It seems that the memory of this woman, like that of her renowned husband, is likely to be kept alive to the end of time. She is said to have possessed a very irritable temper, and her name has become a synonym of "vixen" or "scold." It is more than possible, that the judgment passed upon her by mankind has been too severe. A more charitable disposition would undoubtedly have discovered in her many good qualities, which have attributed her falling more to physical infirmities than to moral obliquity. The party most intimately acquainted with her, and therefore many domestic virtues. It is now well known that many of the diseases to which women are subject, have a direct tendency to render them irritable, peevish, cross, morose, unreasoning, so that they chafe and fret over all those little ills and annoyances that a person in health would bear with composure. It is fair to infer that the most of our troubles and sorrows were due to these causes alone, and could be removed, as she returned from the Senate, and carried home, or the Altheim, have adopted at Peale & Martz's Drug Store, and Garrison a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, now and then, no doubt he might have eradicated many a "chronic" ailment, and many a "domestic broil," made it much pleasanter for the children, and more enjoyable for himself, and rescued his wife's name from the unenviable world-wide and eternal notoriety it has attained. Thousands of women bleed the day on which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was first made known to them. A single bottle often gives delicate and suffering women more relief than months of treatment from their family physician. In all those derangements causing backache, dragging-down sensations, nervous and general debility, it is a sovereign remedy. Its soothing and healing properties render it of almost value to ladies suffering from internal fever, constipation, inflammation, or ulceration, and its strengthening effects tend to correct displacements of internal parts, the result of weakness of natural supports. It is sold by all druggists.

Mr. James Currie, Dentist, in Baltimore, writes: "I have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup personally and in my family for two or three years, and am prepared to say that there is nothing comparable to it as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, etc."

When you see a man that shuffles loosely along, with his knees knocking together, and his toes pointing in—whose eyes roll nervously and whose hand is ever suddenly jerking itself above his head as if warding off a blow, you can rely upon it that that man is afflicted by a mother-in-law, but when you see a party who has his feet high, and both his nose in the air, and whose mouth is distended with a self-complacent grin, and who seems to feel that all at all over, is to be called out in this town, he has just bought a new "Domestic" sewing-machine for his wife.

EMPLOYMENT EXTRAORDINARY.

The Messenger contain a long account of a very fruitless expedition which Goldsboro figured in. Mr. D. and Miss Ella J. arrived in that town on Saturday from Tarboro, and after procuring rooms at the hotel the couple repaired to the Court House for the purpose of procuring marrying papers. Learning that the maiden was under age, the Registrar refused to issue the license. Notwithstanding the terrible disappointment, the bonyant couple took heart and proceeded to Raleigh, and failing to procure papers in that city repaired to Durham where another failure was their lot. They returned to Goldsboro Sunday evening, and on counting up his cash the young man found he had interest $67 on the trip, he ch was about the bottom of his pile, and now remembering that his income as a drummer for a Baltimore house would not justify his taking a wife along with him, he concluded it best to advise his affianced to return home. She refused to be separated at first but after much persuasion agreed to go back home if her swain would go with her, and they left for Tarboro on the next train a better if not a wiser couple.

ROCKY MOUNT DRAMATIC ASSOCIATION.

Trevathan Hall at Rocky Mount was filled from gallery to parquette and pit on Friday night by a most appreciative audience, in which beautiful women and ugly men mingled in ravishing contrast. The amateur histrionic corps on that occasion rendered "Jenny Foster or the Sailor's Girl." The prolonged applause that greeted the actors evinced the delight and appreciation of the assemblage. Where all acted so well, in the stereotyped language of our correspondents, it would be invidious to distinguish.

It was our fortune to secure a seat near a most intelligent and accomplished lady, whose discerning and cultivated taste enabled her to point out to us the finer passages of emotion and pathos.

The fance enacted by Messrs Jagan, Snyder, Tillery, Pennington and Willford was side-splitting in its effects. Many vest buttons were lost and round coriols rived burst asunder, not to speak of the hardware in the way of nails excavated from collars. Mr. Jordan was peculiarly felicitous with his banjo and made a happy hit in his speech, which brought down the house.

The oratorical effort of the occasion was fathered by Manager Tillery.

"His ready speech flowed fast and free, In phrase of gentlest courtesy."

From the same author and the same poem, we detected a beautiful lady quoting by way of soliloquy:

"Not his the form, nor his the eye, That youthful maidens want to fly, All will hail with joy the next exhibition. May it be soon."

MEETING OF THE DOCTORS TO ORGANIZE A MEDICAL SOCIETY.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

A most destructive fire broke out in the kitchen on the lot of Mr. B. J. Keech, in this place on last Saturday morning about 2 o'clock, and communicated to three other out-houses which were all consumed. For an hour or more the two fire companies of this place with the assistance of citizens fought the flames with desperation and save the dwelling house, which at times thought must go. The cause of the fire was carelessness of the cook leaving hot ashes in a box sitting on the floor. Mr. Keech's loss is estimated at $800. No insurance.

OUR CHAPEL HILL LETTER.

Commencement Week—The Session—Addresses—Ball—A President—Accommodations—The Village—Building—Marshals—Ball Managers, &c.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., April 24th, 1876.

DEAR SOUTHERNER:—In order that the University loving people of our State may know what to expect when they come here in June, I will give a brief outline of the way on which commencement week will be spent.

The examinations will close on the last Saturday in May and although there will be no College duties during the succeeding week, yet the University does not close its session until Thursday, the first day of June.

THE SERMON.

The usual sermon before the students will be preached either on the last Sunday, or Tuesday night in May. I think Tuesday will be selected as the day. The Rev. F. Reichard, D. D., of Raleigh will deliver the sermon. As I feel myself incompetent to speak of the merits of this well known divine, I will not say more of him.

ADDRESSES.

On the morning of Wednesday, May 31st, the anniversary address will be delivered before the two literary societies, Dialectic and Philanthropic, by Hon. Alfred M. Waddell, of Wilmington. Col. Willard has for several years represented the Wilmington district in Congress, where he has gained for himself by his eloquence a reputation second to none in the State. Only those who heard Col. Waddell will be prepared for the rich literary feast he has in store for us.

In the afternoon of the same day, our State Geologist, Prof. W. C. Kerr will deliver an address before the students of the Agricultural department.

Wednesday night will be one of the greatest interest, as it is then that the representatives from the two societies—Dialectic and Philanthropic will deliver their orations. In connection with the "tree" may be well to say how they were chosen. Six men were elected by each society as competitors, who handed in their speeches to the faculty. After reading the faculty selected the six best—three from each Society. In this way the Societies are represented by their best men.

This year the representatives are, John H. Dancy, of Sully county, R. L. Payne of Davidson county, and W. B. Phillips of Chapel Hill, from the Dialectic Society.—Arthur Arrington of Lenoir, John B. Lewis, of Rocky Mount, and W. J. Peete of Jackson, from the Philanthropic Society.

As a more extended criticism upon these gentlemen would be out of place I will leave that for you to report at commencement.

THURSDAY, JUNE 1ST.

On Thursday morning Ex-Gov. Vance will deliver an address upon Gov. David L. Swain. The mere fact that Gov. Vance will speak is sufficient to draw many of the friends of this institution to come to their Alma Mater and hear from the lips of North Carolina's most gifted orator a discourse upon the one who devoted a great portion of his life to the educational interests of this State, and who was for a long time President of this College.

In the afternoon Judge R. P. Dick will speak. I have not been able to find out Judge Dick's subject, and must therefore desist from further comment.

The speeches at our commencement will be equal to any in this country.

COMMENCEMENT BALL.

On Thursday night the Ball will come off, what shall I say about it? The Marshals have left nothing undone to make the commencement pass off well. The Ball managers have been very energetic and will have all in readiness. The ball room will be beautifully decorated and the tables and when filled with the "beauty and chivalry" of our State will present a beautiful appearance. Young ladies of Edgecombe and of North Carolina it is your duty to grace this fine commencement, and to grace this fine commencement, with your beautiful smiles. North Carolinians it is your duty to encourage those who are working to build up our once beloved institution by your presence at the commencement.

A PRESIDENT.

Much is being said of electing a President. Some think that the Trustees will elect him at their meeting here in June. There are many more in the South who in a short time will build up our college. Some mention has been made of President Davis. While the Southern people can not confer too much honor upon the hero who so nobly upheld the cause in the dark hour, and who has ever been a true friend to the South, yet it would not do to elect Jefferson Davis as President. Among the names mentioned, I find those of Gen. Wade Hampton of South Carolina, Gen. Q. Lamar of Mississippi, Gen. Matt W. Ransom, North Carolina's true patriot, Wm. S. Johnson, of Charlotte, and K. P. Battle of Raleigh. As this is entirely with the Trustees, I am certain that they will select the best men to fill the place.

RAIL ROADS.

The railroads of the State will make reductions and some only charge half rates.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

Where can the visitors be accommodated for every where in town. All the citizens will be glad to accommodate visitors. Besides there are boarding houses in the town. The hotel will be well fitted up where visitors will receive every comfort. No one will be accommodated. Everybody in Chapel Hill is well aware of the importance of a large crowd at commencement and will make all the necessary arrangements.

THE VILLAGE.

is still improving. Mr. Smith the house mover is here and is moving Mr. S. M. Boy's new feed drug store to its stand on Main Street. In my previous letters I have taken occasion to mention the improvements in the town.

THE BUILDINGS AND CAMPUS.

Mr. Cameron has sent on a lot of painters from Hillsboro, who are busily engaged in painting roofs of the building. They will also paint the house occupied by Dr. James Phillips. The trees and stumps in the campus are beginning to bud out and when our visitors arrive we can show them as pretty a campus as there is in America. Workmen are busy cleaning up around the buildings and sweeping the campus.

DANCING SCHOOL.

Many of our students are perfecting themselves in the Tarboro dancing art under the instruction of Prof. Slater.

MARSHALS AND BALL MANAGERS.

Much credit is due these gentlemen for their energy in "fixing up" for the commencement. They will preserve the best order during commencement week, and I can assure the readers of the Southerner and people of our State that these gentlemen have done and will do everything to make the final exercises of our college a complete success. They have secured the services of one of the best bands in the State. Let all the friends of the college come. What a glorious time they will have, old college and class mates will meet and talk of the days that they have spent here. Let everybody come, it is for the people to aid us with their presence. Dex.

FROM WINTON.

Hertford Superior Court—To be Held—Lawyers—Yeates' Election Surety—Committed to Jail, &c.

WINTON, N. C., April 24th, 1876.

EDITOR SOUTHERNER:—Hertford County Superior Court has been in session here since Tuesday, 18th inst. Judge Moore delivered an off-hand charge to the Grand Jury, having with his notes and books behind him, which did not arrive till next day. He was especially severe upon fornication and adultery. He said he should require all parties charged with illicit co-habitation to quit at least ten miles apart.

Elijah Thomas (col.) was arraigned and tried on Thursday for the murder of his half-sister, Clara Jane Hampton, by beating, on March 4th, last. The prisoner was defended by two young lawyers, E. L. Ward and B. B. Wimberson, and by J. J. Martin, appeared for the State. The jury was one of unusual intelligence, being composed of ten white men and but two negroes. It was evidence that the Skimmes beat the poor child, who was only 19 years old, most barbarously for nearly half an hour, and until she lay dead on the floor before him. The jury were out about 20 minutes, when they returned with the verdict of guilty of murder. Skimmer will be sentenced to death, but his counsel will appeal to the Supreme Court. There are no other criminal cases of importance on the docket.

Seventeen lawyers were present at this term of court; among whom were Hon. W. N. H. Smith, Hon. D. A. Barnes, Ex-Judge Albertson, Maj. H. A. Gilliam, Capt. O. Calk and Col. W. W. Peebles.

The impressive Duncan McDonald Lindsey was here last week pulling wires for the radical nomination for Congress, Solicitor Martin, Judge Albertson and J. L. Chamberlain are his competitors for the candidacy. Hon. Jesse J. Yeates, however, will be unquestionably re-elected, and if anything by a larger majority than he received two years ago. I am informed that he will have no opposition in the conservative convention.

I hear it whispered that W. W. Peebles is a claimant for the radical candidacy for Congress in the second district, Gov. Hyman, however, is on the State. Hyman will probably be selected this time.

A little white boy named Henry Barnes was brought here on Saturday night and committed to jail for attempting to burn the dwelling house of Mr. Willie Deans at Murfreesboro in the afternoon of that day. The boy had entered an unoccupied room of the house and made a fire on the straw, Kerenswood and other combustibles. He then ran to the woods, whether he was pursued by a crowd of young men and boys. He was caught after an exciting chase, brought to town, and examined before Justice G. D. Parker. The affair caused great excitement in the town. Puz.

FROM KINSTON.

Town More Lively—Municipal Election—Almost a Fire—A Gentleman from Greene badly Tared, &c.

KINSTON, N. C., April 24th, 1876.

DEAR SOUTHERNER:—Our little town has been more lively for the last few days. It is quite close between the two parties here in the town election and there is no little excitement and interest taken in it. I think the Democratic party will elect their ticket for the first time in several years.

We almost had a fire here yesterday. I thought we were going to have a good one when I heard the fire bell and saw the fire engine and Hook & Ladder Truck going with such speed up Main Street toward the three story residence of Walter Dunn, which was said to have been on fire, but the engine and truck had to return before reaching there, as the fire was reported to be extinguished without their assistance.

I will give you a brief sketch of something amusing. On Monday last, an old man arrived here from Greene county by the name of Burgess, on his way to the U. S. Court at New Bern, to inform against some farmers for selling tobacco to their hands without license. He said that he was employed by Mr. Kehoe to attend to such cases, and for every case reported he (Burgess) was to have $100 for his part. But here the fun comes in. He first struck a horse and was killed. He would turn in, so he hung himself up on the floor for the night to take his rest. When he awoke in the morning he was stuck so tight to the floor with tar, that he could not turn over. His head hung over the floor and his old hat pulled on, and he could not get his hat off. His ears were corked with tar and cotton, and he could not hear the train blow. He said he was going to blow on the 8 o'clock train last night, but from what I could learn late in the evening he had concluded to go to the same beach with some young fellows to have some more fun. Respectfully yours, M.
