

ISSUES BOOKLET ON BOYS WORK

Phamphlet Tells of Club Activities of First Baptist Church

MAINTAINS FOUR LIVE ORGANIZATIONS

The First Baptist church, under the leadership of Rev. Bruce E. Jackson, pastor, has taken a progressive stand on organizations of young people. A booklet just issued tells what the institution is doing for boys and young men.

Four clubs, all affiliated with national bodies, have been organized. These are the Indian Tribe, Boy Scout Troop No. 1, Knights of King Arthur and the Baraca club.

The booklet follows in part:

Use Indian Stunts.

The Indian Tribe is intended to meet the needs of the boy from 8 to 11 years. If the recapitulation theory is correct as it seems to be, the boy of this age is passing through the savage period in the history of the race, and the things pertaining to the primitive life of the Indian interests him. Many valuable lessons are impressed upon his mind through the simple ritual and the different methods used in connection with the work and the play. Perhaps its chief merit can be said to be that the boys have something to do of vital interest to them, under competent leadership and wholesome surroundings. The principle activities will be: gymnastic drill and games, hikes, study of the best side of Indian life, and Bible study.

This organization is not an experiment but was worked out several years ago by Mr. Jackson when in the University of Chicago and since that time has been thoroughly tried out in many churches throughout Illinois and Wisconsin as well as in North Dakota.

A Boy Scout Troop.

The requirements for admission into this organization are that a boy shall be between the ages of 8 and 11 years inclusive and be a regular attendant at the Bible classes held every Sunday by the church. This organization will hold a weekly meeting every Friday afternoon at 4:15. Mr. Jackson will have personal supervision of the club.

Scout Troop No. 1 will meet the needs of the boy from 12 to 15 years of age, although boys more advanced in years may belong. The value of the Boy Scout movement is too well known to need explanation here. Every range of interest of the growing boy is touched here and outlet for the tremendous energy of this critical period is found. Outdoor life, gymnasium drill and games, wholesome social surroundings, and careful instruction along moral and religious lines make this such an organization that all boys should belong to it.

Use of Athletic Grounds.

Troop No. 1 has been organized for three years and has made a good record, summer camps, baseball, basketball, and tennis have provided profitable athletic interest. The club has the free use of the church athletic grounds and the basement parlor and gymnasium.

The requirements for admission into this organization are that a boy shall be at least 12 years of age and be a regular attendant at the Bible classes held every Sunday by the church. The troop will hold a weekly meeting every Friday afternoon at 4:15 and will have a monthly hike. Mr. Jackson will have personal supervision of the troop as Scoutmaster, being assisted by A. C. Barnard and Frank Thrans.

Knights Are Active.

For almost six years this church has had a Castle of the Knights of King Arthur, one of the finest organizations for older boys. This year membership in the Castle is to be limited to High school boys. It is the aim to make this splendid ritual and well-worked out plan of organization contribute a great deal to the development of those fine traits of chivalry, and manly valor characteristic of the famous "Round Table of King Arthur." The organization has an exceedingly large membership in the United States and has been called by those in touch with organizations of this kind, the best boys organization in America.

Special features of interest will be put in the program for this organization for this season. Shower-baths are to be installed in the church basement and regular gymnastic drill will be held. Instruction in Japanese wrestling and fencing will be given by Tamekachi Mukai, a Christian Japanese and a member of this church, who for some time gave instruction in these activities in Japan. Paul Wessel will have charge of the gymnastic work. H. F. O'Hare and G. B. Allen will assist in the Social activities. Mr. Jackson will have general supervision, as the Merlin of the Castle, and will give instruction in the High School Bible course which will be taught in connection with the Bible classes held on Sunday.

Membership Limited.

The membership in this organization will be limited to 26 boys of High school age. The requirements will be regular attendance on the convalesces of the castle and the Bible classes conducted by the church on Sunday. This will be a rare opportunity for any high school boy to belong to a splendid athletic and social organization and at the same time study the high school bible course which will give him one-half credit on his high school course. The Castle will hold its weekly convalesces every Friday night at 7:30 and its Bible class every Sunday at noon.

Strong Baraca Club.

The world-wide Baraca movement has been one of the most significant movements in the interest of young men ever started in our country. The chapter of the organization in this church has been keeping up to the motto of the movement "We Do Things" and is a wide-awake group of young men. Athletics, social life, mutual helpfulness, and a free and frank discussion of life problems in the light of the Bible. It is the aim of this club to bring in business and professional men to address it concerning subjects of interest.

ENGLISH, NOT FRENCH, "LITTLE BEGGARS" NOW

appearance of the average French private soldier.

When you come to compare him with some regiments I have seen in the English army, recruited in manufacturing cities, you are ready to reverse the old English doctrine about the three and the one.

I fixed a gauge of six feet at the Gare de l'Est and watched French soldiers passing by it, and I counted seven in ten that made it or came near.

A century and a half ago, the French, starved and oppressed under the old regime, were small and thin; the English, dwellers in an agricultural country, were stalwart and ruddy.

Today it is the emancipated Frenchman, product of the farm, the sun, the free air and sufficiency, that is stalwart, and the English city man, third generation of slum product, that is slight, thin, feeble of body and inert of will.

So vanish our formulas. The old idea that the French were mercurial, emotional, and unstable, was annihilated at the Marne and afterward; it will never be heard of again. We used to say these things of the French, and of the English say that they were steady, cool, impassive and undemonstrative. We have lived to see all the qualities of reserve and poise manifested by the French and all the temperamental qualities that we said were French now manifested by the English.

When the wounded are brought in at Charing Cross, London, 30,000 people jam the streets to make holiday, to laugh and cheer and throw flowers and dance. When the wounded come in at the Gare de l'Est, Paris, the people stand in silence with bared heads and clenched jaws.

Tramp of Fame.

Or see how wonderfully something else like this has been upset. According to tradition and the trump of fame, if there was anything in this world fixed and settled it was, first, a Briton's liberties, and second, the British constitution. It is something to strike you breathless with amazement, but the war has seen the Briton lose most of his liberties, and as for the constitution, that drifted out to sea these many months, a melancholy wreck upon the face of the waters.

Nothing has been printed about these stupefying changes, but they have happened, nevertheless. The Briton's birthright used to be freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of assembly, freedom of communication, and then, responsible government. The press is now absolutely gagged, signs in railroad cars and elsewhere warn you of what you must not talk about, meetings the government doesn't fancy are prohibited or broken up, men are fined and imprisoned for circulating criticisms of the government's policy, what answers to the press gang of a century ago grab men for the army, the mails are watched and weeded of unpleasant letters, the correspondence of the nation is furtively scrutinized, arbitrary rules govern the citizen's conduct in ways that seem to an alien both puzzling and intolerable.

There is no responsible government. The country is ruled by the cabinet, which has frankly assumed self-perpetuating powers.

The house of commons, once admired around the world as the model of a free legislature, has become lit

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which, if not eliminated every day, become a breeding place for millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can't get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

It is more than a rubber stamp for the cabinet.

These wonderful transformations have been brought about by the exigencies of the war.

But if institutions that all the world had regarded as eternal and immovable can be thus so easily overturned, are there any institutions of men that have the least security in these times of earthquake and eclipse?

MINNESOTA DEMS WILL NOT FILE STATE TICKET

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 28.—Fred Wheaton, chairman of the state Democratic committee, announced here today that Minnesota Democrats will not attempt to file their state ticket and for the first time in the history of Minnesota they will have no candidate for secretary of state, state treasurer or attorney general his fall.

William Jennings Bryan, preaching peace, prosperity and Wilson, is in a rather grotesque position. It was only a few months ago that he left Wilson with a lachrymose "God Bless You" because he feared that the leaders of the Democratic party were plunging this nation into war. Now he is going up and down the state thanking God for Wilson because, he kept us out of war.

Bryan has always been inconsistent. His political history is made up of amusing contradictions. Probably the most ridiculous is his latest role as a defender of Wilson's peace policies after that historic resignation from the cabinet.

The Commoner entered the state Wednesday at Williston and was well received at towns between there and Minot where an evening meeting was held. Yesterday he proceeded to Grand Forks where an evening meeting was held.

Senator McCumber has mapped out a vigorous campaign from now until the November election. He opened his campaign yesterday with addresses at Hillsboro and Mayville. Today he speaks at Northwood and Larimore. A portion of his itinerary follows:

Saturday, Sept. 30, Walsh county, Park River and Grafton. Monday, Oct. 2, Pembina county, Drayton and Cavalier. Tuesday, Oct. 3, Cavalier county, Cavalier.

M. on the 13th day of November, 1916, to satisfy the amount due upon such mortgage on the day of sale.

The premises described in such mortgage and which will be sold to satisfy the same are described as follows: The Northwest quarter of Section twenty-six (26) in Township One Hundred and Forty (140) North of Range Seventy-seven (77) West of the 5th principal meridian in Burleigh county, North Dakota.

There will be due on such mortgage at the date of sale the sum of one thousand five hundred and sixty-nine dollars and thirty-three cents ($1,569.33), besides the costs and expenses of foreclosure of said mortgage.

Woman Shoots Freely. "She began to shoot. The first shot struck Mr. Graveur in the left side. I tried to rush to the door, but before I could I was shot. That was all I remember."

Mr. LeDuc was introduced at the coroner's office to Miss Anna McAndrew, a sister of Mrs. Belzer. Miss McAndrew told him she could scarcely believe her sister was responsible for the tragedy.

"You can realize," she said, "that I am just as anxious to uphold the honor of my sister as you are that of your wife." The authorities said tonight that while Mrs. LeDuc is not under arrest, she is under detention.

UNION OF LUTHERAN CHURCHES DISCUSSED

Lutherans Will Hold State Conference at Fargo in Fall of 1917

The union of all the Lutheran churches of America was discussed at length at the annual conference of the German Lutheran ministers, which closed yesterday, after a three-days' session in the Trinity Lutheran church. It was unanimously adopted to make this effective during the 400th anniversary of the Reformation in 1917. Much enthusiasm was displayed during the long discussions, which took up the greater part of the Thursday afternoon session. It was also decided to hold a state conference next fall in Fargo, when the three state divisions would meet.

A large representation of ministers of this district attended and a number of fine addresses were given. Rev. T. G. Hink, president of the district, was elected chairman and Rev. Klausner, secretary of the meetings. Among those who read interesting papers were Rev. Benke of Streeter and Rev. Hartmann of Minot, the latter taking for his subject, "Materialism."

Casual happenings of the various parishes were discussed at the Tuesday afternoon session and continued Wednesday morning. Wednesday afternoon was devoted to business and Wednesday evening the visiting ministers were entertained by the young people of the church. The Ladies Aid society also assisted in the entertainment. A special musical program featured.

Yesterday afternoon an automobile tour of the city and surrounding country and a visit to the penitentiary was enjoyed. The conference closed last evening by the observance of the Lord's Supper.

AMONG STATE POLITICIANS

North Dakota's campaign is now on in earnest. Last week marked the formal opening with addresses by Congressman C. B. Miller and John Burke. This week Senator McCumber began an active campaign, William Jennings Bryan, the silver-tongued orator of the Platte, breezed across the northern tier of counties and today Senator Harding speaks at Fargo, New Rockford, Jamestown and other points. The campaign can be said to be on officially.

JOHN BURKE TALKS AT AUDITORIUM

Candidate for U. S. Senator Discusses at Length National Issues

John Burke, former governor and democratic candidate for United States senator from North Dakota, delivered an address last night to an audience of from 500 to 600 people at the Auditorium.

Mr. Burke confined himself to national issues, putting great stress on President Wilson's foreign policy, his Mexican maneuvers and the reserve bank act.

F. O. Hellstrom, Mr. Burke's opponent at the primary election, introduced him. In doing so, he gave President Wilson credit for the prosperity of the country and took up the more general issues of the campaign.
