EDWARD ELLISON DROWNS IN MOUSE

Heart Failure Believed To Have Been Cause of the Accident.

BRILLIANT YOUNG MAN.

Graduated Last Spring from Rush Medical School With High Honors.

Minot, N. D., Aug. 14.—Edward Ellison, age 26 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ellison, 16 Fifth avenue S. W., was drowned while bathing in the Mouse river at Wildwood park, a few minutes after noon Friday.

He was bathing in the river with a number of companions and started to swim across the river. He got part of the way across when, without a word of warning or an outcry, he sank in 12 feet of water and never came to the surface. Andrew Carr, son of Dr. A. Carr, was swimming near Mr. Ellison and he at once gave the alarm. Being a rather poor swimmer and unable to dive, he could not go to the aid of the unfortunate man. He gave the alarm and others at once came to the rescue, but the depth of the water was such that they were unable to recover the body. The fire department with some of the police went to the scene in an auto with grappling hooks and desperate efforts made to resuscitate it by the use of the pulmotor, but as the body had been in the water 35 minutes, these efforts failed.

The body was caught by J. W. Wallace, who was in the crew of the boat with Fire Chief O'Leary. Those who were in bathing at the place were able to swim, but none of them could dive to the depth of the water in which the body lay. Some expert swimmers came to the scene immediately after the alarm was given, and though they made heroic efforts to bring the body to the surface, could not do so.

It is thought that heart failure was the cause of the accident. It is said that had he been taken with cramps he would have come to the surface. As he did not, it seems reasonable that he was the victim of heart failure. Practically every physician in the city went to the scene to render what help he could in bringing back life that seemed to have gone out without warning. But all the skill combined with all the solicitude of the entire community, was unavailing.

Mr. Ellison was a young man of more than ordinary brilliancy and with promise of a useful life. He graduated from Rush Medical college of Chicago last spring with high honors and was spending an additional term in better fitting himself for the practice of his profession as an intern in the hospitals of that city. He was visiting his parents in this city during the short vacation he was taking.

He leaves to mourn his loss a devoted father and a loving mother, who had placed great store on his useful life in the profession which he had chosen as his work and to which he had devoted so many years of earnest and diligent study, and three brothers, Otto, Norman and Hil-dor, and two sisters, Miss Ruth and Mrs. Davik of Fargo.

DARE-DEVIL AUTO EXPLOIT

Leading Man in Big Film Production Earns Reputation of Being Most Reckless of Them All.

Irving Cummings' latest exploit was for him the name of "the dare-devil," by which appellation he is fast becoming known among movie fans the world over. The handsome Cummings has often caused the seasoned "camera man" to gasp, and that, in these days of thrilling film stunts, is considered quite some achievement. In "The Diamond from the Sky," the huge continued photoplay production in which Cummings and Lottie Pickford are starring, the $19,000 prize scenario called for a thrilling automobile chase. Cummings, as the hero, put in some thrills that even the author, in his fondest imagination, could not conceive.

It all occurred out at Santa Barbara, Cal., near the "Flying A" studio, where "The Diamond from the Sky" was filmed. Cummings, as Arthur Stanley, hopped nimbly into his humming French racer and was off at high speed to escape from the sheriff. Dashing down the country road, Cummings found himself speeding along at 50 miles an hour actually along side of a flying Southern Pacific train. He waved a challenge to the engineer.

Like two bullets the train and the auto sped across the country, with Cummings, in the machine, steadily gaining, though only inch by inch. A mile down the road was a fork. One branch led away from the rails; the other crossed them. The engineer of the flying passenger train thought of course that Cummings knew the roads so he opened his throttle wide to beat the speeding actor. Suddenly the engineer's heart literally ceased to beat. Cummings had taken the wrong road. He was dashing a mile a minute to almost certain death, for there was no stopping the great train in the short intervening distance.

Then Cummings showed his nerve. Putting every ounce of power in the racing machine, he covered ground like one possessed. Straight for the tracks he sped, bending low over the wheel. He leaped across in front of the train, missing the big locomotive's nose by the fraction of an inch. Safely across, the actor stopped and he mopped his brow.

"Phew!" he exclaimed. "That was the closest yet!" If S. S. Hutchinson called Cummings foolhardy, he may be excused, for Mr. Hutchinson, the producer of "The Diamond from the Sky," had just taken out a huge insurance policy on Irving Cummings' life.

The Young Lady Across The Way

On the other hand, the young lady across the way informed us that her new middie blouse was smocked with front and back, and we said we supposed any good laundry could make it all right again.

PROMINENT CITIZENS VISITING EXPOSITION

Past Week Has Been a Busy One at North Dakota Building in Frisco.

PROMINENT EDUCATORS ARE AMONG VISITORS.

Building Is Being Made Ready to Receive Exhibits of New Vegetables.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 16.—The past week has seen a number of prominent North Dakota men visiting the San Francisco exposition, most of them coming here to attend conventions of a national character.

President John H. Worst of the North Dakota Agricultural college, and Thos. P. Cooper, director of the Experiment Station at Fargo, are here attending the sessions of the American Association of Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations, which is holding its annual convention at Berkeley. President Worst is first vice-president of the association, and presided on the evening of August 11th, while President Bryan of the association delivered his annual address.

Prof. E. F. Ladd was here last week attending a national convention and delivered a strong address on pure food laws in general. He made a decided hit with the delegates.

Ex-Mayor M. F. Murphy of Grand Forks is also taking in the exposition, but is here for the pleasure and profit to be derived from a critical inspection of the numerous exhibits. Supreme Court Judge A. M. Christiansen of Bismarck is also here, and has been making his headquarters at the North Dakota building, while viewing the sights of the exposition. Banker John Tracy of Valley City is another prominent visitor in San Francisco, and is highly pleased with everything he sees.

Send In Exhibits. A number of North Dakota commercial clubs have signified their intention of sending vegetable exhibits to the North Dakota building in the very near future. Mr. John Freyberger, who has charge of the exhibits in the building, has everything in readiness to receive these exhibits. Each one of them will go in separate boxes and be labelled with the name of the commercial club sending them, so that every section of the state will be represented in the building, and the visitors will know at a glance that these vegetables grow successfully in any portion of the state. This should have a good effect and aid wonderfully in putting forth North Dakota's claims here at the exposition. The secretary hopes that many more towns in the state will co-operate in making the vegetable exhibit comprehensive in every detail.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at Once When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers —Meat Forms Uric Acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

TRULY, VARIETY IS THE SPICE OF LIFE

Party of Dubuquers Have Big Time at Standing Rock Reservation.

That North Dakota offers a wide variety of entertainment for pleasure seeking visitors was exemplified in a striking way with the arrival of four Dubuquers in Bismarck last night. In the party were Robert A. Shannon, Carl Kleinschmidt, Henry Dilesch and Harry Geyer. The young men came all the way from the "lowa" city last Sunday night to ride "backing broncos" on the Standing Rock reservation. On Thursday they discarded their cowboy paraphernalia of chaps, polka dot handkerchiefs and Colt automatics, and changed into Palm Beach suits. After sporting canes for two days in Mandan, they asked for a change of venue to the bright lights of Bismarck. Permission was granted by the immigration department, which was quick to realize the advertising value of this rapid transformation from the wilds of the Indian atmosphere to the tall buildings of the future metropolis of North Dakota.

While in the city last night, the visitors were entertained by Al. Thimmesch, of the Publishers' Feature Service, a former Dubuqueter and lifelong friend of the Iowa quartet. An auto sight-seeing tour, dance and stag party contributed to the delightful hours spent by the guests in Bismarck.

The visit to the Standing Rock reservation, chaperoned by John Kleinschmidt of Mandan, another ex-Dubuqueter, was augmented by all of the thrills of the early frontier life including a night out on the prairies, when the party got lost and fought mosquitoes with choice language and firebrands, where once their predecessors fought Indians with firearms.

AL JOLSON IN "DANCING AROUND"

Popular Comedian Will Appear at Bismarck Auditorium September 3.

Al Jolson in "Dancing Around," the mastodon of musical extravaganza, from the Winter Garden, New York, will be the attraction at the Auditorium, Sept. 3.

The last time Al Jolson was seen in the west was in "The Honeymoon Express," a musical extravaganza, in which he was seen as the uproarious "Gus." In "Dancing Around," Al Jolson will again be seen as "Gus," a character which he has impersonated in all Winter Garden shows. This "Mangler of Melancholy and Bomber of Blues" has made popular so many songs that it will be no surprise during his engagement at the Auditorium to hear him in several new offerings equaling his old successes—for as a singer of comic and sentimental ditties he has no equal on the stage of our time. When he returned from England last summer he brought back with him a song, "Sister Susie Sewing Shirts For Soldiers." Others have made use of this ditty, but it is said that until you have heard Jolson sing it you can have no idea of its comic possibilities. Others of Jolson's songs are: "When Grown Up Ladies Act Like Babies," "I'm Seeking For Stiegrild," "Everybody Has With Me," and "Tennessee, I Hear You Calling." It is no unusual thing for Jolson to sing at least a dozen songs a night. "Dancing Around," which has been called an uproarious upheaval of lingerie and laughter, is in two acts and 12 scenes. The more important spectacular effects are: "The Starling Ballet of Shadows," "The Cubist Carnival," "A Night on a Venetian Canal," and "The Pursuit of the Edinburgh Express." Unlike many Winter Garden shows, "Dancing Around" has a story—a story which may be halted at any time, however, by the irresistible Jolson, who lately said that he had spoiled the plot of every Winter Garden show in which he had appeared. Besides being "Gus," in "Dancing Around," Jolson will bob up as a Hindoo prince, as a barber, a gondolier, a Swiss guide, and as Magnesia, the Maid. He even appears in white face in the last act. Jolson has many songs and lots to do in "Dancing Around." In a company of more than 100 people, the more important principals are: Frank Carter, Kitty Doner, Harry Clarke, Mary Robson, Fred Leslie, Eileen Molyneux, Rae Bowdin, Earl Foxe, Harry Wardell, Harry Wilcox, Ted Doner—and, of course, the "Wiggling Wave of Winsome Witches."—Adv.

IMPORTANT, EITHER WAY

He—If you accept me it will make a new man of me. She—And if I don't? He—I shall never be the same man again.

Modern Tactics. "Why are you tearing up the floor of the armory?" "In view of the modern developments we thought the militia had better get some practice in digging trenches."

NEW JUDGE OF THE COURT OF CLAIMS

Judge George E. Downey.

Judge George E. Downey, comptroller of the treasury, has been chosen to fill the vacancy on the bench of the U. S. court of claims. This vacancy was caused by the retirement of Justice Howry and is the one which was offered to A. Mitchell Palmer, who declined it. Judge Downey comes from Indiana, where he was for ten years a judge of the circuit court. There is no difference in the salaries of the two positions, but the tenure of office for the judgeship is for life or until retirement by law. This is a recent snapshot of Judge Downey made outside the treasury department.

Divorce Evil Is Discussrd

Toledo, O., Aug. 16.—The American Federation of Catholic Societies, in annual convention here today discussed divorce and kindred evils. One of the principal addresses was made by Frederick W. Mansfield of Boston, who appealed to all lawyers of Roman Catholic faith to help the church combat the divorce evil by refusing to accept divorce cases as part of their business.

Mr. Mansfield said: "Catholic laymen could do much to help the church eradicate the divorce evil. The time is not yet ripe to advocate legislation which would abolish divorce entirely, but at least much might be done to check its spread and to lessen its evil influence. In Massachusetts a Catholic Lawyers league has been organized, its object being the extirpation of divorce. Its constitution has just been approved by His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell and much good is expected of its work.

"We earnestly urge upon every Catholic lawyer in every state in this Union the importance and even the necessity of joining such an organization. The lawyers have more opportunities to combat the divorce evil than any other class of citizens—even than priests and ministers, because every divorce case is started in some lawyer's office. That is the time when divorce cases ought to be nipped in the bud. The client with a weak case ought not to be encouraged or helped, and every Catholic lawyer ought to exert every effort to reconcile the parties;—and this observation applies to Protestant lawyers as well." The Catholic lawyer, Mr. Mansfield said, had no moral right to take a divorce case. There were many Catholic lawyers who did not relish the suggestion that they obtain from the divorce business—some who were not in accord with the teachings of the church, and others whose love of money predominated over their religion.

In other parts of his address, Mr. Mansfield dealt with socialism, and the extent to which the "free love" doctrines were undermining social structure, and called upon Catholic laymen in all professions to help the church combat socialistic tendencies.

With the Editors

A LONG WAY. New Rockford, over in Eddy county, is out with a proposal to move the state capitol from Bismarck to that town. No doubt it is a good advertising stunt for New Rockford, but when the people there awaken they may regret it. It comes to saddling a big debt onto the state to satisfy the cupidity of a few people, the promoters will find that it is a longer way to Bismarck than the czar of Russia found it was to Berlin.—Kildeer Herold.

NOT THE DEMOCRATS. North Dakota's bonded indebtedness has been reduced $65,000 recently and now stands at $552,300, the lowest in the history of the state. We don't know to whom the credit is due for the reduction of the state's interest bearing indebtedness, but we do know that it is a condition all taxpayers, regardless of political affiliations, are glad to contemplate.—Walsh County Record.

SPECIAL MATINEE. Today at the Orpheum theater, 3:30, "Shooting of Dan McGrew," 5 parts; and "The Goddess," fifth chapter, in 2 parts.—Adv.
