

TWICHELL IS FOR ECONOMY

He Protests Against Dean Resolution and Introduces One of His Own.

L. L. Twichell, representative from Cass county, yesterday introduced a concurrent resolution in the house which, if passed, will result in saving the state of North Dakota a neat sum of money.

Mr. Twichell moved the adoption of a resolution providing for the appointment of a joint committee, three from the house and three from the senate, to consider the number of journals, bills and calendars to be printed and distributed during this fourteenth legislative assembly.

The senate concurred in the Twichell resolution and the following senate committee was appointed: Senators Davis, McBride and Nelson of Richland.

Before he had a chance to introduce his resolution on this matter, L. L. Twichell made vigorous protest against the resolution introduced by Mr. Dean of Grand Forks which provided for the wholesale distribution of journals and bills to newspapers, educational institutions, libraries, etc., in the state.

The Dean resolution was referred to the committee on supplies and expenditures.

HANSON NAMES COMMITTEES

House Members Appointed to the Various Working Organizations.

Speaker Hanson yesterday announced the house committees for the fourteenth legislative session. Burleigh county fared well in the matter of committee appointments, being represented on eight committees as follows: Railroads, Homan; Public Printing, Homan; Insurance, Harris; Appropriation, Harris; Manufactures, Homan; Coal lands, Williams, chairman; Penal institutions, Harris, chairman; and Homan; Appropriations, Harris.

Chairmen of some of the most important committees are as follows: Ap-

Dr. Osler on Tuberculosis

Sir William Osler, one of the foremost of living medical men, formerly of Johns Hopkins, Baltimore, and now Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford, says in his "Practice of Medicine" (1902), on page 249: "The healing of infectious tuberculosis is shown clinically by the recovery of patients in whose sputum elastic tissue bacilli have been found. In the granulations products and associated pneumonia a scar tissue is formed, while the smaller cavernous areas become impregnated with lime salts. To such conditions alone should the term healing be applied."

Many eminent medical authorities have testified to the efficacy of lime salts in the treatment of tuberculosis, and the success of Eckman's Alternative in this and allied throat and bronchial affections may be due partly to the fact that it contains a lime salt so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated. Widespread use of this remedy in numerous cases of tuberculosis—many of which appear to have yielded completely to it—justifies our belief that it is worth a trial, unless some other treatment already is succeeding. It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs. We make no promises concerning it any more than that reputable physicians give promises with their prescriptions, but we know of many cases in which IT HAS HELPED. Your druggist has it or can get it, or you can send direct. Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia. For sale at Breslow's Drug Store.

Stallings Says Fred Merkle Is First Baseman of High Degree

New York, Jan. 11.—George Stallings is noted as saying that he considers Fred Merkle a great first baseman.

If support for that is desired, ask Jake Daubert. Jake said last spring it was a crying shame the way Merkle has been belittled in the public mind because of the bone play which he was charged with making in 1907. It was a play that 99 out of every 100 ball players would have made, and which would have been forgotten in a week if the National league championship had not depended upon the one game.

Daubert also drew attention to the fact that, because of the advertising signs and the confusion in the light wrought by them, the Polo grounds have been for many seasons the hardest place in the major leagues on a first baseman's eyes in judging a thrown ball, a bit of inside stuff with which the fans were not familiar, but which it would be well for them to remember.

City Commission Adopt Resolutions Inviting Thorough Probe Into Matter.

As a result of the protest by the taxpayers against the special assessments levied by the city, the city commission, in regular session last night, adopted the following resolution:

Whereas, there has recently appeared some criticism of the city commissioners and their appointees concerning assessment work done in the city during the past year, and whereas the integrity and ability of the city commissioners and their employees has been attacked by these criticisms, therefore be it resolved that the "Tax Payers Committee" name an engineer, the city commissioners name an engineer, these two engineers to name a third engineer.

These three engineers are to be reputable and competent, skilled in municipal work and familiar with conditions in the Northwest and residents of North Dakota, they shall compose a committee who shall go into the entire question of all assessment work done in the city since May 1, 1911, the prices paid for all contract work done, the quantities given in estimates, compensation paid city employees, grades given, and assessments made, and to further report on any other subject that may be requested of them, either by the "Tax Payers Committee" or by the city commission. The compensation and expenses of such committee of engineers to be paid by the city.

To Examine Records. F. E. Young, chairman of the special committee named at a mass meeting of taxpayers held last Thursday night, presented a communication at the meeting last night in which he petitioned the commission for the right of the taxpayers or their representatives to examine all of the records pertaining to the grading and assessments. This was granted as the records are open for public inspection.

The Gas Franchise. The matter of the proposed gas franchise to Frank E. Ployhar, president of the Valley City Gas Works, was also taken up by the commissioners. Mr. Ployhar personally appearing before the board to explain his proposition.

The commissioners plan to go to Valley City on Saturday of this week to inspect Mr. Ployhar's plant there and it is said that the granting or refusing of the Bismarck franchise proposed by Mr. Ployhar will rest largely on the impressions gained by the commissioners on this inspection trip.

Mayor Lucas and others on the board are planning to go to Valley City on Saturday and look into Mr. Ployhar's plant there. No definite action was taken on the gas franchise matter last night.

TAX BOARD BEHIND ACT

Would Assess Foreign Corporations One-Fiftieth of One Percent Upon Capitalization.

What is conceded as a tax commission measure is a bill introduced in the senate yesterday, providing for an excise tax of one-fiftieth of one percent upon the authorized capital stock of foreign corporations.

The bill provides for annual reports from foreign corporations showing in detail their capital stock holdings. Par value and market value are to be reported. Assets and liabilities of not more than 90 days prior to the annual meeting of the corporation must be given.

This report before being filed to the secretary of state must first be submitted to the tax commission. No report can be filed without the approval of the tax commissions.

On the authorized capitalization an excise tax of one-fiftieth of one percent of the par value is exacted except that the tax shall not in any one year exceed the sum of $2,000.

Failure to report is punishable by a fine ranging from $5 a day up to $200 a day according to length of delay. Refusal to submit to the tax means suspension of the company's license to do business until such tax is paid.

M'CLELLAN ON HIS RESOLUTION

Introduces Resolution Regarding Passage of Stockraising Homestead Act.

Hon. George McClellan, of Beach, yesterday introduced a concurrent resolution in the house, in which resolution the senators and representatives from North Dakota in the national congress are urged to use all honorable means in their power to secure the passage of the stock raising homestead bill, now pending in the house of representatives at Washington.

Treadwell Twichell moved that the McClellan resolution be referred to the committee on state affairs, there to be given careful consideration, and this resolution was adopted.

Mr. McClellan in support of his resolution made the following remarks regarding the rough land in the western part of the state and the stock raising homestead law:

Mr. Speaker: As many of the members of this assembly have not had occasion to observe the character of much of our rough land in the western portion of the state, I have a few remarks which I would like you to hear, although the resolution covers the facts pretty well and quite briefly.

As the proposition of a stock raising homestead law has been wrestled with in congress for the last two years, and the secretary of the interior also realizing that it would be good policy to encourage the settlement and development of all public lands to which the present homestead laws are not adapted, it would be well to have this resolution sent in at once so that our congressmen and representatives in Washington may get immediate action on the measure, and, if possible, have it passed without further delay, thus throwing open to the public opportunities which are now locked up which should be thrown open to thousands of people who are eager to take advantage of them and build homes for themselves and families.

Stock Raising Neglected. Our agricultural lands are all taken up and every foot of it utilized for farming, and the raising of stock and beef neglected, with the demand for beef constantly increasing.

Aside from demand created by the European war is the epidemic of the foot and mouth disease, which has been causing a wholesale slaughter of cattle, whose bodies are absolutely of no use to humanity. All of these things are going to make beef scarcer than ever, and when we realize that it is going to take several years for young beef to grow to maturity, it is time there was something done to encourage the raising of stock, as well as prepare homes for thousands of families who are without at the present time.

It will also be an encouragement for our people to stay at home rather than emigrate to Canada for the purpose of taking up land there; and since we have been advertising and putting forth every effort and energy to encourage immigration to this country, let us be prepared to take care of them and help them to help us build up this country and utilize every foot of vacant government land that we have; and, as our congressmen are perhaps working on some other far-reaching problems, let us remind them of something practical that will be of especial interest and advantage to the general public, and ask them to use their best efforts in procuring the passage of this bill.

Resolution Will Help. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, and for the reason that congress is flooded with bills in the beginning of the session, and adjourns for recess in March, it would be well to have this resolution sent in at once, as it will act as a stimulus and encourage our congressmen in using their best efforts to get the measure through.

During the last congress there were 15,798 bills introduced ahead of the stock-raising homestead bill, so you can see that in order to accomplish the best results we should encourage them to get action on the measure right from the start, and have it reported, if possible, and see if the proposed measure, which fell by the wayside, cannot be passed. This is as meritorious a measure, even from the standpoint of revenue, which the state, county and nation will eventually realize, as anything they are working on, and will assist in reducing the burden of taxation on the neighboring farms.

There no doubt, Mr. Speaker, many
