

RAIL STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

PREUS CONDEMNS STATE'S GOING INTO BUSINESS

Says You Might as Well Throw Money Into Fire as in Grand Forks Mill

REFUSES TO COMPROMISE

Declares That Line is Clearly Drawn Between Socialism and Cooperative Endeavor

State socialism in any form was condemned by Governor J. A. O. Preus, of Minnesota, in a speech at the city auditorium last night. He condemned socialism first as a matter of principle and secondly as being impossible of attainment of practical success.

"When I think of you people putting your money in the Drake mill in Grand Forks—I hear you are going to dump $3,000,000 more there—I think you might as well put your money in paper dollars and have them thrown into the Northwest hotel fire last night," declared Governor Preus. The declaration brought applause.

He declared the state of North Dakota cannot put a big mill in Grand Forks and "compete in milling with John Crosby. He declared there never has been a state-owned industry successfully competing with private industry."

Governor Preus devoted a considerable portion of his opening remarks to a discussion of socialism, and declared that the principles of the Nonpartisan league leaders were those of socialism, and the program mapped out by the league leaders as leading toward complete socialism.

"My objection to the Nonpartisan league and my only objection—because I feel that the farmers should have organized long ago as did the business men and the laboring men—is that it was organized by socialists and socialism has been put into operation in this state."

Names Socialist Leaders He specifically named A. C. Townley, and Arthur LeSueur, saying he understood the latter was now campaigning for the independents.

Bowen, Coates and other socialist leaders as having been leaders in the Nonpartisan league. He declared that they sought to make North Dakota the same sort of government as obtains in Russia, as, he said, Russia is the only complete example of state socialism in the world.

"Your remedy in North Dakota," he said, condemning the industrial program of the league, "is that of state socialism whereby the state shall buy what the farmer produces, manufacture it and sell the finished product. That is fundamentally your plan under the industrial commission."

He declared the problem of marketing was largely solved in Minnesota, referring to the growth of cooperative organizations, speaking especially of the cooperative creameries and the potato marketing associations. He said the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce and the South St. Paul livestock market had been opened by Minnesota law to farmers' organizations.

Fairness Toward Opponents Governor Preus reviewed his campaign in Minnesota last year. It appeared he might have a word of advice for North Dakota in it when he said that when he started his campaign he was told he could run it as he chose, because he couldn't win anyway.

"Every speaker I sent out was instructed that the moment he said an ungenerous thing about an opponent he would be taken off the stump," declared the Governor. He said there was no bitterness in the campaign from his side—that it was a discussion of principles involved.

CLEAR WEATHER IN STATE MAY CAUSE INCREASE IN EXPECTED RECALL VOTE

Prediction of T. G. Nelson for Total of 200,000 Votes, or 30,000 Less Than Last Election—If Vote on Governor is Close I. V. A. Hope to Carry Laws

ELECTION WEATHER A dispatch from Grand Forks today said rain which fell last night and early this morning stopped about 9 o'clock, leaving roads muddy but passable. Early indications were a heavy vote was being cast in the city of Grand Forks.

Fargo reported precipitation of .04 inches, not enough, it is believed, to affect the vote. Fair weather was reported in the northwestern part of the state. Roads in the southwest part were muddy but passable. The cloudy weather dissipated in most parts of the state, the weather bureau reported.

Clear weather was reported in nearly every part of the state for today's election. Ideal weather was offered in most cities to the voters and the work of the organizations engaged in getting out the vote for the election was made an easier task by the bright sunshine.

Predictions as to the extent of the vote today varied. The total vote in the last election was 229,606, the majority of Governor Frazier being 4,630. T. G. Nelson, secretary of the I. V. A., estimated that 200,000 votes would be cast, or 30,000 less than the vote for governor a year ago.

The question of the extent voters would avail themselves of their franchise was bothering all politicians. Nelson's prediction was declared too high by some politicians, who did not believe that more than 185,000 or 190,000 votes would be cast.

U. S. PLANS TO BREAK STRIKE ARE REVEALED

If Railroad Tieup Had Been Certain Action Would Have Started in Courts TO CHARGE CONSPIRACY Plan Had Been to Ask Injunctions of Federal Courts Against Strike Leads

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Complete plans to avert the most serious handicap of the railroad strike which was scheduled to begin Oct. 30, but was called off last night had been made by the government while the strike still appeared a certainty. District Attorney Clyne revealed today.

Applications for injunctions restraining the brotherhood chiefs from carrying out the strike with orders necessary to conduct these proceedings were in the hands of district attorneys throughout the country ready to be presented in federal courts.

The government program included two actions to prevent a tie-up in transportation, it was said, and a third, looking to the punishment of strike leaders through indictment for conspiracy against the public.

They were to be presented to the court 24 hours before the strike was scheduled to begin.

BATTLE OVER MILLIONS OF INDIAN CHIEF, RICHEST RED MAN IN U. S.

By N. T. A. Service. Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 28.—Jackson Barnett is the richest Indian in the United States.

That is why a fight, which has thrown the courts of two counties and federal officials into a turmoil, is being staged.

At present the chief lives, almost out in the open, in Okmulgee county. He has no use for white man's fads and fancies, but much prefers the great outdoors.

His home is a four-room shack—and he's satisfied with it. All this in spite of the fact that millions upon millions of dollars literally rolled into him when great oil gushers were discovered on his land some years ago. No one seems to know just what he is worth; he owns a million dollars worth of Liberty Bonds alone.

It is an Indian theory that a man's wealth should be disposed of before he dies—after his relatives are properly cared for.

That's where the big fight comes in. Barnett with the approval of officials has already given $1,000,000 to Bacone University, a Northern Baptist school at Muskogee, and a quarter of a million for an institute for sick Indians.

Following these gifts, it was announced that Barnett and his family were to be removed from Okmulgee county to the town of Muskogee, in Muskogee county. He was to have a $75,000 residence to take the place of his backwoods shack.

And Okmulgee county let out a howl.

County Judge Hugh Murphy, of Okmulgee, says he will not consent to the removal of Barnett's estate.

While the fight rages, as yet undecided, Barnett's guardian has petitioned the county court in Okmulgee county for permission to use $50,000 in building Barnett a home in Okmulgee county and purchasing adjoining land to establish a pony ranch.

Barnett's white wife, with whom he eloped some time ago, and his stepdaughter, have tired of the open life. They are in favor of moving to Muskogee, in Muskogee county.

HOSE IS KEPT PLAYING UPON RUINS OF FIRE

Two Streams Kept in Action All During Night to Prevent Spread of Fire

Water was poured on the ruins of the Northwest hotel building all night by firemen. Two streams of water were kept playing on the ruins.

With considerable debris yet to be burned in the fire, it was feared that if the fire should be allowed to burn itself out a sudden puff of wind might send embers flying and endanger nearby buildings. Though pretty well worn by their hard fight of yesterday morning, the firemen were divided in shifts and kept on the job.

It appeared today to be unlikely that the exact cause of the explosion or the exact place of origin would be determined. The ruin was so complete that it was impossible to make an investigation to ascertain if there was a big hole in the ground or unusual damage wrought by the explosion which preceded the fire.

UNION LEADERS CANCEL ORDERS TO QUIT WORK

Declare They Found They Could Not Strike Without Opposing Administration EVERYBODY IS PLEASSED Rail Executives and Union Men Alike Seem to Be Happy Over Decision

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—The official recall of the strike orders issued by the switchmen, trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen, were dispatched today when leaders of the Big Five flashed code messages to their general chairmen.

The chairmen will submit the messages to the locals and the official order recalling the strike will thus permeate the country in a few hours.

Similar orders probably will be dispatched today by the telegraphers' organization the only other union that had voted to participate in the strike. The vote ending the strike came last night after an all day session of the union leaders. In the afternoon a joint session was held which was addressed by Ben W. Hooper, of the labor board. Mr. Hooper's appearance before the board is said by union leaders to have marked the turning point which led to the final decision.

Mr. Hooper is said to have stressed the board's announcement that no further wage cuts for any class of employees would be considered until working conditions for that class of employees had been settled. He is also said to have emphasized the announcement of the rail executives made at Wednesday's hearing that no changes in either wages or working conditions would be sought except through the labor board as provided by law. Union men said they construed Mr. Hooper's remarks as indicating that nearly a year must elapse before wage cuts could be made effective, even if the roads should apply for them at once and the board should eventually approve them.

The final decision seemed pleasing to the union men, rail executives and the labor board alike. Union leaders pointed out that they had without opposing the labor board and the administration while they asserted their real quarrel was with the roads.

Labor chieftains asserted that their action of yesterday marked the end of all danger of a strike, as the result of the strike vote taken by the unions no walkout now being effective until a new vote is taken. No plans are being made for a new strike vote, W. G. Lee, chief of the trainmen, said.

ELECTION IN NORWAY SHOWS MANY CHANGES

Uncertain Who Shall Control the Next Government—Communists Gain

Christiania, Norway, Oct. 28. (By the Associated Press.)—The general elections on Monday gave no party a clear majority and it is impossible to predict which party or block will form the new cabinet for the new Storting which meets in February.

Out of the 150 seats the conservatives running on an anti-prohibition platform and against the government's policy of maintaining wartime restrictions secured 56 seats, the communists following the Moscow program obtained 29 seats largely at the expense of the right wing socialists. The radical left, the biggest party in the old Storting and the basis of the present cabinet lost heavily on their prohibition policy and violations of the treaties with Spain and Portugal which led to a tariff war and the complete closing of those countries to the Norwegian fish trade. Their present representation of 59 seats was reduced to 39.

One woman, Miss Karen Platou, of Christiania, was elected. She is the first woman to enter the Storting although women have had the vote here since 1907. In previous elections no woman polled enough votes to secure her a seat.
