

SOCIETY OF EQUITY HAS BIG MEETING

Gov. Burke on Stock Gambling. "The only power great enough to grapple with this evil is the congress of the United States. Congress must amend the constitution, giving it greater power to control, regulate and penalize this gambling before it will be wiped out."

"I am not one who believes that there is not enough genius in American statesmanship to solve this great problem by legislation."

"Another thing. If you would stop gambling on the board of trade you must stop the practice yourselves."

"When you organized you adopted the name of Equity. This means that you must not only receive equity but must do equity—in other words, you must follow the old teachings of the golden rule, 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.'"

Fargo, June 9.—The above are a few of the principal points brought out in the address of Gov. John Burke before the convention of the grain growers' department of the American Society of Equity this afternoon.

Before Governor Burke started to speak the time of the convention was taken by Secretary Baerstein of the Commercial club, who read a paper in the institution of a durum wheat day in the Dakotas similar to the raisin day of California.

The governor stated that if the farmers of this convention thought that the institution of such a day was advisable he would issue a proclamation declaring such a day. It is probable that the matter will be brought up at one of the business sessions of the convention.

Morning Session. The convention of the grain growers' department of the American Society of Equity is in full swing in Fargo today. Until Friday morning the city will be full of farmers from all parts of North Dakota and western Minnesota.

The initial session of the convention started at 10:30 o'clock. This morning in Union hall, with a delegation present, the size of which surprised the officers of the society who have been working for several months arranging this meeting. Fully 250 delegates were present when the program was opened and delegates are still arriving on every train.

If the beginning is any indication of the success of the convention it will be one of the most enthusiastic and profitable ones ever held by the society, and is an evidence of the increasing interest the farmers taking in the protection of their rights and respective works.

North Dakota is especially well represented. Every county in the state has a number of farmer representatives in attendance. Eddy and Ward counties being in the lead in the size of delegations. The Ward county delegation arrived in the city last night. New Rockford alone sent a delegation of ten to twelve people, while there was a full car load of people from Minot and vicinity. It is estimated that by morning the size of the convention will be doubled and some fears are expressed that the hall where the convention is being held will not be large enough to accommodate the large gathering.

GRAND FORKS

Terre Haute, Ind.; Pittsburg, Kas.; Wichita, Kas.; Norfolk, Va.; El Paso, Texas, and Grand Forks, North Dakota.

The imperial council let it be known that it disapproved the "wholesale distribution of liquor" and indicated that it will next year pass a resolution forbidding the distribution of expensive badges for exchange among shriners because it breeds mad souvenir hunters.

CONVICTED A PIGGER. Fargo, June 9.—The jury in the case of the government against James Phillips, charged with selling liquor without a government license, brought in a verdict of guilty as charged in the indictment just before adjournment this noon, after being out less than an hour.

Phillips is a Pembina county homesteader. The traffic in liquor at issue occurred at Calvin, N. D.

The case was prosecuted by Asst. Dist. Atty. W. H. Barnett and strong evidence was presented. Atty. A. W. Fowler had charge of the defense.

TWO TRAGIC DEATHS. Wheaton, Minn., June 8.—This community was saddened to learn of the sudden death of Henry Tripp who received an electric shock while turning on a light in his barn. He was one of the pioneers of Wheaton, making his residence here in 1888.

W. Rosen, while holding posts for his hired man to drive, was instantly killed by the iron of the sledge which slipped from the handle and struck him on the head.

A farmers institute is to be held here June 14, and a large attendance is promised. Crops of all kinds are very promising.

current carried out the upper gates and in a moment the river was sweeping through the canal like a mill race, doing enormous damage to its rock bottom, meanwhile the Walker in a sinking condition, succeeded in reaching the dock on the American side of the river.

Captain Moshoe, when he stepped off his boat declared his engineer was responsible for the accident. The captain said that when he signalled the engineer to back, for some reason he did not obey but started the engines full speed ahead.

Strenuous efforts are being made to shut off the water, but it is now said this will take at least two days. It is believed the lock will be out of commission for the rest of the season.

STANLEY KETCHEL

arm blow to the jaw that about finished it. O'Brien could not fall because he was pinned in a corner. He crumpled up on the ropes and clung to Ketchel's neck desperately. Shaking him loose, Ketchel sent in a right and left again and put O'Brien very groggy. Referee McGuigan, seeing his condition, and wishing to avoid possible serious injury, stopped the fight.

Ketchel was cheered wildly by the crowd which was quick to comment on his showing as compared with Johnson's against O'Brien, to the disadvantage of the black champion.

Ketchel said after the fight: "I was confident that I could get O'Brien in less than six rounds. I am satisfied with my showing tonight."

O'Brien felt his defeat sorely, but was quick to give Ketchel full credit for his quick victory.

Both Ketchel and O'Brien weighed in at noon below 160 pounds.

The interesting announcement was also made that James Jefferies would appear at the National club Wednesday night in a friendly bout with Sam Berger, in order that Philadelphia might be able to judge the progress the big Californian has made in his preliminary training for a possible fight with Johnson.

WANT VALLEY CITY.

Fargo, June 9.—On Saturday arguments will be made in the federal court on an order to show cause why the case of Valley City, et al. against the Northern Pacific Railway company should not be taken back to the state court in which it was started.

The original case was started in the district court at Valley City, an effort being made to force the N. P. to stop No. 1 and 2 at that point. Claiming that there was no diversity of residence on the part of the plaintiff and defendant, the railway company got the case in the federal court.

STATE FORESTERS.

Minot, N. D., June 9.—The state convention of the Catholic Order of Foresters came to a very successful close in this city last evening. Thirty one counties were represented. Bismarck landed the 1910 convention.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Chief—Ranger—M. F. Murphy, Grand Forks.

Vice Chief—Earl F. Flynn, Devils Lake. Secretary—Thomas F. Dunn, Fargo. Treasurer—John Sheehan, Langdon.

Trustees—John Reeder, Wahpeton; J. A. Roell, Minot; and J. F. Weller, Lisbon.

Delegates to the national convention to be held in Montreal and the alternates follow: Delegates—E. F. Flynn, Devils Lake, and Robert Smith, Hankinson. Alternates—J. H. Kelly, Granton, and Thomas E. Dunn, Fargo.

Proposals.

Sealed proposals will be received by the board of education of the city of Bismarck, N. D., for laying cement sidewalks, putting on six slate blackboards, steel side walls and painting the interior of the high school building, until 3 p. m., June 22, 1909. Said proposals will be opened by the board in the presence of bidders at the Will school on the above mentioned date. Separate proposals will be received on the different branches of work required.

Specifications covering the said repairs and improvements may be seen at the office of A. Van Horn, architect, 209 Seventh street, Bismarck, N. D. The right is reserved to reject any or all proposals or any part of a proposal.

W. A. FALCONER, Pres., Board of Education.

ONE BODY HAS BEEN FOUND

Professional Diver Has Been Engaged to Work at Spiritwood Lake—Thorough Search is Being Made for the Body of Fritz Falck—Early Recovery is Expected.

Jamestown, N. D., June 9.—About 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the remains of Laura Limerand were brought to the surface of Spiritwood lake where they have lain since Thursday night. The body was found near the west shore where there is a sand beach. J. A. Buchanan found the body which was brought up by a grappling hook. The remains, which were in perfect condition, were taken to Buchanan.

The body was recovered after five days of continuous searching. The searching party dragged almost the entire west end of the lake, using three launches and many row boats, with line and grappling hooks. Dynamiting was commenced Monday and about 100 pounds exploded, and the grief-stricken parents appealed for outside assistance in recovering the remains of their son and daughter. Residents of Jamestown, a big part of Buchanan, and from Courtenay, Kenail and Wimbledon all joined in the search.

The city council agreed to appropriate funds to carry on the search and a professional diver was sent for to assist. The body of Fritz Falck, who was drowned at the same time is still undiscovered, but the recovery of one body gives renewed hope of the finding of the other.

VALLEY CITY COMMISSION

Want to Vote on Plan—Usual Fight is On Among the Citizens—Law Will Be Used to Force Early Election—Spite Work Claimed on Part of Opponents of Present Mayor.

Valley City, N. D., June 9.—The city council has called for an election to vote on the commission system for March 1910. There was some warm discussion over the proposed election. A motion to call the election for November was lost. Alderman Ritchie told the council one E. R. Bradley was advocating the commission election because Mayor Cowell had choked him and thrown him out of office, and that Bradley wanted a chance to gloat by getting the mayor out of office. The Times-Record says:

"An application will be made at the earliest possible date for an alternative writ of mandamus, compelling the city council to call an election to vote on the commission plan of government within a reasonable time. Ample funds have been raised and there is plenty more to be had to make the fight to last court of appeals. Attorney M. J. Engliert has been retained and is already at work on the case. He will probably apply to Judge Burke as soon as he returns from Cooperstown where he has gone to hold court, for an alternative writ of mandamus. If the writ is granted the city council will be given the choice of holding the election of their own free will within a specified time, or having the injunction made permanent.

Could Mention One.

"If there is anything Clarence needs," said the prominent society dame, who had brought her little boy to school, "and you will kindly let me know, I will see that he has it."

"I am glad you spoke of it, Mrs. Leader," said the teacher. "He seems to need a bath."

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

Would Sustain or Even Enhance Your Reputation.

The elements composing CALUMET are blended with such exactness that it is famous for its evenness of strength, leaving the food light, sweet and wholesome.

Do not confuse CALUMET with cheap or big can kinds, or the high-priced trust brands. It is a strictly high-grade baking powder, sold at a moderate price.

That it is the highest in quality and absolutely pure is proven by the fact that it received the highest award at the World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago, 1907.

Ask your Grocer—Don't accept a "just as good" kind—Insist on CALUMET.

Living the Simple Life. A number of men gathered in the smoking car of a train from Little Rock to another point in Arkansas were talking of the food best calculated to sustain health.

One Arkansan, a stout, florid man, with short gray hair and a self-satisfied air, was holding forth in great style.

"Look at me," he exclaimed—"never a day's sickness in my life, and all due to simple food! Why, gents, from the time I was twenty to when I reached forty years I lived a regular life. None of these effeminate delicacies for me, no late hours! Every day, summer and winter, I went to bed at 9; got up at 6; lived principally on corned beef and corn bread; worked hard, gents, worked hard, from 8 to 1; then dinner, plain dinner, then an hour's exercise and then—"

"Excuse me, Bill," interrupted a stranger who had up to this refrained from entering the discussion, "but what was you in for?"—Minneapolis Journal.

Was Cleopatra Beautiful? Archaeologists have discovered on coins portraits of Cleopatra, and critics have confronted these portraits with the poetic descriptions of Cleopatra given by Roman historians and have found that in these descriptions there was at least much fancy. In the portraits we do not see the countenance of a Venus, delicate, gracious, smiling, nor even the fine and sensuous beauty of a Marquise de Pompadour, but a face fleshy and, as the French would say, "bouffie," with a powerful aquiline nose—the face of a woman on in years, ambitious, imperious, which recalls the face of Maria Theresa. It will be said that judgments on beauty are personal; that Antony, who saw her alive, could judge better than we who see her portraits half faded out by the centuries; that the attractive power of a woman emanates not only from corporeal beauty, but also, and yet more, from her spirit. The taste of Cleopatra, her vivacity, her cleverness, her exquisite art in conversation, are acclaimed by all.—Guglielmo Ferrero in Putnam's.

Stevenson and Dreams.

Robert Louis Stevenson owed much of his inspiration to dreams. In one passage he attributed some of his finest work to the "brownies" who haunted his brain during moments of unconsciousness. "The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" owes its origin to a dream. "I had long been trying to write a story on this subject," writes Stevenson, "to find a body, a vehicle, for that strong sense of man's double being which must at times come in upon and overwhelm the mind of every thinking creature. For two days I went about racking my brains for a plot of any sort, and on the second night I dreamed the scene at the window and a scene afterward split in two, in which Hyde, pursued for some crime, took the powder and underwent the change in the presence of his pursuers. All the rest was made awake and consciously, although I think I can trace in much of it the manner of my brownies."

Refusing the Cure.

"Cultivate the acquaintance of women if you can," said the woman to the girl. "Surround yourself by women. They are certain protection against calumny. Women who have many women friends are never so awfully much talked about. It's policy."

"Is that what you have done?" asked the girl quietly.

"No," answered the woman. "You know it isn't. I'd rather be dead than to have to associate with women."—New York Press.
