

To insure Victor quality, always look for the famous trademark, "His Master's Voice." It is on every Victrola and every Victor Record. It is the only way to identify genuine Victrolas and Victor Records.

Every kind of music for everybody

Your kind of music for you! The kind of music you like best!

Do you prefer to hear magnificent operatic arias, portrayed by Caruso or Farrar or Melba? Or are your favorites the charming old songs of yesteryear—the ballads so sweetly sung by Gluck and McCormack?

Or it may be that your tastes run to instrumental solos—the exquisite renditions of Elman or Kreisler or Paderewski. Then again, perhaps, you would rather hear Sousa's Band play some of his own stirring marches, or enjoy Harry Lauder's inimitable witticisms.

No matter—you can hear them all on the Victrola. It is the instrument for all kinds of music. It has not only gathered to itself the greatest artists in the world of song, but the most celebrated bands and orchestras, the famous instrumentalists, the leading comedians.

The Victrola is supreme in all fields of musical endeavor. It is the instrument for every home.

Hear your favorite music today at any Victor dealer's. He will gladly play any music you wish to hear, and demonstrate the various styles of the Victor and Victrola—$10 to $400.

HUGHES MAKES ATTACK UPON ADMINISTRATION

territory, but wished her to have peace, stability and prosperity.
Difficulties Created.
"The conduct of the administration has created difficulties we shall have to surmount," he said. "We demand from Mexico the protection of the lives and property of our citizens, and the security of our border from degradation."
Safeguarding American rights abroad has not been accomplished, Mr. Hughes said, by the administration. There had been "grave words in a series of notes," but "what does it avail to use some of the strongest words known to diplomacy if ambassadors can receive the impression that the words are not to be taken seriously?"
The Lusitania Disaster.
The nominee reiterated his declaration that had this government left no doubt that it meant to hold Germany to "strict accountability" there would have been no loss of life on the Lusitania.
Dismissing preparations. Mr. Hughes said it was apparent that the United States was "shockingly unprepared."
"The Administration has failed to discharge its responsibilities," Mr. Hughes continued. "Apparently it is now seeking to meet political exigencies by its naval program. But it has imposed upon the country an incompetent naval administration.

Demand Adequate Protection.
"We demand adequate protection on both our western and eastern coasts. We demand thoroughness and efficiency in both arms of the service. It seems to be plain that our regular army is too small. We are too great a country to require of our citizens who are engaged in peaceful vocations the sort of military service to which they are now called."
Of the present prosperity, Mr. Hughes said, "We are living in a fool's paradise." It is, he said, a prosperity brought about by the abnormal conditions of war. For the protection of the industries and workmen of the United States against the competition of "an energized Europe," Mr. Hughes said it was plain we must have protective upbuilding policies. Other measures, too, should be applied, notably, the upbuilding of a merchant marine.
"To make peace lasting and effective when the present war shall end," Mr. Hughes advocated the formation of an international tribunal to dispose of controversies of a justifiable sort, backed by the co-operation of the nations to prevent war before peaceful methods of adjustment end.
Mr. Hughes also declared "for the conservation of the just interests of labor, for conservation of national resources, and for a budget."

BIDS FOR BUILDING SCHOOL HOUSES.

Sealed proposals for the erection of two school buildings will be received at the office of the district clerk of Ballville School District No. 35, at Sterling, North Dakota, up to Two o'clock p. m., Saturday, August 12th, 1916, in strict accordance with plans furnished by the architects.
One proposal should be for the erection of a one-story, two-room building with full basement, in the Village of Sterling, N. D., in accordance with the plans of A. H. Foss, Architect, Elbow Lake, Minnesota, and must be accompanied by a certified check for $200 as a guarantee of good faith, same to be returned to the unsuccessful bidders immediately after letting the contract. This proposal should give separate bids for basement finished and unfinished, and with and without heating plant.
The other proposal is for a one-room school house to be built about three miles north of Sterling, in accordance with plans and specifications prepared by A. Van Horn, Architect, Bismarck, N. D., and must be accompanied by a certified check for $25 as a guarantee of good faith, same to be returned to the unsuccessful bidders immediately after letting the contract.
Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the district clerk in Sterling, or at the office of the County Superintendent of Schools, Bismarck, or upon application to the respective architects or the exchanges at Fargo and Minneapolis.
The successful bidder or bidders must furnish contractors' bonds as required by North Dakota laws. By order of the District School Board.

H. E. WILDFANG,
District Clerk.

HOTTEST DAY FOR THE YEAR IN NEW YORK

New York, July 31.—This was the hottest day of the year in New York. The mercury reached 92 at 5:30 p. m. More than a score of persons were prostrated. Excessive humidity, which reached 89, added to the suffering throughout the city. The weather forecaster declared that relief is expected from thunder showers tonight.

WIND WRECK SCHOOL; 11 CHILDREN INJURED.

Davidson, Sask., July 31.—During a violent windstorm here late Friday a schoolhouse with 11 children inside was blown from its foundation and the building demolished. All the children were injured, but no one was killed. Many barns and houses were blown to pieces and considerable livestock was killed.

A car owned by William Dohn turned turtle near the penitentiary Saturday night. No one was hurt, but the car is practically a total wreck.

MANY HARVEST HANDS HERE

Police Receive Reports of Invasion, But Find That It Is Peaceful One.

MEN RELEASED FROM CUSTODY

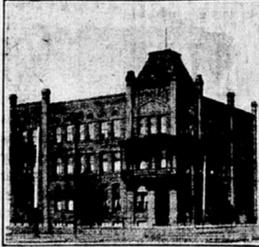

Bismarck's police received word from other towns that a large army of dangerous characters was en route to the Capital City.
They met them at the eastern gateway and took some of them up to police headquarters. Here Judge Dolan and police officials found that the reports were exaggerated: that most of the men had plenty of money, had restaurant tickets and were seeking work. The judge released them all.
Breakfast.
Headquarters established at the stockyards. Here some 150 of them yesterday morning had breakfast of beef steak, new potatoes and coffee, cooked camp style over an improvised brick stove. An old iron kettle was used to heat the water to wash in.
Many of them were planning on sleeping outside last night but the mosquitos were too numerous. The police helped them find rooming places. Some of the men will work in Bismarck until they find openings in the harvest fields.
Praise Bismarck Police.
Last night the men had nothing but praise for the way that Bismarck's police treated them. "That big guy," said one of them, referring to Chris Martinson, "is right with us."
Sheriff McDonald of Morton county denied last night reports of trouble at Mandan. He said that there was no truth in the report that there was near-battle there Sunday between the so-called I. W. W.'s and the authorities.
The men last night were frank in admitting that they intended to insist on wages of from $3 to $4 a day in the harvest fields and while threshing, but they put greater stress upon the fact that they wanted to shorten the labor to ten hours a day.
As one said, "When six o'clock comes I am going to pull out my fingers, tell them what Robbie says and quit work."
Another man told how he was with a threshing crew last fall when the men demanded a ten-hour day and got it. The manager told them a week later, he said, that they were running through more grain a day with the ten-hour rule in force than they were when they were working 12 to 16 hours.

"Hell in Texas Camp," Poem at Mercedes, Texas

By a Staff Correspondent
Llano Grande, Tex., July 31.—Profanity is somewhat more common in the army than in civil life, for some unexplained reason, and that may be an excuse for the following poem, vouched for by officers of Camp Llano Grande, where the First North Dakota regiment is situated, as a true picture and even approved by the various chaplains.
"Hell in Texas."
The devil, we're told, in hell was chained,
And a thousand years he there remained;
He never complained, nor did he groan
But determined to start a hell of his own
Where he could torment the souls of men
Without being chained in a prison pen.
So he asked the Lord if he had on hand
Anything left when he made the land.
The Lord said, Yes, I had plenty on hand,
But I left it down on the Rio Grande;
The fact is, old boy, the stuff is so poor
I don't think you could use it in hell any more."
But the devil went down to look at the truck,
And said if it came as a gift he was stuck;
For after examining it carefully and well
He concluded the place was too dry for hell.
So in order to get it off his hands,
The Lord promised the devil to water the lands;
For he had some water, or rather some dregs,
A regular cathartic that smelled like bad eggs.
Hence the deal was closed, and the deed was given,
And the Lord went back to his home in Heaven.
And the devil then said, "I have all that is needed
To make a good hell," and hence he succeeded.
He began to put thorns in all of the trees,
And mixed up the sand with millions of flees;
And scattered tarantulas along all the roads;
Put thorns on the cactus and horns on the toads;
He lengthened the horns of the Texas steers,
And put an addition on the rabbit's ears;
He put a little devil in the broncho steed,
And poisoned the feet of the centipede.
The rattlesnake bites you, the scorpion stings,
The mosquito delights you with bur-

zing wings;
The sand-burrs prevail and so do the ants,
And those who sit down need half soles on their pants.
The devil then said that throughout the land,
He'd manage to keep up the devil's own brand,
And all would be mavericks unless they bore
The marks of scratches and bites and thorns by the score.
The heat in the summer is a hundred and ten,
Too hot for the devil and too hot for men.
The wild bear roams through the black chapparal—
It's a hell of a place he has for a hell.
The red pepper grows on the banks of the brook;
The Mexicans use it in all that they cook,
Just line with a Greaser and then he'll shout,
"I've hell on the inside as well as the out."

DEVILS LAKE GETS GOOD SEED CONTEST

Devils Lake, July 31.—The annual seed contest and meeting of the North Dakota Improved Seed Growers' association will be held at Devils Lake in connection with the Lake Region Seed Growers' Association's fair and institute. On invitation of the Lake Region Branch association, the vote of the State Association council placed the meeting at Devils Lake and fixed the contest to conform with the Lake Region contest in November. The contests have previously been held in Fargo.
The North Dakota Improved Seed Growers' contest is open to all citizens of North Dakota, provided they conform to the rule to show the exact quality of seed which they are holding for sale as seed.
The seeds exhibited in the contests are not to be better or worse than that which is to be put on the market as seed for sowing. All who compete in this contest should prepare by pulling from the seed fields other kinds and varieties of grain and those weeds whose seeds are difficult to remove by cleaning machinery. Hand picking of seed is barred.
Get ready for the big contest. The rules and shipping directions will be put forth in the annual premium list, Send in your annual membership

TAKES DARE; KILLED BY PONY.

Hazelton, N. D., July 31.—George H. Hawalleck, 18 years old, was dared to ride a dangerous pony, consented, and was thrown and killed. His body was sent to Kilbourne, Wis., the home of his parents.

Something New Every Day
This is an age of many New Remedies for a multitude of ills. But the faith of thousands of sufferers from blood impurities, remains with the old reliable S. S. S. Its reputation was won by merit alone, and is retained by the same continuous service to humanity.
The vegetable purity and superiority of S. S. S. is recognized by all who have taken it and received its benefits and recommended by them to all sufferers from blood diseases. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Malaria, and many forms of Skin Disease, are some of the blood's worst enemies—but will surely give way to the influence of S. S. S.
