For the Great Exposition at San Francisco

The national figure in the foreground, "Fate," is one of the horizontal sculpture models applying the "zone elements," by Robert L. Aitkin. In the background are the "zone elements" model, from which the assistants made the enlargement. These four figures will be placed at the level of the ancient in the sunken garden of the Court of the Universe, the central Court of Honor of the Exposition.

LARSON The Town That Has a Brilliant Future, Also Has Numerous Industries, an Aggressive and Boosting Bunch of Good Business Men.

When Columbus Larson came west from Minnesota and took up a claim in northwestern Burke county, he little dreamed that the Guardian Angel had sent him to name a new town. But fate does wonderful things, and so the name of Larson was immortalized by being given to the town which sprang up near the homestead, when the railroad came in.

Location.
If you will take the Great Northern branch which runs from Eerthold up to Crosby, as the train wheels westward you pull up to the station of Larson, the last stop in Burke county. It is situated on a level stretch of prairie country, surrounded by well kept wheat fields, blocked off on the section lines by good roads.

Larson, however, is not the hub of a large grain area holding the key to a territory within a radius of 10 or 20 miles. Her territory is all on the south. The Soo railroad, with Columbus at the north, robs her of her bounty in that direction.

The Larson Money Center.
The First State bank of Larson does a general banking business, also handles insurance, collections, foreign exchange, steamship tickets, real estate loans, etc. The bank has a paid in capital of $10,000, a surplus fund of $2,000 and a total deposit of over $51,000. The officers are: A. M. Eckmann, president; Frank Koestler, vice president, and Ole Lovik, cashier.

The bank was established in 1909 and has done a good business ever since that date. Sound business methods and guaranteed investments are responsible for the success.

Hardware and Its Associates.
A firm that claims a right to do business by reason of its prior existence is the hardware store of Guy Willcuts. Mr. Willcuts came to Larson and opened the first business place in town, on Sept. 1, 1907. This was before the railroad had reached here.

Mr. Willcuts carries a large line of shelf and heavy hardware, harnesses and furniture. He also has some dishes and quite a variety of cut glass and earthenware. He reports business good and his success is probably due to his businesslike dealing, as well as his large line of goods, which admits of a choice.

On Oct. 20, 1912, the firm of Peter Nord opened for business in the hardware line, with a complete line of Keen Cutter goods. Mr. Nord came here two years ago from Minnesota, and has enjoyed a good business at Larson.

The Mercantile Companies.
For the past two years a general merchandise business has been carried on by Allen Brynildsen here at Larson. He has a complete line of gent's furnishings, dry goods, groceries, etc. A quality store is his long suit, and everything is sold under a reputable trademark, such as the Gotzian shoes and Lamphere hats.

Mr. Brynildsen has about a $10,000 stock and reports sales as running 80 per cent higher than last year.

The Farmers' Co-operative Grain & Mercantile Company have a large general store here. Gust Bjorkman is the manager. They carry a $35,000 stock and last year did a $40,000 business.

During the best of last season this company shipped 300 pounds of butter weekly. Mr. Bjorkman has a farm, four miles northwest of town, and reports his crop there good. According to the manager, this town is one of the best business towns for its size in this part of the country.

The firm was established in March, 1909. F. Wittey is the president.

Drugs and Other Things.
A complete line of drugs, stationery, candies and sundries, and also Edison phonographs and records is carried by the Larson Drug Store. The company has been here for the past four years. And the ledger shows an increase in the sales each year.

City Market.
For the past four years J. A. Norby has been in the City Meat Market. Each year's business shows a gain over the previous which seems to indicate the prosperity of the town.

Beef, in this vicinity, which was once the cattle country is now a shortage. Pork and poultry is plentiful. Mr. Norby makes all his own sausages and cures his own meats. He is a first-class butcher and, having the only shop in town, enjoys a good trade.

A Line Yard.
F. C. Lawrence is the manager for the Rogers Lumber company, which handles all the building material used in this vicinity. The articles of trade include lumber, mouldings, sash, doors, brick, lime, cement, shingles, etc.

The Yard started in 1907, with the town. Mr. Lawrence came from Minnesota seven years ago and has been in the present position for five years.

Pool Hall and Barber Shop.
For the past year confections, sodas, soft drinks, cigars and tobacco have been sold by W. D. Elkin and C. Wermager in the pool hall and barber shop, which is their place of business. They also have a bowling alley in connection. Mr. Wermager was in business here six years ago, with Mr. Willcuts. He now has a nice place of business and enjoys a good trade.

The Liveryman.
A feed stable, livery and auto livery is run at Larson by Alfred W. Walsstead. The barn is lean and well ventilated and Mr. Walsstead tries to give you the best of service. He keeps good horses and rigs and is well acquainted with the surrounding country.

The Community Grain.
The grain of this port is bought by W. J. Pitman, for the Williston Mill company. The capacity of the house here is 35,000 bushels and last season it took in 30,000 bushels. The average yield of wheat in this vicinity was about 20 bushels. Considerable wheat was raised here, with an average of 12 bushels.

vicinity is $20 per acre, although some ask as high as $30. The land is very productive when treated according to dry farming methods.

Diversified farming has already taken root here. There is a good location for a creamery. Receipts for cream shipped from this station last summer averaged from $30 to $35 per day. In addition to this the Farmers' Mercantile company shipped as high as 300 pounds of butter per week. The more enterprising farmers are developing the dairy business, with the assistance of the other people interested. Alfalfa is being introduced and, so far, has proved a surprising success.

KLOTEN

As you travel northward on the Great Northern road from Aneta you come to the town of Kloten in the southwestern corner of Nelson County. This is situated in the grain country midway between the Red River valley and the Lake Region of the state.

While the farmers of the Lake Region are coming more and more to the diversified farming in this vicinity grain still remains the chief export. This is evidenced by the three large grain houses that fringe the track.

The Grain Buyers.
The Farmers Grain Company have a house here, with a 30,000 bushel capacity, under the management of J. G. Johnson who has been with the firm for the past six years. About 100,000 bushels are shipped from this station every year.

The Winter-Truesdell-Ames Company of Minneapolis also have an elevator here of 20,000 bushels capacity. T. J. Moore buys here for this company. This is a large concern having grain houses at many points along the road. Most of the shipments from this firm are made to Duluth and Superior. Mr. Moore has represented the company here for seven years and in that time has established a large trade.

The Kloten Farmers Elevator Co. is soul out of you for such a long time. Drop everything else and use "GETS-IT." A few drops applied in a few seconds does the work. Useless junk like flesh-eating salves that make the corns swell, cotton rings that make corns stand up like pop-covers, razors, corn diggers, scissors and files that make corns grow faster, are all done for. "GETS-IT" is on a new principle, makes corns shrivel, vanish! It can't stick to the stocking, or hurt the flesh.

also a large buyer. Tom O. Homme is the local buyer. The firm takes in about 150,000 bushels yearly most of which is shipped to Minneapolis. This house has been buying for four years. G. A. Colson is the secretary and treasurer of the concern.

The Banks.
April 1907 marks the beginning of the first State Bank of Kloten. A. M. Eckman is president of the concern, L. J. Hanson is vice president and O. E. Loftus the cashier. It is capitalized at $10,000 and has a surplus of $5,000. The bank is in a nice building and the funds are handled by a corps of very able officials. The deposits are over $34,000.

General Merchandise.
Besides a line of general merchandise, hardware and furniture is dealt in by the Kloten Mercantile Company. O. K. Kjørvestad and S. A. Krough are the partners to the concern. They have a large line in one of the best stores between Devils Lake and Fargo. They handle Radiant Home stoves, the Iowa Cream Separators, and a full line of men and boys' furnishings. The firm carries about a $15,000 stock and does a $47,000 business yearly.

To enumerate somewhat, staple and fancy groceries, clothing, dry goods, boots and shoes, hardware, and farm machinery are the chief articles sold by Charles Colson & Co. of this place. This firm has been here for the past six years, has a capital stock of $10,000 and does an annual business of $100,000. Here is sold the international farm machinery, and the Foot Schultz shoes. Mr. Colson is an old resident and believes this town to be one of the coming places of the state.

A Meat Market.
That dainty little meat shop that does the big business is the place of Michon & Turner who, besides buying and selling cattle and hogs, deal in hides. This place has a neat and clean appearance and enjoys a large trade.

Lumber and Machinery.
The Kloten Lumber and Machine Company deals in lumber, wood, coal, feed etc. and sells farm machinery, automobiles, and repairs. This concern under the management of W. C. Tikke has been in existence for six years. Before coming here Mr. Tikke was in business at Adams and Aneta. This firm was established in 1907. They have a large and well kept up warehouse with an office in the main part.

Confectionery and Restaurant.
A clean, tidy, and very enticing place to eat is the Kloten Restaurant and Confectionery of which K. M. Saeter is the proprietor. Here too you buy your candies, cigars, and soft drinks. Mr. Saeter has been here but a year and enjoys a good business which is steadily improving.

The Hotel.
The hearty smile and cordial hand-shake with which you are greeted by C. H. Christison, the proprietor of the Star Hotel, the clean bed, and wholesome meal will always be remembered so long as you think of Kloten. The Star Hotel has a barber shop in connection where first class work is done all the way from a shine to a hair cut.

Kloten derived its name in some manner from a Mr. Knutson on whose land the town was built.

With all the prospects for future development—fertile soil, shipping facilities, and a live community—Kloten is one of the coming towns in the smaller class of the state. It, like other towns, has its ups and downs, but there are no complete crop failures at Kloten. As the advice used to be: "Go west" it now is "go to Kloten."

Marmarth has a live baseball organization and desires to get in touch with other teams for match games.
