CITY OF TENTS TO BE LOCATED NEAR CAPITOL

Seventh Day Adventists to Hold Annual Camp Meeting in Bismarck

Nearly Thirty Cities and Towns to Be Represented in the Gathering

Two Dozen or More Ministers Are to Preach the Word of Their Faith

Plans have been completed by the North Dakota Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, for the holding of their annual camp meeting in Bismarck, June 23rd to 30th. A city of tents will be pitched on a vacant lot near the Capitol building. More than one hundred living tents will be pitched and four large pavilions in which will be held services for the English, Germans, Swedes, and Danish-Norwegians. This will be the first time that the Adventists have ever held their camp meeting here.

It is very probable that ministers and other workers throughout the conference under the leadership of President C. J. Buhalts, of Harvey, will come here at least a week before the meetings open in order to get the encampment ready for those who are coming from various parts of the state.

Among the cities that will be represented are: Amor, Liberty, Alsen, Squires, Kenmare, Dodge, Stanley, Rock Lake, Cleveland, Gackle, Wheelock, Manred, Cathay, Heaton, Valley City, Beach, Alta, Streeter, McClusky, Kalm, Goodrich, Harvey, Lincoln, Kief, Fargo, Sykeston, Max and Baldwin.

Among the ministers in addition to President Buhalts that will be here are: Carl Leer, Lincoln; A. V. Rhoads, Beach; N. M. Jorgenson, Grand Forks; J. J. Reiswig, Jamestown; J. H. Seibel, Bowdon; Martin Olson, Valley City; W. A. Alway, Harvey; J. B. Cramer, Harvey; Ole Roming, Fargo; M. Ruskjor, Fargo; A. F. Schmidt, Harvey; S. G. Burley, Harvey; J. A. Litwinenco, Herreid; F. L. Franch, Fargo; D. D. Kurtz, Cathay; Richard Graham, Rock Lake; E. L. Spencer, Fargo; and Jacob Peters, Harvey.

President Buhalts will come here direct from Washington, D. C., where the quadrennial session of the General Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists is now being held. While in Washington, he has planned to have some of the leading workers in the denomination attend the camp-meeting, and take part.

Among those who will be here from outside the Conference are: L. H. Christian, of Hutchinson, Minn., who is the leader of the Danish-Norwegian work; S. Mortenson of Chicago, the leader of the Swedish work; L. F. Hafner, of Clinton, Mo., the leader of the German work; Charles Thompson of Minneapolis, Minn., president of the Northern Union Conference; F. C. Gilbert, of South Lancaster, Mass., the head of the Jewish work in this country; Valentine Leer, of California; missionaries from Germany and Russia.

In connection with the camp meeting here, business sessions will be held very day, except Saturday, which is observed by the Seventh-Day Adventists as the Sabbath. In connection with these business meetings, plans and recommendations will be made for the furtherance of the denomination in this state during the coming year. Officers will be elected, credentials and licenses will be issued to the various workers and appointments made for the various ministers and other laborers in the Conference.

Seventh-day Adventists believe that they have a definite message to give to the world today. In the year 1846 the Seventh-Day Adventists, as a denomination, really had their start. At that time one man, Captain Joseph Bates, of Fair Haven, Mass., proclaimed in part, the doctrines and teachings of this people. Starting in obscurity and poverty, it has grown in power and numbers, and extended in influence, until today the sun never sets but upon their organized work. Thus within a period of less than seventy years they have so covered the face of the earth that there is scarcely a country where their workers may not be found. During this time they have raised an expended in the prosecution of this work something over $25,000,000.

The Adventists have 112 local conferences, which form 23 union conferences, and these, with the 4 union mission fields, form the general conference. The entire organization is wholly and purely elective. The 2,769 local churches, with a membership of 14,000 untrammelled in any way, select delegates to the local conferences; the local conferences, in public assembly, elect delegates to the union conferences, which in turn elect their delegates to the general conference. These delegates to the general conference, in open session, elect the mission board and its officers, with the secretaries of the various departments. Thus the entire control and management of the organization is in the hands of the people of the denomination.

The Seventh Day Adventists have entered 50 foreign fields, and in ten years have sent 750 adults abroad. They now have in non-Christian and non-Protestant countries 536 foreign missionaries, and 974 native workers, making a total of 1,560 workers. There are 150 main stations, 145 substations; 413 churches with a membership of 7,565. Then there are 13 regular training schools with an enrollment of about 800, besides the 172 schools and out-schools, which enroll 6,734 pupils. Directing these schools are 103 foreign and 265 native teachers.

Alumni Banquet Friday.

The Alumni banquet will be given Friday evening, June 6th, at 9 o'clock, at the McKenzie hotel. Great preparations have been made for this event, and the class of 1913 will be ushered in as members of the Bismarck High School Alumni with no little honor.

Social a Success.

Mrs. Mesdames Call, McPhee, Weatherhead and Hagerman, who had the dime social in charge Tuesday afternoon, at the Presbyterian chapel, put forth every effort to make the afternoon one of pleasure, and as a consequence many were present to participate in the enjoyable contest and hear the program. The refreshment period which closed the event, was not the least enjoyable part of the program.

Spend Summer in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Geo. Stone of Mott was in Bismarck Tuesday evening, enroute to Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, where she will spend the summer. Her mother, Mrs. J. Basford of Hoff, accompanied her to the capital city and did some shopping here, returning today. Mrs. Williams of New England and Mrs. Roberts are sisters and came to Bismarck Tuesday, enroute to Iowa, where they will visit. Mrs. Hosfeld of Mott was also a guest in Bismarck Tuesday and left today for Northfield, Minn. Mrs. J. K. Murray of Mott, wife of States Attorney Murray, also came in Tuesday and leaves Wednesday for Dickinson, to be the guest of Mrs. L. A. Simpson during the meeting of the Federated clubs.

Shower for Miss Barnes.

The members of the Band of Hope, consisting of 22 young misses, the Sunday school class of the Presbyterian church, entertained Tuesday evening in honor of their teacher, Miss Lois Barnes, at the home of Miss Margaret Weatherhead, 423 Second street. The event on this occasion was a kitchen shower, the rooms being profusely decorated in pink and white, the bride-elect's favorite colors. Each one of the party wrote love letters, and while the chandelier reading the letter she had written, a bag full of red hearts, hanging beneath the lights, of all sorts and sizes, burst open and showered over the bride-to-be. She was then seated in the center of the room and the presents were offered her in a large dishpan, from which she unwrapped and as she opened them she described to the party the uses she intended making of each article. Then a short vocal and musical program was rendered, in which the entire party engaged. The guests chose partners for the luncheon by corresponding numbers from pink and white ribbons, the luncheon being served from the buffet, and consisting of sandwiches, cake, fruit salad and strawberry sherbet, the guests drawing the pink ribbons served those wearing the white. Music then followed, and when the guests departed the members of the party extended their hearty wishes to their teacher, and acted as her escorts to her home.

St. Mary's School Exercises.

Tuesday evening the Commencement exercises at St. Mary's school were rendered and it was one of the best programs given in the capital city for some time. The hall was nicely decorated in the class colors, the green and white, and pennants were plentiful over the arch to also add to its beauty. The hall was filled with parents and friends, who were enthusiastic in their applause. There was a vim and snap to the whole which was most gratifying, and without a single exception every number was well rendered. The chorus work was especially fine, the young people having received training under Sister Anastasia, and the program represented an enormous lot of work. It is seldom young folks speak so distinctly as was the case last evening, which made the entertainment very enjoyable. The dialogues were amusing and "Buy a Broom," were especially good. The "Poppy Drill" was very pretty and was perfectly carried out. Numerous musicals and entertainments have been given at St. Mary's school during the past school year, but it is doubtful if any was appreciated any more than the closing entertainment of last evening. The program was as follows:
