

WILL PETITION FOR SCHOOL IN THE WEST END

Patrons to Ask School Board To Take Steps For New Building

Petitions will be circulated vigorously in a few days asking the city school board to take the necessary steps to erect a school building in the western part of the city. A building to at least take care of pupils of the first five grades will be asked.

The school city owns a block between Avenue A and Avenue B, west of Anderson street, in River-view. It is on this ground that the petitioners will ask the building be located.

One of these behind the movement declared that it was simply too far for small children living in the western part of the city to walk to the Will school, some of them having to go more than 15 blocks. There has been some talk among patrons of getting a bus to carry them.

The schools of the city, too, it was said, are overcrowded, some teachers having as many as 50 or more pupils in a room. It also is declared by petitioners that some people have moved out of the western part of the city because of the lack of school facilities.

The petitions will be presented at the next meeting of the school board on January 9.

MAY PLANT WHEAT AND FLAX IN SAME SOIL

Minneapolis, Dec. 19.—Further experiments to determine the feasibility of planting wheat and flax together will probably be conducted in various parts of Minnesota, especially in the southern and southeastern portions, as a result of conference at the university farm yesterday of national, state and University of Minnesota specialists, with representative of large American companies, users of linseed oil.

Although experiments conducted at Red Wing and university farm show a slight advantage in the combined planting, in regions where farmers find it profitable to grow these two crops, officials of the university's agricultural extension division will call another conference to decide if they are to advocate the method to farmers, they said today.

In Goodhue county, it was pointed out, wheat and flax are being sown together, at the rate of 28 pounds of flax and 30 pounds wheat to the acre. The combined planting, it was

CITY ARMS PIPES TO SECURE ITS HEAT SUPPLY

Drumwright, Okla., Dec. 19.—Unarmed guards were on duty on the outskirts of the city today at the gate valve on the pipe line to the Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, with instructions from Mayor W. E. Nicodemus, to keep the flow of gas going through an unauthorized connection, the only means thus far found by which the city can be supplied with an adequate amount of fuel.

Twice the gas company has closed the valve, protesting that the action of the Mayor in tapping their line is unlawful, but each time the Mayor has reopened it.

Mayor Nicodemus points out that an emergency exists because of the inability of the local distributor to provide a sufficient supply of the fuel to consumers. Hospitals have been dangerously affected by the lack of heat since winter set in, the Mayor declared, schools have been forced to close and the populace in general has suffered.

"We have plenty of gas today, however, and we are going to keep it or know the reason why," the Mayor added.

GRANDCHILD HAD CROUPY COUGH

"My grandchild could get no relief whatever from a very bad croupy cough," writes Peter Landis, Meyersdale, Pa., "until I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar. It is a great help for chest and throat trouble." Coughs, colds, croup, throat, chest and bronchial irritations quickly relieved with Foley's Honey and Tar. Contains no opiates—ingredients printed on the wrapper. Stood the test of time serving three generations.

JUDGE NUESSELE BANQUETED BY STUTSMAN BAR

Members Review His Work On District Bench in Fourth District

Jamestown, N. D., Dec. 19.—A farewell banquet was given Judge W. L. Nuessele, of Bismarck, Saturday afternoon by the members of the Stutsman County Bar, as a testimonial of the high esteem and appreciation in which the judge is held by the bar of this city and county; also taking the opportunity to congratulate him, and the people of the state, on his elevation to the supreme bench. The dinner was at the Gladstone Hotel and after its conclusion Attorney Will Ayler announced that the occasion was a special meeting of the local bar, for the purpose above noted.

Judge S. E. Ellsworth presided as toastmaster, announcing that this official meeting of the county bar association was held with mingled feelings of regret and congratulation. He stated that twelve years ago Mr. Nuessele, then a practicing attorney at Washburn, was undergoing the same difficulties engaged, in the same endeavors for his clients, and working under the same conditions, as the other lawyers of a rural community or small town. That his early course as an attorney was then marked with a distinct recognition by those who knew him, of the same high ideals and fairness which have emphasized his career after being elected to the bench of the district court.

That the judge has established a reputation among the attorneys of the district for being not only a capable and fairminded jurist, one who adhered closely to the high standards of professional ethics, but who also displayed the human side in his course upon the bench; that he was most courteous in his attitude toward the bar and at all times was a gentleman whom everyone was pleased to know. That during Judge Nuessele's ten years on the district bench, and during the last four years of which he had presided at terms in the fourth district, his conduct had endeared him to the lawyers and to the people with whom he had come in contact. That he was a just judge, of the right judicial temperament; that his elevation to the supreme bench was a matter of congratulation, and a source of gratification to the members of this bar, and would no doubt be so proved in the future to the people of North Dakota generally.

Salvation Army Ladies' Aid will hold a fancy work and food sale in old J. I. Roop store 5th St. Thursday afternoon and evening. Coffee and doughnuts served.

UGLAND TO BE ARRESTED AT PRISON

North Dakota Banker Who Leaves Leavenworth Must Answer Charge

(By the Associated Press.)
Fargo, N. D., Dec. 19.—David H. Ugland, former banker of Knox, N. D., serving a sentence of one year and one day in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas on a charge of using the mails to sell forged notes valued at $230,000 to banks in North Dakota and Minnesota will be released from the prison today according to information received by M. A. Hildreth, U. S. district attorney here.

Ugland will be rearrested as soon as he leaves the penitentiary, Mr. Hildreth having sent a warrant last week to officials in Kansas.

Under the new indictment Ugland is alleged to have sent three bogus checks through the mails while out on bail on the forged note charge. The three checks were supposed to have been sent to a Chicago mail order house for payment of goods purchased. Two of the alleged forged checks were written on the Union National Bank of Minot, and carried the names of C. M. Hanson and C. H. Anderson. They were sent on January 14, 1922. The third check, written on the Scandinavian American Bank of Minot and signed with the name of C. H. Doole, was sent on January 20.

BANKER ADVISES D. B. C. COURSE

Miss Lillian Matson's banker told her to avoid a short, "easy" stenographic course, and go to Dakota Business College, Fargo, N. D. She did. Now she has a fine position with the Northern Trust Co., Fargo. Bankers know that D. B. C. graduates are thoroughly trained, make splendid dependable employees. Nearly 700 banks employ "Dakota" graduates. About 226 have become executives, 40 being women.
