

NORTH DAKOTA MUCH IN EYE OF GENERAL PUBLIC

Big Wheat Crop Does Much to Put State on Map

That North Dakota is much in the eye of the general public is indicated by the queries constantly being received at the Commercial club offices. Requests are coming from almost every state in the union as to North Dakota's products, its resources, its physical conditions, climate, its history and its prospects.

Within the last week Secretary Price has supplied special articles, printed matter, booklets and statistics to a half-dozen high schools in a half-dozen states which have written announcing that they are studying North Dakota and asking for accurate material which has been brought down to date.

The boys and girls who are using this matter as text books cannot but conceive a new respect for a state with so many important resources; with so progressive a record, and so interesting a history as North Dakota possesses. The Commercial club feels that in reaching out to these young people it is educating future citizens to properly appreciate the opportunities presented by the Flickertail state, and it believes that much of the seed thus sown will fall upon fertile ground.

In any case where the information requested has not been available in printed form, or could not be procured through reference to some other source, proper authorities have been consulted, and an accurate, detailed statement covering the subject has been prepared by the secretary. It means work, but it is regarded as one of the most profitable paths along which the club can direct its efforts for proper publicity.

HAMLET

Prince of Denmark a Life Lecture With Illustrative Acting

No production of any kind in years has caused the stir and comment in the Lyceum world which is created by Mr. Flowers' Hamlet. He has found in this greatest drama of the world a new and extremely apt message. He presents the essential parts of the play with the art of a master explains and interprets them, meets and answers its questions and difficulties, and drives home a moral lesson of profound significance. He has made this great masterpiece perfectly clear, interesting and attractive for the masses—and provided an evening's entertainment of intellectual and spiritual joy.

Held Small Audience Seven Hours. Scene—Smoking room, Pullman car, Nebraska.

Time—10:00 a. m. to begin; 5:00 p. m. to close.

Personae—A bond broker, a road master, a signal man and Montaville Flowers.

Argument—To prove that the greatest classic properly presented can interest and charm the most disinterested.

Action—10:00 a. m. General talk strikes Shakespeare and Montaville Flowers begins to speak of Hamlet.

10:30 a. m.—He is asked by the railroad men to recite some lines.

2:00 p. m.—All still in their seats dinner missed, everything else forgotten, the play half done.

Recess, 30 minutes for lunch.

5:00 p. m.—Play finished. One railroad man has ridden past his home (Saturday night) 30 miles, the other 150 miles, to hear the finish.

Q. E. D.—That Montaville Flowers

BAD COLD? HEADACHY AND NOSE STUFFED

"Pape's Cold Compound" Ends Colds and Grippe in a Few Hours.

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all gripe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nasty discharges or nose running; relieves the headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffing. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

—Adv.

has succeeded in making Hamlet a new, living story and a sweet message for all the people.

Will appear in Bismarck Friday of next week, November 12.—Adv.

AUTOMOBILE BLUE BOOK TO ADVERTISE CAPITAL CITY

Red Trail Will Be Extensively Advertised in Next Issue

The Automobile Blue Book—the motor-tourist's bible—in its next issue devote considerable space to Bismarck and its vicinity, thanks to efforts of the Commercial club. Secretary Price yesterday dispatched to the publishers a write-up which carries Bismarck back for three centuries and then brings it down to date again. The story covers the history of this region from the time of the earliest Spanish trading days to the present; tells of the historic points of interest for miles around; describes the growth of the city and its present prospects for a glorious future, calls attention to hotel and garage facilities, and in other ways places Bismarck upon the map of the motor tourists.

The Blue Book in its next issue is expected to expose the Red Trail, a prominent position, and Bismarck, as the most important point on the National Parks highway, between Fargo and Butte, will come in for a large share of attention. The secretary has endeavored to present its attractions in the most favorable light, and results are expected from this valuable form of inexpensive publicity.

THE WORLD'S WORK.

"An Adequate National Defense" is the keynote of the November World's Work, and it is sounded throughout the body of its articles. The editors undertook a poll of the press of the country on the subject of national preparedness, and out of the 261 newspapers that responded not one expressed a downright opposition to the idea, and only six of them were "either more interested in other aspects of our relation to the possibility of war or were so lukewarm toward preparedness as to suggest an opposition they did not express." An article on "Congressional Leaders and Our Preparedness For War" describes the chairmen of the naval and military affairs committees in both houses of congress and their respective attitudes in the past on the question of an adequate national defense, which give a hint of what their disposition will be toward the army and navy appropriation bills that will be brought before the forthcoming session of congress. An article on "The Cost of Unpreparedness" is comprised mainly of pictures of decisive battles of our four wars from the Revolution to the Civil War, and tells of the "tremendous toll of human life and waste of money" which have resulted from our unpreparedness for war in the past. Other articles in this number are: "The Navy and the Coming Congress," by George Marvin; "The Army and the Coming Congress," by John S. Gregory; "The Life and Death Chess Game in Europe, describing the strategy that has inspired the movements of the belligerent armies in the European war during the two months ending October 1, illustrated by maps and diagrams; "Weapons of This War," by French Strother; "Will Prosperity or Poverty Follow the War?" by Theodore H. Price; "What I Learned at Plattsburg," by Ralph W. Page; "If I Were Going Into Foreign Trade," by Charles C. Chopp, etc., etc.

LOST HIS RIGHT HAND IN AN ENGINE'S GEARS

John Holmes of near Steele, had his right hand mashed off Monday afternoon when he was driving his gasoline engine. His foot slipped and he fell over, his hand going into the gearing. He was at once taken to Jamestown by W. Applegate and amputation of his hand at the wrist was necessary.

Mr. Holmes had been threshing all fall, using and running his own outfit in the vicinity of Steele. Monday afternoon he was going to move the separator and started up and in some way slipped and fell, his hand being caught in the driving gears. They at once rendered first aid and stopped the flow of blood and then took him to Steele where he caught train No. 8 to Jamestown. He expects to be out of the hospital by Saturday.

Chicken Pot Pie

The Chef's Favorite

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Some folks think that only "colored mummies" can cook chicken, but a trial of this famous chicken pot pie disproves that assertion. Every member of the family will thoroughly enjoy it.

K C Chicken Pot Pie, Baked Dumplings

One fowl cut in joints; 1/4 cup flour; 1/2 teaspoonful salt; black pepper; 2 cups flour; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; 1/4 teaspoonful salt; 1/4 cup shortening; milk or cream.

Cover the fowl with boiling water and let simmer until tender, then remove to a baking dish. Mix the 1/4 cup flour, salt and black pepper with cold water to a smooth paste and use to thicken the broth. Remove the fat from the top of the thickening. Pour this gravy over the fowl, until it is nearly covered, and reserve the rest to serve apart. Stir together the flour, baking powder and salt, three times; into this work the shortening and use cream or milk to make a dough, less stiff than for biscuits. Put this by spoonfuls over the fowl in the dish, which it should rest upon and completely cover. Let bake about 35 minutes.

When young, tender chickens are scarce, this presents a most satisfactory way of serving old fowls. Ven or lamb prepared in this manner is more something than when served as a stew. Try this and the 59 other delicious recipes in the K C Cook's Book, a copy of which may be secured free by sending the enclosed certificate checked in the 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the JACOBS MFG. CO., Chicago.
