FOUR MEN INJURED IN TWO ACCIDENTS

Heavy Piece of Iron Falls Twice, and Each Time Catches Workmen—One Badly Hurt.

Four men were hurt, one seriously, yesterday when they were caught beneath a heavy piece of iron which was being used in the construction of the foundation for a powerhouse of the Old Dominion Iron and Nail Works Company, on Eads Isle.

During the forenoon J. C. McLean, of 1604 North Twenty-eighth Street, and A. J. Lancaster, of 3214 Taylor Street, were injured when the iron fell upon them. They were taken to the hospital for treatment by Dr. M. L. Boyle, Jr., City Hospital ambulance surgeon, and removed to their homes. McLean was hurt about the head, while Lancaster was badly bruised about the ankle.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Boyle was again called to Belle Isle. He found that L. A. Beasley, of Twenty-eighth and Clay Streets, and P. C. Bradley, of 1417 North Twenty-ninth Street, had been injured in a similar manner. The iron had again been set in place and had tumbled upon them.

Beasley had sustained a fractured spine and four or five broken ribs, besides numerous contusions and lacerations. He was removed to the City Hospital. Bradley, who was hurt about the back, was taken to his home.

The iron which injured the workmen was being used in connection with the construction of reinforced concrete.

Negro Robbed of $7.

Auto Truck and Car Collide.

An automobile truck of the Texas Oil Company and a car of the Richmond and Henric Railway collided yesterday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock at Second and Baker Streets. Both were damaged, but no one was hurt.

DRINKS INDELIBLE INK.

Captain Trevilian Swallows It by Mistake for Medicine.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Williamsburg, Va., January 1.—Captain Charles B. Trevilian, storekeeper at the Eastern State Hospital, and a brother of the late Dr. John G. Trevilian of Richmond, had a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon when he took, by mistake a large dose of indelible ink. Captain Trevilian had been taking medicine for several days when he took the ink. He had been swallowing the medicine in capsules, and had washed out the poison. Captain Trevilian, except for the weakness following heroic treatment, is none the worse for his experience. Captain Trevilian, who is now past seventy-five years of age, won his title in the Confederate Army, his company being from his native County of New Kent.

STRAUS TO JOIN FEDERAL BUREAU

Leaves for Detroit to Do Research Work in Causes of Diphtheria.

City Bacteriologist Aubrey H. Straus leaves to-morrow for Detroit, Mich., where he will be attached for the next few months to a Federal health bureau recently established in that city, to conduct special researches in diphtheria, typhoid and other diseases.

During his absence from the city, the office will be filled by Dr. S. W. Budd, instructor in pathology in the Medical College of Virginia. Dr. Budd is a graduate of Johns-Hopkins University, and has had considerable bacteriological experience.

The government will keep a special staff of experts at Detroit for the next few months, and Mr. Straus will work under the direction of Dr. Joseph Goldberger, of the Federal Health Service, who was dispatched to that city about six weeks ago, when it was threatened by a diphtheria epidemic.

An investigation conducted by Dr. Goldberger revealed negligence in the case of Detroit's city bacteriologist. Dr. Goldberger blamed the spread of diphtheria to the lax administration of that office, and upon his recommendation the resignation of Detroit's city bacteriologist was called for. The city and the Federal authorities joined forces, and succeeded in getting the diphtheria epidemic under control.

It was with an idea chiefly of preventing similar outbreaks in other cities of the country that the Federal Health Service decided to establish at Detroit a special bureau for investigation into the causes leading to general outbreaks of diphtheria. The bureau will employ a corps of experts including two bacteriologists, of whom Mr. Straus will be one. The research work will be conducted in one of the large laboratories of the Parke Davis Company.

JACKSON DAY ON MAY 1

State and City Asked to Aid in Erecting Equestrian Memorial.

At a meeting of the officers and members of the board of directors of the Stonewall Jackson Monument Corporation, held on Wednesday afternoon, it was determined to observe May 1, 1914, as Stonewall Jackson Day, on which contributions toward the cost of the monument will be solicited.

General Jackson will be asked through the State and the South. Contributions to the monument fund have been coming in steadily, including during the past week $100 from Strasburg, $25 from Frontsville, $25 from Amelia, and a number of personal contributions from Richmond and Baltimore.

The association now has about $3,000 of interest in bank. It is the hope of the directors that both the State of Virginia and the city of Richmond will make liberal contributions to the monument fund, so that the purpose may be accomplished at an early date. E. D. Hotchkiss, treasurer of the association, First National Bank Building, Richmond, will promptly acknowledge all gifts from individuals or from associations or veteran camps.

Says He Did It for Fun.

William Merritt, a young white man, was arrested yesterday morning by the Henric police on two warrants, one of which charged with the theft of a horse, a buggy and a set of harness. The horse is owned by James West and the vehicle by E. D. Merritt. It is said to have been drunk when the alleged offense was committed, and claims that the outfit was taken in a spirit of fun.

NEW BUDGET WILL CARRY $3,500,000

Crenshaw Completes Tentative Draft, Which Goes to Council on Monday.

EFFECTIVE IN FEBRUARY

Appropriation Bill to Become Law One Month Earlier Than Last Year.

Acting Auditor George S. Crenshaw has completed the tentative draft of the city's 1914 budget, and will present the appropriation ordinance to the Common Council at its meeting on Monday night. It carries appropriations aggregating $3,500,000, and practically disposes of all the estimated revenues for this year.

The trimming of the tentative budget into proper shape for enactment into law will be the Council's chief activity for the next five or six weeks. The Finance Committee will put the machinery in motion to-night by setting the dates for a series of public hearings, which the department heads and city officials will be given opportunity to appear before the budget makers, and set forth their most pressing needs. It will probably appoint to-night, also, the special budget subcommittee which will undertake the task of framing the appropriation ordinance.

Estimates Aggregate $7,000,000.

A table of budget wants for the year 1914 for each of the city departments has been in the hands of Mr. Crenshaw for two weeks or more. The sum total of the estimates at all the departments is in the neighborhood of $7,000,000—about twice the sum that is available for appropriations. The estimates, however, are only slightly in excess of those submitted last year, and the ratio between the money asked for and the money available remains about the same.

The earlier departmental estimates this year will make possible the passing of the appropriation ordinance about one month earlier. The tentative appropriation bill will go to the Common Council on Monday night, and will, under the rules, be referred by it to the Finance Committee.

Upon the extent and number of the hearings in the Finance Committee will depend the date upon which the 1914 appropriations will become available. It is expected that the Finance Committee will be ready to report the finished ordinance by the time the Common Council meets in February. Unless anticipated objection arises in that body, the bill will go to the Board of Aldermen a week later, and will probably become law before the middle of next month. Last year the appropriation ordinance became effective about March 10.

Has About $3,500,000.

According to estimates made by Acting Auditor Crenshaw, the city will have available for the 1914 budget about $3,500,000. The sum is slightly in excess of the appropriations for all purposes in 1913, which aggregated $3,477,035.95. Under the recent decision of the State Corporation Commission, declaring the rolling-stock tax unconstitutional, the city would retain this year the taxes which would otherwise be divided between several counties of the State.

The saving of the rolling-stock tax, it appears, is not assured, and will not be available for the 1914 budget. There is a possibility that the law may be held constitutional by the State Supreme Court.

R. F. & P. Helps.

Offsetting the $110,000 rolling-stock tax loss from this year's budget is a new source of revenue from the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company, which, under the recent tax adjustment, will pay taxes to the city this year amounting to $12,500. To this amount will be added this year also $100,000 in back taxes from the same source.

In view of the big crimp in the city's bankroll caused by the withdrawal of the rolling-stock tax, the budget shows a deficit of $43,341, as compared with the $25,000 surplus of the aggregate of the appropriations in 1913, and this, despite the fact that the revenues suffered a setback, measured by the withdrawal of the rolling-stock tax, and the gain from the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company.

Mr. Crenshaw estimates that the increased in property values eligible for taxation for the benefit of the 1914 budget, will be about $2,000,000. At the present tax rate the new property will yield about $42,000.

BUTTON LEADS TO ARREST OF NEGRO

Man Now Under Arrest Said by Police to Be "King of Chicken Thieves."

Alexander Venable, colored, said by the police to be the "king of the chicken thieves," was arrested yesterday by Detectives Bertucci and Tiller. Venable, who has been arrested many times for the same offense, faces two charges of housebreaking. He is alleged to have twice broken into the chicken house of J. Brown, of 100 North Twentieth Street. In one warrant he is charged with stealing two geese, and in the second, with stealing two geese and three chickens.

Venable's arrest was brought about by means of a button. When the robbery was reported, Tiller and Bertucci were detailed on the case. Upon searching the hen house they discovered a button lying upon the floor. Bertucci saved it. Knowing that Venable had a reputation as a chicken thief he sought him, and found him at work in a factory. Questioning concerning the robbery, the negro denied knowledge of a button was missing from his coat, and when he found that the one he had picked up in Brown's hen house was like the others on the negro's jacket he took him in custody.

In addition to the regular lectures, the chairman announced that Judge Walter Clark, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, will speak at a public meeting on January 13, at 8 o'clock, on the subject, "The Legal Status of Woman."

Mrs. Valentine made a very inspiring address, and urged the members for renewed activity during the coming year. Mrs. Boshart paid an enthusiastic tribute to the president and to the retiring officers, and expressed her appreciation to Miss Mary Johnston for her great work in the league was carried out so ably.

A New Year's reception followed, at which tea was served.

CANNOT ACCEPT CAROLINA OFFER

Dr. Mitchell Forced to Decline Position With Baptist Education Board.

Because of the far-reaching importance of the plans now in hand for consolidating the medical schools of Virginia, President S. C. Mitchell, of the Medical College of Virginia, said last night that he could not accept an offer extended him to become head of the Education Board of the Baptist State Convention of South Carolina. Dr. Mitchell said that that board was doing a large and useful work, and he greatly appreciated its thought of him, but under no circumstances would he consent to give up a work just inaugurated, and which already promises so much benefit to Richmond and to the South, as well as to the cause of medical education here in the State.

Dr. Mitchell, for many years a professor in Richmond College, was for four years president of the University of South Carolina. He came back to Richmond last summer as president of the Medical College of Virginia, following the consolidation of the local medical schools. He received yesterday letters informing him of his election to the position, and he declined to accept it.

Dr. Mitchell said that he had not been asked that he give the matter consideration. "It is a large work," said Dr. Mitchell, "but not one that appeals to me like the task now before the medical college of bringing all parties interested in medical education in this State together in the building of a really great school. We have launched a great movement, which promises much for Richmond and for the State, and I feel that all of my energies are engaged in this matter until it is consummated."

Letters and telegrams in regard to the position have been received by Dr. Mitchell from Rev. Z. T. Cody, of Greenville; Rev. Howard Lee Jones, of Charleston; and Rev. Louis J. Bristol, of Abbeville, S. C. The board of the Baptist Education Board that he return to South Carolina. It was due to these men, Dr. Mitchell said, that he give the matter some consideration, but he had not been asked to do so.

Now before the medical college there was no likelihood whatever of his acceptance.

POLICE DOCKET SMALL

Only Thirteen Offenders Face Justice in Criminal Court Yesterday.

Thirteen prisoners facing Police Justice Crutcher yesterday morning, causing surprise among the officers of the Police Department. This was given as proof that Richmond observed New Year's Eve without disorder, which has been customary in the past, causing on January 1 more than 100 arrests in the city.

Justice John disposed of the cases in a few minutes. Joseph Courtney, colored, was convicted of stealing a barrel of flour, valued at $10, and was sent to jail for ninety days.

WEEK OF PRAYER BEGINS SUNDAY

Dr. Russell Cecil to Conduct Joint Evening Service at Grace Street Presbyterian.

The Presbyterian congregations of the city will observe the Week of Prayer this year at Grace Street Church, beginning on Sunday night at 8 o'clock. For many years it has been the custom of the evangelical churches of the world to observe the week between the first and second Sabbaths of each New Year as a Week of Prayer. The program is arranged each year by the Evangelical Alliance for the United States, which was organized in 1867. One of the valuable and inspiring features connected with the observance of this ceremony is that it is a simultaneous and world-wide one.

Dr. Russell Cecil will preach on Sunday night at the union service, at which time all the Presbyterian churches will be closed except Grace Street Church, where the services will be held. After the sermon a joint communion service will be held. During the week nights, with the exception of Saturday night, services will be held at 8 o'clock in the same church, when one of the ministers of the Presbyterian Church will conduct the services, which will be open to the public in general.

COMMUNITY TREE IN HIGHLAND PARK

Whole Town Joyfully Celebrates Christmas in the Public Square.

Highland Park's first community Christmas tree celebration was successfully staged last night. Practically the entire population gathered around the tree, which had been erected in the center of the town square. Electric light bulbs of blue, red and white shone from its limbs of the tree and made theinsel decoration sparkle like diamonds. A feature of the celebration was the gift to each child present of a bag of candy.

People began to assemble about the tree immediately after supper. Promptly at 8 o'clock a signal was given, and fires flared up from a dozen spots in the square, dazzling fireworks were touched off, red torches burst into flame, and a rigid illuminated, colored balloon ascended gracefully from beside the tree and climbed into the sky. The fireworks and the torches made the whole place as light as day.

After the pyrotechnic display had continued for half an hour, the announcement was made that candy would be distributed to the children. About 300 young people fled through the park gates, which had been erected in spite of the cold night, the crowd remained in the square for three-quarters of an hour.

The community Christmas tree plan, originated with such approval was first suggested by the former Mayor, George W. Bahkke. It was at once accepted by the Highland Park Citizens' Association and a committee appointed to arrange the celebration. This committee, headed by Charles W. Vaughan, was composed of the following men: A. G. Quarles, chairman; Charles Rose, J. J. Beavers, W. A. Clarke, Jr., W. L. Stuart, W. L. Sizemore, Dr. E. K. Lord, C. V. Jones, Julian Herndon, Archie Timberlake and W. C. Carpenter.

NURSES TO STUDY PUBLIC HEALTH

Memorial Hospital to Begin Special Course of Lectures on Social Service Work.

As a part of the training for pupil nurses, the Memorial Hospital is shortly to establish a course on public health and social service work, which will prove of great value and assistance hereafter to the young graduates of that institution. A number of speakers have been invited to discuss various phases of the big question of health. The real development of nursing has been along these lines, and the Memorial is making an effort to keep abreast of the times and to carry the hospital work into the homes of the people.

There is now a social service club among the nurses. Since the hospital cannot afford a regular trained expert, the nurses appoint committees to follow up cases of the homes, and to cooperate with various charitable organizations. For instance, they look after persons with wounds to be guarded and old people who are bedridden. They go to the homes, examine the economic conditions and aid as they can by caring for persons who are afflicted and unable to move, sending settlement workers and social service workers to other homes where help and advice is needed. It is the desire of the Memorial to educate its nurses to the great field open to them.

Many on Lecture Program.

Dr. Douglas Freeman has been requested to deliver an address on the organized charities of Richmond; Dr. John J. Lloyd, Jr., resident physician at Catawba, in the field of the nurse in tubercular work, while Chief Health Officer E. C. Levy, Miss N. J. Minor, of the Nurses' Settlement, and Miss Sarah Bolley, of the Juvenile Court, have promised to help the hospital in its special lecture course. These lectures will begin next week, and will be continued from time to time until March. The course is under the auspices of the College of Virginia, in charge of which is composed of Dr. E. C. L. Miller, Dr. Ennon G. Williams, State Health Commissioner, and Dr. Boice. They will arrange to lecture on the following subjects: "Why do we observe Christmas?" "The birth of Jesus, why do they observe the holiday so intimately associated with those stories?" For answer, the questioner was given a copy of Dr. Gannett's sermon, "The Christmas Birth Poem." Has this question occurred to you? The same answer will be sent upon application to the Unitarian Publicity Committee, 101 North Harrison Street.

Paraphrase Pulpit

The Christmas Birth Poem. The writer has been asked: "Why do Unitarians observe Christmas?" Since they do not accept, as literally true, the New Testament stories concerning the birth of Jesus, why do they observe the holiday so intimately associated with those stories? The same answer will be sent upon application to the Unitarian Publicity Committee, 101 North Harrison Street.
