THAT SUMERIAN THEORY.

According to Dr. Langdon, the Sumerian tablet in the University of Pennsylvania setting forth that Adam and Eve did not eat of the apple, but that Noah was the guilty man, and that he ate of the cassia fruit, is 5,000 years old.

The food, according to the tablet, occurred about 35,000 B. C., which was about 42,000 years after creation. Before the food there was no storm and all beasts were harmless.

Dr. Langdon may possibly be able to bring some argument to substantiate the Sumerian theory, but on the face of it, it seems to be contrary to evidence produced by geologists and other scientists.

Moreover, before getting excited over the new theory, the general public will probably allow the learned doctor time to give his tablet "the once over," and subject it to the acid test of scientific investigation.

The fact remains—and this is more pertinent to every-day folks—that sin is in the world, that it is reaping a harvest of sorrow and suffering, and that there is plenty to do to overcome it to keep everyone busy.

Whether the blame for sin should be placed on Adam or on Noah is not so important right now, as how the lineal descendants of these ancients are to be brought to a higher plane of life and morality.

It will take more than one Sumerian tablet to jar the foundation of Christian thought, belief and action. Let the scientists go on poring over crumbling tablets—their results will not be so great as if they were inventing bombs and infernal machines, with which to maim and mangle their fellow-man.

"A CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM."

"John Doe No. 104," they called him at the "home."

Now he is Finley J. Shepard, Jr., adopted son of Mrs. Helen Gould Shepard. Two years ago a winsome little boy was found on the steps of St. Patrick's cathedral in New York City. The infant was sent to St. Christopher's Home at Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.

There the child remained, and attracted the attention of Mrs. Shepard, who frequently visits the home. Finally, last February, she decided to take the little five-year-old to the Shepard home for a visit. About the time the visit was drawing to a close the little lad was taken ill with chicken-pox and had to remain. By the time he had recovered Mrs. Shepard and her husband, Finley J. Shepard, official of the Missouri Pacific railway, had decided they could not give the lad up. So, promptly they adopted him.

"He is such a dear!" Mrs. Shepard is quoted as saying in a recently published interview. "He is such a manly little fellow. We took him because he is such a lovable, teachable boy and because we have a big place up at Irvington, and it seems to me every time I look around that children should be running over it all the time. "John Doe No. 104" is a fortunate lad, not so much because he is now suddenly to become heir to millions, as because he has found parents who will treat him lovingly and teach him to wisely administer the fortune that will be his, and to estimate wealth at its true value, in comparison with other considerations in life.

Helen Gould Shepard has stood as a model of American womanhood, her benefactions being as broad as her sympathy is deep.

The adoption of a child by this woman of wealth has created much surprised comment. But, after all—in the light of Helen Gould Shepard's warm-hearted womanliness—isn't that just what she should be expected to do?

NO SPOONING IN CHICAGO.

And this in Chicago! Every schoolboy has laughed over the top of his history as he read of the punishment by the Puritans of the man who kissed his wife on the doorstep.

Yet in Chicago the other day a man and his wife were haled into a police court and fined $5 and costs for interrupting the peace and dignity of the city. They were riding in their automobile along a boulevard and bystanders reported that the man kissed his companion twelve times in three blocks, although the auto was running at a high rate of speed.

The magistrate who pronounced the sentence must have been old and forgetful of his honeymoon days, for the fact that the couple were man and wife failed to move him to clemency.

If this incident had taken place in Concord, N. H., Montpelier, Vt., or Salem, Mass., it would not strike the reader as so peculiar—out the idea of blase Chicago adopting such a mien of puritanical modesty is sufficient to send a ripple of amusement all over the country.

Can it be that family affection in Chicago has become so rare that any public manifestation of it is frowned upon as undesirable?

BISMARCK BOOSTERS GET ROYAL WELCOME IN TRIP TO "LIVE WIRE" TOWNS

One of the mysteries of life is, why so many baldheaded barbers are such ardent advocates of hair restorer.

After almost ten hours spent in dining and handshaking, the dust of Steele was left behind, and the ten-mile stretch of good road leading to Dawson was navigated in quick time. At Dawson there was a reception befitting the honor of that live-wire town—the butter town, also the town of Colonel Tuttle, who is in the way of being Dawson's biggest asset. After handshakes had been swapped all 'round, Colonel Tuttle mounted a peacemaker—erawhile sidewalk—and acquitted himself of one of the best made-to-measure little speechlets that Bismarck folk have enjoyed in many a day.

The Colonel apologized for the absence of so many good Dawsonites, explaining that, as they were ever ready to rush to arms to save their country, so were they now in the field, battling to save their neighbors' harvest. The welcome they would have uttered collectively found individual expression in Colonel Tuttle's happy remarks, and he was several times interrupted by sincere applause.

The Colonel called attention to the fact that Kidder county, from 1911 to 1910, made a greater gain in population than any other county in America—a net increase of 242 per cent. "Furthermore," said the Colonel, "Kidder county this year raised more wheat and corn and oats and flax and hogs and less hell than any other year in its history."

Mr. Tuttle explained how Dawson came to earn its title of the "Butter City," and he said many things which rang pleasantly in the ears of both hosts and guests before he cordially extended to the visitors the keys of the city.

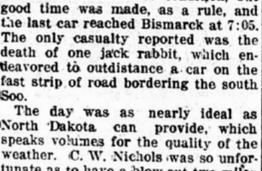

Moffit Last Stop. The last stop of the day was made at Moffit, after calling briefly for a second time at Driscoll, where apples for everyone and bonbons for the two young ladies who so adequately represented Bismarck's gentler sex came in very appropriately. At Moffit, Valentine Benz had cigars and a good word for everyone. A lunch was recruited for the hungry ones, and the long homeward trek commenced at 5:30.

No serious mishaps occurred on the last leg of the journey. Some of the roads which had been newly graded were not in first-class condition, but good time was made, as a rule, and the last car reached Bismarck at 7:05. The only casualty reported was the death of one jack rabbit, which endeavored to outdistance a car on the fast strip of road bordering the south Soo.

The day was as nearly ideal as North Dakota can provide, which speaks volumes for the quality of the weather. C. W. Nichols was so unfortunate as to have a blow-out two miles out of Dawson, and was forced to come into Steele on his rims. W. H. Webb's car developed a bad tire between Driscoll and Sterling and was delayed for a time. F. E. Young started the ball a-rolling on the out-of-bound trip, with a flat tire, at McKen-

SHOCK ABSORBERS

McKenzie has adopted the plan of dragging the center of the road and of insisting that motorists do their motoring there, with the result that the roads through that township are smooth and level, with ample trackway. Rains do not affect them to any great extent, and they are much faster than roads further to the east, where trails have been made at the side.

Want the Red Trail.

McKenzie, Driscoll and Sterling insist that the Red Trail shall not pass them by, and to back up their argument they are building the very best roads they know how. They contend that the purpose of a highway is to form a means of communication between towns, and it is their opinion that the Red Trail will make a serious mistake if it adopts any route which does not lead through their villages, with their convenient gas stations and garages.

Pace-maker Has Puncture.

The first mishap occurred within a third of a mile of McKenzie. The pace-maker, piloted by F. E. Young, developed the trouble. After a hasty examination and a consultation between Official Photographer Holmboe and Mr. Young, the journey was continued into McKenzie. Here George Towers was called upon. With an improvised leather patch he stopped the puncture, and Joe Breslow, because he didn't have far to stoop, pumped the tire full of air. In the next lap Pace-maker Young set a fast clip and he almost succeeded in making up the lost time.

To Steele on Bare Wheels.

C. W. Nichols, coming home between Dawson and Steele, ran into bad luck. Two blow-outs followed in close succession and he was forced to limp into Steele with two bare wheels.

Mr. Bull Boosts Land.

"Fellows may say that this is a bad country but I want to tell you that North Dakota is the place in which to make money." J. W. Bull was talking. And to cinch the argument he waved his hand over towards his farm near McKenzie. "That land returned 7 percent on the investment this year."

Dawson Helps Farmers.

The people of Dawson are doing more than talk about North Dakota's bumper harvest. They are going out distinguished themselves in various ways, and a surprising number of opportunities presented themselves.

The Commercial club is thoroughly satisfied with the results of its first "get acquainted" junket. It would have liked a larger representation, but there was nothing lacking in quality. Other trips will be held, when it is hoped that those who could not go yesterday will be able to turn out. It will do them good, it is believed, and there is no question that Bismarck as a whole will benefit.

USE "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS WHEN CONSTIPATED

When Bilious, Headachy, Sick, for Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Bad Colds. Get a 10-cent box.

Take a Cascaret tonight to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, a bad cold, are bilious, nervous, upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.—Adv.

Bowers Goes On.

George Bowers, driving one of the new Chevrolet Four-ninety cars, kept up a good pace all the way, but was forced to leave the boosters at Dawson and continue on to Tappan on business. W. E. Reeves of the same firm, the National Highway Motor company, piloted one of the Baby Grand Chevrolets through the entire trip.

Quick Work by Webb.

Phil Webb in his Cadillac was well in the lead on the homeward trip until he experienced a blowout. Although with the able assistance and advice of Miss Jessie D. Webb, P. M. Webb and S. E. Bergeson, he soon had a new tire on. The delay made him too late at Sterling to make the side trip to Moffit with the other boosters.

Maybe, Some Dirt.

Besides a few cents for rouge to give the desired color and thickness to the lips, it would not have cost a cent to have converted the boosters when they arrived at Steele for dinner into a first-class black face minstrel troop. The wind had whipped faces generally into considerable tenderness and many did not dare use water. Therefore, if there were dirty faces at the tables of the Grand Pacific and the Woodlawn hotels at Steele yesterday, that is no sign that the chicken dinner was not enjoyed or that the diners were infested with

What?

Women Take Part.

Women for the first time yesterday took part in a Bismarck booster trip. This innovation was so unanimously satisfactory that it is certain that they will always be prominent in future journeys. Because so few knew that they could go, only two women were in yesterday's trip. But they enjoyed themselves and took as much interest in boosting Bismarck as did the men.

Both Miss Webb and Miss Fisk met many of the leading men and women of the towns visited and it is certain that they made more friends for the Capital City than did any two of the men. So popular were they at Driscoll, that on the return trip they were waylaid and treated to chocolates, bon bons and apples. Miss Webb declared on the way home that she thought that the trip was a great success and that in the future she was sure more women would go.

Fan-shaped Trail of Dust.

There is no use denying that a dozen cars kick up a good deal of dust, clouds of it in fact. Going out the wind was from the southeast and coming back from the northwest. This made it possible for the passengers to face it both ways and not miss any dust. Frequently all one could see of the other cars was the fan-shaped trail of dust left by each. But this didn't make the trip less enjoyable; it was just enough to keep everybody in good nature and to make them forget such trivial things as spotless starched collars.

Booster Trip Magnet.

The booster trip is a magnet and a powerful one. Ask E. H. Hull. He was working in the fields on his farm near Driscoll when he saw the first car darting by. He wondered a moment, then said to himself, "The Bismarck Boosters!" He ran to the house, grabbed his coat and overcoat and got to the road in time to hop the Webb car.

Among Those Present.

Among those who made the trip were: L. W. Odyke, P. M. Webb, B. Webb, S. E. Bergeson, E. H. Hull, Driscoll; G. L. Price; Miss Jessie D. Webb, L. H. Richmond, G. L. Palsom; C. W. Nichols, W. E. Reeves, E. A. Morrissey, J. W. Hull, J. Breslow, C. J. Fisk, Miss Doris Fisk, A. W. Lehart, Frank E. Hedden, L. Van Hook, E. H. Howell, Carl Pedersen, C. L. Young, L. Harrison, J. A. Haney, F. L. Shuman, P. A. Copelin, P. E. Shepard, G. H. Russ, Jr., H. C. Marks, P. E. Young, E. K. Allenworth, E. C. Hubbs, Driscoll; George Bowers, R. S. Wilson; L. A. Steiber, F. W. Murphy; Robert Orr, Frank Reed, George B. Newcomb.

Many Furnish Cars.

Among those who had cars were: Missouri Valley Motor company, Ford Motor company, National Highway Motor company, L. W. Odyke, P. M. A. Steiber, F. W. Murphy, C. W. Nichols, Judge Fisk, E. Young, W. L. Watson, W. H. Webb and Joe Breslow.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

THE GREATEST BLOOD PURIFIER EVER DISCOVERED

Thousands bears testimony to a remedy that has stood the test of over half a century—S. S. S.

Possibly there is no remedy ever compounded by the hand of man that has been able to show such a clean record for the wonderful effect it has had in remedying the ills of men and women. The library of the Swift Specific Company in Atlanta is a veritable treasure chest of testimonials, setting forth in distinct and indisputable language how S. S. S. has banished the horrible suffering of Rheumatism. There are thousands, and thousands of letters from grateful fathers who have at last the knowledge that the hereditary taint that was discovered in their blood will not have to be handed down to their children. Here are wonderful records to tell where the horrible suffering of Catarrh has gone forever, where skin diseases that have disfigured the face and features have left them as clean and wholesome as nature intended them to be. Cases of Eczema, or Salt Rheum, Tetter, Rash—after case of so-called skin disease, which have been brought to bay by the marvelous tonic effects of S. S. S. Tell-tale Scrofula no longer has its terrors, for the famous remedy, like a guardian angel, stands ready to banish it. The chief thing for the sufferer from blood diseases, and Rheumatism is one of the worst of them, is to realize that they cannot be cured by rubbing, by douches of hot water, salves, lotions or any outward or external treatment. These remedies that soothe often do no more than aggravate the trouble in the long run. Believe that even pimples are the danger signal of bad blood, and treat the blood and not the pimple and the relief is sure.

Medical advice is free to any sufferer from blood disorders or skin diseases. You know your symptoms. This is the opportunity to secure special advice from Physicians who have for fifty years been making a study of blood diseases, particularly Poison Blood, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Eczema, the hardening of blood vessels from old age. Write today for special advice. Avoid substitutes. If you suffer from any of the troubles mentioned go straight to your druggist and get a bottle of S. S. S.—then write us by the marvelous tonic effects of S. S. S. Tell-tale Scrofula no longer
