N. P. DECLARES IT HAS SOLVED LABOR PROBLEM

Won't Accept Baltimore Plan and Claims Shops Are Efficient

BIG SYSTEMS SIGN UP

Hearing on Injunction Continues and Must End Thursday or Writ will be Quashed

Chicago, Sept. 18.—With numerous railroads continuing to ignore the Baltimore settlement plan, several other roads, including a few big systems, today restored jobs under the Warfield-Jewell truce to shopmen who struck eighty days ago.

Striking shopmen on the Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroads, the principal Western roads involved in the partial settlement of the shopcraft strike, generally were returning to work today on those systems, officials said, without any trouble.

While these roads were continuing to stand by the so-called Baltimore agreement, the New York Central and Southern Railroads originally parties to the agreement, continued to stand aloof after demands by the strikers which the road officials were not covered by the agreement.

The Baltimore and Ohio, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha, and Green Bay and Western were other roads whose employees were reported returning to work under the agreement.

Some Remain Out Other Western and Eastern roads not involved in the settlement plan continued to remain outside the settlement, maintaining their shops were sufficiently manned.

Trouble among employees of the Chicago and Northwestern and Chicago-Milwaukee & St. Paul apparently had been adjusted today and the men generally were reported returning to work.

At Chicago and adjacent shops of the Chicago and Northwestern, virtually a normal force was at work today, it was said at the general manager's office.

Difficulty Disappearing R. C. Gaeth, system federation chairman, said the difficulties in getting the men back to work on the Northwestern lines generally were disappearing.

Similar conditions were reported on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, E. F. Greer, vice president, said men were returning to work all over the system. Virtually all strikers were back to work today, Mr. Greer said.

There were no new clashes between union and non-union men such as occurred at some of the Chicago shops of the Northwestern and the Milwaukee roads on Saturday.

Among the roads which accepted the Baltimore plan for settlement of the strike were the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul; the Chicago and Northwestern; the Baltimore and Ohio; the Seaboard Air Line; The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha; and the Green Bay and Western.

Roads announcing they had solved their shop problems through employment of new men and former strikers previously taken back and organized into new shop unions, included the Chicago and Alton; the Illinois Central; Chicago Great Western; Northern Pacific and Union Pacific.

FRANK ROBERTS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT HUNTING

Receives Eleven No. 4 Shot From Shotgun While Hunting Ducks in Kidder Co.

RUSHED TO BISMARCK

Believed Danger Will Not Result Unless Complications Should Develop

Franklin Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Roberts, today is carrying 11 no. 4 shot in his body, received accidentally from the gun belonging to Major J. H. Hanley of Mandan, while they were hunting at Woodhouse pass, near Tuttle, in northwestern Kidder county.

While the injury is painful it is not believed that it will result seriously unless lockjaw, blood poisoning or penetration of the intestines by the shot should develop. It is feared the accident may prevent the return of Franklin to his studies at the State Agricultural college at Fargo at the opening of the fall term and keep him from playing football.

The accident is the first reported since the opening of the chicken and duck shooting season Saturday morning, which sent hundreds of hunters into the fields in North Dakota.

Franklin and his father were probably 60 feet from the party of Major Hanley when the gun was discharged. It is said that the gun was lying on the ground at the time, was discharged by a wounded duck flapping against it. Franklin received the charge of the gun in his chest, stomach, thigh, knee and right hand and arm. Eleven penetrations were located by physicians.

Immediately after the accident, which happened Saturday afternoon about 1 o'clock, the injured man was taken to Tuttle, but the physician at that place had just left and he was rushed to Bismarck in an automobile, a remarkably fast trip being made. Dr. M. W. Roan located 11 penetrations and treated him.

Just a moment before the gun was discharged Franklin was in a stooped position, and had he not changed the position he probably would have received the charge of the gun in his face.

Belief is expressed that the excellent physical condition of Mr. Roberts prevented the injury from being more serious and perhaps fatal. Mr. Roberts has devoted much time to amateur boxing and physicians say the strengthening of the abdominal muscles caused a resistance to the shot which may have saved penetration of the intestines.

Anti-tetanus serum was injected. Mr. Roberts did not go to a hospital and was able to be about yesterday, it being hoped that with continued exercise the shot will work out of the body. Some of the penetrations are one and a half to two inches. Mr. Roberts described the accident as feeling the same as if he had suddenly been hit with much force by pins of hot iron.

POSTMASTER ROUTES FOUR BANK ROBBERS

Newburg, N. D., Sept. 18.—Four robbers, attempting to force an entrance to the State Bank of Newburg early yesterday morning were routed by two loads of buckshot fired by H. E. Martin, postmaster, who resides next door to the bank.

Mr. Martin heard the yeggs when they attempted to blow open the vault door with nitro-glycerine and taking his shotgun, stepped to the door of his home and fired twice at the outer guard of the robbers, who were standing in front of that institution. It is believed that the man was wounded.

No loss was obtained, bank officials stated today. The yeggs rushed out of the bank and loading into their automobile, sped down the street, firing several shots at the spot where they believed Mr. Martin was, and also at a building where a light was burning. It is believed that the men are members of the same gang which has been terrorizing border towns in Southern Saskatchewan.

Crews of Men Hold Ventilating Doors to Prevent Resumption of Fires. Crew Wins $5,000 Reward.

SEARCH BEGINS. Jackson, Cal., Sept. 18.—Search for live men or dead bodies in the Argonaut will be started shortly after 12 o'clock noon, it was announced at 10:30 o'clock in an official bulletin.

In the meantime the rescue workers will finish timbering up the top of the opening of the two mines. The opening between the Kennedy and Argonaut mines has been timbered up and two men have gone through into the 4,200-foot level of the Argonaut at 11 a. m.

(By the Associated Press) Jackson, Cal., Sept. 18.—The opening connecting the Kennedy mine with the Argonaut workings where 47 men have been entombed 22 days, has been enlarged to the full size necessary for the passage of the rescue crews, it was announced officially at 6:45 o'clock this morning.

The great force of the draft blowing from the Kennedy into the Argonaut, the rescue officials declared. Crews of men were holding the ventilating doors on the 3,600 foot level of the Kennedy closed in order to prevent the draft from rekindling the fire in the Argonaut.

The absence of cave-ins would permit the rescue workers under Byron O. Pickard of the United States Bureau of Mines to enter the Argonaut as soon as the debris had been cleared away from the connecting vein.

As soon as the second, or "reserve" squads of rescue workers enter the Argonaut they will build bulkheads to check the draft from the Kennedy. Win $5,000 Reward. Formal announcement was made that the crew on the 3,600 foot level, all members of which are Argonaut miners, had won the $5,000 bonus offered by the mine officials to the first crew to break into the Argonaut.

The drill hole connecting the Kennedy and Argonaut mines was enlarged to 16 inches in diameter within an hour after it had been opened, it was announced officially. Take Two Men. The draft from the Kennedy into the Argonaut mine was so strong two men were required to keep each door closed in the 3,600-foot level of the Kennedy.

A hole has been drilled from the Kennedy mine to the Argonaut mine, where 47 men have been entombed for more than three weeks. The hole penetrated the Argonaut workings shortly after 5 a. m. It was expected several hours would elapse before rescuers could penetrate the Argonaut workings. Announcement that the hole had been drilled into the Argonaut workings was made by E. C. Hutchinson, president of the Kennedy mine and milling company, through whose workings the rescue work is being conducted. Hutchinson (Continued on Page 3)

100,000 MEN IDLE DUE TO COAL PRICES

Ford Motor Company Closes Down Until Fuel Supply Increases

(By the Associated Press) Detroit, Mich., Sept. 18.—Upwards of 100,000 persons today entered upon a period of idleness, and the Ford Motor Company plants were deserted except for caretakers, for the first time in months.

Henry Ford maintained his task was to obtain fuel at what he considered was a reasonable price. No statement had been made by the manufacturer today as to probable duration of the suspension of work at his plant, but Edsel B. Ford, president of the company, voiced the hope that a way out of the fuel difficulty might soon be found.

Whether the reported plan of the chamber of commerce of the United States for a nation wide cooperative agreement among manufacturers would aid the Ford company still was in doubt. As outlined here the plan is in agreement with Mr. Ford's stand in the coal situation, to the extent that it would provide against undue price inflation as well as for transportation to all industries, large and small, of enough fuel to keep them in operation.

HALL'S DEATH WITH WOMAN IS MYSTERY

Minister of Fashionable Church Found Death With His Choir Leader

QUESTION WIFE TODAY

Investigation Centers Around Movements of Close Relations of Deceased

(By the Associated Press) New Brunswick, N. J., Sept. 18.—The question where the Rev. Edward H. Hall, rector of the fashionable church of St. John the Evangelist, and his choir leader, Mrs. James Mills were slain, shared almost equally in interest with that of by whom they were slain as authorities of two counties began today their third day's inquiry into the mysterious double murder.

Detectives were not convinced that the rector and Mrs. Mills met death beneath the apple tree where the bodies were laid out as if for burial. Mills, the widower of the tragedy, Mrs. Hall, the widow, and her brother, Wm. Stevens, were the figures about which the investigation revolved.

All three were expected to be questioned today. Mrs. Hall for further details of her unexplained wanderings in the early hours of Friday morning shortly after the murders are believed to have been committed; Mills for the story of his wanderings at the same hour, and Stevens for further light on his unexplained prediction on Friday morning that "something terrible is going to happen."

Enters Rectory Mrs. Hall admitted last night that she was the woman in the polo coat whom witnesses said of passing across the rectory about 2:45 o'clock on Friday morning. She was quoted as saying that she had gone to the church, accompanied by her brother, seeking her husband who had not come home the night before. Stevens refused to say whether he was with her. Witnesses did not see him return to the rectory.

Mills also has told the authorities of having visited the church in a quest of his missing wife at about the same hour that Mrs. Hall said she was there. He regarded it as strange that he had not seen her nor Stevens but hazarded the opinion that they "might have visited different parts of the church."

Clothes Undisturbed The theory that the rector and his choir leader had been slain elsewhere and the bodies removed to Somerset county to complicate the investigation, was based chiefly on conditions at the spot where they were found. Although tender notes believed by the authorities to have been written by Mrs. Mills to Mr. Hall were strewn about the bodies, the minister's frock was neatly buttoned up the front and all of his clothing was as immaculate as when he had first donned it. Even his eye glasses were carefully adjusted on his nose, though his hat was over his face.

Mrs. Mills' body too was carefully laid out. Not a crease of her plaited skirt was disarranged. Her hands were folded across her breasts and her scarf was draped across the face.

Turkish National Army Reported to be Very Near Section About Dardanelles

(By the Associated Press) Constantinople, Sept. 18.—The entire British Atlantic fleet is being sent to reinforce the Mediterranean squadron for the protection of Constantinople and the Straits of Dardanelles.

This undoubtedly will create the most formidable armada of warships ever assembled in an area of like size, embracing the most modern dreadnaughts, battle cruisers, destroyers, submarines and air craft carriers.

British officials here feel confident that if the allied land forces are not sufficient to check an attack on the Dardanelles by the Turkish Nationalists, the combined fleet, together with French and Italian war vessels will be more than adequate.

There is an increased feeling of security among the population of Constantinople as a result of Great Britain's energetic measure. The highest military authorities declare the Turks will not commit the folly of opposing such overwhelming forces.

Application has been made to the metropolitan police bureau to reduce the hours to less than five hours.
