CAPT. WELCH FAVORS MOTOR AMBULANCE

D. S. Friedmann, a company's clerk, has been taken to the base hospital at Llano Grande, having strained muscles in marching.

No Malaria in Camp.

There is no malaria at the North Dakota camp, in spite of the clouds of mosquitoes which settle down on the camp every night. The recent rains, followed by hot suns, have filled the lower Rio Grande valley with mosquitoes. In some of the nearby camps malaria has appeared. Orders to sleep under mosquito bars have been issued and quinine is liberally issued as a preventative.

Strict Discipline Advantageous.

Much good as the strict discipline is doing the North Dakota soldiers--and you ought to see their faces and feel their biceps--it isn't always received with gratitude. There are youths who lived easily and well at home and it does them good to lie under their mosquito bars at night and plan in detail what they will do when they go home. One of them last night unfolded a program designed to reward him for every objectionable thing he had to stand in Mercedes.

"I am going to hire a fellow to come to my room every morning and play the bugle," he said. "I won't pay any attention to him and he will yell like a top sergeant: 'Hey, what's the matter down in that tent? (Going to sleep all day? Then I will get up and pull on my shoes purely for the purpose of delivering a neat kick to the bugler. Then I shall go back to bed and sleep until 10 o'clock."

No Salute, But Slap.

"At 3 o'clock each afternoon I shall stand talking to friends in front of the capitol and this hired man will come along with the leather leggings and an officer's cord. Instead of saluting him I shall walk over and slap him on the back and ask him what he wants to drink."

"When I go home in the evening I shall not sit down to the table immediately. I'll get my mess kit and examine it critically, and if there is a speck of dust on it I shall raise Cain with the maid. Then I shall line up at the kitchen stove and have my mess kit filled. If the appearance of the food does not please me I shall throw it into the fire and demand what the cook meant by fixing things that didn't suit me. I wish we had a man cook at home. It seems a shame to frighten a girl. But I will have my dad pay her extra for the trouble I give her.

I Will Box His Ears.

"My hired man's third duty is to come down to a crowded corner at 9:30 o'clock each night and play the call to quarters. When he has finished it I shall walk over to him and box his ears and threaten to take his bugle away from him. "Great Scott! I wish I could get home and start on this."

FIFTY MEN DARE COST OF LIVING

Moorhead, Minn., Sept. 2.--Think the cost of living high?

Fifty men who obtained marriage licenses in this county during the past month are willing to chance it.

Clerk of Court McAubrey, the busiest marriage license clerk in this section of the state, pointing to an increase of 12 marriage permits in August this year, compared with the same month last year, insists crop prospects have no deterring effect in the marriage game.

THE BIGGEST FILM OF THE YEAR

The Selig ten-act production of the "Ne'er-Do-Well" is a thing as big and fine as Rex Beach's story, "The Spoilers."

The film production, actually improves the story. The exteriors came from Panama, whither the company resorted for a number of weeks. It is in ten reels, every foot of the ten reels is interesting, and in these days of much presentation and small satisfaction, anything that holds one past five reels must be great.

The film will be shown at the Auditorium tomorrow and Tuesday, September 4 and 5.

DEVOR JOINS STAFF OF OLDS MOTOR WORKS

The appointment of Don S. Devor is announced as production manager of the Olds Motor Works of Lansing, Mich., builders of the Oldsmobile. Devor was formerly assistant factory manager of the firm, having served in that capacity for a number of years. Before coming to the Olds, he was prominently identified with the Alis-Chalmers company of Milwaukee, in production work. John Scott, another Olds veteran, succeeds Devor in his duties at the factory, under the title of factory manager. He was formerly superintendent of final assembly.
