SPLENDID CAST OF "THE IDLER"

Seldom, if indeed ever, has a more competent or better-known cast been gathered together than that selected to present the William Fox feature extraordinary, "The Idler," to be released through the Box Office Company, based on the highly successful and dramatic play by C. Haddon Chambers, one of England's foremost dramatists, which, when presented on the boards, was one of the most talked-of dramas of the day. Headed by Charles Richman, a star whose fame is equally great on each side of the Atlantic, it includes Miss Catherine Coultiss, an actress of unusual charm and ability; Walter Hitchcock, a finished artist of marked power; Miss Whitney, a beautiful and accomplished leading woman; Maud Turner Gordon, W. T. Carleton and Stuart Holmes, all of whose names are prime favorites with admirers of good stage work.

Mr. Richman as Mark Cross takes full advantage of his opportunity to develop this character, which is one of the strongest in which he has appeared. Mr. Richman's long association with Augustin Daly, at the latter's famous play-house, where Mr.

Richman played opposite to Ada Richman, and his many starring experiences, including tour in "The Revellers," a successful play written by himself, equip him admirably for the role. The same may be said of Miss Coultiss, who plays Lady Harding. Miss Coultiss is known to playgoers of every considerable city in the United States. She has had a successful stage career almost from the moment when she left a convent and took up the stage as a vocation. Miss Whitney appeared in the leading role of "Life's Shop Window," and has played important parts in scores of big feature photo-plays before which she had a thorough training on the legitimate stage. Walter Hitchcock is another actor whose experience and talent make his work stand out in everything he does. Mr. Hitchcock is a graduate of Leland Stanford, Cal. University and was a champion hurdler in his college days. He has done much noteworthy work on the stage. Stuart Holmes played a leading part, opposite to Miss Whitney, in "Life's Shop Window," and is a great favorite, a position his ability fully entitles him to. Grand theater Monday only.—Adv.

HEALTH TALKS

Facts About Cancer

In most cases of cancer, contrary to common belief, there is no history of cancer in the family. Cancer is not a definite disease; it is a group of different diseases, all more or less malignant or fatal if not promptly recognized and properly treated.

Epithelioma, or skin cancer, is the least malignant and the most curable. Carcinoma, or gland cancer, develops usually in some internal organ, but it often appears in the breast. It spreads by "metastasis"—which means the breaking off from the parent cancer of a minute fragment of cancer cells, and the carrying of these cells to fresh soil, near to or far from the parent cancer; carcinoma also spreads by direct growth. Unlike plants, however, the roots of a cancer do not nourish the cancer; the cancer nourishes the roots. That is to say the growth is an extension of the cancer through the roots. As many of these roots are invisible to the naked eye it is impossible to say that any given treatment has destroyed all the roots; only time will tell. Sarcoma is the most rapidly fatal form of cancer. It will develop anywhere, at any age; it is likely to give rise to secondary growths at distant places in the body very early—the first few weeks—owing to the ease with which minute seed fragments break off and enter the circulation.

Although any kind of cancer may occur at any age, sarcoma is characteristically a disease of young persons or children; carcinoma is a disease of middle age; epithelioma is a disease of advanced age. Epithelioma appears most frequently upon the cheek, the face or the lip. At first, perhaps for months or years, it is just a "pimple," a "wart" or a "sore" that fails to heal, or bleeds easily. At this stage clean surgical removal is trifling and almost certain to cure, especially if a few X-ray treatments of the scar follow the little office operation. Pastes of various kinds will sometimes prove curative, but at great risk of death from blood poisoning, which is so hard to guard against in a necessarily dirty treatment, and almost invariably at the cost of much pain and prolonged anxiety during the slow healing of the ugly ulcer left by the caustic ingredient of the paste.

Personally, when we discovered a near-cancer on our precious hide a few months ago, did we sidestep the knife? Not for an hour. We had it neatly and painlessly carved out by a cruel, but thorough colleague, and now we are happy all the day.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The Passing of "Liver Complaint"

Why is it, muses a thoughtful correspondent, people have less liver complaint than formerly? One rarely hears of a case nowadays, whereas we used to be quite unanimous about it, leastwise in springtime.

Answer—Well, we don't drink so much as we used, and besides the doctors have learned to call it gallstones and appendicitis—which acts somewhat as a deterrent.

The Chance of Survival

Please state if statistics show any light on the chances of survival for a person now thirty-one years old.

Answer—According to the American Experience Table the odds are fifty-fifty he will live thirty-six years.

GOOD THINGS FOR THE TABLE.

The pea soup is not as often served as its merits demand, as there is no more tasty, dainty soup than this if well prepared.

Cream of Pea Soup.—Drain and rinse a can of peas, add a teaspoonful of sugar, two slices of onion and cold water to cover (one pint), simmer 15 minutes, rub through a sieve, heat, add two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour rubbed together, add two cupfuls of milk and a half cupful of cream, whipped, and seasoning to taste. A yolk of egg beaten and added to the cream adds both to the taste and nutrition of the soup.

Parisian Potatoes.—Wash, pare and soak in cold water a half hour eight potatoes. Boil in salted water 15 minutes. Drain and place in a deep pan, basting three times with a third of a cupful of melted butter. Serve with broiled steak.

Soak bread crumbs in the milk half an hour, add soda, salt, and melted butter, flour and beaten eggs. Fry on a hot greased griddle. Serve immediately with hot maple sirup, or butter and sugar.

Braised Liver With String Beans.—Wash calf's liver and lard with fat bacon. Roll in flour, season with salt, pepper and celery salt. Cook liver in a hot pan with a little hot fat, tried out of bacon. Turn until the surface is well seared, then add five slices of carrot, one-half an onion, two sprigs of parsley, bit of bay leaf, one clove twelve pepper corns and two cupfuls of brown stock or water. Cover closely and bake in a moderate oven two and a half hours, basting five times during the cooking. Remove the liver, strain the stock and reduce by slow cooking. Add two tablespoonfuls of orange juice, pour over liver. Serve surrounded with seasoned, hot string beans.

Celery and Cheese Salad.—Mix a half cupful of very finely chopped celery with one of cream cheese, moisten with thick cream, season with salt and paprika and form into balls. Arrange on lettuce leaves and garnish with radishes cut in tulips.

Bread crumbs are invaluable in many dishes. A crust or crumb should never be thrown away. When stale bread is too hard for other use, put in the oven until dry enough to roll or pound, then sift and keep in a glass jar. These crumbs may be used for escaloped dishes, croquettes, cutlets and in puddings, if soaked long enough.

Bread Crumb Pancakes.—Mix together two well beaten eggs, one-half tablespoonful of melted butter, one-quarter of a cupful of flour, one pint of sour milk, one cupful of bread crumbs, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and the same of soda.

A few crumbs with chopped apple, sugar, cinnamon and water baked in a slow oven, makes a delicious dessert.

Kings' Pudding.—Take two cupfuls of bread crumbs, soaked in half cupful of water a half hour, squeeze dry and add a half cupful of suet, one-half cupful of molasses, one egg, one cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, salt and half a teaspoonful of soda, a cupful of raisins and half a teaspoonful of cloves. If after mixing it seems too thin add a small amount of flour. Steam three hours and serve with a hard sauce.

Delicious Omelet.—There is no more tempting dish for any meal than a well made tender omelet. Take three eggs, one-half tablespoonful of melted butter, one-half cupful of milk, one-half cupful of stale bread crumbs, salt and pepper to taste. Soak the crumbs ten minutes in the milk, add the beaten egg yolks, butter and seasonings, then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Fry a delicate brown in a well greased omelet pan. Loosen the sides with a knife and fold over in half. Garnish with parsley and cubes of jelly. Serve at once.

When you have a peach or two left from a can and a cupful of the juice, use them for a pudding sauce. Rub the peaches through a sieve, add to the juice with a bit of lemon juice and a tablespoonful each of butter and flour that have been cooked together. Serve this sauce hot on steamed sponge cake, cut in squares. These are leftovers, but the fact need never be mentioned and will never occur to the one who is enjoying the dish.

WISCONSIN WARDEN VISITS PENITENTIARY

Rev. Daniel Woodward, for four years warden of the state penitentiary of Wisconsin located at Waupun, was in the city Wednesday, the guest of Rev. G. B. Newcomb. He was taken through the local penal institution by Deputy Reid and was shown all phases of the equipment. He noted many evidences of progress and stated that in many respects he had progressed further than the Wisconsin penitentiary. This was notably true in regard to the dining room equipment, where the old combination desk and bench arrangement, still used in the vast majority of penitentiaries, had been replaced by tables. This innovation is only found in about three penal institutions throughout the United States and the North Dakota penitentiary is one of that number. Rev. Woodward also commented upon the great reformations which have been worked out in recent years at the institution at Waupun. Many of these reforms were inaugurated while he was there, and he ranks as one of the progressive, up-to-date wardens of the country. He has been appointed to look after the interests temporarily of the Montana division of the Society of the Friendless, under appointment by Dr. Fredenhagen, national superintendent.

THE TRIBUNE'S GIGANTIC WORK

The Tribune visits more people every day (six days a week) than the average canvasser could cover in a year.

Or, again, suppose you had to send letters to the same number of people you reach by one advertisement in the Tribune—think what it would cost—$125.00 a day for stamps alone.

Tribune advertising is the least expensive and most productive of all kinds of advertising in Bismarck.

The cost of inserting advertising in the Tribune in comparison to doing it in other ways is so much lower to get the results by using the "other ways" is like putting two cent stamps on a letter requiring only one.
