THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER (Established 1878)

BILLION

Unless you are a congressman, preparing a tax bill, it is next to impossible to think in billions.

A billion dollars worth of gold would make a pillar six feet square and 108 feet wide. Broken up, it could be hauled only in a train of 58 railroad cars with two engines.

Does this scare a congressman? Not at all. One gets careless with a billion dollars when it is other people's money.

MARVEL

A lighthouse beacon, of 1,400,000,000 candle power and visible 140 miles out at sea, has just been built by Elmer A. Sperry, marine inventor.

This is the most powerful artificial light ever produced by man, and scientists think Sperry is "some pumpkins."

However, turn the Sperry light on in daytime and it is only a mild glow when compared with the sun. Man certainly is wonderful—until you compare him with nature.

BUFFALOES

No more danger that buffaloes will become extinct. A packing house begins raising them for meat. It starts a great buffalo ranch with nearly 1000 head, near Cowiche, Wash., paying $400 a head to get the herd started.

The buffalo forages for itself and can live under climatic conditions that kill domestic cattle.

Watch for more news about this buffalo ranch. In two more decades, the nation may be eating more buffalo meat than beef.

JAGS

Prohibition has reformed the bees, says Allen Latham, president of the Connecticut Bee Keepers' Association. He says that, in the old days, many a bee hung around the fermented dumpings from breweries and distilleries, accumulating such a "load" that they could not carry honey.

That, in a nut shell, was the real booze situation that brought about prohibition. The temperance movement was assured of success from the moment the public saw it as a problem of efficiency at work.

"NEWSUD"

The word "news" originally was formed by taking the first letters of north, east, west, south—signifying that it covered all parts of the compass.

Now that we are exploring the depths of the ocean and flying into the upper air and trying to send messages to Mars, two more directions should be added—up and down. The word "news" should be changed to "newsud."

Do you know a more important word, to the intellect? To spread news among the American people yearly requires paper equivalent to a strip two feet wide and 40,000,000 miles long.

LUCK

Frederick Gardner, a New York letter carrier, inherited $100,000. He still continues his daily rounds in the Bronx, as though nothing unusual had happened.

You probably think you would quit work if you had a stroke of luck like Gardner's. But don't be too sure about it. After idling on vacation for a few months, you would begin hanging around your old job or some one else's.

Work is the greatest joy of life, though few admit it.

LOVE

Latest excavations at Pompeii, Italian city buried by a volcanic eruption in the year 79, bring to light some love letters carved in ivory. Apparently, the ancients were not afraid of breach of promise suits, since they left such lasting evidence.

The ivory love letters remain. Their writer and his sweetheart have vanished in the dust. Somewhere, though, their love lives on. This would be a futile world if love ended at the grave. Like the soul, love is intangible and perpetual.

GERMAN GOLD PAYMENTS

Since the discovery of America in 1492, the total amount of gold that has been mined in the world is about $18,000,000,000, says the National City Bank of New York. Germany is supposed to pay an indemnity of about twice that much, in gold.

Half of the gold that has been mined since 1492 is now in the hands of banks and governments.

Of the balance, much has been lost, or hoarded in India. The rest has been manufactured into watches, gold leaf, etc.

If Germany could obtain control of every gold mine in the world, and if the mines could be made to yield at the same rate as they have since 1492, it would take Germany until the year 2779 to pay the indemnity in full.

Apparently, this has occurred to the French. They negotiate for Germany to pay in goods instead of yellow metal.

MUMMIFIED FOOD

If the railroad strike had materialized, it would have brought forth from cold storage some interesting antiques.

New York, alarmed by threat of a rail tie-up, takes inventory and finds that cold storage warehouses in that state have 17,816,998 pounds of creamy butter, 1,153,849 cases of eggs, 6,850,919 pounds of frozen beef, and a long list of other articles running into the millions of pounds.

The figures look impressive, but compare them with our big population and you find that the nation's food reserves would last only a matter of days if all trains stopped running.

FORD

The technical chief of the Manchester Motor Company, of England, announces that his company sold Henry Ford a $15,000 auto. This will furnish much ammunition for Henry's jealous enemies.

But do not overlook that it was Henry who made cheap cars available for those who cannot afford $15,000 cars.

If a man suddenly discovered how to make bread for a cent a loaf, no one would object to his occasionally eating meat instead of sticking exclusively to a vegetable diet. Let Henry ride his $15,000 car in peace.

SOUL

Did your soul exist before you were born? Theosophists think so. L. W. Rogers, president of the American Theosophical Society, says: "What you term age is only the age of your present body. The real you—that is, your soul—is millions of years old. It made its first appearance on this earth in the mineral kingdom. It next appeared in plants, then in animals. Finally it made its appearance in a human body as the soul of a man."

Buddha taught much the same thing. Something went wrong with his advertising.

HANDS

How much would you sell both of your hands for? Would you permit them to be chopped off for $60,000? That is what a jury awarded Rose Cattini, eight-year-old Brooklyn girl, whose hands were cut off by a motor truck.

Rose can put that money in the bank and draw $50 a week interest—enough to keep her, but a small compensation for going through life without hands, next worst handicap of being blind.

MYSTERY

The gentlemen who handle headache statistics as if they were feathers or soap bubbles may be able to answer this:

Why is it that the nation's bank clearings now are running larger than in 1916, yet business is worse?

Clearings in a recent week were $7,021,923,000. In the corresponding week of 1916, they totaled only $6,355,672,000.

SWEDE TOWNSHIP

All over North Dakota Swede township, in LaMoure county, is being accorded a dubious sort of credit for having cast a hundred per cent pro-league vote at the recall election last Friday. Here, for example, is a nasty fling from the Valley City Times-Record:

We have not been consulted regarding the distribution of Airdale pups but if any of the breed are left after the Waterloo of last Friday we believe that in all fairness one should be given to Swede township in LaMoure county, where they cast 100 per cent vote to retain the present socialist administration at Bismarck.

Now, the truth is that Swede township is receiving more credit than it deserves, and the people of LaMoure county more odium than they deserve. Swede township is on the mend. In the last general election Swede cast 131 votes for Frazier and one (1) vote for O'Connor. In the recall election Swede cast 127 votes for Frazier and one (1) vote for Nestos. A more casual analysis of these returns will show that the socialist strength in Swede township declined four points, while the I. V. A. vote stood up like a stone wall.

Now, assuming that an election will be held in this state once every two years, and that the socialist vote in Swede township continues to decline at the rate of four votes in each election, it is obvious that at the end of sixty-two years the socialist strength in that township will have been completely dissipated, and that in 1983 the I. V. A.'s will carry Swede township by a vote of 1 to 0.

Let us take heart and keep a stiff upper lip. LaMoure Chronicle.

WHAT STATE PAPERS ARE SAYING ABOUT THE RECALL

RECALL ELECTION.

(LaMoure Chronicle.)

The most significant thing about last Friday's recall election, and the point which requires the greatest emphasis, is the fact that the overthrow of the Nonpartisan league and the unseating of Governor Frazier, Attorney General Lemke and Commissioner Hagan was not so much an I. V. A. victory as it was a case of repudiation by the members of the league themselves. In other words, it was not the naughty town vote that put the present industrial commission out of commission, but the back-sliding league voters of the country themselves who turned the trick.

At least that is indisputably true of LaMoure county, which gave Mr. Frazier a majority of 670 in the general election of 1920, and a majority of only 182 in the recall election last Friday. The town vote cut very little figure in this tremendous slash, as a study of the comparative returns printed on the first page of this paper will show.

Take the LaMoure vote for example: At the general election in 1920 LaMoure gave 378 votes for O'Connor and 78 for Frazier. In the recall election LaMoure gave 372 votes for Nestos and 63 votes for Frazier. The independents lost 6 votes and the league 16 votes, this resulting in a net gain for the independents of 10 votes in LaMoure.

In Pearl Lake, on the other hand, Frazier received 68 votes in 1920 and 46 votes last Friday—a loss of 12 votes—while O'Connor received 12 votes in 1920 and Nestos received 20 votes in the recall election—a net gain of 20 votes for the independents. The independents made a net gain of 22 votes in Prairie township, 40 votes in Gladstone township, and so on throughout the county. The league made gains in only three precincts out of thirty-seven.

This is important and gratifying as showing that the overthrow of the Frazier-Lemke-Hagan regime was brought about by internal rather than external forces.

However, the results of the recall election afford a measure of comfort for all concerned. Frazier, Lemke and Hagan have been recalled, but the initiated laws and proposed constitutional amendments have all been defeated. Thus, so far as the "farmers' program" is concerned, the situation remains unchanged. We are to go forward in the same old bus, but with new drivers.

The Chronicle is not sure but that this is, after all, the best solution of the problem. For if the election results mean anything at all they mean that a majority of the farmers are not yet satisfied of the impracticability of their program of state industrialism, but that they had merely lost confidence in the integrity and efficiency of the men they had placed in charge of that program.

In the light of this expression of the sovereign will, the duty of the newly elected governor, attorney general and commissioner of agriculture and labor, who make up the commission which has complete charge of the industrial program is plain and unmistakable: they are to reorganize the staff, place competent managers at the heads of the various enterprises, cut out waste, extravagance, inefficiency and graft, and do their level best to make a success of the program.

In this way, and only in this way, shall we have a genuine test of the merits of state socialism. The Chronicle does not believe that this program will ever succeed, no matter how ably managed. We believe that Governor Preus was right when he declared in his Bismarck speech that no state-owned mill could ever compete with Crosby. We believe the weaknesses of public ownership are fundamental and inescapable. Given a universal monopoly, as in the case of our federal postoffice system, and of course it has the aspect of work ability. But when a single state attempts to run a flour mill in competition with a world of private industry—goodnight!

"Oh, my!" said Nancy in dismay. "Hadden't you better come into the water at once, Mr. Blenny? You'll suffocate out there in the air."

Mr. Blenny turned his round bullethead and thoughtful eyes toward them languidly, and looked at both of them at once. He had queer eyes, Mr. Blenny had. He could move them any which-way at all, and could conveniently look at the sunset and watch the moon come up on the other side of the world at the same time.

"No more than you will in the water," he answered slowly. "You're not Buck Jones, who has been rising steadily in the favor of the picture fans, is the star, and he is to present some sensational work in "Bar Nothin'"; that is unusual, even for him.

Ruth Renick is the leading lady. She is the sister of a sickly Englishman in the play, and the object of Buck Jones' affections. Miss Renick is a charming little actress, and should prove an excellent foil for the strenuous star.

AT THE REX. The story of "The Beach of Dreams," the Robinson-Cole attraction, which will be the chief attraction at the Rex Theater for two days beginning today, revolves about the unique situation which a young French girl finds herself in when a pleasure yacht on which she is traveling with a party of friends is shipwrecked on a desolate coast off the Southern Hemisphere, and she finds herself the sole survivor outside of two sailors. A few weeks later, after the death of the two men, she is left alone, and after several months of desolation the strain begins to tell. Her mind becomes weakened and she is slowly dying when relief comes from a most unexpected source.
