BUREAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING in Throes of Controversy.

Plate Printers' Union Charges That There Are Too Many "Trifling Girls" in the Bureau.

Washington.—A merry sex war is in progress in Uncle Sam's money factory.

The war started when the Plate Printers' union in the bureau of engraving and printing made formal charges that there were too many "trifling girls" in the bureau.

Miss Gertrude McNally, secretary of the union, declared that the records of the examining division showed that the greatest percentage of spoilage of printers' work is for "sly-wipes," "lifts" and "breaks."

"Plate printers are paid by the piece rate and in many instances the presses are speeded up for production at the expense of the quality of the work," Miss McNally stated.

It is predicted that the charges of the Plate Printers' union will result in considerable friction in the future between the printers and their assistants.

"The world owes every man a living," "Yes, and you'll find the world mighty good pay, too, if you're any kind of collector."

Two Versions of the Affair. Ruth—She told me she slapped him because he tried to kiss her good night.

The Explanation. "Why does it always have to be a dark horse to win, pop?" "I daresay, my son, because the other candidates do not think it is fair to them."

COMES BACK AND PAYS HIS DEBTS

Former Broker Whose Firm Collapsed Springs Surprise in Old Home Town.

THOUGHT IT A HOAX

But Big Checks Convince Skeptics That There Still Are Honest Men—Only Regret Is He Can't Find Them All.

Chester, Pa.—A dapper little man of 50, whose hair was tinged with gray of battles fought and lost, alighted from a train in this city recently for the purpose of driving away the clouds and mist that he feared had enveloped his name.

The Old Story. The firm's vicissitudes furnished all the color for the old story. It started out with a promising future, gathered about it a worth-while and financially well-fixed clientele.

But L. T. Layton came back here from his home in Philadelphia to pay to those creditors every penny that he owed them. Prominent business and professional men who had lost varying sums of money by the failure of the brokerage firm gathered together to receive payment in full.

IS VICTIM OF POISON

Faithful Dog Refuses to Drink From Polluted Spring, but Owner Does and Loses His Life—To Have Monument.

Los Angeles.—Lou Westcott Beck of Pasadena, Cal., and his dog, Rufus, are dead, after being partners in a work of mercy for 13 years.

During the 13 years of their partnership, the man and the dog rescued 304 persons from death by thirst and exhaustion in the great American deserts—the Colorado, the Mojave and, worst of all, Death valley.

Lost Fourteen Years Ago. It was 14 years ago that Beck, a Chicago man, prospecting in Death valley, was lost in that inferno of shifting sand, maddening heat and deceptive mirages.

It took about two hours to get through with the usual business transaction, and during the course of the conversation and settlement Layton declared that his greatest regret was that there were some former patrons of his whom he had not been able to locate.

It was a terrible trip home and when it was ended Lou Beck went to bed, never to rise again. The dog, heartbroken over the loss of his master, drooped and drooped, until now he too is dead, but with a long record of service behind him.

PRISON FOR WHIPPING BOY

Farmer Pleads Effort to Break Lad of Fibbing—Gets Twenty Months.

Peconic, N. Y.—"Thank you!" was all Samuel Sweeney, fifty-eight, a farmer, had to say when sentenced at Riverhead to not less than a year and eight months nor more than two years and six months in Sing Sing and to pay a $1,000 fine for horsewhipping a boy.

The boy, Benjamin Franklin Eubank, twelve, had taken from an institution to work on the farm. Sweeney's counsel said he was trying to cure him of telling falsehoods.

ALLOWED FATHER TO HANG

Son, Stirred by an Evangelist, Confesses That It Was He Who Killed Mother.

Ceylon, Can.—Evangelistic sermons held in his home town so stirred Arnel Love, a twenty-two-year-old farmer of Ceylon, Canada, that he went forward and declared to the evangelist, Rev. C. N. Sharpe, that he had clubbed his mother to death seven years ago because she reprimanded him for "keeping bad company."

Love's father, Henry Love, who was convicted by a jury and hanged at Owen Sound, Ontario, for the crime seven years ago, was found guilty principally through the testimony of his son, who now says he was the murderer. While on the scaffold the father made what was believed to be a confession of his guilt.

The son grew up into manhood a prosperous farmer, and the tragedy of his life was apparently buried in the oblivion of the past until he attended the evangelistic service. He told the evangelist that he killed his mother with a stick of wood and hid the body in the cellar, where it was found later.
