HOME FROM VACATION—Miss Ida Kvale of the state insurance commissioner's office has returned from a two weeks' vacation at her home in Stuyvesant.

WANTS WEIGHMASTER—Citizens of Anamosa have applied to the railway commission for information as to how they must proceed to procure the appointment of a state deputy weigher, inspector and grader of weights, grades and measures under the new grain grading act. This is the first interest shown in the authority given by this act for the establishment of public inspectors in towns which provide scales and office facilities.

LISTING ELEVATORS—Miss Florence Murray of Dr. E. F. Ladd's stenographic force is engaged at the office of the railway commission in listing North Dakota's 2,200 elevators and their managers in order that Dr. Ladd may appoint his deputy grain inspectors.

WANT CAMPS CLEAN—The governor's office is being showered with petitions from women's clubs, the P. E. O. Sisterhood, the W. C. T. U., church organizations and women's societies generally, demanding that conditions surrounding camps in which North Dakota troops are mobilized and concentrated be made clean and sanitary, both morally and materially. Special emphasis is laid upon the necessity for excluding evil women and whiskey from zones in which mobilization camps and cantonments are located.

WAR HAVING EFFECT—More insane patients were committed to the state hospital at Jamestown during the year ending July 1, 1917, than during the two-year period ending July 1, 1916, stated James A. Brown of the state board of control this morning. Mr. Brown is at a loss to account for this increase in insanity, but Simon Nattel, who was president of the board of education at his home in Cartwright, McKenzie county. Inasmuch as his new job occupies all of his time, he has tendered his resignation to the school board, and now he finds that his people refuse to allow him to quit. Mr. Calderhead, as president of the board, effected a satisfactory separation of the school district from the township; cleared up indebtedness remaining after the division, and put the district in a sound financial condition, and he feels he has done enough.
