Entertains at Shower for Bride-Elect of Next Fall

Mrs. H. J. Woodmansee was hostess yesterday afternoon at her home in Fifth street, at a handsomely appointed party given in honor of Miss Alice Smith, director of music in the capital city public schools, whose marriage to A. G. Jacobson, of this place, will be an event of early fall. The affair was in the form of a parcel shower and the guests included the wives of the high school instructors and the teachers of the various schools. A color scheme of red and white was used in the appointments. The guests contributed tested recipes for the bride-elect and the afternoon was spent in hemming towels for her. She was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

The guests included Mrs. C. C. Root, Mrs. Allen Hahn, Mrs. W. J. Cross, Mrs. C. F. Boll, Mrs. W. C. Casselman, Miss Boysen, Miss Johnson, Miss Marks, Miss Ruthruff, Miss Clemens, Miss Andrew, Miss McFarland, Miss Stonehouse, Miss Hazen, Miss McLeod, Miss Spillane, Miss Hamel, Miss Lamb, Miss Mellem, Miss Towel, Miss Irvine, Miss Kaurer, Miss Peterson, Miss Mallory, Miss Dickey, Miss Boyle, Miss Anderson, Miss Martin, Miss Rudd, Miss Larson, Miss Wikfors, Miss Johnson, Miss Kohler, Miss Steele, Mrs. T. G. Woodmansee, mother-in-law of the hostess. Mrs. Woodmansee was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. A. B. Christiansen and Miss Luella Dahl.

Miss Smith has made many friends since coming to the capital city and her work in the public schools has been marked with great success. Mr. Jacobson is state printer and is very well known here.

THOUGHTS OF MOTHER.
 Of all the pictures I can find
 Of mother, hanging in my mind,
 I like a few the very best,
 They show her face the tenderest
 And most content they show the hours
 That she has spent among the flowers
 I see her there and understand
 Her best, there with its loving hand
 Has nature painted her and caught
 The sweetest aspect of her thought.

In the summertime she goes
 So softly down her garden rows,
 Bright faces greet her all around
 Where once her fingers laid the ground.

With seeds in careful rows and plots;
 Nesturiums and forget-me-nots,
 Love-in-the-mists and four o'clocks
 Petunias, snap-dragons, phlox,
 Foxgloves and spicy mignonette,
 I never, never shall forget,
 How lovingly my mother bends
 Above her little garden friends.

I think some day that she will be An angel of the rain. Then she Will send the dew and summer
 showers,
 To gladden all the thirsty flowers.
 —Richard Hunt.

FARGO SOCIETY.
 The Model school children of the Moohad Normal school will attend the final dress rehearsal of "The Merchant of Venice" tonight at the school. The play is to be presented tomorrow evening by a cast of the Normal students under the direction of Miss Hayes.

It has been found necessary to postpone the students' recital that was to have been given this evening by the Dakota Conservatory of Music at the civic center. It will probably take place some time next week.

INTEREST IN WOMEN'S CLUB BIENNIAL GROWS

As the time draws nearer for the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in New York City from May 23, to June 3, greater interest is shown by the club women throughout the state. Saturday, May 27th, will be Conservation Day, and several addresses will be given by speakers, who have expert knowledge of their subjects. This department will have one hour of the general program at the Seventh Regiment Armory in the forenoon, followed by a luncheon and conference at Hotel Astor. The following are the subjects of the addresses for the day:

Our Country's Natural Wealth.—This will touch upon the vital questions of the development of water power and waterways, in addition to other phases of the general question.

Rural Planning.—City Planning is engaging wide attention; the planning of rural communities is possibly even more important.

Preparedness and Reclamation.—This address will set forth a plan for creating a working army instead of a standing army—an army occupied with industrial work in time of peace and instantly available for defense in time of war.

Our Natural Parks.—Their high economic value and uplifting effect upon the people place them among the greatest of our natural resources. More is being done now for National park development than ever before, and henceforth national parks are to be treated by the federal government as important assets.

Other topics to be considered are: State parks and natural scenery. The use of the waters of Niagara Falls as a scenic spectacle rather than for power plant purposes.

The roadside planting of the Lincoln highway and a general plan to make the roadsides of all highways scenically attractive.

The value of bird life and the need of protection to birds and wild animal life and to wild flowers together with the need of education among children.

State and local forestry and shade tree plantings. A natural flower—"The Laurel."

The department of the interior will be represented on each occasion. Two hundred tickets will be issued for the luncheon; price $1.50.

Smaller conferences will be held on other days, these to be announced later. An exhibit of each of the eight divisions of the work of the Conservation department will be provided by federal government and by organizations of natural repute. These will be in charge of Miss Mira L. Dock, who is having difficulty in finding room for the great array of valuable and interesting material offered.

Conservation headquarters during the Biennial will be Room A, Seventh Regiment Armory. Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman is chairman of this department.

Returns From East.
 Mrs. T. H. Tharalson of Fifth street returned Saturday on No. 3 from Minneapolis, where she spent Easter with her husband.

Entertains at Dinner.
 Members of the Junior class of the domestic science department of the nurses' training school of the St. Alexis hospital entertained Saturday evening at a prettily appointed 6 o'clock dinner; the guests including the Sisters and members of the senior class, Miss McPeake, superintendent of the school, and Miss Helen Hoskins, the instructor of the class. Covers were laid for 24 and three courses were served. The place cards were ornamented in the class colors of purple and gold. This same color scheme was used in all the appointments.

Entertaining Guests.
 Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Shuman of Third street, are entertaining as their guests, the former's brother and wife, Capt. and Mrs. J. B. Shuman, of Fort George, Wash. Capt. and Mrs. Shuman are enroute to Washington, D. C. They will also visit at their home in La Crosse, Wis.

Noted Church Worker Here.
 Miss Sara E. Mason, well known missionary worker of the Methodist Episcopal church, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Hutchison, of Sixth street. Miss Mason, who is in her 80th year, has been identified with the educational and missionary work of that denomination for many years. For a number of years she was Latin instructor in the Red River Valley university. Later she was conference secretary of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the church and up until last year was in direct charge of the bureau of supplies in Minneapolis. Miss Mason is still connected with the bureau of supplies. She was recently honored by the General Woman's Foreign Missionary society by having one of the day schools in the foreign fields named for her.

Miss Mason attended the convention of the societies which was held in Mandan last week.

CHANDLER'S SIX
$1295

The Chandler Four-Passenger Roadster is by Long Odds the Hit of the Season

EVERYWHERE people are talking about it. They have been talking about it here for a month past. A great many have placed their orders. All agree that there is no other roadster model on the market to match it in comfort and grace and style of design.

A roadster of the ordinary type—the two-passenger kind—is not always satisfactory. And even a three-passenger roadster often would not meet your requirements. But this new Chandler roadster, seating four grown persons in comfort and with the top covering all, has struck the popular chord. It's just one more Chandler achievement.

And remember, all Chandler bodies are mounted on the famous Chandler chassis, featured by the exclusive Chandler motor, and free from any hint of experimentation or uncertain theory.
