

Hen Puts 1914 on Egg for Her Proud Owner

Cleveland, O., Jan. 12.—While politeness and kindness may bring their own reward, John Baxa, a chicken fancier who has just gained some renown because he puts his hens to make them lay, has received a more substantial token of appreciation from one of his feathered flock.

perhaps a rat was bothering his pets he investigated. He found one of his favorite Rhode Island Reds, just arising from her nest, while the other hens, with the roosters well to the front, were gathered about her, chucking and clucking as they never had done before.

MARRYING PARSONS CAUSE GENERAL ROW IN MARYLAND CITY

People Dislike Notoriety Many Weddings Bring to Village

Rockville, Md., Jan. 12.—This little town, known as the Greina Green for the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia, is in the midst of a town fight. It is a case of "conservative citizens versus marrying parsons."

The boast of several ministers of the town, which is located just west of the District of Columbia, that they married 265 elopers last year caused all the trouble. The citizens claim the notoriety the ministers and elopers have brought to the village is distasteful to the conservative citizens, and they want to bind the ministers to stop marrying non-residents.

Centralla, Wash., Jan. 12.—During the existence of the present typhoid epidemic in Centralla, in view of the number of cases of sickness the local mills have voluntarily agreed not to blow their whistles during the day.

STRANGE DISEASE KILLS CHILDREN

Concord, N. H., Jan. 12.—A strange malady, about the origin of which physicians are at sea, has already carried away 11 victims in this city, seven dying recently. About 100 children are under treatment now.

has become epidemic, but there only four children died. Acidosis is not contagious, so physicians say, but it suddenly became epidemic nevertheless.

GAVE CHILD HIS NAME TO SAVE GIRL'S HONOR

Chicago, Jan. 12.—A strange story of sacrifice for a woman's friendship—almost rivaling the tragic romance of Adelaide M. Branch, the Monticello, N. Y., "slave of love"—was told by Frederick A. Chubb of the Hotel Lander, Boston, whose wife, Mrs. Anna Laura Zimmelman Chubb, is seeking his arrest on two warrants sworn out in New York City.

After declaring that he intends to renew his fight for a divorce, Chubb made the remarkable admission that he had given his name to the child of another woman to protect her honor. This woman is Miss Mary E. Chandler, a wealthy Athol woman, who is now living at the Hotel Lander on Yarmouth street.

Chubb declared that he has a sworn statement from Miss Chandler saying that he is not the father of the child.

"I had a lifelong friendship for Miss Chandler," says Chubb. "So I permitted her to use my name as a means of protection for herself and her child."

Chubb, who is known as a "soldier of fortune" and a "revolution buster" and who is a grandnephew of the late United States Senator Hoar, declared that his wife has deserted him ten times.

"She can never get a penny from me," he said. "Her only object in having my divorce from her set aside was to force me to share my property with her."

Red Apples Cause Bull to Raid Grocery Store

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 12.—At last Atlanta has witnessed a bull fight, but it was a one-sided affair in which the bull did all the fighting. The Marbot & Minor store was the arena in which the battle was waged, and three husky but fleet-footed clerks, a barrel of apples, a bunch of bananas and a cash register were the bull's opponents.

CAPTIVE WILD MAN ESCAPES

All But One of Guard Falls Asleep and Prisoner Flees

Hobrook, Ariz., Jan. 12.—A wild man who has been at liberty for several weeks in the mountains in eastern Arizona was captured at Milky Wash recently. This man, whose identity was not established, wore almost threadbare overalls that were torn off and tattered at the knees, was barefooted and bareheaded, and his hair and beard were long, tangled and knotted. His face was hard and his eyes wild.

The man was found by cattlemen in the vicinity of Milky Wash, and they returned to Hobrook later in the day and reported that he could be caught easily. A posse of men captured the man without difficulty. After supper the man was placed in bed and guards were stationed about the room to watch during the night. The next day plans for his disposition were to be made. The guards were in watches. At day-break Earl Smithson, a rural mail carrier, was the only man awake.

The wild man stirred, raised in his bed and began movements that indicated he expected to retreat to the hills. When daylight came the wild man was gone.

BOY GULPS SISTER'S ENGAGEMENT RING ON EVE OF HER WEDDING

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 12.—Little George Seybert, 8 years old, swallowed his sister's diamond ring and at the same time almost succeeded in breaking her engagement. But that doesn't appear to worry him in the least. It's the fact that he was compelled to remain in bed for almost two days that grieves the youngster.

Lena—she is George's big sister—got engaged recently. The young man knew about it in advance, or felt rather certain, because he had the ring with him. Lena left it on the table so that her mother might see it, but instead it was seen and admired by George, who put it in his mouth and swallowed.

SCALP TROUBLE FOR OVER TEN YEARS

Small Bunches on Scalp, Itched, Formed Scale. Hair Came Out. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured in Two Months.

268 Harrison St., Elyria, Ohio.—"My case was a scalp trouble. I first noticed small bunches on my scalp which commenced to itch and I would scratch them and in time they got larger, forming a scale or scab with a little pus, and chunks of hair would come out when I would scratch them off. It caused me to lose most of my hair. It became thin and dry and lifeless. I was troubled for over ten years with it until it got so bad I was ashamed to go to a barber to get my hair cut."

"I tried everything and got hold of, and —, but received no cure until I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment when the scale commenced to disappear. The way I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment was to wash my scalp twice a day with warm water and Cuticura Soap and rub on the Cuticura Ointment. I received benefit in a couple of weeks and was cured in two months." (Signed) F. J. Busber, Jan. 28, 1913.
