

WEDDING GUESTS FEAST, THOUGH BRIDEGROOM DOESN'T SHOW UP

Dubuque, Iowa, Nov. 14.—The fallure of the prospective bridegroom to arrive did not interfere with the festivities of the two hundred invited guests who were present to witness the wedding of Miss Pearl Foell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Foell of Durango, this county, to Fred Supple yesterday.

70 YEAR OLD COUPLE ELOPE

Minneapolis, Nov. 14.—The elopement of Adolph Schreier, 70 years old, and Mrs. Barbara Marty, 70 years old, following a three months' courtship, became known today when the bridegroom returned to the home of her son, 2942 Newton avenue north, Minneapolis, and introduced his bride. The two were married at the North German Methodist church Monday.

The afternoon train came and went, but still no Mr. Supple. The bride was nonplussed and her father was wroth. The guests whispered. However, the wedding spirit was abroad, the viands were prepared and the big barn was cleared for the dance.

PINE GROWTH FOLLOWS PINE

St. Paul, Nov. 14.—The time-honored belief among lumbermen that pine will not follow pine is being discovered this year in Minnesota, according to W. T. Cox, state forester, who has returned from Remer, Cass county, where he witnessed the cutting of a large crop of white pine on land that was logged thirty-five years ago.

Only Deciduous Trees Grow. There is a general belief among lumbermen, according to Mr. Cox, that where pine is logged off only deciduous trees will grow. The timber in the country east of Leecia Lake, where Remer is located, was logged off by T. E. Walker in 1878. All trees less than ten inches in diameter and all defective trees were left standing and these furnished the seed for the white pine which is now being cut.

Methods Have Changed. Stumps from the first crop are standing Mr. Cox said, and give evidence of the change in methods of lumbering. The old stumps are five or six feet high and show that the axe was used in cutting the trees. During the last twenty years on account of higher lumber prices, the saw has been used exclusively, he says, and trees are cut close to the ground.

COLLEGE MEN IN DAYLIGHT LYNCHING BEE

Minnesota Students Hang Coach Williams' Critics in Effigy

Minneapolis, Nov. 14.—Driven into a frenzy of enthusiasm by the possibility of another championship after the football game with Chicago Saturday, and provoked by criticisms of Head Coach Williams, students of the University of Minnesota participated in a "lynching bee" today to revenge what they considered an insult to university athletics.

Hundreds of hurrying crowds stopped in their tracks, shortly before noon, a crowd of undergraduates rushed out from the law building striking and hooting at the limp figure of a "man" borne on the shoulders of some of the leaders. With mere pretense of trial the "man" was strung up to one of the campus oaks.

Approve Deed With Cheers. When the "lynching" had been concluded several hundred students gathered on the knoll, and they indicated their approval of the deed by cheering long and vociferously for Dr. Williams and hooting at the critics in Northern Minnesota who asked the board of control to engage another coach.

RUNS AWAY FROM CONVENT TO LIVE LIKE OTHER GIRLS

Chicago, Nov. 14.—A convent is a poor substitute for a home, a real home with a father and mother to comfort a 15-year-old girl.

Worked at Hull House. A tearful little girl was picked up at the Union passenger station Oct. 26 by a representative of the Travelers' Aid Society. She was given employment by Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton at Hull House at $6 a week.

A name on the fly leaf of a book revealed the identity of the girl yesterday, and upon questioning she admitted that she was Emily Thomas. She said she was contented and did not want to return. Representatives of Hull House will go to Springfield today to arrange for the care of the girl.

YALE AND TIGER FOLLOWERS GATHER

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 14.—Thousands of followers of the colors of Yale and Princeton are gathering here for the game which will award football honors to one or the other university tomorrow. Hotels, clubs, fraternity houses and dormitories have been thrown open to the visiting classmen and graduates, and a large part of the city is gayly decorated in their honor.

Tomorrow's game will be played on the fortieth anniversary of the first meeting of Yale and Princeton on the field. The initial contest between the two colleges took place here Nov. 15, 1873, and was won by Princeton. No games were played in 1874 and 1875, but the two universities have met every year since. Of the thirty-eight contests Yale has won 20, 10 have been won by Princeton, and there were eight tie games.

Interest in tomorrow's game is intense, despite the fact that Yale's showing this season has not been such as to inspire her followers with an overabundance of enthusiasm. There has been no diminution in the demand for tickets, however, and a record-breaking crowd is expected to be on hand. The officials of the game will be: Referee, William Langford, Trinity College; umpire, Niel Snow, Michigan; line-man, David Fultz, Brown University.

GRAIN HAULING SEASON. Now that plowing is over for this season and much fall work is out of the way, farmers are hauling a great deal of their grain to market, and the wagon roads of the state are said now to be the best of any time during the year. Less plowing has been done this fall than was expected because of the early freezes during October.

LAURA BIGGAR RENEWS FIGHT FOR A FORTUNE

Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 14.—Vice Chancellor Griffin, sitting in Chancery court, today took up for hearing the case of Laura Biggar Bennett, who at one time was a well known actress, against the executors of the estate of her husband, Henry M. Bennett. When the settlement of the estate, which was worth $2,000,000, began, it is said that the actress agreed to accept $240,000 as her share, and has refused a large part of this amount. She is now endeavoring to recover the remainder.

Laura Biggar's fight for the Bennett estate has for more than ten years been sensational in the extreme. Starting life on the stage about twenty-five years ago under William A. Brady's management, Miss Biggar married an actor named Richardson, and after divorcing him was married to James Willis McConnell. Later she became the wife of Burt Haverly, an actor. While she was playing the widow in "A Trip to Chinatown," she met Henry M. Bennett, millionaire owner of theatres in Pittsburgh and Brooklyn.

Bennett even then was so old as to be decrepit. His attentions to Miss Biggar resulted in trouble with her husband. As a result Haverly secured a divorce. Miss Biggar then left the stage, where she had made her most decided hit as Iza in "The Clemenceau Case," and became the nurse and companion of Bennett.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

NO LONG WAIT

because he claimed to have married Bennett and Miss Elgar, and a marriage certificate signed by him played an important part of the affair. Dr. Hendricks was Miss Biggar's physician, and the proprietor of a sanitarium in which, it was said, was born the child which Miss Biggar claimed to be the posthumous child of Bennett, and which played an important part in the litigation.

The conspiracy charge against the three resulted in the jury at Freehold finding Hendricks and Stanton guilty of deceiving Miss Biggar. As an aftermath of the affair, the wife of Dr. Hendricks sued Miss Biggar for alleged alienation of her husband's affections.

In 1903, and again in 1906, it was reported that Miss Biggar, or Mrs. Bennett, as she has since been known, had agreed to accept a settlement of her claims against the Bennett estate. At one time it was said she had received $20,000 and at another time the amount was placed at $400,000. It is certain that at various times she received large sums from the executors, but it is believed now that she is practically without funds. Hence, her renewed endeavors to secure the whole or a large part of what is left of the Bennett fortune.

HONORS FOR NOTED SURGEONS

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 14.—More than 1,000 prominent surgeons of the United States and Canada today received degrees at the first convocation of the newly constituted American college of surgeons. The degrees were presented by Sir Rickman Godlee, president of the British Royal college of surgeons, who also delivered the oration of the day. Among the recipients of the honors were Charles F. Stokes, surgeon general of the United States navy; George H. Torney, surgeon general of the United States army; and Rupert Blue, surgeon general of the public health service of the United States.

The American College of Surgeons was organized at a national medical congress held last May in Washington, D. C., along the lines of the British Royal College of Surgeons, "to elevate the standard of surgery on the American continent." It is not a school of surgery, but an association embracing the leading surgeons of the United States and Canada. Dr. J. M. T. Finny of Baltimore is president of the organization.

BISMARCK PROOF

Should Convince Every Bismarck Reader. The frank statement of a neighbor, telling the merits of a remedy, bids you pause and believe. The same endorsement by some stranger far away commands no belief at all. Here's a Bismarck case. A Bismarck citizen testifies. Read and be convinced. J. W. Serres, proprietor of Banner House, Bismarck, N. D., says: "Lumbago used to trouble me and I had backache and pains in my sides. I knew that my kidneys were at fault and as I had seen Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I decided to try them. They immediately strengthened my kidneys and cured the backache. Since then when I have had an attack of kidney trouble I have taken a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and they have cured me. I highly recommend this remedy."
