SETTLE IT NOW.

North Dakota's educational institutions are suffering from political intrigue. The Tribune is unable to fix the blame, but the manner in which the board of regents clear up the situation will be a measure of that board's efficiency.

President Ladd may be able to serve the state better as head of the department of chemistry with supervision over the enforcement of the food and beverage acts.

WITHOUT A HITCH.

Pershing's army landed in France without the loss of a man. Carried right through the submarine zone without a scratch.

navy set its patrol forces to the real task—the conveying of merchant ships. Pershing's arrival shows what the convoy and protected sea lane will do.

A WOMAN'S PART.

Let us not deceive ourselves as to the serious part American women are to play in the war in the months to come. To say nothing of the work of nursing, of food conservation, and of preparing hospital supplies for the Red Cross, there will come the more personal burden.

There will be good-byes to be said, farewells to be spoken, in which the smiles must conceal the tears and the heartaches. No soldier at the front will perform any braver action than this.

But there will be even greater hours later, when American womanhood will be called upon to face one of the severest tests. War means wounded men and the first impulse of the loving woman is to fly to the bedside of her dear one.

The scarcity of food on the other side of the Atlantic, the dearth of ships, the danger of submarines—all these things place an absolute veto upon the desire of American women to attend their wounded.

Prices are coming down, we're told. Telling isn't enough; we'll have to see.

Chester Boyd and father motored to the capital city Sunday evening.

Lyman Harris and Senator King were in Bismarck Monday on business.

Mrs. O. H. Olson and children, who have been spending some time here with Mr. Olson, returned Monday to Mayville. They expect to return as soon as their new house is completed.

Prussianism's Medal of Honor

Saturday Evening Letter By Justice J. E. Robinson

What are the causes of judicial inefficiency? Why do courts waste time in hearing arguments without deciding cases? When in one week the judges hear arguments in 12 or more cases, why do they not write up and sign up and dispose of them during the same or the next week, so as to average at least one decision a day?

The reason is that in court business, there is no business system. Hence, the business is delayed and the work of the court is doubled. One judge writes a decision and gives a copy to each of the other judges, who should examine it and concur or dissent within a week; but after the lapse of several weeks when a conference is called, one or more judges have not examined the case and so it goes over from week to week or month to month.

To one brother judge I say: What means it that one judge is absent today? The answer is: Has he not a perfect right to be absent? I say: No, sir; he has no more right than any other hired man to steal his time and leave his work undone.

During the month of July we hope to line up and sign up on all the appeals thus far argued or submitted. That will leave about 50 appeals pending, and after an August vacation for harvesting our crops, we hope to clear the slate during the present year.

I advise you all to read and commit to memory and to repeat with the Lord's prayer the thirteenth chapter of the First Epistle of Paul to the Corinthians. It is all on charity. He writes: Charity suffereth long and is kind. Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass and as a tinkling cymbal.

Here is one of my late decisions written in the spirit of justice and charity.

State vs. Bennett. When a party offends against the law he may be punished by the law and as provided by the law, but not by destroying his property or dispossessing him of his house or home or lands.

Robinson, J.: This is an appeal from a judgment or order which is to the effect that the defendants have kept in Bismarck a bawdy house and that the sheriff take possession of the house and keep it securely locked for one year and destroy all the stoves, beds, furniture and furnishings of the house, amounting to the value of $2,000 or $3,000.

If the judgment is valid, then the most innocent party in Bismarck may be charged with the keeping of a bawdy house and at any moment of the day or night he may be thrown out of his house and home and have it locked up and his property destroyed.

to all and shall remain inviolate. No person shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself or be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor shall cruel or unusual punishment be inflicted.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated. All courts shall be open and every person for any injury done him in his lands, goods, person or reputation shall have a remedy by due process of law and right and justice administered, without sale, denial or delay.

These are among the most sacred provisions of the constitution. They can not be too often repeated. It were well to commit them to memory and to repeat them morning and evening as we do the Lord's prayer and the ten commandments.

The act declared every bawdy house to be a common nuisance, to abate which an action may be commenced by any person in the name of the state and that at the commencement of such action on an affidavit stating the offense, the judge must grant an injunction and issue a warrant commanding the officer to take possession of the house and to securely lock and hold the same to abide

Learn Some French Today. TWELFTH LESSON. PREPARED BY MME. ARCHINAUD.

Have you many aviators? Avez-vous beaucoup d'avions? Avay voo bohkoo d'aveeon? Not yet, but in a little while. Pas encore mais dans peu de temps. Pah zangcore may dans pu duh tan.

In these lessons the English phrase appears in the first line, the French equivalent in the second line, and the pronunciation in the third line. In the pronunciation key, straight lines over the letters, A and U, denote the long sound, as in "hate" and "Ude"; curved lines over these letters indicate the short sound, as in "cat" and "but"; two dots over the U indicate a sound somewhat similar to the German "ue", which Americans may approach by trying to pronounce long U and long E at the same time.

INSURANCE COMPANIES MAY BE BANISHED FOR NOT OBEYING NEW LAW. Number of Assessment Concerns Have Not Made Deposit Required by Law.

A half dozen assessment insurance companies will be prohibited from operating in North Dakota upon the return of Insurance Commissioner Olesness within a few days unless, in the meantime they deposit with the commission the $10,000 cash surety required by an act passed by the last session of legislature. To date but one assessment company doing business in this state has complied with the law.

REVIVAL OF FAMOUS OLD GOLD TRAIL IS ASSURED AT LEMMON. Definite Plans for Publicity Campaign to Be Taken Up Here in August.

Lemmon, N. D., July 7.—The revival of the famous Black Hills trail, over which in the seventies hundreds of wagon teams plied, freighting provisions and machinery from Bismarck, then the end of the nearest railway, to Deadwood and other famous camps, returning with their wagons loaded down with precious gold, was determined upon at a meeting here today of directors of the Devils Lake, Bismarck & Black Hills Trail association.

Each, N. D., July 7.—More than a score of Golden Valley farmers have agreed to donate the yield of one acre to the Red Cross fund. It is anticipated that from $500 to $1250, depending on crop conditions, will be realized from this source.
