ord those remarkably vindictive resolutions adopted at a mass-meeting at New Orleans on the fourth of this month. I did come on the floor in time to hear Mr. Mann, say something in this connection which, upon reflection, I am sure he will deeply regret. "In the debates of Congress, when we consider the complete immunity which Representatives may claim, a member, above everything, should be careful of his public utterances. And I think Mr. Mann, upon reflection, will regret that he stood in his place here yesterday and personally aspersed a member of the Federal Reserve Board even to the amazing extent of bringing in to question his personal integrity. "Had any one in my presence thus assailed the gentleman from Illinois in any forum where I had the privilege of speech, I would have resented the assault on him as quickly and as indignantly as I now resent his aspersions of the Comptroller of the Currency, John Skelton Williams.

Attack is unworthy. "The attack on that official without means of defense, was wanton and altogether unworthy of the gentleman from Illinois, who on all occasions hitherto has been fair and frank, as well as courageous in his utterances here, no matter what was the nature of the question in controversy. I think the gentleman should expunge from the record his own personal references to the Comptroller of the Currency. "As to the wretched clamor about

Warnings of Frosts In Special Bulletin

Washington, April 8.—Warnings of April frosts over the Gulf and South Atlantic States in the next forty-eight hours were contained in a special weather bulletin today.

"Abnormally high pressure and low temperatures prevail over the great interior basin of the country, the line of freezing temperature extending to the Oklahoma-Texas line," states the bulletin. "These conditions will move eastward and southward over the Gulf and Atlantic States during the next twenty-four to forty-eight hours, and frosts may be expected Wednesday night to the Gulf Coast, with temperature near or below freezing in the interior and frosts on Thursday night over Northern Florida.

"In Georgia and the Carolinas freezing temperatures are likely on Thursday night, while to the northward they will be from 10 to 20 degrees lower. Over the Great Central Valley and the West low temperatures will continue for another day or two."

Trained Nurse Recommends Duffy's

MRS. MARY B. MAUK.

In 20 years she has attended over 1600 cases, and found this perfect medicinal whiskey of particular benefit in nearly all of them. That Duffy's stands the test of time, her own words conclusively prove:

"I have used and recommended Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in cases that I have attended as a Nurse in the past 20 years. Duffy's Malt, I find, is especially good where a woman needs a stimulant and tonic after childbirth during the nursing period. I have cared for over one thousand six hundred confinement cases in my 20 years as a professional nurse. I would recommend taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in milk and egg three times a day."—Mrs. Mary B. Mauk, Everson, Pa.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is recommended as a powerful, invigorating tonic and stimulant, imparting strength to the whole system and to the organs of the digestive tract. It makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. For overworked housewives and business women it is a blessing. It makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous. When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, never accept a substitute. Whoever offers you something "just as good" to take its place is thinking only of the extra profits and has no consideration whatever for your future health and happiness. Sold by most druggists, grocers and dealers, $1.00 a large bottle. Medical booklet sent free. "Get Duffy's and keep well."

LIFE JOB AND HOME FOR RURAL TEACHER

Recommended by Commissioner of Education Claxton at Conference in Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., April 8.—Recommendations that the rural school teacher be employed for life, or during good behavior, and that each be furnished with a house and a plot of land for his own and experimental uses, were made by P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education at tonight's session here of the Conference for Education in the South. Discussion of relations between farmer and merchant and debate on methods for improving Southern educational systems largely occupied the remainder of the conference today, which was devoted primarily to business men.

Other conferences today were held by the Business Men, Farmers, Country Women, Country Preachers and Country Doctors. The Southern Educational Association, which is holding its annual convention in conjunction with the Conference for Education in the South, held a conference on the education of normal schools and conference on teacher training.

A general session tonight was opened by an address of W. K. Tate, Columbia, S. C., president of the Southern Educational Association. Mr. Tate recommended the permanent merger of the teachers' organization with the Conference for Education in the South.

Discussion of various methods of school supervision occupied delegates at the afternoon session of the Southern Educational Association. Debate was led by Miss Will Lou Gray, of Laurens, S. C.

politics being involved in the action of the organization committee, it is so trifling that I find myself unable to speak temperately of it. What sort of politics could be involved in the location of these regional reserve banks? Maryland is a close State at elections, and Baltimore, which usually controls the political situation, is close also. How could a Democratic organization have expected to gain any political advantage for the Democratic party by depriving Maryland and the city of Baltimore of a Federal reserve bank? And of what political advantage to Virginia, with 59,000 Democratic majority, could a regional reserve bank at Richmond be? The only politics in the question is right here on the floor of this House. And the character of the politics is illustrated by the talk by the gentleman from the State of Washington, Mr. Humphreys, who started out to make politics of this banking and currency measure, and has continued to make very small politics of it."
