BIG PER CENT OF PATENT MEDICINES SAID TO BE FAKES

Dr. Ladd of Fargo, Claims They Are Simply Means of Drawing Money From Sufferers

Fargo, N. D., Dec. 4.—Seventy per cent of the so-called patent medicines or nostrums found on the shelves of the average drug stores are practically worthless or are simply fakes and a means of drawing money from suffering humanity without giving any real benefit.

That assertion is made by Dr. E. F. Ladd, pure food commissioner and president of the North Dakota Agricultural college, in a bulletin just issued.

Big List of Preparations Dr. Ladd lists, in his bulletin, a total of over 600 preparations, from cough medicines to face powder, and in each instance he reveals the actual ingredients that go to make up the so-called "medicine," which such appendices as "fraud," "poison," "harmless," "has no real value," or "improperly labeled," and a group of others equally indicative of the actual contents of the nostrum.

Americans Easy Victims Because some man advises that in far away Africa, South America, Mexico, or some missionary in India, or some heathen tribe of cannibals in interior New Zealand, has a remedy that is a "sure cure," is not a sufficient basis for many people to believe that these products are possessed of great virtue and will ensure a "cure" for the ailments from which they are sufferers, when they will not listen to the honest advice of their family physician.

out and left the justices to stumble out of the building in pitch darkness. The order is issued at the request of Attorney General Linde, and is directed to James E. Robinson, R. H. Grace, L. E. Birdzell, Charles J. Fisk, E. B. Goss and E. T. Burke.

The order, in part, reads: "The state of North Dakota by its attorney general, having filed in this court its petition seeking and invoking its original jurisdiction in this proceeding, and original jurisdiction of this court having been hereby assumed in the premises as necessary and proper; and it further appearing to the court that Charles J. Fisk, E. B. Goss and Edward T. Burke are interested in the final settlement of the question herein involved, and are therefore proper or necessary parties to said action, and it being ordered now that they be impleaded as parties respondent in this action, now, therefore, it is hereby:

Show Cause. "Ordered that the above named respondent and each of them show cause, if any there be, before this court in session at the capitol in the city of Bismarck at 2 o'clock p. m., December 7, at which time and place this court will hear and determine all the questions, matters and issues presented under the petition accompanying this order and determine which three of said respondents are, during the month of December, 1916, legally entitled to sit and act as members of this court.

Shall be Restrained. "That upon the return of this order the several respondents above named show cause, if any there be, why the judgment of this court should not be entered adjudging a peremptory original writ to issue, confirming title in office as justices of the supreme court until January 2, 1917, and adjudging that those of the respondents whom this court shall conclude are not entitled to hold said offices during the remainder of the month of December cannot hold, occupy or exercise the functions or duties of said office during said month of December, 1916, and further requiring that such of the said respondents who are found not entitled to hold the said offices of justices of the supreme court during said month of December, 1916, and each and all of them, be restrained from exercising or attempting to exercise the duties of said office during said period of time."

Bruce and Christianson Excused. The order notes that Justices Fisk, Goss and Burke did not participate in its issuance, and that in their place there sat District Judges Charles A. Pollock, W. L. Nuessle and J. M. Hanley, who participated with Justices Christianson and Bruce, "and the court as so constituted, and without the participation of Justices Fisk, Goss and Burke, have issued this order as the order of this court; and now at this time, the order having been issued, Justices Bruce and Christianson deeming themselves disqualified to hear the matter upon its merits, signify their intention not to sit upon the hearing, and request the three remaining members of the court as now constituted for the hearing of this case to proceed and designate two other judges of the district courts of this state to sit in their stead."

The order is signed by Andrew A. Bruce as acting chief justice.
