THE TRIBUNE DIVIDED.

The business office of the Bismarck Tribune, pending the completion of the new building, is on Broadway in the rear of the Beardsley & Finney drug store.

The city and telegraph's editor's office remain at the old stand, Broadway, side entrance.

The phone numbers are 13 and 32 as heretofore.

MEETS WITH MRS. ERICKSON.

The Swedish Ladies Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. A. Erickson Thursday afternoon. Everyone is invited.

THE FLAMING ARROW.

A genuine Indian brass band, blanket Indians surrounded by an atmosphere of the west, are among the pleasant and agreeable surprises promised by Lincoln J. Carter, whose beautiful drama, "The Flaming Arrow," will be at the opera house on Sunday night.

MCLEAN COUNTY COURT HOUSE.

Bids for the new office building of the McLean county court house at Washburn were opened in Tuesday, and the contract awarded to Thomas F. Powers of Fargo, for $14,934. Work will commence at once. Mr. Powers is in the city now arranging for the material.

NOTED VIOLINIST HERE.

Chevalier Hubert Crispin, a celebrated violinist and trombonist is in the city and will make this his headquarters for a few weeks while arranging for a tour of the states and organizing his company.

The Chevalier played here in '93 with Libretti's band at the Atheneum. He expects to meet some of the local talent and arrange for one or more concerts while visiting here.

DELINQUENT COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

The state superintendent of public instruction is unable to send out the August apportionment of the state tuition fund because seven county superintendents have failed so far to send in the result of the school census. He does not wish to punish the school district for the neglect of duty by their county superintendents and hopes in the near future the officials will wake up and send in the figures.

BRITTIN-FELDHAUSEN.

At the Methodist parsonage Wednesday morning, George Feldhausen and Miss Flora Brittin were united in marriage. Rev. Louis Magin performing the marriage ceremony. The newly married couple left for Rochester, Ill, where they will reside on a farm. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brittin, of Logan township, this county, and is well known to a large number of citizens.

The groom was a resident of this city for a number of years where his father was in the office of the U. S. surveyor general, and he attended the Bismarck public schools. For the past eight years he has been a rancher in the northern part of the county.

The best wishes of a large circle of friends will follow the young people.

DEATH OF MRS. PEHRSON.

Mrs. Olaf Pehrson, mother of Mrs. Walford Hoover, died near Braddock on the 5th inst. and was buried on the 8th inst. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover returned from the funeral Wednesday accompanied by Mr. Pehrson.

WEDDED.

Miss Josephine Martin, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Martin was married to Jacques Wittmayer of Goodrich on Tuesday, September 8. Judge McKenzie performed the ceremony. In the evening an elaborate wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom left for Goodrich on Wednesday morning to reside on farm near the town.

CROWDED.

The Gem continues to hold the attention of the pleasure seeker. Last night the house was again packed with a well pleased audience. The pictures are perfect and give the comical and amusing side of life.

The two comedians seem to be favorites with the audience and will continue their work for the remainder of the week.

MENU.

The following is the menu for the Swastika club entertainment given German night, September 10.

- Wienerwurst, 5c Sauerkraut, 5c Leberkloss, 5c Cheese Sandwiches, 5c Ham Sandwiches, 5c Rye Bread and Cheese Sandwiches, 5c Pie, 5c Two Doughnuts, 5c Coffee, 5c Supper will be served beginning at 5:30.

TO SELECT STATIONS ON YELLOWSTONE RIVER.

H. C. Frankenfeld of Washington, D. C., and O. W. Roberts of the local weather bureau, left for the Yellowstone park Tuesday. They will take a ten-day trip up the Yellowstone river to select stations for the observation of the flow of water. This data will be used in connection with the irrigation projects carried on by the government. The trip will be one of hard work with pleasure as a side issue.

YOUNG JOHNSON MAY LIVE.

Henry Tatley made the trip to Ecklund yesterday to see the son of Mrs. Morris Anderson who was run over by a separator last week. He found the boy better but not out of danger. The fever had abated but he has a very rapid pulse, which fact worries the physicians. There were twelve of the boy's ribs broken and it is a miracle that he was not crushed to death.

Henry found that a very good crop is being threshed out in the north part of the county, some yields going as high as 20 bushels to the acre, and some as low as six.

GOING TO CUBA.

Foster Gover, who has been operating a farm near Sterling is offering his personal effects for sale at public auction.

About October 1 Mr. Gover will leave for Magnolia, Cuba, where he will engage in the hotel business and also operate a fruit farm for the cultivation of oranges, bananas, grape fruit and pineapples.

Several Bismarckers, among them August Erickson, John Carlson and J. M. Niles will accompany him, as will also a number from the vicinity of Sterling.

Magnolia is an American town on the coast, with a splendid climate and a very productive soil. It is the vanguard of the ultimate colonization and absorption of Cuba.

REMEMBRANCE PARTY.

Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vesperman, on sixth street, the members of the Young Peoples' alliance of the German Evangelical church gave a very pleasant and delightful surprise and farewell party. The evening was spent in games and delightful refreshments were served after which our worthy president, Carl Juhnke, in the name of the alliance, presented Mr. and Mrs. Vesperman with a token of remembrance and expressed the general regret that they will leave the city to make Washburn their future home, and they all wished them God speed.

MOONLIGHT PICNIC.

The young people of the Methodist Episcopal church will have a straw ride tonight. The wagon will leave the church at 7 o'clock sharp. The young ladies are requested to bring lunches for two. Be on time if you wish to go.

FOOD SALE.

The ladies of the Baptist church will have a food sale on Saturday afternoon, September 12 at the Capitol Book store.

GRAND HARVEST FESTIVAL.

The harvest festival at St. Mary's school grounds will open this evening. A good time is assured to all. The Swastika club will serve their famous lunches.

There will be music, games and contests. The feature of the evening will be a "noodle contest." All are welcome.

ASKING FOR BIDS.

At the meeting of the official board of the McCabe Methodist church Monday evening, the building committee was authorized to call for bids on the furnishing of the auditorium of the new church, the bids to be opened September 30. Contractors wishing to bid will find the plans and specifications with the secretary, A. W. Cook, at the court house.

FOR MRS. TUBBS.

Tuesday afternoon and evening Mrs. P. C. Remington entertained in honor of Mrs. Grace Wilson Tubbs in her hospitable home on Seventh street. Those present were the old friends of Mrs. Tubbs and they had a delightful time. In the afternoon the gathering was in the nature of a sewing bee and the evening was devoted to bridge whist, and the gentlemen were included among the guests. Both features were charming.

DAKOTA FARMER SONG SET TO MUSIC.

The song of the North Dakota farmer by Mrs. Budlong has been set to music by Theodore Rice, and is now printed and on sale. Commissioner Gillereth is having free copies distributed at the various fairs in the east. The music is quite catchy. On the last page of the cover Foley's "Call of the West" is printed. It's a pretty good immigration document.

USE TRIBUNE WANT COLUMNS.

THE RIVALS.

The name of Jefferson and the name of Richard Brimsley Sheridan's fine old classical comedy, "The Rivals," are inseparably linked together. William W., internationally famous as "Bob Acres" is warmer hearted and more charmingly vain and swaggar than even the author could wish; and William W. Jefferson.

Joseph, as "Sir Lucius O'Trigger," is repeating the success his impersonation won years ago when he succeeded the late W. J. Florence. Their supporting company includes a metropolitan cast of particular brilliance. The Jeffersons and "The Rivals" come to the opera house Tuesday, September 15.

JUST JOKES

"Sir, I want work." "Here's a penny." Buy yourself a newspaper. "But I know nothin' about running a newspaper," protested Tired Tiffins, who really wanted alms.—Louisville Courier Journal.

Good gracious! Look! What can be the matter? There—across the street. What is it that is tossing that woman about, from side to side in such a violent manner? "Possibly she is trying to hold her tongue."—Puck.

Shopman—A mattress? Yes, sir, spring one, I suppose. The Rustic—No, man, I want one suitable for the whole year.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Stella—My fiance refused to let me take charge of a booth at the church fair last week. Mabel—What were you going to sell? Stella—Kisses at a quarter apiece.—Chicago News.

Church—I see Dr. Karl Muck has completed his two seasons as conductor of the Boston Symphony orchestra. Gotham—Well, I hope he'll retire now and take his rake with him.—Yonkers Statesman.

"Well, madam, wasn't the chameleon all right?" solicitously inquired the reptile fancier, noticing the disappointed countenance of a recent customer. "Yes, he was perfectly dear about changing color," began the fair purchaser; "he turned blue and green and brown whenever I wore those colors; but I happened to fasten him on my dress one day when I wore a Scotch plaid, and the poor dear burst himself trying to make good."—Harper's Weekly.

"Are you going to spend the summer at the seashore?" "No; I fear I wouldn't enjoy myself." "Why not?" "Well, I haven't anything to spend but the summer."—Nashville American.

Collector (warmly)—I've been here a dozen times, sir, and I positively won't call again! Mr. Poorpay (cheerfully)—O, come now, old man, don't be so superstitious about making the thirteenth call; nothing will happen, I assure you.—Puck.

"Those knights of old were queer chaps, weren't they?" said Willie, looking up from his illustrated history story book.

Satisfactory.

The prisoner had been indicted for murder, and his conviction was a foregone conclusion, as his guilt was unquestionable. The result of the trial was a sentence to be hanged; but the man made an appeal for a pardon, and was anxiously awaiting a reply thereto, when his lawyer visited him in his cell. "I have good news for you—very good news!" the young lawyer said, grasping the man's hand. "Did the home secretary—it is a pardon?" the man exclaimed, joyously. "Well—no. The fact is he refuses to interfere. But an uncle of yours has died and left you a hundred pounds, and you will have the satisfaction of knowing that your lawyer got paid, anyhow."—Illustrated Bits.

Ingratitude.

Revenge for past favors. Forgetfulness of the heart. Repudiating the soul's debts of honor.

Stabbing the hand that has fed us. Treason usurping the place of thankfulness.

Inability to forgive those who have done us a kindness.

Some one's confession that we are no longer necessary to him.

Accepting friendship's dividends, but refusing to pay its assessments.

The cowardice of the deserter in the hour of a benefactor's need.

The devil's highway from thoughtless thanklessness to treachery.—William George Jordan in New York Tribune.

Scraps of Science.

A new machine to dispose of the ashes which accumulate in the fire rooms of vessels expels them through the keel so forcibly that they cannot scour the hull or come into contact with the propeller tubes.

Visual proof that the earth moves is furnished at Columbia university, New York, where a pendulum ninety-one feet long, suspended from the dome of a chapel, swings several inches out of the perpendicular.

By the use of an automatic reel which will maintain a uniform tension, yet permit its length to vary as the motion of a ship demands, a life saving cableway and breeches buoy has been made practicable for use on vessels.
