Suffrage Parade at Larimore. The city of Larimore are celebrating the fourth and one of the features of the parade is the "Suffrage" delegation. These ladies decided to participate in this war, and there will be 100 of them. Several pretty floats will also mark the parade, and pretty banners and costumes will be plentiful to say nothing of the stars and stripes. In fact Larimore will have one of the best celebrations of the state.

Will Observe the Fourth. The Country Club will truly observe the Fourth of July by various outdoor sports during the day and a concert and dance in the evening. It promises to be an enjoyable day for all the members. There will also be a display of fireworks in the evening. O'Connor's orchestra will furnish the dance program. Mr. Hoard of Jamestown, who was formerly of the Capital City will be here to play in the orchestra.

Married in Fargo. Wednesday at Fargo at 8:30 in the evening occurred the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Pfaff to Orville B. Weldon of Hallson, N. D. The vows were spoken at the bride's home, Rev. Frederick Behner officiating. The attendants were Miss Edith Pfaff, the bride's sister, and Mr. Charles Weldon, a brother of the groom. After spending a brief honeymoon at the home of the groom's parents in Edinburg, the happy couple will go to Mr. Weldon's home in Hallson.

Going to Glendive. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Price are expecting to go to Glendive to make their home, on account of Mr. Price's headquarters being changed to that point, and they are not going on a claim as appeared in the Tribune a day or two ago. However, their trip will be deferred a short time on account of the illness of Mrs. Price, she having to submit to an operation, which was most unexpected. Her many friends hope she may have a speedy recovery, and trust that they will enjoy their new surroundings in the sister state.

Collin Stables spent a most enjoyable time last week, going to the Bad Lands with his father, returning home Saturday. He also enjoyed a visit with his friend, Harry Miller, at the Forsythe home on the ranch.

COMPANP A DANCE Saturday night at the Armory. This will be the last dance until after camp. Music by O'Connor's Orchestra.

J. M. Aakers has purchased a site near the Soo line right-of-way at plaza and will erect a flour mill.

REPAIRS AT THE STATE CAPITOL

Many Storing Places Being Fitted up Into Modern Office Rooms

With no possibility of a new capitol building being constructed for a number of years, the trustees of public property have decided to make the most of the old building, and to meet the demands for additional office rooms the old building is undergoing some extensive changes this summer.

The kitchen and dining room of the capitol in the north wing, which was built in 1905, has been torn out and the kitchen has been transformed into an elegant suite of office rooms for the board of control, which, under this arrangement, will be equipped with private office rooms, a reception room and a spacious storeroom. It is the intention of the board to have sample cases containing samples of the products of the different state institutions on exhibit, so the visitors to the capitol building can have some idea of what is being accomplished at these institutions. The idea will prove a popular one and with these new office rooms equipped with modern furniture and conveniences the board will be better able than ever to handle the affairs of the state institutions.

The former office rooms of the board of control which were in the south wing of the building have been changed somewhat and will be used by the state fire marshals.

The old carpenter shop and work room, also in the south wing, will be removed and these rooms will be made over into office rooms. Several new vaults have also been constructed and all the old store rooms in the basement will be transformed into modern office rooms.

The changing of these old rooms and storage will also cause extensive changes to be made in the heating plant, and so far the mechanics have removed nearly a carload of lead water and old steam heat pipes.

At the north side of the power house is being erected a new building which will contain a modern carpenter shop and work room which will be equipped with new wood working machinery to be run by electric power. The basement of this new building will be used as a stack room for the historical society and for the storage of back number documents. A great portion of this work has been done this summer by the convicts from the state prison, and the capitol departments are securing a large amount of extra room at very little cost.

Wednesday evening the E. B. M. club entertained at the Peterson home on Ave. E, in honor of Miss Minnie Swensen, who left on No. 4 today for her home at Fargo. The evening was spent in telling stories and fortunes; also, singing and playing. The table was nicely decorated with flowers and candles where the young people were seated and dainty refreshments were served.

COMPANP A DANCE Saturday night at the Armory. This will be the last dance until after camp. Music by O'Connor's Orchestra.

The Balkan war has brought about a rise in certain lumber prices in Europe because of the big demand for wood for ammunition boxes.

Dogwood, the principal source of shuttles for use in cotton mills, is growing scarcer year by year, and various substitutes are being tried, but with no great success.

The officials of the Yosemite National Park are co-operating with the forest officers of the Stanislaus and Sierra national forests for fire prevention and control in both the park and the forests.

Experiments with a tree planting machine at the Utah agricultural Experiment station indicate that it may be used to advantage in reforesting old burned areas on the national forests.

The leading forest schools of the country not only have their own forest tracts for continuous experiments, but give their students actual experience in the woods by having them take part in big lumbering operations.
