and the lie of discord and unharmonious relations continued until last year when she in turn sued for divorce and won the suit although the decree had not been handed to her up to the time of her death. It was her refusal to remarry her life which was probably the prime reason for the unwarranted killing.

In probing the past of this man the officials have found that McPeak has changed his residence about 20 times during the last fifteen years and is known as a "dead beat," or "credit jumper," staying in one town only long enough to exhaust all credit extended to him and then jumping to some greener field. During all these fifteen years his record was bad, leaving behind him a story of martial discord and the endurance of his little wife must indeed have been wonderful.

His mother and stepfather are in the old soldier's home at Lisbon while her mother, Mrs. Witte, is a resident of Erie, Cass county. All relatives have been notified of the death of Mrs. McPeak and the officials are awaiting word from them before making any further disposition of the children or the woman's body.

The verdict of the coroner's jury late yesterday confirmed the almost indisputable fact that McPeak had slain his wife and even his own words to the jury when he surrendered at the court house, the night of the killing would establish his guilt. Since that time he has not opened his lips regarding the matter; but the sheriff has his revolver which he was still carrying with one shot gone from the chamber. A preliminary examination will be given the man probably today.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't stay gray! Nobody can tell when you darken gray, faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wright's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wright's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

Grand Forks Deputy Sheriff Still in Oregon Awaiting Proceedings

Officer After Young Cooper Being Greatly Delayed in Getting Papers

Grand Forks, N. D., March 27.—Deputy W. J. Doty, who, according to Mrs. Doty, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. E. J. Schetter, at 849 Tibbitts street, Portland, Ore., ever since he arrived in the west on his mission in connection with the proposed extradition of McLain Cooper, wanted here for alleged bribing of a juror, expected to go to Salem, Ore., Monday, where the hearing will be held.

Mrs. Doty has received daily letters from her husband, who is waiting at Portland until advised by Attorney T. K. Sullivan, representing the state, that his presence is required at Salem. A letter yesterday advised her of his probable leaving for Salem Monday. The sudden disappearance of Andy Sullivan, star witness for the state and self-confessed briber of juries, is possibly accounted for by a dispatch from St. Paul, which follows:

"Registered as J. A. Smith, Court Bailiff J. A. Sullivan of Grand Forks, who is alleged to have had knowledge of the bribery of a juror in the case of McLain Cooper, charged with murder at Hillsboro, N. D., was found by reporters at a local hotel last night. Sullivan admitted his identity.

"According to dispatches from Dakota, he furnished the prosecuting officials there with the information which led to the arrest, two weeks ago, of J. C. Stevens, one of the jurors who acquitted Cooper. Cooper himself was arrested at Hood River, Ore.

It will be noted that Sullivan, according to the dispatch, is using another name, "Smith" this time, making it more clear to the novice in this regular run-the-culprit-to-death business that to be a success as a regular dyed-in-the-wool detective often seems best to change one's name.

Readers of Nick Carter will bear his out and Andy, while in our midst recently is said to have been a guest at the Ingalls hotel at least one night, at which the register was looked over, to and behold! no name of a sleuth appeared, just plain John Browns and Bill Smiths.

The departure of Sullivan, "The Man in Gray," and the Pinkerton sleuths, who for a week furnished true copy for the local press during their stay here, has caused some little conjecture as to their whereabouts and what other worlds they may have gone to conquer.

MOOSE MAKING GREAT PROGRESS

W. J. Ellwood of Sioux Falls, S. D., district deputy Supreme Dictator for the Royal Order of Moose of North and South Dakota, was a visitor in Bismarck Friday on route to Dickinson to visit the lodge there.

Mr. Ellwood is an attorney, but is a member of several lodges, and has followed fraternal work for years. He is greatly enthusiastic over the progress the Moose lodges of the United States and Canada are making. Five years ago the order had only a trifling over 5,000 members, while today the number reaches over 600,000. In some of the largest cities Moose buildings are among the most substantial structures of the city.

The home for Moose and the Moose university at Mooseheart, Indiana, is probably the greatest project of the nation. It entails an investment within the last two years of over $1,000,000 and furnishes a home and education for hundreds of Moose children. There are two children from Bismarck attending the school there now.

WORK OF THE OCEANS.

They Do More Than Merely Separate Acres of Dry Land.

Oceans are found in various parts of the world, where they spend their time in lapping shores, infringing upon the rights of continents and swallowing up islands, ships and people.

Oceans are salty to the taste and are used by yachtsmen to get away from their wives, also to cover up embled newspaper stories about kings and queens and to float navies and other debts.

An ocean spends its time in having storms and making surf. It delights in making innocent people sick and in playing with children's legs. Without oceans there would be no steamships and gambling would decline.

Every ocean has a set of fish which do not even pay ground rent, but spend their time like people who live on land—namely, in devouring each other. Besides ordinary fish, oceans have whales, lobsters and mermaids. The mermaids live on rocks just as girls on dry land do. The lobsters also live shellfish lives in lobster palaces. The whales lie around and wait for the happy time when they can perform useful work supplying bones for corsets.

Some oceans employ professional sea serpents, which they use during the summer for advertising purposes. Oceans also have zones, seaweed and sponges. When an ocean has bathed all night it likes to take a sponge bath; hence it always keeps on hand a constant supply of these useful toilet articles.—Life.

FARMS THAT FAIL.

The Way Food Making Crops Rob the Soil of Its Fertility.

An acre of wheat deprives the soil of forty-five pounds of nitrogen, twenty-three pounds of phosphoric acid and thirty pounds of potash. On the market nitrogen is worth 17 cents a pound, phosphoric acid 7 cents and potash 4 cents. Therefore the actual money value of the nitrogen removed from the soil by an acre of wheat is $7.65; of phosphoric acid, $1.61, and of potash $1.20, making a total loss of $10.46 an acre a year. If the farmer raises twenty acres of wheat a year for twenty-five years the loss will be $5,230.

Each acre of oats consumes fifty pounds of nitrogen, twenty pounds of phosphoric acid and forty pounds of potash. In the same way an acre of corn will take from the soil $18.50 worth of fertility, provided both the grain and fodder are removed. If you have fifty acres in corn $925 worth of fertility is removed each year. In twenty years you will have taken out $18,500 worth of the elements necessary to produce a good crop.

Should you raise fifty acres of wheat, fifty acres of oats and fifty acres of corn for twenty years on your farm the money value of the elements removed from the soil would be more than $40,000. Is it any wonder, then, that the farms begin to wear out when you fall to return those elements to the soil which are necessary to produce a crop?—Farm and Fireside.

NORTH DAKOTA LAND ACTION IS REVERSED

The state supreme court has reversed the case of Emma C. Schinzer of Ashton, Ill., against John Wyman, a realty man of Fargo. About $50,000 was involved in the judgments and transfers of lands ordered.

On the trial before Judge Pollock of the district court it was shown that the woman had traded some lands with Wyman and later became satisfied, alleging they were misrepresented. She sought a retransfer of her lands and damages and won on every point.

Judge Pollock's remarks in announcing his decision, startled the public by the bitterness of his strictures on Wyman. The supreme court says there was no fraud and the $50,000 judgment is set aside.

BEARS FOR THE ZOO.

Valley City, N. D., March 27.—The city zoo has been increased in numbers by the arrival of two cute little black bears whose names are Pete and Mabel. They have been placed with the other animals at the park, where they are being admired by many people. These pets were secured by Mayor Platon, while he was up in the Canadian northwest early in the winter. We are getting a lot of animals which will afford the children much pleasure during the summer months. Later the bears are being cared for at the city hall.

RECORD LAND PRICE.

Sheldon, N. D., March 27.—Another record price was paid for farm land adjoining the village of Sheldon when Lloyd Jones bid $72.75 an acre for the balance of the school land owned by the village. Only two bids were submitted, the other being Wm. Cuthill's at $60.00 an acre.

The village still owns a ten acre tract just east of the school ground. The object of retaining this land is that the school might need more room, and then Sheldon has a pretty good chance of landing one of the state agricultural schools in the no distant future. This ten acre tract would then be needed for an experimental plot.

Worth Looking At.

A man who was something of a gourmet ordered a dinner for himself and his party which, from the menu, should have been very palatable, but apparently it was not so. Course succeeded course, and toward the end of the meal the host could restrain himself no longer. He called up the waiter and expostulated. "I ordered a good dinner, and we have waited patiently for some satisfactory dish. The soup was a failure, the fish was a disappointment, the entree unseatable, and I am sorry to tell you that during the whole dinner there has been nothing worth looking at for an instant, and then, brightening up, said, "If you wait a moment, sir, I will bring you the bill."—Chicago News.

Servants in Bogota.

The domestic problem is reduced to a minimum in Bogota. Good domestics are plentiful and cheap. Five to ten dollars a month is high pay. In the houses of the well to do the servants are well treated and lead happy lives. They have ample quarters of their own, centering round their own patio, and enough of the old patriarchal regime survives to make them really a part of the family.—Columbia.

Rise of Joseph Pulitzer.

Joseph Pulitzer was born in the village of Mako, near Budapest, in Hungary, on April 10, 1847. His father was a Jew, his mother a Christian. At the age of sixteen he emigrated to the United States. He landed without friends, without money, unable to speak a word of English. He enlisted immediately in the First New York (Lincoln) cavalry regiment, a regiment chiefly composed of Germans and in which German was the prevailing tongue.

Within a year the war ended, and Pulitzer found himself, in common with hundreds of thousands of others, out of employment at a time when employment was most difficult to secure. At this time he was so poor that he was turned away from French's hotel, in New York, for the lack of 50 cents with which to pay for his bed. Twenty years later he bought French's hotel, pulled it down and erected in its place the Pulitzer building, at that time one of the largest business buildings in New York, where he housed the World.—Alleyne Ireland in Metropolitan.

Pan Picture of Lord Lister.

In Dr. Wrench's biography of Lord Lister, the discoverer of antiseptic treatment of wounds, the author says of the great surgeon: "He was ever gentle, courteous and firm. Trying as he the exactness and responsibilities of an important surgical post. Lister was never known to speak a sharp word to house surgeon, dresser or any one in his service. His scientific spirit and discovery attracted the curiosity of the students and young graduates of Edinburgh; his personal nobility won their hearts; his art of winning their loyalty was by inspiring enthusiasm and giving encouragement. Often in the middle of a trying operation," wrote one of his pupils, "a gentle smile bestowed on us young students when we were honestly trying to do our best as assistants was most encouraging." Many of the students afterward confessed that their contact with Lister was the best and purest influence of their lives."

DECREASE OF UNEMPLOYED.

New York, March 27.—Roswell D. Tomlins, secretary of the united board of business agents of the union in the building trades, in a report made public said that the number of unemployed mechanics in this city had decreased in the last five or six weeks. Between five and six weeks ago he said, there were about 70,000 building mechanics idle and at present the number is about 50,000. With improving weather conditions it is stated another 10,000 of these unemployed men will be at work in the next few days.

MUSIC.

Music is a job lot of vibrations furnished to hotels and restaurants for the purpose of adding to the discomfort of the guests. Music is also used for other purposes. It comes in pianos, harps and organs and sometimes, though rarely, in human beings and phonographs. Babies often furnish music when least expected and at hours not always approved of by respectable people. Music at one time was called a heavy maid. But she is now mostly clothed in rags and is known as fussy. In short, music has run the scale from classic to classy. Like eggs and other historic bad numbers, music is now kept in cold storage and comes in reels and cans. Handmade music is gradually being superseded by the factory made article. At one time music, singular as it may seem, was used to make music. Now it is used to make a noise.—Life.

A Message To Women

Those of Middle Age Especially.

When you have found no remedy for the horrors that oppress you during change of life, when through the long hours of the day it seems as though your back would break, when your head aches constantly, you are nervous, depressed and suffer from those dreadful bearing down pains, don't forget that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the safest and surest remedy, and has carried hundreds of women safely through this critical period.

Read what these three women say:

From Mrs. Hornung, Buffalo, N. Y.
BUFFALO, N. Y.—"I am writing to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I failed terribly during the last winter and summer and every one remarked about my appearance. I suffered from a female trouble and always had pains in my back, no appetite and at times was very weak. I was visiting at a friend's house one day and she thought I needed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and have gained eight pounds, have a good appetite and am feeling better every day. Everybody is asking me what I am doing and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You may publish this letter if you wish and I hope others who have the same complaint will see it and get health from your medicine as I did."—Mrs. A. Hornung, 21 Stanton St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Was A Blessing To This Woman.
So. RICHMOND, VA.—"I was troubled with a bearing down pain and a female weakness and could not stand long on my feet. Of all the medicines I took nothing helped me like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now regular and am getting along fine. I cannot praise the Compound too much. It has been a blessing to me and I hope it will be to other women."—Mrs. D. Tyler, 23 West Clopton St., South Richmond, Va.

Pains in Side, Could Hardly Stand.
LODI, Wis.—"I was in a bad condition, suffering from a female trouble, and I had such pains in my sides I could hardly move. Before I had taken the whole of one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt better, and now I am well and can do a good day's work. I tell everybody what your medicine has done for me."—Mrs. John Thompson, Lodi, Wisconsin.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL), LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
