, of course, be permitted to retain these apartments. But now that the field marshal's emoluments have ceased, they will have little enough on which to live.

Fortunately, the new Viscountess Wolseley is a very clever woman, with a taste of initiative, and for the past two or three years has been earning her own living by the foundation and maintenance of a college of gardening for lady gardeners, and which is doing exceedingly well. There are in England—this land of the "gentlemanly" country homes, both great and small—many number of gently reared women who are glad to pay for tuition of this sort, in order to be able to either control and direct the garden on their employ, or to cultivate the garden themselves when their means do not allow them to keep a gardener.

Viscountess Wolseley, who is the active principal of this college, is half Canadian. For her mother is a daughter of A. A. Erskine, of Ottawa, and married Lord Wolseley when he was stationed in Canada, at the time of the Red River expedition. If the new Lady Wolseley, who was a particular favorite of the late Queen Victoria, remains unmarried, the viscounty will become extinct at her death; whereas if she marries it will descend to her son, though not to her daughter. If she marries, the viscounty will descend to her son, though not to her daughter. If she marries, the viscounty will descend to her son, though not to her daughter.

The head of the Wolseley family is not the viscountess, but Sir Charles Michael Wolseley, of Wolseley Hall, in Staffordshire, and who is married to a Canadian. For her mother is a daughter of A. A. Erskine, of Ottawa, and married Lord Wolseley when he was stationed in Canada, at the time of the Red River expedition. If the new Lady Wolseley, who was a particular favorite of the late Queen Victoria, remains unmarried, the viscounty will become extinct at her death; whereas if she marries it will descend to her son, though not to her daughter. If she marries, the viscounty will descend to her son, though not to her daughter.

Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

NERVOUS? All run down? Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a strong nerve tonic. No alcohol. Sold for 60 years. Ask Your Doctor.

GALESKI SUCTION EYEGLASSES. our own design, when adjusted by us, are the acme of eyeglass comfort. Neat in design, secure, comfortable and durable, they are the nearest to eyeglass perfection that has yet been attained.

If your glasses give trouble, see us about this mounting. The S. GALESKI Optical Co. Main and 8th Sts. KODAK Headquarters 223 E. Broad St.

onticello Is Radio-Active. Dreyfus. "Specialists in Apparel for Women." Broad at Second.

To avoid substitution is as essential as to avoid error. We never substitute at Tragle's. The House of Fashion Bernard Frances & Co. Broad and Fifth Sts.

J. B. Mosby & Co. Special Sale of Wash Goods To-Day.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

MANY GATHERINGS ARE SCHEDULED. Religious Conferences and Meetings to Be Held by Different Bodies During Summer. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Asheville, N. C., March 30.—Many conferences and religious gatherings have been scheduled for the coming summer at Montreat, Ridgecrest, the Blue Ridge Association Building at Black Mountain, and the Methodist assembly grounds, at Waynesville. The largest of these conventions will be the laymen's missionary movement at the latter place, which will be started June 25. It will last a week, and the attendance of the delegates is expected to reach 4,500. Work on the grounds and buildings on the assembly grounds is being pushed to completion. Other conventions have been arranged for Waynesville for the three weeks immediately following the laymen's meeting, which will be attended by delegates from all sections of the South.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their place of residence was in the flooded district of Dayton, and the fact that no news has been received from them has caused grave apprehensions. Charles Mercer, head of the Mercer family, was in Roanoke when the flood came, but is now in the flooded district hunting for his family.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS. Several Bristol Families in Dayton at Time of Flood. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bristol, Va., March 30.—There has been much interest among Bristol families who have relatives in the flooded territory in Ohio and Indiana. Several Bristol families were in Dayton at the time of the flood, and thus far have a few of them have been heard from. Sidney Wade wired to his mother that he was safe. Mrs. John H. Dickey, Jr., has been advised that her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Biggs, and her sister, Miss Mary Pemberton, both formerly of this county, are safe, but nothing has been heard from Charles Mercer and Will and Frank Kelly, sons of S. L. Kelly, of Bristol. The Mercer family, consisting of Mrs. J. Mercer and several children, and the two Kelly boys, went from here to Dayton a few weeks ago. Their