SHOT IN EYE WHILE ASLEEP

Ashley, N. D., June 20.—Edward, the eldest son of Farmer Heinrich Weber, lost the sight of his right eye by a bullet from a gun that was not supposed to be loaded. At the time of the accident Edward was taking a nap in the summer kitchen. One of the other children came in, picked up the gopher rifle that was in the room, cocked it and not knowing that it was loaded, pulled the trigger. The bullet struck Edward in the right eye and lodged in the bony tissue of the temple. Dr. Maercklein, the attending physician, took the boy to a Bismarck hospital for treatment.

PRACTICAL WAY TO SELL GOODS

Calgary, Alta., June 20.—In order to popularize the public market idea among the farming community of Alberta it is now proposed that weekly prizes be offered by the city for competition among the farmers for the best displays of farm products made on the stands at the market.
The suggestion is that the city should appropriate the sum of one thousand dollars to be devoted to this purpose throughout the year. Then prizes could also be offered the farmers' wives for the best displays of poultry, butter, etc. This would stimulate the "fillers of the soil" to make good showing and bring them together with the housewives of the city.

HAS SOLVED THE LABOR QUESTION

Enderlin, N. D., June 20.—T. H. Thompson, a Moore township farmer, has solved the labor question, in so far as to getting and holding a threshing crew. He has a small outfit with which he threshes his grain with help but that ordinarily in use on the farm. If a rainy day comes along during threshing time he don't have to feed a big crew but can go about his plowing or other work without any worry and when it gets dry, go back to his threshing with a full crew.

CITIZEN OF AFRICA TALKS AT FARGO

Fargo, N. D., June 20.—Early trains today greatly increased the attendance at the state meeting of the Christian church and there is a lot of enthusiasm and interest being shown in the work. There was especial interest in the address by Herbert Smith of Belenge, Africa, and by John N. Booth of Kansas City.
Tomorrow's program provides for addresses by Secretary Kenner of the Devils Lake Commercial club, John N. Booth of Kansas City, Grant K. Lewis of Cincinnati, Superintendent Brown of the state reform school, Professor Stearns of the state university, M. F. Slater, Horatio Swanson; and round table talks by Gerald Miles and Mrs. Herbert Smith of Africa. The reports of the committees will be made in the evening.

RAINS INCREASE N. D. BUSINESS

Fargo, N. D., June 20.—Increased business is one of the immediate results of the splendid rainfalls in North Dakota this week. Usually June is a doubtful period in North Dakota, and from the latter part of May till the time definite conclusions can be reached regarding the crop conditions, there is usually a lull in business. This year has been no exception, but following the recent rains there was almost an instantaneous response in a business way. Increased activities were apparent in the state in almost all lines, but it probably is more evident to the machinery men. Orders for harvesting and threshing machinery have been pouring in, some of them by wire.

HUNTER TO HAVE A MARKET DAY

Hunter, N. D., June 20.—A Market Day is to be held here June 27. Arrangements have been completed by the local business men, who will furnish a free lunch and a band for the concert. There will be a ball game and athletic sports of various kinds in the afternoon and in the evening there will be a grand ball for the young people.
The forenoon will be devoted to sales and exchanges of products by the farmers. The market days have proven profitable and popular in many parts of the state.

DEGREES GIVEN TO PHARMACISTS

Isaak of Eureka, S. D., were successful in passing the pharmacy board examination, and were admitted to practice in this state. Four others of the class of 16 passed as assistants.

DEMOCRATS IN HOPEFUL MOOD

Fargo, N. D., June 20.—Democrats assert their campaign next spring will be greatly aided by the bull moosers and by the factional warfare among the republicans. With the opposition split up and the democrats united, they insist they can't help but win and will have congressional, state and legislative positions, as well as the fat federal jobs.

Disclosures in Triple Tragedy at Carson

of her mouth, and, it is believed, buried itself in the back of her neck. The second shot struck her in the left arm, which she threw up as the first shot was fired, and exclaimed, "My God, Doctor, what have I done for this?"

Grappled With Murderer.
The fourth shot was fired as Anderson and Young grappled with the murderer, the bullet striking Mrs. Curry on the top of the head, inflicting a slight scalp wound only. The terrific struggle with the three men on the ground, during which Newman managed to get a shot at Anderson, missing him, the bullet entering the ground. Newman fought hard to turn the gun on himself, but failed, as the gun was knocked from his hand.

Tried to Choke Young.
Newman then attempted to choke Young, obtaining a hard grip on his throat. Anderson broke loose, and, with the auto wrench, pounded Newman terrifically, but it seemed to have little effect. In the meantime, the injured woman had made way to a neighbor's house, their screams quickly attracting a crowd. Notwithstanding, Newman was much beaten, when struggle, which lasted fully 10 minutes, was over, he got up and walked down to his own drug store with Charles Mott, refusing to say a word until he got to the door, when he turned to Mott, saying:

"Charley, you had better not come in," and locked the door behind him and went to the back of the store.
Later Young, accompanied by the village marshal, knocked on the front door, Young saying:

"Doc, give me some medicine. You have shot my wife. Your time has come."

Murderer Was Dead.
Newman paid no attention to Young, but when the marshal asked for medicine Newman from the inside of the store, said:

"Are they hurt?"
Marshal said: "Yes."
He then threw a package of medicine over the transom, saying:

"Wait a minute, I'll come up and help care for them."
Ten minutes later he was dead.

Newman, going back to a bedroom, drained the contents of a bottle of potassium cyanide, fearful of becoming the victim of the large crowd that had gathered, and which was held back for some time.

The crowd produced a ladder, which they used as a battering ram, and smashed in the door. Led by Marshal, they then made their way cautiously to the rear of the store.

No response was made to calls to surrender, and on opening the door into the bedroom, Newman was found lying across the bed in a last death struggle.

Was a Knight of Pythias.
Medical aid for the injured women was summoned from Flasher.
New Leipzig and Bentley authorities were notified and an inquest was held between 4 and 5 a. m.

They brought in a card of death by his own hands. The body was embalmed, and his mother and sisters at San Diego, Cal., wired. No response had been received at a late hour tonight. The body will probably be taken to Armenia, N. D., for burial.
Newman was a Knight of Pythias, a Royal Arch Mason, and owned a half section of land here. He was unmarried, and was born in Ohio. He started in life as a printer, and worked for eight years on the Toledo Blade. He came to Carson three years ago from Great Bend, this state.

Mrs. Curry Had Clerk for Newman.
Mrs. Curry, one of the victims, has clerked in his drug store during the past seven months. She is a young widow with two sons. Newman was deeply enamored over her, and, it is said, wanted to marry her, but she refused him.

Newman evidently became extremely jealous at the cordial attentions extended by the ex-preacher and wife, and resolved to put an end to all concerned, whom he believed were trying to attract the widow's attention from him.

Villagers Very Reticent.
The village seems to have recovered from the frenzied excitement of last night, many of the inhabitants having slept during the day. They are very reticent, and seem to be desirous of hushing up the terrible crime as quickly as possible.

Mrs. Young was taken to the Mandan hospital, where the bullet was found to have struck her in the cheek. The wound is not serious, and she will recover.

The Cambridge Suction Sweeper

Special Price $5.50

The Carpet Sweeper, as a cleaner, is a delusion. It simply skims the dust on the surface, while 95 per cent remains in the texture beneath. Remains as a receptacle for the germs of disease, waiting to be brought forth by action of broom or feet or anything that will set them in motion in the air, where they will begin their deadly work in nostril or throat or lung.

No More Tearing Up Carpets with consequent backache, pounded fingers and carpet wrecking, for when you beat the carpet you are beating the life right out of it. Let the carpet remain in place and a Cambridge Vacuum Cleaner will clean it in a few minutes.

The Cambridge Vacuum Cleaner is a dust and dirt gatherer, a germ destroyer. It stands without a peer.

There is a Difference between gathering dirt and distributing it. The cleaner gathers, the broom and duster distributes, the carpet sweeper skims. Get that point clear, don't you?

Thousands of Dollars Worth of rugs and carpets are ruined every year by moths or other vermin. The Cambridge insures against this loss.

With a Broom or Duster the dust is simply driven from place to place, dislodged here to settle there. With the Cambridge you move it once, and that to a point where it will never bother again.

Diseases That May Be Caught From Germs in Dust. Tuberculosis, Scrofula, LaGrippe, Typhoid Fever, Scarlet Fever, Measles, Diphtheria, Small Pox, Pneumonia, Catarrh, Eye Troubles, Etc.
