

WOUNDED NIGERONS.

No higher compliment could be paid to the eloquence and force of reasoning, displayed in the Address just published by the Democratic Central Committee...

But the "Register" consoles itself, that "it is too late, after the deed is done, to shut the stable door."

NULLIFICATION AND ABOLITION.

"He that runs may read," that the Abolitionists and Nullifiers have leagued together against the Democrats of the South and of the North.

Why is this? Why do the nullifiers and abolitionists unite in the same purpose in regard to the Presidency?

TENNESSEE.—In Sullivan county, Tennessee, an election for a member to the Legislature took place on the 3d inst.

A letter is published in the Globe, communicating the above; and the writer who lives in the south-western part of Virginia, thus remarks.

LOUISIANA.—The truth is (says the New Orleans Bee) Judge Porter cannot be re-elected; he knows it—his friends know it—his puffers know it.

INDIANA.—The Wabash Courier, a whig paper, states that the elections of members of the Legislature of that State, were not influenced by general politics.

Virginia Gold.—We see it stated by a correspondent in the Richmond Enquirer, that one of the richest veins of Gold ever discovered in Virginia, was struck, week before last, about 5 feet below the surface of the earth, at Jenkin & Co's mine, in Louisa county.

Col. John Keller, the whig Senator in the Virginia Legislature from the Washington district, has resigned his seat, being about to remove south-west.

ABOLITION CANDIDATE.

Some of our personal friends, who have unfortunately become entangled in the meshes of the heresy of Nullification, have taken us to task for calling theirs the Abolition candidate.

"Should I be asked if there is no way by which the General Government can aid the cause of emancipation, I answer, that it has long been an object near my heart to see the whole of its surplus revenue appropriated to that object.

Now if the above be not abolitionism, in its most odious shape, we know not what it is. Gen. Harrison goes for taxing the South, raising a revenue from them, and with the surplus of that revenue to buy up and emancipate their slaves!

Fatal Encounter.—We learn from the Milton Spectator, 20th inst. that Barzillai Kerr, aged about 18, was killed in that town on the 18th, in an encounter with Johnson Sneed, also aged about 18.

SIGNS IN OHIO.

Licking county.—At a muster of the Rifle Battalion, a vote on the Presidency resulted in giving to Mr. Van Buren, 149. Gen. Harrison, 10.

Fairfield county.—At a vote in Capt. Mitchell's company, Bear township, there were

For Van Buren, 61 For Harrison, 8

Butler county.—At a company muster in Butler, the vote stood as follows:

Van Buren, 60. Harrison, 1.

A shabby account for Harrison, in his own State.

Health of Newbern.—It is stated in a Newbern paper of 16th inst. that but few families in that place have escaped the bilious fever this season; but that "most of the cases have been of a mitigated character," although "several have proved fatal."

RALEIGH is comparatively healthy; no unusual degree of sickness prevails in the City; the few cases of small pox that occurred, have all disappeared; and we suspect there is scarcely a town in the State, where the residents are more secure from disease, than in the City of Raleigh.

FLORIDA.—Something decisive must be done in Florida, very soon. Gen. Armstrong's brigade of Tennessee Volunteers, about 1500, are on their march for Florida; and Gen. Jesup will soon have 5 or 600 mounted volunteers there also.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says it shall oppose Van Buren until he substitutes for the visionary theories of Jefferson the sound views of Hamilton!

The fashionable dandies in Philadelphia wear their dresses so tight about their shoulders that they are obliged to unhook them to sneeze.

Sport.—Two boys named Cassar, according to the Red River Gazette, lately caught near Monroe, in the space of 2 hours, 2 bushels of cat fish, and 1 bear.

Breach of Promise.—Miss Melissa E. Baird of Blandford, Mass., lately brought a suit against Dr. A. A. Wright, for a breach of marriage promise.

New York Burnt District.

At least one third of the buildings in the burnt district are already occupied, and more than three-fourths of the lots have warehouses on them in such a state of forwardness that they will be completed before the cold weather sets in.

A Branch of the Bank of the State, has been established in Elizabeth City; John C. Ehringhaus, cashier.

Indiana.—The Indianapolis Democrat offers a bet of Fifty Dollars that Gov. Noble, whom it styles the Harrison candidate, will not be elected to the U. S. Senate from that State this winter, and offers a premium of $10 to any one who will procure a pledge that Gov. N. will remain a candidate.

Old Customs.—In 1664, a vote was passed in Boston town meeting that a bell should be rung every day at 11 o'clock. The practice was continued 171 years, and suppressed by the Mayor and Council in 1835.

Subterraneous Heat.—It appears that in searching for water, the earth has been bored in Paris to the depth of 100 feet. Water had not been found; but the experiment has been made subservient to some investigations on subterraneous temperature made by M. Arago, who by means of a register thermometer, has satisfied himself that temperature regularly increases from the surface of the earth towards its centre.

Creek War.—We see it stated that there had been circulated among the Creeks an inflammatory proclamation issued by Sir Geo. Cockburn, during our last war with England, and which was again put in circulation, without the date, as a recent document.

An Englishman, who is a silversmith, and resided for some time in Columbus, Geo., was the man who rode among the Indians, and read and explained these papers, but took care to conceal the date; he is now in prison in Montgomery jail. This man says he is the natural son of Francis the Prophet, hung by order of Gen. Jackson, and was born in London at the time Francis visited England.

Horrible murder!—One of the most revolting murders on record, was committed in the City of New York, corner of Rivington and Essex streets, a few days since, on the body of Mrs. Alice Ackley, by her own husband, Samuel Ackley. It seems the monster effected his fiendish crime, by impaling his wife alive, with a long sharp instrument.

INDIANA is as certain for Van Buren as New-York, and the "Register" feeds its readers with false hopes in claiming that State for either of its twin candidates. We have been among the Hoosiers, and know them to be too much attached to Jackson, Democracy and Van Buren, to be seduced from the Republican party, by their solitary whig Member of Congress, McCARTY.

ABOLITION & NULLIFICATION.—We see by the last "Register," that its Editor comes out in defence of Gen. Harrison, and denies that he is an abolitionist. Now we are not in the habit of indulging in the child's game of contradiction; but will refer the Editor, and all who have any faith in his assertions, to an extract from one of Gen. Harrison's own speeches, (in another column of to-day's Standard) wherein he sets forth his plan of abolition: which is, to tax the people, (of the South as well as the North) raise a surplus revenue, and with this surplus (the people's own money) to emancipate their slaves!

"Rats flee from a sinking ship."

With the instinct of the meal-tub vermin, the "Register" and its federal nullifiers, who have all along bristled up so valiantly in defence of the nullification candidate, vociferating White! White! are now, since the hot-potch party have every where been compelled to substitute Harrison (the abolitionist and tariffite) for White, (the nullifiers' decoy-duck) sneaking back to their covert, occasionally popping out their heads on the other side, and begin to make much noise in behalf of the General. Indeed, the "Register," in its blind zeal for its new candidate, labors to prove General Harrison no abolitionist, when the General's great endeavor, in his speech, was to satisfy the non-slaveholders around him, that he was in favor of emancipating ALL the slaves in the United States!

It is rumored that Gen. Harrison will visit lower Virginia, before his return to Ohio. We are glad of it. We wish it were possible for him to visit every city and village in the Union before the election.—The Whig parties could then see what kind of a candidate their leaders are endeavoring to palm upon them.

Spanish Indemnity.—We are much gratified to learn that a portion of the Spanish indemnity has also been paid, and arrived in this country; besides all the instalments due from France and Naples. Yet this is the administration which the merchants have been urged by the bank to thwart and oppose!—Globe.

PARTY TRICKS.—Why does the "Register" misrepresent and falsify Mr. VAN BUREN's able and statesman-like letter to Sherrod Williams, and yet refuse to publish that letter? It dare not give the letter, lest the nullifying and federal readers would detect the falsehoods propagated in regard to Mr. Van Buren's sentiments.

Mr. Van Buren is not opposed to a distribution of the surplus revenue among the several States; he expressly says, in his letter to Mr. Williams, that he would have done as Gen. Jackson did—approved the bill for distribution. And he as expressly states what he is opposed to: He is opposed to raising a revenue from the people, for the purpose of distributing it among them again. He is opposed to the stupid folly of the General Government's levying a tax, for instance, of one dollar on every citizen of North Carolina, and thereby raising a revenue, from which to distribute back among the people of the state, we will say at the rate of 80 cents per head—for the expenses of collection, of reimbursement, &c. &c. will consume all of 20 per cent. of the amount collected.

A Mr. Collier, of Petersburg, is in great wrath because Mr. Van Buren neglected to answer a letter addressed to him by the said Collier, and has published a long manifesto setting forth his grievances in the premises, and a determination hereafter to be a whig!

It is a singular fact that the newspaper which bears the most warlike name (the Toledo Blade, Ohio) is the most pacific and neutral in its politics—while that which carries on its front the beau ideal of all that's divine in sculpture, the Belvidere Apollo, printed at Belvidere, New Jersey, is exclusively devoted to the dull pursuits of trade and local business matters.—Noah.

COMMUNICATED.

COL. JOHNSON.—The Star of the 8th inst. inquires, "why is such a profound silence observed by the Van Buren presses relative to the caucus nominee for the Vice Presidency?" I answer by asking, why is such a profound silence observed by the nullifying and federal presses relative to their candidates, Messrs. Tyler and Granger, for the Vice Presidency? I look in vain in the Star, in the whig, and in idiomæ genus; but not a word do I find on the transcendent merits of these redoubtable heroes. Does the Star suppose they have done so much, and deserved so much, that their characters are well known to the people, and thus are "left alone to their glory?" I believe Mr. Tyler, was for several years in the Senate of the U. S. and that he was never accused even, of as much as Col. Johnson has been, of having "submitted some able reports to Congress under his signature;" and that he was compelled to surrender that trust by the indignant voice of his insulted state, who by their representatives, disrobed him of his ill-gotten power. And Mr. GRANGER, who is he? Only known as an open-mouthed abolitionist, and opposed to every interest that the South holds dear. This finishes the thirtieth year of Col. Johnson's faithful service to the people. During all this period, he has been the undeviating friend of the rights of man and of the press, freedom of conscience, and liberty of the citizen. He succeeded in his own state, in abolishing imprisonment for debt, and has long been endeavoring to abolish from the code of the U. States, this relic of feudal barbarity. His report on Sunday mails, will always stand as a monument of his devotion to the rights and liberty of man; not mere professions, but "a faith that works by deeds," to the rights and liberties of the people. And in the late war, the Star, with all its effrontery, admits "he fought with bravery." Now what have these nonpartisans of the nullifying party, these Siamese twins, Messrs. Tyler and Granger, done to entitle them to the votes of the people over Col. Johnson? "Look on this picture, and then on that." But says the Star, of the able reports submitted to Congress under Col. Johnson's signature, "it is generally known that he was not the author, and that he is an exceedingly weak man." Indeed, wonderful discovery! "but they in fact emanated from the pen of a distinguished Statesman, who basks a little more in the rays of a Southern sun." This electioneering trick to dress up the day star of his political adoration, (Mr. Calhoun) in borrowed plumes will not avail. I have good authority for saying, that Mr. Calhoun had no more hand in advising or writing the report on Sunday mails, than he did in the celebrated report of Mr. Jefferson in '98. Until recently, it was urged that Gen. Washington did not write his Farewell Address; and the same party urges that Gen. Jackson does not write his messages. All are from the same federal source, and alike destitute of truth.

But Col. Johnson's character cannot be defended, says the voracious Star. Is the character of Genl. Harrison without spot or blemish? The best evidence of Col. Johnson's character, is that of his neighbors, by whom he has been always supported; and this one fact puts down the thousand and one libels of the nullifying presses of the day. The same party cried out "Dusky Sally" against Mr. Jefferson; but the people met them at the polls and gave them, as they will again in Nov. a Waterloo defeat.

FIRE.—In Elizabeth City, N. C. a fire occurred on the 21st inst. which destroyed the steam mill and warehouse of Mr. H. N. Williams, together with 700 barrels of corn; also, the blacksmith and carpenter's shops of Timothy Hunter.

A chemist in Marseilles, has extracted a poison from olive oil, which is said to kill as suddenly as prussic acid.

MARTIN LUTHER.—This extraordinary man has left a beautiful thought upon the married state. "It is almost as impossible," he said, "to dispense with female society, as it is to live without eating and drinking. The image of his marriage is found in all creatures; not only in the animals of the earth, the air, and the water, but also in trees and stones. Every one knows that there are trees, such as the apple and the pear tree, which are like husband and wife, which prosper better when planted together. Among stones, the same thing may be remarked, especially in precious stones—the coral, the emerald, and others. The heaven is husband to the earth. He vivifies her by the heat of the sun, by the rain and the wind, and causes her to bear all sorts of plants and fruits."

The Maryland Dwarf.—Mr. Nicholas a young man of Lilliputian proportions, a native of Caroline, and now residing just beyond the division line between that county and our own, visited this town on Tuesday. We, of course called to pay our respects. At times he conversed with ease and freedom, occasionally manifesting considerable strength of mind and shrewdness; but at all others, appeared embarrassed, restless, owing as it struck us, to the reflection that in mere sport of Nature, he had been curtailed of the beauties of symmetry as well as the fullness of stature, and at such moments, sympathy excited in the beholder, unpleasant emotions. Of respectable, but poor parents, he is 22 years old, 2 feet 8 inches high, and weighs 48 pounds, the corpulency of his body, like the shape of his legs, approaching deformity and precluding graceful or rapid locomotion. If we recollect aright he is much below the size of Mr. Clarke, the dwarf, who some years ago, passed through this part of the country. His features are prominent, and his face rather intellectual.—Cambridge (Md.) Chron.

Paper is manufactured in France from corn husk. Two samples have been prepared by Gen. Tallmadge to the American Institute. The quality is said to be equally good with that made of rags.
