ABOUT DEFICITS.

In 1910 the Democratic party secured control of the state government of

New Jersey, with Woodrow Wilson in the governor's chair. The Republicans turned the offices over to the Democrats, with a surplus of $2,000, 000 in the treasury. In 1915, when the Democrats yielded control of the legislature back to the Republicans there was a deficit of about $1,000,000.

Woodrow Wilson gave up his office in 1913 to become head of a national administration which took control at a time when there was a balance in the treasury amounting to over $157, 000,000. That balance diminished so rapidly that the treasury department twice made changes in the method of computing balances, so that large increases were made in the apparent balance and comparisons were rendered practically impossible. If the facts could be ascertained, the books would undoubtedly show that the Wilson administration changed a credit balance into a deficiency. The Democratic record in New Jersey has its counterpart in national administration.

If Col. W. J. Bryan is sincere, he will renounce his military title.

ECONOMIC PREPAREDNESS.

While discussion is general relative to military preparedness, the necessity for economic preparedness is as essential. No man knows to a certainty what the commercial reaction will be when this war is over. That there will be adjustments and gradual shifting of trade to old channels is probable. New York, now the trade ance. It is purely a commercial struggle to dominate the important trade arteries of the world.

To many this was apparent from the first, however clouded the issues were when hostilities first broke out. Germany suggested the object of the war when it was announced that The Faterland was fighting for a place in the sun.

"Doubtless the Dardanelles campaign was launched to keep the Turks engaged and prevent an attack upon

Egypt.

The British are inclined to dismiss as chimerical Germany's designs upon the Suez canal, but the war has been one of surprises and English security in this respect may be due to another shock.

Kitchener's military and civil experience in Egypt probably fits him as the best qualified to cope with the (Near Eastern question. That the war secretary is going in person to direct the defense of England's commercial interests in Egypt and India, merely emphasizes the significance of the Teutonic drive through the Balkans and its main objective, a path to Asia and the Suez.

The cost of defense seems trifling when the expense of war is considered.

Bryan has been differing with people so long that the condition is chronic.

John Bull has just survived another war sacrifice. The menu at the lord mayor's banquet was curtailed.

The pressing issue now is not whether the frost is on the pumpkin, but whether the coal is in the cellar?

England doubtless wants us to recognize her "paper" blockade on the ground that treaties after all are merely scraps of paper.

Judging from the recent elections, the Democrats will not be successful in their attempt to magnify diplomatic issues into political ones.

AMERICANS PERISH UPON

AN ITALIAN SHIP

is and 59 at Malta. The number of passengers of the Ancona is placed at 482 and the crew has been estimated variously from 60 to 160.

The Ancona was torpedoed Tuesday morning and a Tunis dispatch to Gio-riaie gives a dramatic though brief account of the attack.

"A submarine approached the Ancona toward noon," says this account.

"and as soon as the steamer saw it an attempt was made to escape a full speed. The Ancona was overtaken and stopped. Then the submarine fired on the Ancona.

"The life boats were next attacked, the submarine likewise firing on them.

A woman and a man and two children were killed. Their bodies are at Bizerta.

GREAT PSYCHIC ACT

PLAYING AT ORPHEUM

The psychic wonders are known as the great Zartoons, Dr. Zartoon and his wife, whose performance is so far above the average mind-reading and clairvoyant act that a comparison is truly odious. They correctly answer questions that you have previously written on your own paper at your own home and which you are not even asked to remove from your pocket or purse. They recover lost or stolen property, jewelry, livestock and the like. The act was so well received in Miles City that Manager Fred Ober-of the Miles Theatre was compelled to extend their engagement over a period of six consecutive days and even then hundreds were turned away.

The Zartoons work right from the aisles and positively do not use wires, signals or decoys of any kind. They use mental telepathy, thought trans-ference, psychology, psychometry, phenology and other scientific means to achieve their startling results.

The San Francisco Tribune says:

"Dr. Zartoon, despite his protestations must possess some supernatural power or else how could such wonderful mind reading be possible?" "He's a positive sensation," says the Denver Press. "At the ladies' matinee at the Orpheum theater yesterday he almost caused a riot by his startling and straight from the shoulder remarks."

If you wish to see an attraction that is different from anything ever seen in Bismarck then do not fail to see the Great Zartoons. A special matinee will be given for ladies only on tomorrow afternoon, at 3:30. No men will be allowed to attend this matinee.

CHINA POSTPONES THE

GOVERNMENTAL CHANGE

Washington, Nov. 10.—Confirmation of press dispatches from Peking, China, says that the Chinese government will not make a change in its form of government this year, ac-reached Washington. There has been no abandonment of the process of restoring the monarchy and the anouncement is in line with the original program laid down by Consul of state when it submitted to the Chinese people the proposed restoration of the monarchy.

FIRE GETS SOME

OF FARM STOCK.

Ashley, N. D., Nov. 10.—The barn of Christian Jimgling, living four miles south of Lehr, was destroyed by fire before it was discovered it had gained considerable headway. One horse, two cows, chickens, harnesses, farm tools, and some machinery were also destroyed. Mr. Jimgling had returned from Lehr shortly before and noticed nothing wrong when putting up his team. The origin of the fire is unknown.

TURN OVER TIME

When Nature Hints About the Food.

When there's no relish to food and all that one eats doesn't seem to do any good, then is the time to make a turnover in the diet, for that's Nature's way of dropping a hint that the food isn't the kind required.

"For a number of years I followed railroad work, much of it being office work of a trying nature. Meal times were our busiest, and eating too much and too quickly of food such as is commonly served in hotels and restaurants, together with the sedentary habits, were not long in giving me dyspepsia and stomach trouble, which reduced my weight from 205 to 160 pounds.

"There was little relish in any food and none of it seemed to do me any good. It seemed the more I ate the poorer I got and was always hungry before another meal, no matter how much I had eaten.

"Then I commenced a trial of Grape-Nuts food, and was surprised how a small saucer of it would carry me along, strong and with satisfied appetite until the next meal, with no sensations of hunger, weakness or distress as before.
