

BILLINGS COUNTY POLITICS QUIET

J. W. FOLEY, THE SAGE OF MEDORA, GIVES INTERESTING RESUME.

NO CONTESTS OF MOMENT

Old Officials are Satisfied, and Little Change Likely to be Made.

Medora, N. D., May 4, 1914.—(Tribune.) Billings county has been known for years for its red-hot political campaigns in county elections. This year the campaign will be mild, very mild; a gentleman's campaign. That part of the old county from whence came the storm of thunder and lightning is now Golden Valley county.

Ira J. Wilson, now serving his first term as county auditor, is not and will not be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Wilson is the fifth since the organization of the county who has held the office of auditor.

So far, two candidates for the office of auditor have announced themselves, J. K. Beery and Horace Peck. Mr. Beery has been deputy auditor for several years past, and Mr. Peck is now a member of the board of county commissioners.

CITY COMMISSION HAD BUSY MEET

COMMISSIONERS HELD SESSION AND TOOK UP ROUTINE MATTERS.

SCALE REPORTS RECEIVED

Baseball Players Must Keep Out of Business Section of the City.

Chief of Police Fortune was Instructed by the City Commission at its meeting last evening, to stop all ball playing, roller skating, bicycle riding and small cart running on the sidewalks of Bismarck, south of Thayer street. Also, that all violations of the act be immediately taken cognizance of and the offenders warned off the walks.

Broadway to Be Graded.

A resolution was introduced by Commissioner Hinckley for the improvement and grading of Broadway, near Mandan avenue and Washington streets. The matter was passed and the city engineer ordered to prepare estimates preparatory to advertising for bids.

Bids Exceed Estimates.

Commissioner Patterson desired to know why all street grading bids exceeded the estimates. The matter was discussed for several minutes and the city engineer was asked to look into the matter and report at the next meeting. To a question of Mr. Patterson, the engineer stated that he did not believe the bids in any of the cases exceeded the estimates 10 per cent, and that he did not think they always did exceed the estimates. He admitted, however, that in several cases they had.

Wants to Build Magazine.

Mr. Loomis, for the Bismarck Hardware company, appeared before the city commission and asked the commissioners permission to construct within the city limits as far east as possible and in close proximity to the Soo tracks, a powder magazine. The capacity of the structure was to be such as to hold at least a carload of powder.

The commissioners took the matter under advisement and Commissioner Patterson, the fire chief and Mr. Loomis will go to the location, make an examination of the ground prior to the next meeting of the city board, and then report their findings.

Register Receives Poor Pay.

George E. Burgess may truthfully be said to be the first register of deeds in the county. Before his day few who would be elected would qualify, so little did the office pay. Mr. Burgess was formerly a civil engineer on the N. P., has been in the county over 18 years, a farmer, ranchman, banker, elevator man and a contractor. In all these he has been more than successful, and is now rated as one of the wealthiest men in the county.

May the best man win and all the others be happy.

Does Not Want Job.

Miss Marie Ackerman, now serving her first term as county superintendent of schools, is not a candidate for re-election. She has made a very efficient official, and is the only superintendent we have had for many years. She could easily have been re-elected. There are to be two candidates in the field. As we understand it a man and a woman.

Yours truly,
J. W. FOLEY.

who is looking after the United States interests. He will be put aboard a refugee train for the coast, enroute to the United States.

At El Pais it was announced today that Augustin Rodriguez and Luis Elguero, both connected with Mexican national railroads, and Senator Emilio Estrella, will leave soon for Montreal, to attend the mediation conference initiated by Argentine, Brazil and Chile. This is the first indication here of the conference to be held in Canada.

Many Refugees Arrive.

Hundreds of foreign refugees are pouring into the city. A special train being arranged by the Brazilian minister will carry all Americans to Puerto Mexico, and will leave here today. Three hundred Americans are prepared to depart. Huerta again promised that Americans will be given protection.

Lift the Ban.

El Paso, Texas, May 4.—Additional instructions received along the border by customs and army officials, placed more liberal construction on the embargo on arms. The ban has been lifted on everything with the exception of guns, ammunition, explosives and aeroplanes.

WENT TO IDAHO.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Wickham of Glen Ullin departed Monday morning for Salmon City, Idaho, where they intend to spend a couple of months visiting at the home of their son, Ray E. Wickham, and family. Mr. Wickham is fond of fishing and he intends to put in considerable time angling in the trout streams in that vicinity.

"Old Virginny"

Give me a farm where corn will grow without manure.
And rains are gentle and the crops we plant are sure;
A jolly miller and a mill where corn is ground—
Not far away, and honest neighbors all around;
Give me four cows, a plow, a hoe, a cart, a sled,
Two oxen, pigs, a barn, a house, a feather bed,
Nine hens, a rooster and a chance to dig a well,
And put it in the deed I'm free from war and hell,
And I will smoke my pipe and live in charity
With God and other men all old eternity—
That's "Old Virginny," as it was before the war,
When men with "hounddogs" knaw and felt what life was for.

—A JOHANNY DEBBE

MARRIED WOMEN ENTERTAIN GIRLS

Mere Man Was Absolutely Excluded; Publius Claudius Peeped Some.

Medora, N. D., May 4.—Late last week the married women entertained the young, unmarried girls. No men were allowed to enter the hall, but it is said that one Publius Claudius peeped through a window. The entertainment was a grand success. Some of those present said that even Lydia Thompson, when at the height of her fame and power, could not excel some of the stunts pulled off.

WAS HAMLET FAT?

With His Own Words He Doth Reclaim the Fact Quite Fat.

The traditional Hamlet of our stage is a lean, ascetic young person, an idealized, etherealized, heroic creature evolved for the deflection of the matinee girl. He is a horrid sham. Is it credible that such a man would have lacked the determination, the purposefulness, to put his revenge into operation upon the discovery? It is all very well to argue about his mental balance. It was his sluggish liver that stayed him and hampered him. Hamlet's father was a fat and lethargic man by his own account.

WAS HAMLET FAT?

Sleeping within my orchard,
My custom always of the afternoon,
He says in his ghostly interview,
We may then look for some clew to Hamlet's character as soon as he is alone on the stage. What are his words?
Oh, that this too, too solid flesh would melt!

WAS HAMLET FAT?

It is a keynote that may not be glossed over as a beautiful thought, for the same idea bursts out some lines farther on, where he says of the world:
Thinks rank and grass in nature Possess it merely.

WAS HAMLET FAT?

Is it credible that such thoughts are there for any purpose save to guide us as to the nature of this prince? They serve a double purpose. Not merely do we learn that Hamlet was a fat man, but also that he was an unhappy fat man. Hamlet was a man to whom his bulk was an affliction. He was handicapped by it and knew that he was. Some such idea is discernible in every one of the great soliloquies. He scorns himself for a sluggard:

WAS HAMLET FAT?

What is a man
If his chief good and market of his time Be but to sleep and feed?
His mind, unbidden or not, is obsessed by fatness, and in the mad turmoil of emotions after he has slain Polonius his thoughts run:
We fat all creatures else to fat us, and We fat ourselves for maggots.
It bursts out again in the "Oh, what a rogue and peasant slave!" harangue.

WAS HAMLET FAT?

Ere this I should have fatted all the region's kites With this slave's offal,
And who but a fat, lethargic man would have said in the "To be or not to be" speech:
Who would fardels bear To grunt and sweat under a weary life, Does not the phrase bring to mind at once the picture of a fat man toiling at some loathed task?—London Express.

WAS HAMLET FAT?

Antiquity of Nagging.
No, if you are nagged you are not alone in your experience. Nor are the nagged persons of this age the only nagged persons of any age. Nagging is an old custom. They tell us that Adam, Job, Socrates, Aesop, Leonardo, Machiavelli and many more distinguished historical personages were victims of nagging. This proves the antiquity but not the wisdom or the respectability of nagging. And if it is as old as it is claimed to be let it crawl away somewhere to die. For, come to think of it, nagging is just as hurtful to the nagger as it is to the nagged. So why injure ourselves for the purpose of injuring some one else? Samson did that, you know, when he pulled down the temple of Gaza and broke his own back. Rather a poor example to follow, eh?—Detroit Free Press.

WAS HAMLET FAT?

Wrote in Bed.
Mark Twain wrote nearly all his later books in bed. So persistent a "sluggard" was he that he had a specially contrived bed desk fitted up so that he could write without trouble or exertion while propped luxuriously among his pillows. He used to aver that most of his best thoughts came to him in bed and that the trouble and worry of getting up, shaving and dressing dispersed them all and left him in no mood for commencing his literary labors. He was of opinion that bed was the very best place for the author, and he acted upon his belief.

WAS HAMLET FAT?

She Knew.
"Miss Janet is a long time coming down," he said to the pretty parlor maid. "Perhaps she is—ha, ha—perhaps she is making up her mind whether to see me or not."
The maid smiled coldly.
"No," she said; "it is not her mind she is making up."—Philadelphia Times.
