

HORSE THROWS KING GEORGE AT WAR FRONT

British Sovereign Was Inspecting Army Corps At Time

BRUISED SEVERELY AS ANIMAL FALLS

Cheers of Soldiers Frightens Mount Which in Rearing Slips

London, Oct. 29.—Injuries suffered by King George when he was thrown from his horse while inspecting British troops in France, the first of the week, will not prove serious according to information gleaned from both official and unofficial sources.

From official quarters nothing further regarding his condition than was contained in yesterday's official statement had been forthcoming. It is apparent, however, that while the king was bruised severely and will be confined to his bed for the present, no complications are anticipated.

Falls Off Horse. A Reuter's dispatch from British headquarters describing the accident to the king, says that he had just completed the inspection of one corps and was on his way to inspect another, when cheers from the troops, who threw their caps in the air, caused his horse to rear. The king managed to gain control of the horse, which, however, reared again and fell over backward, throwing the king to the ground. He was immediately assisted to a motor car and while going away was able to return the salute of the troops as he sat in the corner of the car.

Reputed a Good Horseman. That the king was not more seriously injured was doubtless due to the fact that he is very much at home in the saddle and is considered more than an ordinary rider, being quite as good as the average mounted officer in the army. When at Windsor he rides in the great park every day and when he is in London is often seen in the early morning, riding in Hyde Park with Princess Mary.

A heavy rain was falling and the slippery condition of the road made it more difficult to control the horse, which apparently lost its footing when it reared the second time.

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

Secretary McAdoo had to explain, when someone in the crowd yelled, "Where's the baby?" that he would bring it on his next trip, which he hoped would be real soon.

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

Secretary McAdoo had to explain, when someone in the crowd yelled, "Where's the baby?" that he would bring it on his next trip, which he hoped would be real soon.

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

Secretary McAdoo had to explain, when someone in the crowd yelled, "Where's the baby?" that he would bring it on his next trip, which he hoped would be real soon.

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

Secretary McAdoo had to explain, when someone in the crowd yelled, "Where's the baby?" that he would bring it on his next trip, which he hoped would be real soon.

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

Secretary McAdoo had to explain, when someone in the crowd yelled, "Where's the baby?" that he would bring it on his next trip, which he hoped would be real soon.

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

Secretary McAdoo had to explain, when someone in the crowd yelled, "Where's the baby?" that he would bring it on his next trip, which he hoped would be real soon.

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

Secretary McAdoo had to explain, when someone in the crowd yelled, "Where's the baby?" that he would bring it on his next trip, which he hoped would be real soon.

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

FOOTBALL STAR KILLED IN WAR

Baltimore, Oct. 29.—John Poe, Jr., of Prentiss, a famous Princeton football player, in the early 90's, was killed September 22, while fighting as a private in the British army, along the northern boundary of France. Word to that effect was received today from the London war bureau, by relatives in this city.

BIG CROWD GREETED SECY. W. C. M'ADOO

Hundreds of Bismarck Citizens Heard Secretary of Treasury Yesterday

LAUDS PRESIDENT AND ADMINISTRATION

Bismarck turned out in force yesterday to pay its respects to William G. McAdoo, son-in-law of President Wilson and secretary of the treasury, in the Wilson cabinet. Hundreds of citizens of the capital city, all the high school students and most of the grade school children were at the N. P. depot when No. 4 came in. Secretary McAdoo, with Mrs. McAdoo and party, had a private car.

A number of prominent Bismarck democrats went to Mandan early yesterday morning and rode over with the official party. Secretary McAdoo made a short address from the rear platform of the train, thanking the people for the reception accorded himself and Mrs. McAdoo, and expressing regret at his inability to make a longer stay in the capital city.

He stated that he did not take the reception as a personal tribute, but rather as a tribute to the man he serves, President Wilson. President Wilson he lauded for the manner in which he has settled all the great diplomatic questions arising out of the European conflict, as he said, "with ease shedding one drop of American blood."

"I'm glad to be in North Dakota," he said, "even if I am a democrat, and don't feel at all like the democrat in Texas, who was ostensibly protected by the game laws, I feel perfectly safe here without that protection."

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

Secretary McAdoo had to explain, when someone in the crowd yelled, "Where's the baby?" that he would bring it on his next trip, which he hoped would be real soon.

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

Secretary McAdoo had to explain, when someone in the crowd yelled, "Where's the baby?" that he would bring it on his next trip, which he hoped would be real soon.

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

Secretary McAdoo had to explain, when someone in the crowd yelled, "Where's the baby?" that he would bring it on his next trip, which he hoped would be real soon.

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

Secretary McAdoo had to explain, when someone in the crowd yelled, "Where's the baby?" that he would bring it on his next trip, which he hoped would be real soon.

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

Secretary McAdoo had to explain, when someone in the crowd yelled, "Where's the baby?" that he would bring it on his next trip, which he hoped would be real soon.

Following his little talk, which was of necessity very short, the secretary and Mrs. McAdoo shook hands with as many of the party as was possible, the children coming in for the greater share of attention.

Secretary McAdoo had to explain, when someone in the crowd yelled, "Where's the baby?" that he would bring it on his next trip, which he hoped would be real soon.

ORDUNA CASE NOW UP FOR CONSIDERATION

German Government Explains Unsuccessful Attempt to Torpedo Liner

MISTOOK ORDUNA FOR ENEMY'S BOAT

Several Attempted Torpedos Explained in German Memorandum

Washington, Oct. 29.—A memorandum from the German government explaining the unsuccessful attempt of a submarine to torpedo the Cunard liner Orduna was made public here tonight for the first time. It reveals that as early as July 9th, last, more than a month before the attack upon the Arabic, German commanders had instructions not to sink "large passenger steamers" without warning.

The document also contains the statement that the same submarine that attacked the Orduna halted the American bark Normandie and, though finding her carrying contraband, allowed her to proceed unmolested, because there was no guaranty that the crew would be rescued, if left to their fate in small boats. This is regarded as significant in connection with the last note of the United States on the case of the William P. Frye, in which Germany was asked for assurances that if American vessels carrying contraband were sunk pending arbitration of treaty rights, they would not be subjected to the risks of small boats in the open seas.

Attacked on July 9. The attack on the Orduna took place July 9th. The memorandum says the submarine commander, because the steamer was proceeding without any flag or neutral marking, mistook the Orduna for a small enemy steamer. After a torpedo fired without warning missed its mark, the submarine chased the vessel on the surface, firing several shots when the first warning shot failed to stop it.

The memorandum adds: "The first attack on the Orduna by a torpedo was not in accordance with existing instructions which provided that large passenger steamers are only to be torpedoed after warning and after the rescuing of passengers and crews."

SAD DEATH OF AMOS PHILLIPS. Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 29.—One of the saddest deaths that have occurred in this vicinity in some time was that of Amos Phillips, which occurred at the hospital of acute pneumonia. The deceased had no relatives in this part of the country, and an only uncle lived in the south, but did not respond to the word sent.

Allies Use Sheepskin Sleeping Bags for Cold Weather

Sheepskin Sleeping Bag Used By Allied Troops. During the cold weather the new sleeping bags of sheepskin will be a great boon to the soldiers of the allied armies. The bags are made of sheepskin and covered with a waterproof covering. The fur of the skin is on the inside. Urgent calls for more and more of such bags are made in England.

MERCER WILL SEND DISPLAY

Another County Added to Permanent Farm Products Exhibit

Mercer county will send a comprehensive display to the permanent exhibit of the North Dakota State Agricultural Association at the Exposition building.

Five counties are now represented: Burleigh, Slope, Morton, McLean and Sioux. These exhibits have all been moved from the upper floors to the main room on the first floor.

Crowds Continue. Several hundred persons visit the exhibit daily, most of them, those who are coming to Bismarck to register for the land opening.

The register shows that many men are coming from as far east as New York and Massachusetts. And the men are not the only ones. About every third person to register at the exhibit is a woman.

J. P. MORGAN IS OPERATED UPON

Financier Reported to Have Had Very Mild Attack of Appendicitis

New York, Oct. 29.—J. P. Morgan, who has been at his desk only a little over two months since recovering from bullet wounds inflicted by Erick Muentzer, the mad professor of languages who attempted to kill the financier last July, is again confined to his bed and under the care of specialists, this time from an attack of appendicitis.

Mr. Morgan went through an operation today which three attendant specialists afterwards described as successful in every way. The appendix was removed at noon by Dr. M. Markoe Lyle, and Dr. Schmidt.

Mild in Character. The patient's attack of appendicitis was mild in character it was said, and his condition was in no way attributed to the attempted assassination of Mr. Morgan by Muentzer. Apparently, the financier has fully recovered from the effects of the two bullet wounds he sustained then. His general health, his doctors said, was so excellent that his prompt recovery from the operation today was confidently expected.

Wednesday Mr. Morgan was at his desk as usual. Yesterday he was indisposed and specialists diagnosed his attack as appendicitis.

Fearing a recurrence of the malady later, his physicians advised him to undergo the operation now and Mr. Morgan consented.

Upon the stock exchange, the effect of this announcement was almost imperceptible. Stocks went down fractionally but quickly rebounded.

A bulletin issued at eight o'clock tonight by Drs. Markoe and Lyle said his condition was "fully as normal as could be expected."

WILL NOT TAKE BACK ATHLETES WHO WITHDREW

New Haven, Oct. 29.—Yale will not reinstate the five athletes who recently withdrew from intercollegiate competition so long as the Yale rule concerning playing so-called summer baseball stands in its present form. This was made plain tonight by Prof. Robert M. Crowin, chairman of the Yale Athletic Committee, who made public a letter he had written to Dean Baron and R. Briggs of Harvard.

Both Harvard and Princeton had written to Prof. Crowin expressing the desire of the undergraduates of those universities that the athletes be allowed to rejoin their teams.

Americans Threatened by Villa Faction

Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 29.—At least 50 and perhaps 100 Americans in that part of the state of Sonora controlled by Villa partisans were placed in grave danger today by the posting at Cananea of printed copies of the protest with Carlos Randall, acting Villa governor sent to the state department at Washington.

This protest declared that unless permission is given General Carranza to transport troops over American territory to Agua Prieta was not immediately evoked there would be no safety for American citizens in Sonora, much less for their property. At Cananea alone American mining interests have property valued at millions of dollars.

Raid American Camp. A new attack by Mexican bandits on a patrol camp of United States soldiers and the reported killing of 15 bandits in a battle with Carranza soldiers acting under order of First Chief Venustiano Carranza to clear the border of outlaws, were developments today in the border situation.

Details of the reported fight on Mexican soil, which was said to have occurred 55 miles west of Matamoros, still were lacking tonight, but color was added to the story by the dispatch of 250 soldiers up the Rio Grande by General Eugenio Lopez, commander of the garrison at Matamoros.

The Mexican bandits who attacked the patrol of 20 United States infantrymen at Capote ranch early today, charged the camp from three directions, evidently believing the infantrymen to be in tents. Instead the soldiers were in trenches and opened fire on Mexicans at 50 yards before the latter realized what occurred. The firing continued perhaps for ten minutes when the Mexicans retreated in the direction of the Rio Grande and escaped. It is not known whether any Mexicans were injured.

Wife on Rampage. The troops of General Francisco Villa were reported tonight to be in motion toward the international border for their intended attack on Agua Prieta, Sonora, opposite here. Doubtless Carranza soldiers, commanded by General P. Calles, are strongly entrenched.

Indications here tonight were that a battle would be in progress between the two factions by Sunday.

Seven Americans already are in the hands of Villa troops, according to information available tonight. James C. Carr, Sr., James Carr, Jr., Lawrence Carr, and William Doran, are held at Esquada, and three line-men employed on the L. Pose power line. Archie McDonald and two others named Nelson and Greene, are prisoners at Frontera, it is reported.

The cabinet will proceed in a body to the Elysee palace tomorrow for its first conference with President Poincaré, and later will form a ministerial declaration of policy.

ONE FUNERAL SERVICE FOR SCHOOL VICTIMS. Peabody, Mass., Oct. 29.—The bodies of the 21 girl pupils, victims of the fire which destroyed St. Johns Parochial school yesterday, will be buried tomorrow. One funeral service will be held for 18 of them at St. Johns Roman Catholic church, with which the school was connected.

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 29.—William Cameron of Carey, Idaho, shot and killed Mr. W. L. Adamson, his wife, their son, James Adamson, and his own child, aged 18 months, at the home of the Adamsons today. He fled to the hills and posess are now in pursuit.

Cameron's wife started divorce proceedings against him recently. He went to the home of her parents to see them today and falling to find her killed everyone in the house.

AGGIES WIN OUT. Fargo, Oct. 29.—The Aggies defeated Fargo college today by a score of 7 to 6. It was a thrilling game and hotly contested from the first foot of the whistle.

ALL AGREE NOT TO MAKE A SEPARATE PEACE

Tokio, Oct. 29.—The Japanese government has published official correspondence which shows that Japan has joined Great Britain, France and Russia, in their declaration made on Sept. 5, 1914, not to conclude a separate peace treaty during the present war, or to demand conditions of peace without a previous agreement with the other powers of the alliance.

The correspondence shows that Japan adhered to this agreement Oct. 19, in London on the invitation of the Entente Allies.

FREIGHT TRAIN IS WRECKED AT PETREL. Hettinger, N. D., Oct. 29.—A freight train was wrecked near Petrel, several cars being piled up and the track being badly damaged. Some damage was also done to the track between here and Petrel. Train service was interrupted for several hours as a result of the wreck. Train No. 16, the east bound Olympian, was held at Hettinger for about four hours and the passengers were given a good opportunity to stroll around the town and see the sights. Train No. 15, due in here from the east at 1:30 in the morning, was held at Lemmon while the wreck was cleared up and the track repaired.

ALL FACTIONS IN NEW CABINET

Briand Completes Coalition Government Following Recent Resignation of Viviana

Paris, Oct. 29.—A new coalition cabinet headed by Aristide Briand as premier and minister of foreign affairs, came into existence tonight. This is the first time in the history of the French republic that there is a coalition ministry of all the opposing party and factions. It follows closely on the recent innovation of forming a British coalition cabinet of conservative and liberals.

The action taken today informing the cabinet was a culmination of a deep popular sentiment that at the supreme crisis of the war party division should give way to united action by all the parties in common support of the government.

As the result of the cabinet of Rene Viviani being representative of only a few political groups, the ministers presented their collective resignations and President Poincaré charged Aristide Briand with the formation of a new organization combining all elements.

Remarkable in Personnel. The resulting coalition is remarkable in personnel including such venerable figures as Charles de Freycinet, who was one of Gambetta's aides in the upheaval of 1870. Jules Méline, a former premier, who instituted the protective system of France, and Leon Bourgeois, who is known as the "Grand Old Man of the Radical Party," which has the largest membership in the parliament.

The modern element is represented by conspicuous leaders of all the political groups of the country. Thus, the new coalition brings together France's elder and younger statesmen and in personnel represents all the history of modern France, since the fall of Napoleon the third. The new cabinet also is notable in having the popular military leader, General Gallieni as the head of the war office, and Rear Admiral La Caze, as head of the ministry of marine, both of them replacing civilians.

Socialists Represented. The Radical party, the Republican Socialist and the Socialist group each have three members in the cabinet. The Democratic left has two members, while the Radical left has one. The Royal and Clerical have one representative. This embraces all the parties and groups in parliament which for years have been arraigned against each other.

The cabinet will proceed in a body to the Elysee palace tomorrow for its first conference with President Poincaré, and later will form a ministerial declaration of policy.

ONE FUNERAL SERVICE FOR SCHOOL VICTIMS. Peabody, Mass., Oct. 29.—The bodies of the 21 girl pupils, victims of the fire which destroyed St. Johns Parochial school yesterday, will be buried tomorrow. One funeral service will be held for 18 of them at St. Johns Roman Catholic church, with which the school was connected.

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 29.—William Cameron of Carey, Idaho, shot and killed Mr. W. L. Adamson, his wife, their son, James Adamson, and his own child, aged 18 months, at the home of the Adamsons today. He fled to the hills and posess are now in pursuit.

Cameron's wife started divorce proceedings against him recently. He went to the home of her parents to see them today and falling to find her killed everyone in the house.

AGGIES WIN OUT. Fargo, Oct. 29.—The Aggies defeated Fargo college today by a score of 7 to 6. It was a thrilling game and hotly contested from the first foot of the whistle.

FOUR SLAIN WHEN A MAN FAILS TO LOCATE HIS WIFE

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 29.—William Cameron of Carey, Idaho, shot and killed Mr. W. L. Adamson, his wife, their son, James Adamson, and his own child, aged 18 months, at the home of the Adamsons today. He fled to the hills and posess are now in pursuit.

Cameron's wife started divorce proceedings against him recently. He went to the home of her parents to see them today and falling to find her killed everyone in the house.

AGGIES WIN OUT. Fargo, Oct. 29.—The Aggies defeated Fargo college today by a score of 7 to 6. It was a thrilling game and hotly contested from the first foot of the whistle.

SERBS RETREAT BEFORE FIERCE TEUTONIC DRIVE

Austrians Are Attacking Montenegrins But Make Little Progress

LITTLE CHANGE NOTED ON OTHER FRONTS

General Joffre Goes to London for a Council of War

GERMANS OPPOSE WHITLOCK. London, Oct. 29.—The Vossische Zeitung, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph, company from Amsterdam challenges the German government to ask Washington to recall the American minister at Brussels, Brand Whitlock.

"The recent Cavell case," says the Vossische Zeitung, "must be utilized as an occasion to put an end to Mr. Whitlock's activities, he being a minister accredited to Havre, the present seat of the Belgian government, and not to Brussels. If America desires a representative in Brussels, she must send someone agreeable to the German government."

London, Oct. 29.—The Germans, with their Austrian and Bulgarian allies, are still making an attempt to cut off the retreat of the main Serbian army, which is offering resistance to the invaders. While Field Marshal von Mackensen's forces advance slowly from the north, the Austrians have crossed the western border of Serbia south of Szwceva, and are moving eastward and southeast of Nish, to Zajecar, to the northeast of Nish.

It is, of course, a long way across and the country is difficult to traverse, but the Serbians are bound to defend it as long as possible, as their great arsenal at Krugyevatz is situated in this area, and they will doubtless hold on with the hope of making a retirement into the mountains along the Montenegrin frontier and into that country.

Austrians Attack Montenegro. To forestall this, the Austrians also are attacking in Montenegro, but have made little progress, as the Montenegrins, under their veteran fighting king, have had a long time to prepare for such an offense, and thus far have kept off all attempts to throw them back.

There is no change in the southern area of Serbia so far as is known. That Uskup has been recaptured is not confirmed.

In what other war Serbians to be assisted has not yet been disclosed. Greece friendly. Greece has assured the Entente Powers that her neutrality remains friendly to them, and has pointed out that she has already given them assistance by permitting the landing of their troops at Saloniki.

On the other fronts, there is little or no change in the situation. The Corriere d'Italian says Pope Benedict has made representations to the Austrian government as a result of the recent air raids over Venice.

The newspaper adds that the pontiff after the first Austrian bombardment (CONTINUED ON PAGE FOUR.)

UNITED STATES WON'T EXPRESS ANY OPINION. Washington, Oct. 29.—The United States has declined to express any opinion as to whether it approves the proposed change in China from a republic to a monarchy.

It became known today that some of the interested powers, in seeking out the Washington government, informally had learned that the latter would take no steps that might be construed as an interference in the internal concerns of another sovereign state.

Interest in the Far Eastern situation, which has for months been overshadowed by the controversies of the European war, was revived in official quarters by a dispatch announcing the resignation of the Chinese premier, Hsu Shih Chang. This development was regarded as significant because a few weeks ago the premier made a public statement saying that as a former official of the Manchu dynasty he would not serve under another emperor.

The Chinese government itself has not asked for the views of the United States and officially nothing has been said here on the subject. It is known, however, that privately the hope is entertained in Washington that the change will not be made. This is based not only on the natural sympathy for the republic form of government, but because of the belief that the change might affect the political equilibrium at this time.

BISMARCK BOOSTERS

E. H. HOWELL

E. H. Howell, vice-president and manager of the Finch Lumber company in this city, came to Bismarck from Englewood, N. D., three years ago. At that time the company purchased the local yards of the North Star Lumber company, and launched out in business here on a large scale. Supported by his successful record in the eleven years he has been associated with the Finch organization, Mr. Howell was selected as the logical man to place in charge of the interests of the company when the purchase of the North Star yards was made. Mr. Howell is possessed of keen business insight and has a broad experience in the lumber industry. Since taking over the management of the company's interests in Bismarck, he has accomplished much and the records show a constantly increased revenue under his supervision. A member of the Commercial Club, Mr. Howell has ever had the welfare and advancement of the city's interest at heart, and took a healthy part in the recent campaign of the organization for additional membership. He believes Bismarck to have a bright future, and believes the development on a large scale of the city's business institutions a certainty.

THE WEATHER. North Dakota: Partly cloudy Saturday; Sunday unsettled and colder.