

SPORTS COLLEGE FOOTBALL TEAMS WARMING UP FOR TO-MORROW'S SPORTS

VIRGINIA'S PLAYERS ARE KEPT OUT OF SCRIMMAGE

Coaches Fear Further Injuries Will Seriously Handicap Team—Young Women to Witness Game.

W. & L. READY FOR WAKE FOREST

Coach Elcock Will Only Take Generals Through Signal Drill To-Day. Three V. M. I. Stars Injured. Squad on Way to Atlanta.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., October 21.—Virginia's football eleven was kept out of scrimmage today for year. The serious injuries might occur which seriously handicap the team in the contest against Wake Forest Saturday. When a long signal drill, which was participated in by all of the regulars save White, left back, who had a severe muscle in his leg pulled loose in the south Carolina game, Evans and White appear to be recovering from sprained ankles sustained a fortnight ago. Georgia's recent victory over Sewanee, in the first game of the season, is ample proof that the Crackers were caught off guard in the game with North Carolina. They are apt to take the Virginians a stiff battle Saturday.

W. & L. IN ROUGH SCRIMMAGE

LEXINGTON, Va., October 22.—Washington and Lee engaged in a rough scrimmage today, but the only one of the week. Coach Elcock will rest content with a fast signal drill to-morrow and practice before the Wake Forest game Saturday. As the result of a hard collision with Wake Forest Saturday, Washington suffered a slight concussion of the brain, and will probably be unable to oppose Wake Forest Saturday. The general has declared that he will not be satisfied unless Washington and Lee defeat the Carolina Aggies greater than that which the North Carolina Aggies compiled. As the result of a hard collision with Wake Forest Saturday, Washington suffered a slight concussion of the brain, and will probably be unable to oppose Wake Forest Saturday.

Headmaster Shaming Tigers. HAMPSHIRE-SIDNEY, Va., October 22.—Two scrimmages of forty minutes' duration have been the features of the day here. The first game was between regulars and game, and was played on the campus and won by both teams. Coach Bernier sent the second team to the campus to practice a new code of football, and kept the varsity on the field. The first game was between regulars and game, and was played on the campus and won by both teams.

Deardest Bought Victory. Although the Virginia Military Institute team triumphed in the game with Gallaudet on Saturday last, it is not the only victory of the year. The team triumphed in the game with Gallaudet on Saturday last, it is not the only victory of the year.

DANGLES $20,000 BAIT BEFORE MAJOR LEAGUE BALL PLAYERS

FELDER JONES, Manager St. Louis Browns. Felder Jones, the St. Louis Field manager, is said by an official of the club to be using $20,000 in cold cash as bait to induce major league ball players to take the hurdle to the Terriers. Jones is now in the East making efforts to snare performers for his club. Three Giants—Jeff Tesreau, George Burns and Art Fletcher—are the athletes most coveted by Felder.

NEW LINE-UP FOR NAVY IN TO-MORROW'S GAME

Players Shifted and Several Taken From Squad—Falling Back With Regulars.

ARMY HOLDS SIGNAL DRILL

Varsity and Scrubs Put Through All Their Paces—Houghton Features Light Work-Out—Three Yale Men May Not Play.

ANNAPOLIS, October 22.—Interest in the football practice at the Naval Academy this afternoon, centered largely in the work of the players who had been tried as first team men this week or had been shifted to other positions. The line-up against Western Rovers on Saturday will be quite different from that of the game this week, and it is hoped that the team will work better. Miles is still playing through all their paces, and doing promising work in several places.

Falling, the big right half, is back with the regulars, and it is hoped he will begin to show some of the talent of last year. Alexander and Craig, former backs, and Jackson, a new man, will be all but tried at end, and there will be other changes.

WEST POINT, October 22.—A sharp signal drill, followed by a long scrimmage, kept Army busy this afternoon. The varsity and scrubs were put through all their paces, and will be returned to active work of all the big fellows, except Merrill and McEwan. The varsity's offensive game showed considerable improvement. Hodgeson, Oliphant and Benedict started in place of advance toward the scrub goal line, and twice the ball was rushed over for touchdowns. Oliphant gave way early to Van Fleet, and Hodgeson's place went to Ford after the first touchdown was made.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., October 22.—Coach Houghton had all his varsity men on Soldiers Field this afternoon for a light workout, but Stan Penneck, the all-American guard for the past two years, wrenched his knee for the second time this season, and will be unable to start Saturday against Pennsylvania State. Penneck had been only recently discharged from the infirmary, and this was his first day in the line-up.

NEW HAVEN, October 22.—Two of Yale's strongest players, Captain Talbot, left tackle, and Aler Wilson, quarter back, may be unable to face Washington and Jefferson on Saturday. Talbot's general condition is not satisfactory, and he probably will be out until next week. Chances favor Wilson getting into the game. He was in uniform today, but he is still recovering from a sprain of his left knee, and Tucker were easily the bright lights.

ITHACA, N. Y., October 22.—After a final scrimmage on Alumni Field this afternoon the Cornell squad of twenty-six men left to-night for New York to play Brown on the Polo Grounds on Saturday. The varsity team was pronounced in excellent condition, with the exception of Captain O'Hearn, right end, and Hunkler, left guard, who is probable that either of these men will play Saturday.

GREEN SPRING VALLEY STEEPLECHASE. Handicap for four-year-olds and up, with $1,000 added; two miles. Archibald Barkle, Blankenburg; Miss Chamblin, Chapadero; M. Daily, Garter; J. E. Davis, Devoter, Single Stick; J. W. Dayton, Lewis, Galt, Schlozman, Astute; McMurtrie, Cactus Bud and Pons Astor; Ral Parr, Fieschman, Astute; Lewis River; David Stevenson, Syosset; J. E. Widener, Compliment, Tellur, El Bart and Old Salt, and Thomas Wright, Bay Brook.

NEW HEAD FOR JOCKEY CLUB. At the quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the Maryland Jockey Club, addition to routine matters covered by the approaching Pimlico fall meeting from November 2 to 12, inclusive, Spalding Love Jenkins and Ral Parr were elected to fill vacancies on the board caused by the deaths of W. M. Manly and General A. E. Booth.
