SOLD WATER TO THIRSTY

INDIAN; LANDS IN LOCKUP

Devils Lake, N. D., Feb. 10.—"It's a mighty funny thing if a man can't sell water in a prohibition state without being arrested and thrown in jail," declared John St. Claire of Havre, Mont., when grabbed by Chief Peter Timboe, charging with selling perfectly good water to an Indian.

It was Poor Lo, with heap appetite for an alcohol today, that raised the disturbance, for he paid St. Claire a dollar for a quart of what he supposed was alcohol. The Indian lodged the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses against the Havre man.

"Yes, they'd pinch me if I sold booze in North Dakota, and now they pinch me for not selling it," insists St. Claire. "I guess it's a case of damned if you do, and damned if you don't."

G. N. PUSHES WORK ON MONTANA LINES

Construction of Track Connecting Watford, Fairview and Lewistown Is Under Way.

Watford City, N. D., Feb. 10.—The transfer of construction equipment from points along the Watford-Fairview, Mont. line of the Great Northern to points between Watford and the Missouri river to the east of here, indicates the decision of the Great Northern to resume active construction work on the New Rockford to Lewistown line immediately.

The construction company also is arranging for the shipment of its equipment now located at the Little Missouri river, to Lambert, Mont., from which point it will be sent along the route to be taken by the Great Northern in reaching Lewistown, Mont.

With these activities definitely commenced, there is a general sentiment that the formal connecting of the line between New Rockford and Lewistown, to be followed by the construction of another line from New Rockford to Larimore, a matter of months only. The section from New Rockford to the Missouri river; from the Missouri river to Watford, and from Lambert, Mont., to Lewistown, await construction, a big portion of the work being already completed in McKenzie county, N. D., and in Sheridan county, Mont.
