

them, because they have not declared an armistice. No opportunity has come for the American government to outline its alternative source of supplies...

MUCH LEGISLATION BEFORE CONGRESS

Representative Webb said, "never intended to place labor organizations and farmers' organization under the ban of that law. The existence of a labor organization never has been unlawful and is not unlawful today..."

Atlanta, Ga., June 14.—A thirty-fourth annual convention of the Photographers' Association of America will begin here tomorrow.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Annie T. Phillips, wife of Joseph R. Phillips, of 812 North Avenue, Brookland Park, died at her residence last night at 11:30 o'clock...

C. E. McCluer. News of the death of C. E. McCluer, who was for twenty years manager for the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company in this city, was received here yesterday afternoon...

Funeral of Joseph Holzgreffe. The funeral of Joseph Holzgreffe, who died in Baltimore Saturday afternoon, will take place from St. Mary's Church at 11:30 o'clock...

Mrs. Mary Susan Taylor. Mrs. Mary Susan Taylor, widow of Captain John D. Taylor, of Powhatan County, died yesterday shortly after noon at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Taylor, at 11:30 o'clock...

Captain Stephen G. White. Captain Stephen G. White died on Friday at his home in Dinwiddie County, near Mechanicsville, in the seventy-ninth year of his age...

DEATHS

GIBSON.—Died, at 11:15 P. M. Saturday, 13th instant, at his father's residence, 1918 S. W. CHARLES ST., HILLY GIBSON, aged two years and eight months.

HOLZGREFFE.—Died, in Baltimore Saturday, 2:15 P. M. JOSEPH HOLZGREFFE. Remains will be at his daughter's residence, 1130 North Belknap Street, Sunday afternoon...

McCLUER.—Died, Sunday, the 14th, at the residence of his son, C. P. McCluer, Tarboro, N. C. C. E. McCLUER, who died in this city, at the age of 70.

TAYLOR.—Died, Sunday, at 12:16, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. O. Wright, of Brookland Park, Mrs. MARY SUSAN TAYLOR, widow of Captain John D. Taylor...

PHILLIPS.—Died, at her husband's residence, 812 North Avenue, Brookland Park, Mrs. ANNIE T. PHILLIPS, beloved wife of Joseph R. Phillips, at 11:30 o'clock Sunday...

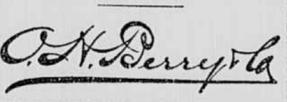

Scarf Day at Berry's

Crepes are creeping in for summer neckwear. Here's a special in liberal cut, white with stripe and figure effect, 50c.

Among the new colors, in small self stripes for warm weather, are cerise, lemon, light tan, burnt orange, pale green and tango. No color is too high for style this season in cravatting.

All the bright ones are here for the bright ones to wear. 50c to $2.50. Shirts, $1. to $6. Belts, 50c to $1.50.

ZACATECAS IS MAKING DESPERATE RESISTANCE

Constitutionalists Capture Suburbs, but Repulsed Twice at Fortified Hill.

Carranza Declines to Discuss Scope of Action or Powers to Be Delegated to His Representatives at Mediation Conference.

Saltito, Mexico, June 13 (Via Laredo, Texas, June 14).—Zacatecas is making desperate resistance to General Natera, and, although the Constitutionalists have captured Guadalupe, Mercedes and Grillo, suburbs of the town, they were repulsed twice with heavy loss at the fortified hill of La Bufa, which is one of the strongest defenses of the town.

General Natera reported to General Carranza that his charges at La Bufa were met with a withering artillery fire from the Federal forces, which, he said, were extremely strong, but that his men were in fine condition and spirits, and were not discouraged at the check given them by the Federal stronghold.

He reported that the casualties on both sides were extremely heavy. He was awaiting the arrival of reinforcements sent him from Torreon by General Villa, which are being delayed by heavy rains and washouts along the National Railways.

The general's herald reported today under date of June 12, that he had captured Nicotran, Huejutla, Valles, Tamiahua, Amatlan and other smaller towns in Hidalgo, capturing many arms and much ammunition with field pieces.

Cheravaca was captured on June 6 by Zapata, according to a cable received today by General Carranza. Carranza declines to discuss the scope of action or the powers to be delegated to his representatives at the mediation conference.

About the military affairs of the Constitutionalists, General Carranza spoke more freely. He estimated the number of men under arms in the Constitutional army at 90,000. He said there were in his possession also, 120 pieces of field artillery, 115 machine guns and ample ammunition.

On March 15, 1913, when General Carranza held a review in Saltito of the Constitutional troops, he had more than 200 men and one machine gun.

Before the majority of 14,000 troops now leave for the south, General Carranza will hold a review.

AMERICANS ARE UNEASY

Honored That Federals Intend to Attack Town of Tuxpan. Tuxpan, Mex., June 13.—(Via Laredo, Tex., June 14).—Considerable uneasiness exists among Americans engaged in all industry in the vicinity of Tuxpan on account of the rumored intention of the Federals to attack the town.

FEDERALS NO HINDRANCE TO ADVANCE ON CAPITAL

Carranza Expects to Be in Mexico City Within Two Months or a Little More.

NOT LACKING IN TENACITY

Constitutionalist Chieftain Held in Admiration That Almost Amounts to Worship—His One Purpose to Pacify the Country.

BY H. H. STANSBURY. Saltito, June 1.—(Delayed in transmission).—The Constitutionalist has been asked to send delegates to the mediation conference to discuss international questions between the United States and Mexico. I cannot go into the subject in greater detail through fear of being misunderstood.

"We no longer consider the Federal army a serious hindrance to our advance on Mexico City. We may be in the capital within two months or a little more. There are 100,000 men in the rebel army eager to proceed and confident of victory. They have already captured 120 pieces of field artillery and 125 machine guns, which represents more than half the equipment of the national arsenal."

This is a summary of a personal interview with General Venustiano Carranza. His optimism is stimulated by the record of victories already achieved. Any impression that Carranza is lacking in tenacity of purpose is mistaken. The set of his teeth and the angle of his jaw indicate determination of purpose, when an effort is made to look beyond his mild-spoken manner.

The dynamic qualities credited to the great generals of history, Epistemon and Roosevelt, do not appear on the surface with Carranza. His exterior is that of a diplomat, and is the identical type found among the leading ambassadors in the world capitals. His loyal associates, however, are already referring to him as a composite of Napoleon, Gladstone and Bismarck.

HELD IN ADMIRATION. ALMOST LIKE WORSHIP. Carranza is held in admiration that amounts to worship by the rank and file of his following. If there have been dissensions, the successes to date have dispelled them, for all that can be gathered here. The one purpose of the Constitutionalist leader is to pacify Mexico in a manner and according to the wishes of the majority. He was asked if the mediators would be permitted to avoid any statements that might be construed as a description of the people? He replied: "I prefer not to talk about that matter."

"What battle will be given the Mexican delegates to Niagara Falls?" "I do not care to add to what I have already said."

The subject of an armistice was avoided in the same manner, and evidently for the same reasons. Carranza explained that only the great waste of desert country between Torreon and Zacatecas presented an immediate advance on Mexico City. Saltito and Torreon are supply depots and the troops going to San Luis Potosi and Zacatecas cannot carry with them over the desert sufficient sustenance with their equipment without aid from the broken railroads.

WILL NOT STOP FOR LACK OF RAILROAD FACILITIES. South from the desert, the country is rich with foodstuffs for both man and horse, and the lack of railroad facilities will not be permitted to hinder the advance. This last stage of the journey will be memorable in the history of the revolution.

The Carranza forces have all the ammunition they deem necessary to reach and take Mexico City. The Federals are said to be bottled up at Zacatecas, and Villa is now supporting the advance fighting led by Natera. A battle has been raging at Zacatecas for three days. Losses have been heavy on both sides, but no figures are obtainable.

After taking the Guadalupe, Mercedes and Grillo suburbs, General Natera stormed the main Federal fortifications, and was repulsed twice, but holding the positions already won and awaiting reinforcements, which have been delayed by heavy rains. Zacatecas is a city of 80,000 inhabitants, and is an important strategic point.

SWELTERING CHILDREN ASK ONLY A LITTLE ICE. Demand from Every Section of City 'Can Only Be Met by Prompt and Liberal Contributions.' In response to a general appeal for assistance from every section of the city in which a needy family abides, The Times-Dispatch will begin today receiving contributions for the Richmond Ice Mission. All funds received will be turned over promptly to that organization, which has provided it with every facility and arrangement to distribute God's summer gift to all those who are in need.

Mrs. C. E. Tolling, of 902 West Grace Street, chairman of the Ice Mission of Richmond, will have charge of the disbursement of all funds. The Times-Dispatch will publish in tomorrow's issue the amounts of all contributions, and will publish such a list daily thereafter during the summer season.

The need is great. June has been an exceptionally hot month, and the little ones who have but recently come into the world have a hard right to maintain their small hold on life. And the heat has an added stress on the infant life. It is a hard battle at best, and the lower temperature of a lower temperature often saves the babe at the bedside, often brings the smile back on the baby's face, and comes a little ice may have the same effect. And there are so many babies who come in the summer time, so many who also go out, leaving an empty cot and a vacant heart. It is to conserve then that the Ice Mission is working its hardest, and that it is today sending forth its appeal—help the little ones in memory of Him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Who will be among the first to give aid to the innocents? DANIELS PRAISES HEROISM OF MEN (Continued From First Page) much of the almost perplexities fell upon him.

He has been in almost daily communication with Admiral Fletcher, I mention that he is a man with a touch of statesmanship about him and he has grown bigger in my eye each day as I have read his dispatches, for he has sought always to serve the thing he was trying to do in the temper that we all recognize and love to believe is typically American.

The secretary has no power to promote naval officers for meritorious services. This can be done only by Congress. But the change in the command of the Atlantic fleet, falling due about this time, the secretary thought it well to make his recommendation to the President to promote Admiral Fletcher.

TAKE AWAY THEIR ARMS AND PEACE WILL COME

So Long as Mexicans Can Secure Ammunition, That Long Will They Continue to Fight.

RODRIGUEZ MAN OF THE HOUR

General Mondragon Believes He is the One Who Can Firmly Establish Country on Firm Foundation. Federals Now Furnishing Aid.

BY CHARLES MICHELSON. Vera Cruz, June 14.—"If President Wilson is acting in good faith he will not permit another stand of arms or box of ammunition to enter the country for either rebels or Federals. He will let the influx of arms, whether from American or Japanese sources, and Mexico uniformed men, be the cause of what ever whimsical leaders may be holding temporary sway and Mexico will never lift her head from the depths into which she has been plunged by revolutions."

This exploded General Lorenzo Mondragon, brother of the former Minister of War. The general was almost carried from his chair by the vehemence of his utterance. He was seated in a rocking chair on a balcony overlooking the brilliant Plaza de Armas, dotted with soldiers in khaki, white uniforms and officers, and animated by the concert of brass bands. He had come to seek safety under the Stars and Stripes, fleeing from an uprising considered inevitable in Mexico City.

In the country, the old man's one object is the freedom of Mexico from the power of bandits, and his one belief that President Wilson holds the power to re-establish peace, and that the one and only way to halt revolutions is to describe the warring factions of arms.

As long as America continues to supply men with arms to shoot and stab, and men with money to buy and kill each other, he added, "bandits will take up arms to suppress bandits. The latter continue to loot and burn the property of the hated rich, and there are only two classes of Mexicans, patriots and bandits."

Rodriguez Man of the Hour. Mondragon believes Huerta must go, and answers the question, "After Huerta, what?" with the name of the man he considers the man of the hour, "Rodriguez." Senor Rodriguez is now serving as one of the Mexican delegates to the mediation conference at Niagara Falls.

"Rodriguez is the only man in the country not allied with any faction, and possessing the iron will, mind and personality to save Mexico from itself. He foresees the establishment of a provisional government, which will supervise the elections, but would complete the provisional government of the country, having power until December, 1916, when, he believes, the country will have been sufficiently pacified to guarantee free elections."

With every indication of peace, the patriotic fervor of the Federals confronting our outposts increases. Word of the signing of the first protocol sent a flock of enthusiastic reinforcements from Vera Cruz to the camp of General Navarrete. Four hundred railway employees who have been keeping out of sight have joined Navarrete since the probability of any fighting became remote. Definite news of certain peace will send half the population of Vera Cruz to the Federal trenches.

There is great competition among the Federal officers for the honor of confronting the invader now it has become evident that there is little likelihood of invasion. This furnishes a perfect alibi for not fighting the rebels in the north, which all are dodging.

General Velasco has been decorated and promoted for his heroic retreat from Torreon. General Zaragoza has likewise been decorated for his heroic defense of Tampico. He arrived in Mexico City with 4,000 soldiers armed and apparently well supplied with ammunition, although it has been reported that he did not desert Tampico until his last cartridge had been fired. Zaragoza has reported a thrilling story of how he was saved from a terrible ambush by a dog which barked and exposed a rebel column, which attacked and killed the dog.

Fighting the rebels has its disadvantages, but confronting the invader will furnish political ammunition for forty years. Mexico City is crowded with generals, who are ostensibly in command at San Luis Potosi, Cuernavaca and other threatened points, but find it necessary to report personally to the capital whenever an attack on their posts seems imminent.

Where the Federal outposts were of the blindest character of defense when the Yankee advance seemed probable, so as to make it easy to get out of the way, news of approaching peace has started an elaborate system of permanent fortifications, trenches and gun-mounting. There is no doubt that to run the seven American soldier camps away the Federals will have the finest sort of defense, to which General Navarrete and Garcia Pena will point with pride and tell what would have happened had the brutal invaders stepped one foot toward Mexico City.

Aldermen Meet To-Night. The Board of Aldermen will meet tonight at 8 o'clock, when Alderman Marx (gangs) proposed to E. G. Jones for improvement of the streets will be among the principal matters to come up. The request of Richmond College to buy the house at the corner of West Washington to the James River, and near the intake to the Settling Basin, will also be considered.

Snake Carries Bell to Warn. Laredo, Tex., June 14.—While going through Wheatley's swamp, Curtis Spicer, a well-known merchant and hunter, saw a snake that made a rattler. He killed it and found it was a seven-foot black snake. Cutting it open he found two small bells inside.

It is Just Natural To Admire Babies. Our altruistic nature impels love for the cooing infant. And at the same time the subject of motherhood is ever what to do that will add to the physical comfort of expectant motherhood is a subject that has interested most women of all times. One of the real beauties of things is an external abdominal application sold in most drug stores under the name of "Mother's Friend." We have known so many grandmothers, who in their younger days relied upon this remedy, and who recommended it to their own daughters, that it certainly must be what its name indicates. They have used it for its direct influence upon the muscles, cords, ligaments and tendons as it aims to afford relief from the strain and pain so often unsuccessfully severe during the period of expectancy.

A little book mailed by Bradford Regulator Co., 305 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., refers to many things that women like to read about. It refers not only to the relief from muscle strain due to their expansion but also to nausea, morning sickness, itching of breasts and many other distresses.

THEIR ARMS AND PEACE WILL COME

So Long as Mexicans Can Secure Ammunition, That Long Will They Continue to Fight.

RODRIGUEZ MAN OF THE HOUR

General Mondragon Believes He is the One Who Can Firmly Establish Country on Firm Foundation. Federals Now Furnishing Aid.

BY CHARLES MICHELSON. Vera Cruz, June 14.—"If President Wilson is acting in good faith he will not permit another stand of arms or box of ammunition to enter the country for either rebels or Federals. He will let the influx of arms, whether from American or Japanese sources, and Mexico uniformed men, be the cause of what ever whimsical leaders may be holding temporary sway and Mexico will never lift her head from the depths into which she has been plunged by revolutions."

This exploded General Lorenzo Mondragon, brother of the former Minister of War. The general was almost carried from his chair by the vehemence of his utterance. He was seated in a rocking chair on a balcony overlooking the brilliant Plaza de Armas, dotted with soldiers in khaki, white uniforms and officers, and animated by the concert of brass bands. He had come to seek safety under the Stars and Stripes, fleeing from an uprising considered inevitable in Mexico City.

In the country, the old man's one object is the freedom of Mexico from the power of bandits, and his one belief that President Wilson holds the power to re-establish peace, and that the one and only way to halt revolutions is to describe the warring factions of arms.

As long as America continues to supply men with arms to shoot and stab, and men with money to buy and kill each other, he added, "bandits will take up arms to suppress bandits. The latter continue to loot and burn the property of the hated rich, and there are only two classes of Mexicans, patriots and bandits."

Rodriguez Man of the Hour. Mondragon believes Huerta must go, and answers the question, "After Huerta, what?" with the name of the man he considers the man of the hour, "Rodriguez." Senor Rodriguez is now serving as one of the Mexican delegates to the mediation conference at Niagara Falls.

"Rodriguez is the only man in the country not allied with any faction, and possessing the iron will, mind and personality to save Mexico from itself. He foresees the establishment of a provisional government, which will supervise the elections, but would complete the provisional government of the country, having power until December, 1916, when, he believes, the country will have been sufficiently pacified to guarantee free elections."

With every indication of peace, the patriotic fervor of the Federals confronting our outposts increases. Word of the signing of the first protocol sent a flock of enthusiastic reinforcements from Vera Cruz to the camp of General Navarrete. Four hundred railway employees who have been keeping out of sight have joined Navarrete since the probability of any fighting became remote. Definite news of certain peace will send half the population of Vera Cruz to the Federal trenches.

There is great competition among the Federal officers for the honor of confronting the invader now it has become evident that there is little likelihood of invasion. This furnishes a perfect alibi for not fighting the rebels in the north, which all are dodging.

General Velasco has been decorated and promoted for his heroic retreat from Torreon. General Zaragoza has likewise been decorated for his heroic defense of Tampico. He arrived in Mexico City with 4,000 soldiers armed and apparently well supplied with ammunition, although it has been reported that he did not desert Tampico until his last cartridge had been fired. Zaragoza has reported a thrilling story of how he was saved from a terrible ambush by a dog which barked and exposed a rebel column, which attacked and killed the dog.

Fighting the rebels has its disadvantages, but confronting the invader will furnish political ammunition for forty years. Mexico City is crowded with generals, who are ostensibly in command at San Luis Potosi, Cuernavaca and other threatened points, but find it necessary to report personally to the capital whenever an attack on their posts seems imminent.

Where the Federal outposts were of the blindest character of defense when the Yankee advance seemed probable, so as to make it easy to get out of the way, news of approaching peace has started an elaborate system of permanent fortifications, trenches and gun-mounting. There is no doubt that to run the seven American soldier camps away the Federals will have the finest sort of defense, to which General Navarrete and Garcia Pena will point with pride and tell what would have happened had the brutal invaders stepped one foot toward Mexico City.

Aldermen Meet To-Night. The Board of Aldermen will meet tonight at 8 o'clock, when Alderman Marx (gangs) proposed to E. G. Jones for improvement of the streets will be among the principal matters to come up. The request of Richmond College to buy the house at the corner of West Washington to the James River, and near the intake to the Settling Basin, will also be considered.

Snake Carries Bell to Warn. Laredo, Tex., June 14.—While going through Wheatley's swamp, Curtis Spicer, a well-known merchant and hunter, saw a snake that made a rattler. He killed it and found it was a seven-foot black snake. Cutting it open he found two small bells inside.

It is Just Natural To Admire Babies. Our altruistic nature impels love for the cooing infant. And at the same time the subject of motherhood is ever what to do that will add to the physical comfort of expectant motherhood is a subject that has interested most women of all times. One of the real beauties of things is an external abdominal application sold in most drug stores under the name of "Mother's Friend." We have known so many grandmothers, who in their younger days relied upon this remedy, and who recommended it to their own daughters, that it certainly must be what its name indicates. They have used it for its direct influence upon the muscles, cords, ligaments and tendons as it aims to afford relief from the strain and pain so often unsuccessfully severe during the period of expectancy.

A little book mailed by Bradford Regulator Co., 305 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., refers to many things that women like to read about. It refers not only to the relief from muscle strain due to their expansion but also to nausea, morning sickness, itching of breasts and many other distresses.

A Vacation Suggestion

Take along your favorite musical instrument to while away the idle hours.

Your Choice of BANJO, VIOLIN, MANDOLIN, GUITAR,

$7.98

Good instruments, too, and remarkably pleasing in tone and design. Call and take advantage of this big mid-season special to-day.

The Corley Company

The House That Made Richmond Musical, 213 East Broad Street.

"I Guess I'll Wait"--- vs "I'll Do It Now!"

There were two men. One waited until "tomorrow" to do things. He had no bank account—he was going to start "tomorrow," but he "just couldn't see his way clear."

The other believed in "TODAY." He HAD a bank account. —Had one for some time, and added to it regularly. It grew!

Which one succeeded? Which are YOU? Start saving NOW, at this strong bank. 2 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually.

PLANTERS NATIONAL BANK Capital and Surplus, $1,500,000.00.

Tuxedo—A Hit with the Hit-Makers. HUNDREDS of the snappiest ball players in the country—the clean-cut athletes who provide Americans with their greatest outdoor relaxation—enthusiastically endorse Tuxedo. This is the kind of endorsement that carries a convincing punch. These men know that Tuxedo is a mild, pure tobacco, which can be smoked all day with pleasure. Tuxedo cannot bite the tongue; it burns freely and smoothly, giving a cool, sweet smoke. Tuxedo The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette. From the scoreboard man to the magnate in the private box, everybody on the grounds is "catching on to" the supreme merit of Tuxedo. Tuxedo is made from the finest, mildest leaves of high-grade Burley tobacco, so treated under the famous original "Tuxedo Process" that it burns slow and cool, with a delightful flavor and aroma. The "Tuxedo Process" makes it impossible for this perfect tobacco to bite or sting the most delicate throat or tongue. Tuxedo has many imitators—in outward appearance. It has no equal in the pipe or cigarette. YOU CAN BUY TUXEDO EVERYWHERE. Famous green tin with gold lettering, curved to fit the pocket 10c. Convenient pouch, inner-lined with moisture-proof paper . . . 5c. In Glass Humidor 50c and 90c. THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY.

Free Moving Pictures Forest Hill Park Richmond's Greatest Amusement Park is Now Open to the Public, with many adequate amusements. The Pictures Are Changed Daily. Special Arrangements Made for Picnic Parties.