

LOGAN DEATH MARKS PASSING OF PIONEER

Deceased Had Been Prominent in City Affairs for Past Forty Years

In the death of Austin Logan, Bismarck has lost one of its oldest and most respected citizens. For the last three years Mr. Logan had been in ill health and for the last six months was confined to his home. His death Tuesday morning was not unexpected.

Mr. Logan was born September 25, 1854, in Brookfield, Conn. He came in April, 1876, to Bismarck, where he had resided since. Shortly after coming to the capital city he engaged in the grocery and bakery business, with which he was identified until a year ago, when he sold it to his son, Roy. He also engaged extensively in the buying and trading of horses and cattle. He was known as one of the most successful business men of the city, and in his long business career he made a large circle of friends.

Served in Custer Raid.
During the famous Custer raid, Mr. Logan was one of the party who went with provisions on the wagon-train to Little Big Horn. In politics he was a Democrat, but was never active. Coming as he did in the early days of Bismarck, Mr. Logan was identified with many of the progressive movements of the city.

Member of Pioneer Association.
The deceased was one of the most active organizers of the Pioneer's Association of Burleigh County, which was formed last November. He was elected treasurer of the association and as long as his health permitted he retained an active interest in the organization.

On March 16, 1881, he was married in Bismarck to Lucinda McCulloch, whose residence here dates from 1878. Besides the widow, seven children, Mrs. Milan Ward, of near the city; Mrs. Theodore Taylor, Garrison; Dr. James Logan, of Oakes; Alex of Bismarck and Roy, Irma and Charlotte at home. One sister, Mrs. E. L. Stevens, who made her home with him, and one brother, Arthur C. Logan, of Billings, also survive.

Funeral Services Today.
Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 this afternoon in the Presbyterian church and will be in charge of Rev. Bruce E. Jackson of the Baptist church. The casket will not be open at the church, but friends may view the body at the family home in Second street, from 10 o'clock until noon.

Funeral in Chicago Today.
Funeral services for Mrs. N. E. Dolph, who died Sunday in the home of Mrs. G. B. Short, Sr., in Washington avenue, will be held this afternoon in Chicago, where the body was taken Monday night. Mrs. Dolph, who accompanied her daughter, Mrs. G. B. Short, Jr., here two weeks ago, was taken suddenly ill shortly after her arrival and later developed pneumonia. She was in her eightieth year. She was a member of one of the Methodist churches of Chicago, where she had lived for many years. The body was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Short, Jr.

The Outbursts of Everett True

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DISTURBANCE.
Last night there was a riot or something like it, in the hall of the order of Walrus. It is rumored that while trying to initiate a candidate named True, several members of the team were injured. Up to a late hour this afternoon every attempt to secure some lucid statement from various members was of no avail, the majority of them refusing to make any comment at all. The hall this morning presented a scene of extreme chaos, and every window was broken.

NEW SALEM MAN STATE'S CHAMPION BUTTERMILK

J. M. Hein Takes First Place in Dairy Commissioner's Six Months Contest

J. M. Hein of New Salem is the state's champion buttermilk-maker. Mr. Hein, of the New Salem Butter Manufacturing Co., led all competitors in the six-months contest conducted by State Dairy Commissioner E. A. Greenwood, coming under the wire with a scoring of 93.33. Tied for second place were Herman Rusch of the Rosebud Creamery Co. of Rosebud and O. S. Hagen, Farmers' Co-operative Creamery Co., Garrison; B. S. Oderkirk and C. G. Patterson. Mr. Hagen, however, had competed but three months. Mr. Oderkirk two, and Mr. Peterson only one, leaving the Rosebud man undisputed holder of second place in the six months' contest.

- The six-months contest closed with the October scoring, held in conjunction with the Missouri Slope fair at Mandan.

COLLECTIVE FEEDING REDUCES GRUB COST

Prison Saves Two Cents Daily by Serving Its Convicts Family Style

The cost of feeding prisoners at the North Dakota penitentiary has been reduced almost two cents a head by the adoption of the "family style" or serving all of the convicts at large tables, instead of individually, from trays. This is one of the interesting facts shown in a report made public by the board of control yesterday. The daily food bill at the prison is now $73.63, or 21.75 cents for each of 49 officers and employes and 289 inmates. In 1914 the average cost per day for food was 23.4 cents. The North Dakota penitentiary was the first prison in the world, states the board of control, to adopt the system of feeding the prisoners collectively at large tables, rather than individually, in their cells, or from trays. The saving in food now averages $5.75 a day. The morals among the convicts has been so improved from this system of feeding that it has been generally commented upon in penal circles and has been adopted by other large penitentiaries.

A specimen bill of fare, as served at the prison, will indicate that the convict wards of North Dakota live well. Breakfast includes German fried potatoes, oatmeal, fried liver, bread and syrup, coffee and milk; dinner, steamed potatoes, mutton stew, sauer kraut, sage pudding, bread and syrup, coffee and milk; supper, fried pork, French fried, creamed onions, macaroni, stewed raisins, bread and syrup, coffee and milk. This food is brought on in big dishes and platters; the prisoner eats as much or as little as he likes, and the general average of food consumed or wasted is less than under the old system of individual serving. Naturally, there is far less labor connected with the new plan. Of the present daily food bill of 21.75 per man, the prison farm and gardens contribute 9.42 cents daily, and 12.33 is spent for provisions outside.

BISMARCK SCHOOLS IN EXCELLENT FIRE DRILL

Buildings Emptied in Remarkably Short Time—Day Observed Throughout State

Bismarck schools observed fire prevention day by practicing a fire drill which emptied the buildings in a remarkably brief space of time. Superintendent Martin is very well satisfied with the showing made by the pupils in this first special drill, and practice will be continued throughout the year.

Day Observed Generally.

Reports being received by Deputy Fire Marshall Reade indicate that fire prevention day was very generally celebrated throughout the state. An abundance of newspaper publicity was given the day, and there was satisfactory co-operation upon the part of school authorities and others. That fires are becoming less common, in spite of North Dakota's decided annual gain in population is shown by the fact that the amount mailed to chiefs of fire departments in payment for reporting fires is $200 less this year than last. Chiefs of fire departments receive $1.00 for each blaze reported to the state department, and the vouchers sent out yesterday totaled $308 for the fiscal year.

Better Fire Departments.

The decrease in number of fires is attributed by Deputy Marshall Reade to several causes. There are more fire departments and better fire departments. The work is done principally by volunteers. Only Fargo and Grand Forks maintain full-paid departments, while partially-paid organizations are operated at Bismarck, Devils Lake, Jamestown and Minot. Fargo is the first department in the state to generally motorize its departments. With the purchase of a truck for which the city recently appropriated practically all of its equipment will be self-propelled. Minot is considering the purchase of a second truck. Grand Forks has no motor-truck equipment, but has the modernizing of its department under advisement, and with the completion of Bismarck's paving next year it is probable that all of the Capital City's fire-fighting equipment will be motorized.

Education Helps.

Deputy Marshall Reade ascribes much in fire reduction to greater care upon the part of householders and tenants, largely due to the educational effect of the annual observance of Fire Prevention day. The day is observed here in the fall, when fires are most frequent and when fires stand most in need of attention, rather than in the spring, in connection with clean-up weeks, as in many states.

BOARD OF REGENTS MEETS.

Charles Brewer, secretary of the state board of regents, is in Fargo, where today he will meet members of the board and accompany them to Mayville for a two days' session. Those in attendance at Mayville will include President Ladd of the agricultural college, President McFarland of the Valley City Normal school, President Black of the Normal Industrial school at Ellendale, President Smith of the Scientific school at Wahpeton and President Hillier of the Mayville Normal school. At Minot, where the board will be in session Friday and Saturday, President Crane of the Minot Normal school, and President

Smith of the Forestry school at Bismarck, B. Craighead, commissioner of education, will be in attendance. Dr. E. J. ... will be present at both sessions.
