ENGAGEMENT REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN FOUGHT London, July 27.—An engagement between Austrians and Servians is reported to have occurred on the Danube, but no details are available, and it is not believed to have been of importance. Austria has not yet opened her military operations, so far as can be learned. Meanwhile, diplomacy is proceeding along two separate lines: to avert the war if possible, and, if that is impossible, to localize the conflict. First, Sir Edward Grey, the British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has proposed to the powers a plan for joint mediation, which, it is said, France and Italy already have accepted. Germany has not yet replied, and her acceptance is regarded as doubtful. Sir Edward Grey explained in the House of Commons his idea, which was that Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy co-operate in an endeavor to arrange the dispute between Austria and Servia on the basis of Servia's reply to Austria's ultimatum. Should the British Foreign Secretary's efforts fail to avert war, it is expected he will endeavor to bring some means to prevent complications by confining the hostilities to Austria and Servia. The second line of diplomatic endeavor, from which even more is hoped to-night, is taking place at St. Petersburg between the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, Sergius Sazonoff, and the Austrian ambassador. It is understood that M. Sazonoff is making a strenuous effort to bring about a direct understanding, and that a solution on these lines would be more agreeable to Austria than Great Britain's conference proposal. The Russian Emperor has postponed his intention to visit to Finland in order to be in the capital during the crisis. It is said Russia is urging Servia to give Austria the fullest possible satisfaction. An extremely warlike spirit prevails in Vienna, where the evening papers declare the Servians are only making evasions and that, therefore, it is impossible for the Austrian government to retreat. Further, they hint that even should Servia accept the Austrian ultimatum unconditionally and offer to pay the cost of Austria's mobilization, Austria now would be compelled to ask for new guarantees.

VIOLENT DEMONSTRATIONS ARE STARTED IN PARIS Paris, July 27.—Violent anti-war demonstrations occurred on the boulevard to-night, accompanied by the singing of revolutionary songs. Large forces of police and mounted Republican guards, under the direction of Prefect Penimon, frequently charged the crowds. Many persons were knocked down and injured. The disorders were complicated by patriotic demonstrations, and on several occasions attempts were made to break the peace line by Germans, which finally were guarded by police. Acting Premier Bismont, Martin and the Ministers of War and Marine met to-day and received reports on the military defensive measures. The Minister of War issued a circular regarding the equipment of French soldiers in case of mobilization. The Paris, July 27.—Leading bankers of the German capital met to-night and agreed on measures to protect the stock market, and to encourage the public not to unload securities. The meeting ended in favor of giving credits, under special terms, to brokers, and decided to call for margins from the private investors only when the market value of securities had reached the lowest point consistent with safety. Hundreds of servants and women of the laboring classes stormed the municipal savings banks in Berlin. At one of the city there was a line of 1,500 people at 11 o'clock. The officials somewhat reassured the public by refraining from enforcing the usual time limit for larger amounts. An enthusiastic demonstration was made by large crowds who gathered at the Potsdam station, when the Emperor arrived there this afternoon. His Majesty was greeted with hearty cheers as he alighted from the train.

PARTIAL MOBILIZATION OF BELGIAN ARMY ORDERED Brussels, July 27.—Partial mobilization of the Belgian army was ordered to-day, raising the total of the active forces to 100,000 men.

Experienced Women Advise Mother's Friend

Because it is so perfectly safe to use and has been of such great help to a host of expectant mothers, these women, experienced in this most happy period, advise his friend, "Mother's Friend." Applied externally to the abdominal muscles its purpose is to relieve the undue tension upon the cords and ligaments resulting from muscular expansion. Beneath the surface is a network of fine nerve threads and the gentle, soothing embrocation, "Mother's Friend," is designed to so lubricate the muscular fibres as to avoid the unnecessary and continuous nagging upon the myriad of nerves. Applied to the breasts it affords the proper massage to prevent caking. There is scarcely a well-stocked drug store anywhere but what you can easily obtain a bottle of "Mother's Friend" and in nearly every town and village is a grandma who herself used it in earlier years. Expectant mothers are urged to try the splendid preparation. "Mother's Friend" has been prepared by Bradford Regulator Co., 213 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for nearly half a century. Send for valuable little book to expectant mothers.

CAILLAUX READS CALMETTE'S WILL

(Continued From First Page.) revealed that he had a complete ascendancy over his second wife which he was never able to gain over his first. Mme. Gueydan's dramatic production of the famous love letters last Thursday demolished the original defense, and ever since Caillaux has stood with his back to the wall, fighting desperately for his wife's liberty, nominally, although in reality he has damaged her case by his violent outpourings against the man she slew and at his friends. The effect of Caillaux's own pathetic story on the jury, and his tales of the bitter persecution he underwent as Minister of Finance, have been completely nullified by the rancorous vituperation he heaped on Calmette's coffin, and by his undisciplined efforts to control the proceedings of the court. The jury cannot do less now. It is believed, though, that Mme. Caillaux, guilty of murder "under extenuating circumstances," yet not guilty of the case will be two years' imprisonment, with the benefit of the "first offender's" act.

CALMETTE'S TREACHERY IS REVEALED BY LETTERS

New York, July 27.—The disclosure of the relations between Gaston Calmette, as editor of the Paris Figaro, and the present Hungarian government, though advanced to the defense of Mme. Henriette Caillaux, in her trial for the killing of Calmette, was, in fact, a move in Hungarian party politics. Count Michael Karolyi, leader of the Hungarian Radicals, addressed here to-day, on the eve of his departure for Hungary. Count Karolyi confirmed his part in furnishing M. Caillaux with the papers which the latter presented in court in Paris to-day. The papers were of this year's date, Count Karolyi said, and were given in confidence. One was a letter addressed to M. Calmette by persons in Budapest, and the other from him to them. Both were written in French, and dealt with the arrangements for favorable statements by the Figaro on Hungarian affairs. Count Karolyi handed the documents to M. Caillaux while passing through Paris on his way to this country. This was after the indictment of Mme. Caillaux.

"His letters," Count Karolyi continued, "furnish proof that Calmette, of whom it had been sought to make a hero, was actually in the pay of the Hungarian government, and had undertaken to speak favorably of it in the Figaro, though Hungary adhered to an alliance hostile to the international group, of which France is a member." The Figaro has been lending this support to the government of Count Tisza for nearly one year and a half, and Count Karolyi, who is one of the leaders of the opposition in Hungary, said he secured proofs of the "publicity" work of the Hungarian government with French and English papers. The letters, concerning Le Figaro, he declared, are only two out of a lengthy correspondence. Supplementary disclosures would be made at other opportune times he indicated. This "publicity" had been done out of a "gentle" fund of over 1,000,000 Hungarian crowns ($300,000), he added. The count would not disclose the amount mentioned in the documents submitted to the Paris court to-day, nor go into further details which might necessitate a summons to him from the French judge.

Regarding his return to Hungary at this time Count Karolyi said that he had cut short his visit to this country, because as a party leader his place was in his own country at the time of such a crisis.
