Engagement Announced at Luncheon Given Tuesday

One of the most interesting society events of Tuesday was the handsomely appointed luncheon bridge, given by Mrs. George Will at her home in Third and Rosser streets, to announce the engagement of her sister-in-law, Miss Mabel Margaret Will, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Will of Fourth street, to Rufus Worth Lumry of Garrison. A color scheme of pink and white was effectively used in the appointments. Clusters of pink and white gladiolus were used in the reception hall, living room and dining room. The table decorations were also in pink and white sweet peas being used to center the table. Cards on which were written the names of Miss Will and her fiance were used to convey the interesting news and had painted place cards ornamented with a bride featured. Corsage bouquets of sweet-peas were presented the guests. The engagement will terminate in a wedding Wednesday September 20, and will be solemnized in the home of the bride's parents. Covers were laid for Mrs. O. H. Will, mother of the bride-elect, the honor guest, Mrs. Theodore Koffler, Mrs. Burlington Ward, Mrs. Phil Myers, Mrs. R. S. Towne, Mrs. J. W. Ellis, Mrs. Cecil Burton, Mrs. Sherman Hill, Mrs. H. C. Bradley, Mrs. Ernest Wright, the Misses Mary and Clara Stevens, Agnes Boyle, Helen Hoskins, Clara Tatley and Hortense Moore. Following the luncheon, bridge was enjoyed. Mrs. Will was assisted in entertaining by her sisters, Mrs. E. J. Taylor of the city and Mrs. N. W. Kelley of Lakota.

BABY BORN IN HEARSE IS HEALTHY AND HAPPY; MOTHER REFUSES TO WORRY

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 29.—Mrs. Joseph Wollinsky says she does not believe in signs so she and her new son will never worry because he was born in a hearse. Baby Wollinsky never meant to have a hearse for a cradle—but accidents will happen. His mother, Mr. Joseph Wollinsky started for Michael Reese hospital when she knew a great event was to happen. The ride on the street car was long—too long. One on Western-av the conductor stopped the car and hailed the first vehicle in sight. It was a hearse. The mother was lifted from the car onto the death chariot and a race with life began. The chauffeur lost. When he reached the hospital a baby that had a grim death as its godfather was handed to the nurse. Though he was born behind the curtains of a hearse, and came into the world to the hum of a speeding motor car, Baby Wollinsky is just as happy as a baby can be. Perfectly healthy, too.

ris of Grant Pass, Ore., who has been the guest of Mrs. Harris, will leave for his home tomorrow.

Sunday School Picnic. The annual Sunday school picnic of the Swedish Lutheran church has been announced for Monday next, at Fort Lincoln. A splendid program of amusements has been planned and it is expected that a large representation of the school and congregation will attend. Those wishing to attend are asked to meet at the church at 1 o'clock to convey the guests to the o'clock. Automobiles will be furnished.

Church Society Auction. The Ladies' Aid society of the Wilton Swedish Lutheran church will hold an auction at the home of Erick Backman, four and one-half miles east of that place Saturday. An interesting program will be presented at 11 o'clock and will be followed by luncheon. During the afternoon the women will offer for sale many beautiful and useful articles, among which are many pieces of fine hand-work. A cordial invitation is extended to anyone desiring to attend.

Luncheon For Visiting Guests. Mrs. John L. Willson entertained at a prettily appointed luncheon of eight covers at her home in Mandan avenue yesterday afternoon. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. F. A. Cousins and her daughter, Miss Winifred Cousins, of Minneapolis, who are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Youngman of Rosser street. Pink and white formed the color scheme and the centerpiece was of sweet peas. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Miss Anna Eliza Willson.

Entertains For Guest. Mrs. J. P. Dunn was hostess yesterday afternoon at a prettily appointed party, the guests asked to meet Mrs. Luella Varner of Minneapolis, who is the house guest of Mrs. Dunn. The guests included members of the Birthday club and other friends of to return from trip. County Auditor and Mrs. T. E. Flaherty and son, Francis, of Second street, who have been making a motor tour of Iowa, Minnesota and North Dakota, are expected to return the last of the week. THEY'RE READY FOR SCHOOL

By Betty Brown Play days are almost over, and mother's chief concern now is a school wardrobe for little daughter. To help her decide on hats, frocks and coats, I made this sketch of a smart little school girl outfit designed by Mme. Becker of the Fashion Art League of America. The coat is baby lamb cloth made with triple cape, flaring skirt and a snug collar of black velvet. A round sailor is black velvet, bound around the brim with scarlet. The topknot of ribbon is the color of a scarlet poppy. Blue and white silk is used to make the frock but plaid serge or shepherd plaid suiting would be quite as effective. The prim little waist is strapped with green leather and trimmed with brass buttons. Four flounces is all there is to the skirt. The hat is white crash with green and white crash ribbon and a green quill. A stunning little frock for the school girl of 12 or thereabouts.

Eyestrain

Fear "Window Envelopes" Hit Mail Carriers.

You have probably seen the so-called "window envelopes" which are now widely used by business firms. They have a wide slit covered with a transparent glazed paper through which the name and address on the letter folded inside may be seen. His use saves the time and expense formerly necessary in addressing an envelope.

Now the question has been raised as to whether those "window envelopes" cause eye strain among those who must read and deliver thousands of them.

An appeal recently was made by the New York Letter Carriers' association to the New York Committee for the Prevention of Blindness for an opinion concerning the possible harmful effects upon the eyes of letter carriers of this class of mail matter.

The letter carriers complain that these envelopes induce eye strain partly because of the lack of pure transparency, and partly because of the glare reflected from the glossy surface of the material incorporated in the envelope through which the address must be read.

The contention of the letter carriers is that if this form of envelope is to be used by firms sending out large numbers of bills, circulars and other similar mail matter the cause of the eye strain might be removed if the address on the contents of the envelope were exposed through an opening cut into this envelope, instead of through the highly glazed and partly opaque insert which is now used.

Unusual as this complaint is, it is of prime importance for it is estimated that there are about 300,000 blind people in the United States and that it costs about $15,000,000 a year to support them.

HEALTH QUESTION ANSWERED. J. H. P.—"How should I treat ingrowing toenails?"

First, wear proper shoes—broad at the toes, low-heeled, and long enough. If "pus" forms raise the nail's cut edge by placing a little absorbent cotton under it each morning. Soak the foot frequently and keep it clean. Hot fuxseed poultices will relieve special irritation. If the whole toe becomes inflamed, call your physician.

THE FOOD VALUE OF BEANS.

In time of food shortage, lentils, beans, peas and other legumes should be a part of cupboard preparedness. Though the amount of protein in bacons is large, they contain only a small amount of fat, and hence the addition of fat, either by salt pork or butter, in preparing for the table is reasonable, since in addition to improving the flavor, it makes a better-balanced article of diet.

When neither pork or butter is to be had, olive oil can be used. When properly combined with other foods, beans can not be considered indigestible, but when properly combined so that they form a portion of a ration, the work of digestion is more evenly distributed.

Uses of Beans While beans are a valuable food, there are certain limits beyond which they can not be used to advantage in the dietary.

Beans are suitable for persons engaged in active outdoor work. However, beans, when properly cooked, need not be excluded from the diet, any of those sedentary habits, though

PEACE DOLL CREATED BY WOMAN ARTIST

Paxie, doll of peace, has been created by Mrs. Edna F. Steffens, Cleveland artist, and will be made in Germany for sale in the United States. Mrs. Steffens used her son for a model. The name Paxie comes from the Latin word pax, meaning peace.

They should not form as large a part of the ration as in the case of active workmen.

In preparing beans for the table, soda is often employed to soften the skins so they can be readily removed.

USE CORN MEAL IF FLOUR IS SCARCE

Corn meal is cooked many ways, but most dishes fall under two general heads—bread prepared by baking, and porridge or puddings made by boiling.

For the most part corn breads are of the unleavened or flat bread type. They are usually baked in thin loaves or cakes. They do not keep as fresh as yeast-raised breads and should be eaten soon after baking.

The simplest kind of corn bread is that in which the meal is mixed with water or milk and baked.

Johnnycake and corn bread are usually made with part corn meal and part wheat flour and slightly raised by the addition of baking powder, eggs, etc.

Other corn breads and cakes are made by mixing eggs, sugar, sour milk and baking soda, butter, lard or other materials with the meal.

Sometimes white and sometimes yellow meal is used in these preparations.

"Hasty Pudding." "Hasty pudding," or corn meal mush may be made with either milk or water and quickly cooked, though long slow cooking is conceded to yield a better dish.

Good cooks insist the water must be vigorously boiling and the meal slowly stirred in, a little at a time, so the mush may be smooth and of the proper consistency.

Hominy and samp, much coarser than meal, require longer cooking, the very coarse hominy is not an economical dish where cooking is done on a gas stove and fire must be kept especially for it, but in households where the range is hot all day,

PAULA LETS HORACE CHAMBERS UNDERSTAND THAT SHE IS IN A CLASS APART FROM HIS

"That manager's reference to the well-known advertisement, Margie, made my flesh creep," continued Paula.

"My God! I thought, 'is it possible that when a young girl starts in to earn her living, human vultures sit about and whisper that awful sentence in her ears?'"

"Fortunately I looked up and caught the wholesome smile on Emma's face. Immediately I knew she too had walked in the Gethsemane where my soul was wandering tonight and that from it she had emerged self-reliant and strong. She knew herself and her world, and because of this knowledge she was big and broad in spite of her slang and her so-called vulgarities.

"That moment all self pity was shed from my brain, never to return.

"Paula Newton has had advantages that Emma never had," I said to myself. "Shall she be less of a woman than this girl who is so ready to help all struggling girls?"

"I must have smiled at my thoughts, for someone said to me, 'I am glad, at last, to see your smile. I thought your sad little mouth had forgotten the combination.'"

a dish of it in a double boiler at the back of the stove will almost cook itself. To be properly cooked each grain of hominy, though soft should retain its distinct form.

Boston Brown Bread Boston brown bread may be made with corn meal, rye, and whole wheat flour, and cooked by steam in small loaves in tightly covered tins. Combined with beans it has long been the orthodox Saturday night supper or Sunday breakfast in many parts of New England.

A sweet cake sometimes like gingerbread may be made by mixing molasses and spice into a Johnnycake batter, and is an old-fashioned favorite in many homes. Prnjaca is a Servian corn bread in which eggs and cheese are mixed with maize meal, the dough covered with leaves and baked either in pans or in the ashes.
