UNTIL THE STRONG.
 To the really great, physical defects are of small hindrance. They rise above their difficulties with a dignity that is grand and a simplicity which detects humor in a situation which would otherwise embarrass.

A short while ago, Thomas Edison, almost totally deaf, presided at the meetings of the new naval consulting board. He presided ably, without hesitation or embarrassment, and seemed to understand every word that was spoken. Other members of the board were puzzled, including Secretary of the Navy Daniels. Speculation was rife as to what kind of a new invention Edison had perfected that enabled him to hear.

After enjoying their bewilderment for a time Edison explained, and the explanation was singularly simple. He had his chief engineer, Hutchinson, sit close beside him. Hutchinson, under cover of the table, tapped on Edison's knee everything that was being said. It is also said that Edison and his assistant worked the code with their eyelids.

To the smaller caliber man the almost total loss of hearing is an overwhelming handicap, but to a man who is an overmastering genius or even to the merely strong-souled man, such a misfortune may hinder, but not prevent, a life of usefulness and service.

Thus another proof is added that a person possessed of determination can convert every obstacle into a means of strength.

MAN AND HIS DOG.
 Ever hear of a man bequeathing money to a dog?
 Sounds strange, doesn't it?
 Yet, that's what a Wisconsin man did.

Of course he didn't leave the money directly to his dog, for the dog would not know what to do with it. Yet, there are a whole lot of boys and girls who don't seem to know what to do with money that is willed to them. But to get back to the dog and his legacy:
 The Wisconsin man left a clause in his will giving $2,000 in trust to a friend, the money to be used in caring for the man's pet dog.
 "Crazy!" some local oracles exclaimed.
 Let us see. Maybe the man wasn't so crazy after all. The evidence shows that the dog had been his faithful friend and companion, that the dog was ever ready to defend the hand that fed him and, in short, the dog showed gratitude.

INJUNCTIONS DISSOLVED BY JUDGE AMIDON

 a nuisance, the court shall abate it by closing it and by enjoining the keeper of it from continuing to maintain it. The supreme court of the state, in State vs. Dellaire, 4 N. D., 312, interpreted this statute as follows:
 "We notice that selling intoxicating liquors, contrary to the provisions of this act, does not constitute the offense; nor does keeping intoxicating liquors for sale contrary to the provisions of this act constitute the offense. Neither is the offense committed by permitting persons to resort to the place for the purpose of drinking intoxicating liquors as a beverage. They are evidences of the offense. It is keeping the place where these things, or some of them, are done, that constitutes the offense."

In State vs. Poul, 14 N. D., 557, the court says:
 "The word 'place' as used in this statute means the particular room, tenement or apartment wherein the unlawful business is done, or the liquor is kept for sale, or sold."
 In that case a conviction was reversed because the information charged that the business was carried on in two distinct buildings on the same lot.

Must Specify Building.
 The decisions of the highest court of the state leave no room for doubt that a nuisance such as will justify the issuance of an injunction, is confined to a specific building in which liquors are sold, or kept for sale, or to which persons are permitted to resort for the purpose of drinking such liquors. The right to resort to equity does not arise out of the wrongful act of selling intoxicating liquors in violation of law, but from keeping the place. The bill fails to specify any such building. The smallest geographical unit referred to in the bill is a village. What the bill really asks is not the abatement of a nuisance, but a general injunction restraining the defendant from delivering intoxicating liquor to persons who intend to dispose of it in violation of law. In other words, the court is asked to restrain the defendant from committing a specific crime defined by the statute of North Dakota, namely, the delivery of intoxicating liquors by a common carrier to a person, knowing that the person intends to use it in violation of the law of the state. Second, to restrain the carrier from aiding and abetting evilly disposed persons who intend to violate the prohibitory laws of the state. In either case the injunction is simple, to be used to forbid the doing of criminal acts. There is nothing in the bill which confines the relief to the abatement of a nuisance such as the state law, as interpreted by the highest court of the state defines. Such a use of the writ of injunction is wholly unauthorized by the state law, and the court has no power on the subject except such as is granted by that law. It is too plain for argument that suits in equity cannot be substituted for criminal prosecutions as a means of preventing purely personal crimes. The motion to dismiss therefore, is sustained.

Amend Bill.
 I am of the opinion, however, that the bill can be so amended as to confine the relief sought to the abatement of specific nuisances, and that an injunction would lie against the carrier for delivering intoxicating liquors to a person who is engaged in maintaining such a place, with knowledge, or reasonable cause to believe that he intended to use the liquors. The carrier cannot shut its eyes to the uses to which intoxicating liquors are to be put. It has some duty besides collecting the freight. If it delivers intoxicating liquors to the maintainer for that purpose, I think the carrier becomes a participator in the maintenance of the nuisance so as to be subject to an injunction. If the attorney general desires to amend his bill so as to meet these requirements, he may do so within the next 30 days.

BIG GAME IS SAID TO BE PLENTIFUL
 Duluth, Minn., Nov. 5.—Although chickens and partridges afforded but little sport this year, because of their scarcity, big game hunting, the season for which opens next Wednesday, promises to be more than ordinarily good.

It is claimed that deer and moose are more plentiful than for years, and that while the wolves are more plentiful than for many years also, the lack of snow on the ground gives the antlered game plenty of opportunity to get away from the beasts that menace them.

EXPOSITION TO CLOSE NEXT MONTH
 Governor L. B. Hanna yesterday received a telegram from President Charles S. Moore of the Panama-Pacific exposition, to the effect that the exposition will positively close December 4.

The idea seems to be prevalent that the exposition will run on indefinitely, and a number of people are planning to make the winter trip next month, counting on seeing the exposition.

President Moore is anxious that the closing date, December 4, be widely advertised, and in consequence is

NOTES FROM FILMLAND

A SENSATIONAL HIT.
 "Under Southern Skies," in which Grace George made such a sensational hit a dozen years or so ago, makes its bow in photoplay form at the Bismarck theater tomorrow, under the auspices of the Universal Film Mfg. Co. Mary Fuller plays the role of Lella Crofton and is ably supported by Paul Panzer, Charles Ogle and an all-star cast. "Under Southern Skies" was adapted from Lottie Blair Parker's famous novel of the same title, by William Addison Lathrop, and was produced under the direction of Laci Henderson. Many of the scenes of the southern classic drama were filmed in the Bonaventure cemetery, at Christ Church, and on the Slatton estate, in Savannah, Ga.

Miss Fuller, who is one of the most famous and highest salaried stars in the photoplay world, left New York with a company of 50 players, early in June, on board the S. S. "City of St. Louis." In order to make the play a banner production, Julius Stern, manager of the Universal's Eastern Coast studios, decided that the big company would have to go south, despite the torrid weather. It was 98 in the shade when the Universal star and players reached the foot of Canal street pier in Savannah.
 After registering his company at their hotels, Mr. Henderson, the director, inserted an "ad" in a Savannah paper for "extras." Three hundred were engaged and soon after Savannah gauds and old trunks were ransacked for costumes of the war period. Many of these were worn by the granddaughters of the original owners, while other costumes, moth-eaten and yellow with age, were duplicated by Savannah dressmakers. Savannah was intensely interested in the filming of the play and the local newspapers ran stories daily regarding the progress of the picture and the roles enacted by native sons and daughters.

THE SOVEREIGN OF SCREEN STARS.
 Francis X. Bushman, loved and adored by thousands of patrons of the movies, will make his next appearance on the screen in "The Second in Command," with Marguerite Snow, another popular movie star, appearing in the role opposite to him. "The Second in Command" is full of action, the kind that every movie fan adores, with a quota of love interest to impel close attention to the events that are to come on the battlefield, where the denouement is reached. The Quality Pictures Corporation is one of Metro's important allies and this is the first of its releases on the Metro programme. Being Quality's initial Metro production, every effort has been made by the producers, and quite naturally so, to make it an event in picturedom that will go down in the annals as a feature never to be forgotten. "The Second in Command" already has reached prominence on the dramatic stage and will be remembered by most theatergoers through Charles Frohman making it the vehicle for his favorite star, John Drew. "The Second in Command" will be seen first in this city at the Orpheum Theater Monday, tomorrow, only, matinee and evening.

sending telegrams to all parts of the country.
 Friday was "Zone of Plenty" Day at the Exposition, in honor of the states of the great Northwest. The day was a great success. Over 5,000 people visited the North Dakota building, and all received a Larimore potato as a souvenir.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If Your Back is Aching or Bladder Bothers, Drink Lots of Water and Eat Less Meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to cleanse and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Adv.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY MEETING

Many Whiskey Cases for Consideration at the Present Session

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 5.—The federal grand jury, which was summoned some time ago, began its work in the grand jury room in the federal building here yesterday. The choosing of a jury was completed about 11 o'clock and work was at once started on a large number of cases in which information has been filed. The preponderance of these cases consists of over forty cases where it is alleged that intoxicating liquors have been introduced into Indian reservations or where it is charged intoxicants have been sold to Indians.

There will be no petit jury term in this city this fall, a term having been called for Minot for November 16, and one for Devils Lake on November 22. It is probable that a petit jury term will also be called for Grand Forks, but this has not been fully decided nor has the date for the session been set at this time. The jury list for the Minot term is now being gotten out and service on the jurors will be started at once by the U. S. marshal's office.

- The grand jury that is now in session here is made up of the following citizens of the state: Foreman, John O. Fadden, Arville, foreman, Chas. A. Heinemann, Stanton, J. H. Dyse, Forman, Geo. Freeman, Upham, A. J. N. C. Krejsbach, Kintyre, Jens. Jensen, Abercrombie, C. H. Porter, LaMoure, N. O. Hagen, Pekin, C. E. Davidson, Portal, Thomas, Wardrop, Leeds, John Wild, Milton, T. J. Harris, Lisbon, Chas. E. Whitterson, Bottineau, Geo. M. Robinson, Coal Harbor, C. A. Stenehjem, Alexander, Martin Apland, Bergen, W. E. Dietz, Grand Forks, James Hamilton, Rugby, Arnold M. Bender, Mandan, J. A. Walter, Columbus.

There are a large number of people in town from all parts of the state. As there are a large number of Indian "whiskey" cases to be brought to the attention of the grand jury there are a number of Indian witnesses in the city. There are also some prominent men in the government service present for the session, including Supt. C. M. Ziebach of the Ft. Totten reservation, Supt. R. C. Craig of the Turtle Mountain reservation, Special Agent N. A. Way of the Indian service and Postoffice Inspectors Roy LeForge of Aberdeen, C. D. Hill of Bismarck and R. C. Griggs of Grand Forks.

The indications are that the jury

MOTHER! DON'T TAKE CHANGES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.
 Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.
 Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

CURLING IRON BURNS A GIRL

Deering, N. D., Nov. 5.—Nettie Harmon met with a painful and what came near being a serious accident. She was curling her hair with a curling iron and in some manner dropped the iron and burned a blister right across the ball of her eye. She was entirely blind in that eye for several days, but her sight seems to be coming back and the doctor thinks she will fully recover her sight.

DUMP WHEAT ON GROUND; NO STORAGE ROOM

Grano, Nov. 6.—Grain is being dumped on the ground, along side the railroad tracks at Grano, N. D., because the elevators there are filled to capacity.

This story is brought to Grand Forks by L. M. Rockne, county superintendent of schools of Renville county, who passed through Grano enroute to this city.

When Mr. Rockne was in Grano, several carloads of grain were lying in the open. It was the intention of the shippers to shovel it into cars just as soon as they were available.

Langdon also reports a shortage of cars, and the heavy marketing operations are beginning to have their effect upon shipping facilities, with evidence accumulating that President Louis Hill's estimate that there will be a car shortage, is almost certain of fulfillment in the very immediate future.

Should weather conditions make fall plowing impossible, there would be a tremendous impounding of grain that would flood the elevator and transportation facilities.

WONDERFUL REMEDY IN TIME TO SAVE WOMAN

Mrs. Williams Gets on Way to Health After First Dose of Treatment.

Mrs. Peter Williams of 2749 Eighth St., S. Minneapolis, was desperately ill with stomach trouble. She faced the probability of an operation. After taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, discovered for her by a kind friend, she found herself on the way back to health. Mrs. Williams wrote: "I have taken Mayr's Wonderful Remedy for the fourth time and I am feeling like a new woman. I am entirely out of pain. I had been sick for eighteen months and four of our best doctors could do nothing for me. They all agreed that an operation was the only thing. One day a man told my husband of your remedy and that night he brought it home to me." Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee. If not satisfactory money will be returned.—Adv.
