

A LIVESTOCK COMMITTEE OF 15 IS NAMED

American Farm Bureau Federation Brings In Its Report Today

MORE SAY FOR FARMERS

Formation of National Livestock Producers' Association Is Expected

Chicago, Nov. 10.—For the second time this year farmers of the country meet here today to consider launching of a national co-operative marketing movement. This time it is of livestock. After working nine months a farmers' livestock committee of 15 named by the American Farm Bureau Federation brings in its report today to a ratification conference representative of livestock producers.

Unlike the national grain marketing plan adopted last spring and incorporated in the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc. the livestock plan calls for no pool nor contract covering a period of years.

Establishment of a national livestock producers' association is one of the outstanding features of the program laid before today's meeting. More important yet, as the heart of the plan, is the creation of co-operative livestock commission, associations at the various stockyards, with allied stocker-and-feeder companies. Co-operative livestock commission companies, which have recently grown numerous, are to be strengthened. A program of orderly marketing is to be worked out. A transportation department is to be created. Livestock statistics are to be interpreted. In addition it is advancing public appreciation of meat as a food.

What the plan proposes to do, in short, is to greatly extend the co-operative marketing of livestock from the farmer to the packing house, to do this through a national organization, overseeing, dovetailing and working out plans, and to eventually regulate to a considerable degree the flow of livestock to market so as to prevent glut and disastrous price-breaks.

What is expected for the farmer is a larger voice in the sale of his livestock, a saving in marketing costs, a saving in purchase and sale of stocker and feeder cattle and eventually a more stabilized market. Through large numbers of farmers marketing together it is anticipated they may be able to sell to better advantage than the individual farmer does today.

If the plan is ratified today, as it is anticipated it will be, formation of the National Livestock Producers' Association is expected at this meeting. Several co-operative livestock commission houses have recently been formed, and more will be established as soon as practicable.

The livestock business runs into the hundreds of millions of dollars annually and proponents of the plan anticipate a substantial share of this but have no expectation of getting it all. Extension of the plan will chiefly affect small and inefficient privately owned livestock commission firms on the various markets, according to the committee, which says it is generally recognized there are too many of these now operating to handle the business efficiently.

The problem of orderly marketing, however, does not admit of so ready an approach. The orderly marketing subcommittee reports today that the "accomplishment of the more orderly marketing of the different kinds of livestock is a long time process. There is no easy way or any outstanding short cut."

A broad campaign of education, dependable statistical information, intelligently interpreted, organization of large numbers of producers on a strictly co-operative basis, and some regulation of conditions and volume of production are declared essential to orderly marketing.

Chairman of the committee bringing in the report of livestock marketing is C. H. Gustafson of Lincoln, Neb., who performed a similar task this spring for the farmers' grain marketing committee of seventeen. H. W. Menford, director of the livestock marketing department of the Illinois Agricultural Association, before that a professor in the agricultural college of the University of Illinois, is secretary of the committee.

MINNESOTA CREAMERIES COOPERATING

Have United to Market Products Through a Central Organization

SAVE IN FREIGHT RATES

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 10.—Creameries controlling more than half of all the cooperative creamery butter produced in Minnesota have united to market their products through a central organization, the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation announced today.

The annual output of cooperative creameries which have joined the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries association, backed by the bureau, amounts to more than 50,000,000 pounds of butter, federation officials said. The central marketing body now includes 250 creameries in 53 counties.

"Creameries with an annual output of 20,000,000 pounds will have their consolidated marketing system in active operation before the end of the year," A. J. McGuire, manager of the state association, said today.

"The cooperative creameries of 20 Minnesota counties will have their output concentrated into carlot shipments, with savings in freight rates amounting to 20 or 30 cents on every hundred pounds of butter.

The state marketing association is organizing the cooperative creameries into business districts. In two of these districts, covering Meeker,

PRES. HARDING CALLS FOR AID FOR RED CROSS

Red Cross Drive Commences On Armistice Day, Ending On Thanksgiving Day

EVERYBODY SHOULD HELP

Washington, Nov. 10.—The following statement by President Harding, urging universal support of the Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross which begins generally throughout the country Nov. 11, continuing through Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24, was issued from the White House tonight.

TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE:
As President of the United States of America and as President of the American Red Cross, I announce that the Red Cross Annual Roll Call will begin on Armistice Day, November 11, and continue through Thanksgiving Day, November 24, and I designate November 13 as Red Cross Sunday.

I recommend ministers and priests of all congregations to stress the gospel of service on November 13, and I invite and urge my fellow citizens to accept the entire period of the Roll Call as an occasion for rededication of themselves to the principles and practice of service. The American Red Cross is both the volunteer and semi-official medium through which our people may appropriately express their patriotic and humane desire to render practical assistance to their soldiers and sailors to their fellow citizens in civilian life, and to those peoples of other lands who have a human claim on the sympathetic concern of our own people.

Has Gave Faith
The American Red Cross has kept faith with the principles which gave it birth and with the obligations laid upon it by Congressional Charter—"to act in matters of voluntary relief and in accord with the military and naval authorities as a medium of communication between the people of the United States and their Army and Navy." After a notable war service, it in conjunction with the Veterans' Bureau and other activities, stands by our veterans and their families in a period of painful reconstruction, in which, as too many of us have been prone to forget, thousands are in pressing need, not only of governmental attention and assistance, but also of those supplementary acts of human kindness which only volunteer mercy can supply.

By systematic and scientific plans and equipment for relief from disaster, and by prompt response to many urgent calls throughout the past year, the American Red Cross has fulfilled another requirement of its Congressional Charter "to continue and carry on a system of national aid and to apply the same in mitigating international relief in time of peace the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods, and other great national calamities."

Medical Relief
"After liquidating its obligations of general relief to peoples of other lands who were associated with us in the great war," it has concentrated its foreign efforts on a program for the medical relief of children in Central Europe, and, from funds made available last year, it continues this work of mercy, and also contributes from its medical and hospital supplies for the work of relief in Russia which is operated under American direction.

As a result of vast and varied experience during the World War, the American Red Cross has devised and put in operation an extensive domestic health and welfare program whereby our American communities are instructed and directed in the solution of those community problems upon which the public will ultimately rest.

It is a fundamental principle of the Red Cross not to duplicate but to supplement the efforts of governmental and other agencies in the mitigation and alleviation of human suffering, and to supply the means thereto where other agencies do not exist. The call of the American Red Cross is the call of country and humanity, and I earnestly urge my fellow citizens to make that response which satisfies the promptings of a generous people.

YOUNG GIRLS NEED CARE

Mothers! Watch Your Daughters' Health Health Is Happiness

From the time a girl reaches the age of twelve until womanhood is established she needs all the care the thoughtful mother can give.

The condition that the girl is then passing through is so critical and may have such far-reaching effects upon her future happiness and health that it is almost criminal for a mother or guardian to withhold counsel or advice.

Many a woman has suffered years of prolonged pain and misery through having been the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance on the part of those who should have guided her through the dangers and difficulties that beset this period.

Mothers should teach their girls what danger comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, and from overworking. Do not let her overstudy. If she complains of headache, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, make life easier for her. She needs thoughtful care for a few years.

In all such cases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be given as it is especially adapted for such conditions. It contains nothing that can injure and can be taken in perfect safety.

Read how Mrs. Eicher helped her daughter. She says:
"At the age of sixteen my daughter was having trouble every month. She had pains across her back and in her sides. Every month her back would pain her so she could not do her work and would have to lie down. My married daughter recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I read the books which were left at my door. She took it faithfully and is now regular, and has no pain. We recommend the Vegetable Compound and give you permission to publish this letter in your little books and in the newspapers."—Mrs. KATIE EICHER, 4034 N. Fairhill St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Williams will profit by her own experience. She says:
"When I was thirteen years old I had sick spells each month and I was very backward I would bear the pain and my mother knew nothing about it. I read in the daily paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took my own spending money and bought a bottle. It helped me so much that I took it regularly after that until I had taken two bottles and I did not have any more pain or backache and have been a healthy, strong woman. I am now 39 years old and have a little girl of my own, and when she gets old enough I shall give her none other than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. C. E. WILLIAMS, 2437 W. Toronto St., Philadelphia, Pa.

For almost fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been relieving women, young and old, of ailments peculiar to their sex. Ask your neighbor about it, for in every neighborhood there are women who know of its merits.

Thousands of letters similar to the above are in the files of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., and for years such letters have been published. Surely it is worth your while to make a fair trial of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.
