DEADLY HAY TRACK LAYS TWO PROMINENT FARMERS BY HEELS

Cloyd Kurtz Badly Used Up in Fall—Hague Man Has Shattered Shoulder Blade

Hazleton, N. D., July 20.—The deadly hay track was responsible for two serious accidents, occurring within a few miles and within a few hours of one another at Hazleton and Hague.

At Hague, S. J. Switzer had been pulled up to the track on which his hay carrier runs, when the wheels of the trolley spread, and Switzer, with the heavy carrier on top of him, fell 37 feet.

Insurance Company Wants Farm Labor Left Out of Draft

Jamestown, N. D., July 20.—The Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance association of North Dakota concluded its annual convention here with the adoption of resolutions calling over the governor and North Dakota representatives in congress to use their influence to have farm labor exempted from draft, on the ground that experienced men and boys now on the farms cannot be satisfactorily replaced with transient labor.

BISMARCK TO BE JUNGLE TOWN

When Al. G. Barnes Big Circus Arrives Tomorrow

The only group of llamas ever educated are seen in a rare feature act in Al. G. Barnes circus coming to Bismarck tomorrow.

Imagine over 1,000 animals in one assemblage. Imagine looking into the cold, cruel basilisk eyes of hundreds of the jungle's richest treasures. Imagine yourself face to face with these hundreds of lions, tigers, leopards and others of the man-eating beasts.

Waiting Room Made Union Station When Barbara Takes Boom

Barbara, N. D., July 20.—The transition within a few weeks of a simple waiting room to a full-fledged union station marks a milestone in the growth of this once quiet little crossroads town, which is in the throes of a real boom.

Thought Draft Law Unconstitutional; Jail Changes Mind

Highwood, Mont., July 20.—Declining to register on the grounds that he believed the selective service law unconstitutional, Thomas R. Robinson, an attorney, under the age for conscription, after spending a few weeks in the county jail at Helena, changed his mind as to the constitutionality of the act, pleaded guilty of being a slacker, and drew a 100-day sentence in the Lewis and Clark county jail. He also registered.

LIST OF REGISTRANTS IN SELECTIVE DRAFT CONTINUED FROM YESTERDAY

- Editor's Note—This completes names of those registered in Burleigh county. Do not confuse this list with the ones actually drawn for service. The numbers drawn in Washington today are printed in another column and, of course, possess more significance. The following serial list of registrants in the selective draft is continued from yesterday. Each person registered should find his own number and keep it in mind until Friday, when the drawing will be made. The list will be continued until the last number, 1,798, is printed. To find his name the registrant first locates the precinct in which he registered, and then finds it in alphabetical order.
