Speed King of Cinder Path Lost to Pennsylvania by Graduation

Graduation has claimed Ted Meredith, the world's greatest running athlete and headliner of all time, flying the standard of the University of Pennsylvania. Imagine a singer who could hit high C like Caruso and who could also sing second base like Elnard de Rezke. That represents something like the range of ability shown by Meredith, in his specialty. Here are the vital statistics:

Table with 2 columns: MEREDITH'S MARKS and WORLD'S MARK. Lists various running distances and times.

Meredith proved what he could do in the short sprints at the dual meet with Dartmouth. He copped both events with ease, in time that would arouse envy in many sprinting specialists. Ted has made his longer distance records in private exhibitions.

BEST BALL PLAYER OF YEAR

George Sisler of St. Louis Browns Can Play Any Position on Diamond—Is Hard Hitter.

"How long do you think it will be before baseball produces another player like Ty Cobb?" someone asked of a crowd of old-timers in the press box during a recent fanning bee.

"Looks to me as if it had already produced one," remarked George Davis, scout and former manager of the Giants. He was looking at Sisler, the versatile young athlete of the Browns. "There's about the best ballplayer we've seen in years."

This brought on quite a discussion, and after going all the way down the line of new stars it was the unanimous verdict that Sisler is by far the greatest ballplayer discovered in recent years. And this is not due entirely to his versatility. Though he can play any position on the diamond except behind the bat he is a star in any place they put him. Sisler is a great pitcher, a dandy first baseman, a corking good outfield

HOW TO GET THE ELKS ASLEEP

Leaders Urge Convention Delegation to Go to Bed Early Thursday, But— Uniforms have arrived for the Elk contingent to the annual state convention at Dickinson, June 16-17, and while William O'Hara, Elk head, has them under lock and key and isn't saying anything of a specific nature, he admits that they have last year's gold medal winners pushed off the boards. The Bismarck delegation came back last year with the three leading prizes, bagged those for most unique appearance, best appearance and for delegation honored by having the smallest man.

Indications now point to more in the party than the heretofore expected number, 100. Probably 125 will be nearer like it. Special cars will be switched on the siding here early Thursday night with berths ready. The great question perplexing the leaders just at present is how they are going to get the bunch to sleep early so that they will arrive at Dickinson refreshed by a full night's prolonged repose.

DEVILS LAKE IS CROWDED

Great Gathering of the Sunday School Workers in North Dakota City. Devils Lake, N. D., June 14.—Sunday school workers in carriages, workers on automobiles, workers afoot, and workers on horseback, close to 2,000, took part in the great Sunday school parade here this afternoon, passing before a reviewing stand occupied by state association officers and local municipal and Commercial club heads. The throng, several miles long, also passed in front of a moving picture machine, which made a permanent record of the feature day of the twenty-sixth annual convention of the North Dakota association.

Devils Lake is today taxed to its very capacity, even with the preachers in the empty jail, which has been turned over to them. A thousand people were taken into private homes and every hotel in the city, as well as the summer hotel at the lake shore, is jammed full. Festivities at the social hygiene conference yesterday afternoon and this morning were: Prof. T. W. Shannon of Delaware, O., and Walter Clarke of Hull House, Chicago. Pans Metropolitan Press. Gross ignorance of the metropolitan newspaper men, editors and reporters, coupled with their morbid desire to present the sensational, is proving a stumbling block, according to Clarke, who insists that he has fought shy of educating the people through the press, unless he carefully prepared his manuscript. Outside of this, Mr. Clarke had no fault to find with the daily press. John L. Alexander, the teen age expert from Chicago, makes his first appearance before the convention this evening, delivering an address on "The Trained Teacher" before the assemblage, and standing room is already at a premium for this occasion. United States flags and Sunday school flags decorate the city. Nelson county is hot after the record with
