

ALL EFFORTS DIRECTED IN ATTEMPT TO HAVE STRIKE ORDER CANCELLED

Brotherhood Heads Pleased. All the railroad brotherhood heads were obviously pleased tonight after a careful study of the proposed bill to fix an eight-hour workday for trainmen in interstate commerce at present wages, and for an investigation of results by a commission.

W. C. Lee, head of the trainmen brotherhood, made the unequivocal statement that enactment of such a law by midnight Saturday would avert the strike. He said: "Enactment into law of the president's eight-hour day bill as now drawn, guaranteeing the present ten-hour day wage, will be regarded as a satisfactory settlement of our differences with the railroads and there will be no strike."

Issue Debated in Senate. Immediately after the tentative legislation had been made public, general debate was begun in the senate on the controversy, Senator Cummins opening the discussion. The Iowa senator asserted that compulsory arbitration was impracticable and unconstitutional, that any attempt to fix maximum wages by law, although within the power of congress, was due to failure, and to prevent strike by force of law would mean a practical prohibition of labor unions. He suggested that a modified or partial restriction of the right to strike in a combined way might make for industrial peace.

In the course of the debate, Senator Simmons brought the emergency legislation to the forefront in a speech urging immediate action to prohibit the strike pending an investigation of the differences. He asked Senator Hughes if such action would not forestall the strike.

Congress Has No Authority. "If you ask my opinion," said the senator, "I do not think congress has any authority to pass such a law; we might just as well pass a law to compel men to work. The senator is assuming a great deal if he thinks such a law will stop a strike."

STEELE RETURNS FROM FUNERAL OF H. E. PECK

H. H. Steele, member of the tax commission, returned yesterday from Minneapolis, where he attended Monday the funeral of Horace E. Peck, the Kenmare man who died suddenly while driving his machine. Interment was at Lakewood cemetery.

Many persons from North Dakota and from the east were present. Among them were: Sam Clark, C. H. Crockard, Clarence Parker, E. L. Roan, Ole Erickson and H. H. Steele. Mr. Peck was well known as a naturalist. His collection of water birds is considered one of the finest in the country. He was in great demand as a lecturer on bird life.

PTOMAIN POISONING AT LAKE GENEVA

Fifty girls at the Y. W. C. A. summer camp at Lake Geneva were stricken with ptomaine poisoning Saturday, according to word received in Bismarck yesterday. The attacks were due to salmon salad. Several of the girls were compelled to go home at once. Among the girls affected were four from Grand Forks and Miss Josie Larson of Bismarck.

northeast of Orsovo, to the Gyergo mountains, 80 miles north of Kronstadt.

On the Danube, from the Iron Ira to the Giurgevo, opposite Ruscuk, Bulgaria, there have been reciprocal bombardments at several points by Austro-Hungarian war craft and Rumanian shore batteries. A Zeppelin and a hostile aeroplane have dropped bombs on the Rumanian capital.

Goal is Kronstadt. Austria's acknowledgment of the retirement of her forces in the mountainous region to previously prepared positions in the rear has been followed by claims by Roumania that the troops of King Ferdinand have arrived at a point within three miles of Kronstadt, the chief commercial city of Transylvania. Vienna admits that the Rumanians are engaged with the Austro-Hungarians in the Giurgevo mountains, which shows that off the northwestern front of Roumania hostile forces have invaded Transylvania, some 25 miles. The Rumanians are also near Koedri-Vasarhely, about 40 miles northeast of Kronstadt.

Sends Ultimatum. While Bulgaria has not entered into hostilities against Roumania, a news agency dispatch says Roumania has decided to send an ultimatum to Bulgaria, demanding the evacuation of Serbia. A dispatch from Constantinople indicates that Turkey has declared war on Roumania.

In the Macedonia theatre violent fighting continues between the Entente Allies and the Austrians and Bulgarians. Paris claims that to the west of the Vardar river, the French have gained additional ground and that in the Lake Ostrovo region the Serbs have repulsed attacks by the Bulgarians. On the Struma front, near Lake Diran, batteries of the Entente powers have violently shelled Bulgarian positions.

Drama Seized. Drama, in northwest Greece, has been seized by the Bulgarians, after a fight with Greek troops, according to unofficial advices received in Paris. An Albanian detachment under Essad Pasha, once commander of the Turkish first army, has arrived at Saloniki to aid the Allies.

No official move has been made by Greece to meet the demand of that part of her population headed by former Premier Venizelos that Greece join the Entente Allies, but an un-

GET INSTANT ACTION Those who have used it in Bismarck are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buckhorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika. Because it acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, ONE SPOONFUL Adler-ika relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. It removes such surprising foul matter that a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. Jos. Breslow, Drugst.

"Whereas, it is the opinion of the Progressives of North Dakota that such principles are as important and necessary to the welfare of the nation today as ever; and

"Whereas, Charles Evan Hughes, the nominee of the Republican party, was nominated by the Progressive spirit of the people, and has adopted in the spirit and letter, the Progressive platform declaration of principles; and

"Whereas, we believe 'American efficiency' must necessarily mean the carrying into effect of the Progressive social justice program, and that the principles for which our party can best be promoted by the election of Hughes as president of the United States;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that we heartily endorse the action of the Progressive National committee in supporting Hughes for the president of the United States and recommend to the Progressive voters of North Dakota that they give him their most cordial support."

Dickinson, N. D., Aug. 30.—Mrs. Ludvig Krumenacker, residing in Hungary, receives $1,500 and maintenance for two years, as a result of the contest of the will by which her husband gave his estate to his second wife. MILLING WHEAT WILL BE SCARCE

Jamestown, Aug. 30.—With cutting of grain, except flax and corn practically finished, threshing is now on in full blast over the county, many running rigs are in sight as one drives around the farms. It is somewhat early to get reliable figures as to the yields of the different grains in the county, but from the yields of fields threshed within the last few days, the following estimates have been secured:

Wheat—Three to 13 bushels to the acre. Thirteen bushels is about the average for the past several years, but from all reports received such a yield is extremely rare this year.

Barley—Fifteen to 34 bushels. Average for a series of years about 25 bushels.

Oats—Eighteen to 44 bushels. Average in past about 20 bushels.

Rye—One crop is reported at 10 bushels.

Flax, according to one grower, may run 20 bushels to the acre on his own farm.

CITY SCHOOL NOTES

School begins September 4. Thirty-two teachers and three in supervision this year.

Grades four and six will be taught in the Business College building, the former by Miss Wetherill and the latter by Miss Rudd.

Two grades, five and six, this year will be taught in the high school building, as suitable rooms could not be secured down town. These will be taught by Misses Peterson and Larson.

The buildings have been thoroughly renovated and cleaned by the janitors and are now in excellent condition. The tops of the desks in the North Ward and the Will schools have been treated to a coat of varnish.

It has been suggested that those who expect to enter school and have not yet been vaccinated, should attend to the matter at once, so that time out of school may be saved later. This is important and should receive attention as soon as possible.

Principal Bolt of the high school has been busy the present week consulting students and making preparations for the opening of the high school work, Tuesday. High school enrollment takes place Monday morning, from 9:00 to 12:00.

Dean Taylor of Jamestown was a pleasant caller at the high school building Tuesday morning. He is doing field work for the college for a short time.

The kindergarten hours will be from 9:00 to 11:00, and from 1:30 to 3:30. The children will attend all day unless the enrollment is so large as to make it necessary to hold half-day sessions. Miss Matilda Williams will be in charge of the work.

Parents and others are cordially invited to visit the schools at any time. Visits are helpful both to parents and pupils. The schools are public schools and the public should feel free to visit the work at any time.

HAD MILLIONS; NOW OWNS ONLY $5, HE CLAIMS

Patrick Calhoun, former railway capitalist, once worth $14,000,000, is broke. He has fled a bankruptcy petition in New York, giving his assets at $5.

The San Francisco earthquake and fire of 1906 did it, he says.

Just before the earthquake, Calhoun, who is 60, broke the San Francisco street railway strike, and after that he was depended on by other railway magnates to help them in their difficulties.

He made his fortune first as counsel for important railroads, then as one of the biggest consolidators in the country.

Even his $500,000 life insurance has been defaulted through loans, he testifies.

"For the past two years," he says, "I have not been able to contribute one cent to the running expenses of my home. I have no bank accounts and no safe deposit vaults."
