FARMERS FAIR

St. Louis has arranged for her usual big fall fair and farmers' jubilee, which is to be held on Tuesday, September 14, and is extending the promise that it will be the biggest affair of the kind that has yet been held in that city. Amsden's Saginaw band will be on hand to furnish the music during the day. At 1:00 p. m. a big feature street parade will be held. There will be numerous free street attractions during the day, dancing on the pavement, and a ball game between the Masonic All Stars of Detroit and the Republic Trucks. Last but not least, there will be an address by the Hon. Joseph W. Fordney, congressman from the eighth district.

TAKE DEGREES

Class of Thirty-Five Initiated into I. O. O. F. Saturday Night.

Saturday the Pontiac Encampment, No. 8, nearly one hundred strong, came to Alma and that evening conferred the work of all three degrees on a class of 35 candidates for membership, into Alma Encampment No. 62, I. O. O. F.

Following an early evening banquet at the hall, the I. O. O. F. Lodge paraded through the business section of the city, the parade being headed by the Yerrington band of St. Louis. The encampments then returned to the hall and the work of the three degrees was conferred by the Pontiac Encampment.

About midnight, after the work of the evening had been finished, a second banquet was held, which was attended by nearly two hundred members of the I. O. O. F.

OPENS WEDNESDAY

College Year Begins on Wednesday of Next Week.

With the opening of Alma College coming this next week considerable interest is being manifested in the probable attendance figures, as all indications are that the marks of previous years, with the possible exception of a year ago, will be shattered, and it is possible that the high mark of last year will be broken.

Actual college work will not be started until Wednesday, but the enrollment of students will be started on Monday, September 13, and it is expected that practically all who are planning on attending the Presbyterian college this year will have enrolled before Tuesday night.
