TO OUR PATRONS.

With this issue Mr. Kessler retires from the management of the ARDMOREITE and Mr. R. S. W. Parker takes control. Mr. Parker is the only one authorized to collect or receive moneys. He will contract for advertising and assist and superintend the city editorial work.

Mr. Parker stands high with the printing and publishing fraternity, is a brother of T. H. Parker, the jeweler of Ardmore, and we speak for him a pleasant and prosperous relationship with Ardmore.
D. P. CLOYD.

The Ardmoreite is giving the town a spicy, newsy evening paper, well worth a living patronage.—Chieftain. Thanks for the compliment.

The Alliance Courier says we are a Hobo and tramp, Long and lank, To hunger are inclined, Our whiskies are dark, Blind without a spark, And we grew from a "punkin" vine.—Selah.

BUSINESS men of some towns will say to their daily paper "why don't you boom the town, talk up the railroads, say something about the new buildings that are going up and the strangers that are in the town."—Tecumseh Herald.

Yes, you are right. Many business men want a paper to boom their town from early until late, but they never advertise an inch in ten years.—Purcell Ter., Topic.

Those who do not advertise or do anything else to sustain a daily paper get full benefits at the expense of the paper and the enterprising citizens who support and keep it alive. They are drones in the hive who, while they get something for nothing, are always the "biggest kickers" about how a paper should be run. They are always going to help the good work on in a few days but not to-day, you know. The burden of building up a desirable place for homes and business nearly all falls upon the shoulders of a few enterprising men in every town and city. This rule applies with equal force to the history of all commercial points or desirable places for residence.

WE were paralyzed when the Alliance Courier informed the citizens of Ardmore, without catching its breath, that we were running a red hot democratic paper, and in the next breath that we had hoisted at our mast-head the cardinal code and platform and principles of the populist. We want to hire somebody to teach us. Shades of the departed protect us from the scathing lightnings and logical deductions and reasonings of the Ardmore King of Journalism.

It is again reported that the Cherokee bonds have been negotiated. London capitalists have been given until today to put up $100,000 forfeit, the remainder to be paid as soon as the bonds are turned over to the National bank of Commerce of St. Louis.

THE recent campaign in New York has demonstrated one fact—that is at least worth more than any temporary victory—that fact is that the intelligent voters of this country are becoming more independent and less partisan every year.

The man who feels no sympathy for any mortal save his own race or family is simply a bob-tail brute. He has done more to retard civilization and justice than any other public enemy has done.

Following are the appointments for the Ardmore district made at the late Vinitia general conference: Ardmore district, A. C. Pickens, P. E.; Ardmore station, Frank Naylor; Thackerville and Marie ts, P. B. Hick; Leon and Burneyville, J. W. Holland; Terrel and Ryan, L. H. Stuckey; Duncan and Comanche, E. F. McClanahan; Lebanon circuit, D. E. Shaffer; Elin, J. H. Bradshaw; Mannsville, J. T. Armstrong; Washita, Wm. Hawkins; Wilson, W. F. Swift; Maricotta, to be supplied; Berwyn, L. L. Thurston; Lone Grove, J. L. Yelton; Simon, J. C. Seivally; Dixie, J. H. Godfrey; Overbrook, T. C. Ely; Grady, E. M. Garrett; Woolsey, D. P. Wilburn.

If you want a square meal get to the Caddo Restaurant and Short order house on north Caddo street across the street from Post office. Fish, oysters, sausage, soups of all kind and chillie cali and see me. I will treat you right.
H. M. Archer.

Farmers should exercise great care when in Ardmore to avoid sharks who are always on the alert for opportunities to beat them in any way possible in order to get their money.

C. B. Ladd's new cook has returned and the rush to the Central hotel is something wonderful to behold. 2t

A rich rare and racy suit has been filed against a prominent citizen of Wynnewood by a married woman of the same place, the nature of which forbids its publication.

The best line of dress goods ever shown will be sold from 25cts up and furnished with the latest style of trimmings free of charge at the Iron Store. 1w

The jury in the case of Miss Nanue Campbell against the railroad company, returned a verdict for plaintiff and assessed the damages at five hundred dollars. The case will be appealed.

Have you seen Russell's line of overcoats they are daisies and very cheap. tf

Deputy marshal Perry of the Ardmore court and Stewart of the Paris court run upon a band of whiskey peddlers near the mouth of Mud Creek Tuesday night and were given a running fight in which about a dozen shots were harmlessly exchanged. The peddlers escaped with their goods.

THE CITY.

Mr. Frost of Dougherty was in the city to-day.

WANTED—Seventeen young men hoisted at the Peak Sisters.

Judge B. D. Davidson, of Purcell, is in the city, on legal business.

Young men take front rows at the Peak Sisters for the benefit of the Presbyterian church.

To-day was Ardmore day at the Gainesville fair. Quite a number of our people attended.

The south bound train last evening was crowded to its utmost with passengers going to Gainesville to attend the fair.

The Purcell Register and Territorial Topic are two valued exchanges which first made their debut to our sanctuary to-day.

Doctors T. E. Brents, and G. J. Wilson of Davis are in the city. They report times good and their town rapidly improving. They return home to-night.

Sheriff Bell, of Brown county Texas arrived in the city yesterday bearing requisition papers for Charley Messick wanted for cattle theft. Messick it is learned jumped his bond in April, since which time he has been living near Elk, this nation. Judge Stuart granted the requisition and in company with deputy Pulliam Mr. Bell proceeded to Elk last night. Messick was found without trouble and was not surprised in the least when the papers were served on him. The officer and prisoner will leave on the six o'clock train for Brownwood.

The card of architect Clarence B. Douglas, formerly of Gainesville and Dallas appears in this issue.

Go to Harshaw's for your meals only 25 t-f

This is the only paper that carries the Ardmore markets. They are corrected daily by the business men of Ardmore.

The Chieftain deserves great credit for its enterprise in bringing out Judge Stuar's decision. The Chieftain boys got up one of the best weeklies in the Territory this week.

A man in Guthrie O. T. died yesterday from the effects of over eating. The trouble in Ardmore, especially with the journalistic craft is in getting enough to eat to keep their alive.

O. S. Baily can be found at Hall & Ryan's drug store. South Main street. Mr. Baily is city sanitarian. It may prove cheaper to employ Mr. Baily than a doctor. n3 t

Robber H. Hennington, of Raysville was brought to town to-day by deputy marshal Burns. He was arrested on an indictment charging him with selling bitters. Bond was given and prisoner released.

Last night's robbery of Mr. Franklin was the first hold up which has occurred. Last night was the first occurrence of the kind during the season; but notwithstanding this fact it behooves farmers and strangers generally to keep a sharp look-out for approaches from strangers.

The Central Hotel always has a rush but is ever ready to serve its customers.

Mrs. S. A. Kendig of Gainesville Texas is here to conduct an entertainment for the benefit of the Presbyterian church. The play selected is entitled The Peak Sisters. It will be rendered Tuesday evening Nov. 14 at the opera house.

Motion for a new trial in the case of Tyler convicted of obtaining property through false pretensions, was argued before Judge Stuart this forenoon. The court reserve its decision until tomorrow morning.

Bill Burgess was arrested to-day by deputy Little charged with robbing the man Franklin mention of which appears elsewhere. He is having a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Gibbons this afternoon. Circumstances indicate that the right man is in tow.

Judge Stuart on motion to-day released Julius Conway who was serving jail sentence for theft of some blacksmith tools. From everything connected with the circumstances surrounding the case the court became convinced that an injustice had been done the defendant and acting on that conviction the sentence was reduced to fifteen days imprisonment with deductions for time served.

Consult the city sanitarian, O. S. Baily, at Hall & Ryan's drug store South Main street, in regard to any work in his line you may need. tf

Go to the Cottage Home Hotel for a good square meal. tf

Rev. Frank Naylor, Pastor.
Sunday school at 10 A. M.
Joe M. London, Supt.

Last night J. Franklin a farmer living near Leon was robbed of fifty dollars north of the depot. It seems that he was in an intoxicated condition and was induced by two unknown men to accompany them to the place where the robbery was committed. Franklin claims that he was drugged and says he can recognize the men who robbed him. The matter is in the hands of the officers and the offenders will doubtless be run in.

AN INGENIOUS STUDENT.

He Did Not Permit Class Work to Interfere With His Athletics.

A former student of Yale tells the following story at the expense of President Porter: In one of the class divisions was a young fellow active in athletics who found it difficult to blend proficiency in baseball with the forty pages of advance and review which made up the normal day lesson in Dr. Porter's bulky volume on "Human Intellect."

Taking advantage of Dr. Porter's easygoing recitations, the young fellow hit on the following device: He divided the forty pages into eight sections of five pages each. For each section he prepared an answer, usually based on a suggestive line or two, sometimes evolved purely from inner consciousness.

At recitations he simply watched Dr. Porter turn the pages, basing his answer absolutely on the pages turned. From pages five to ten meant answer No. 2, from pages twenty-five to thirty answer No. 6, and so on, not the slightest attention otherwise being paid to the question. The young pioneer in psychology, who rattled off the answer with all the flexibility of speech and earnestness he could command, always met a gracious smile from Dr. Porter, and found subsequently by this audacity he had secured a stand in psychology among the first half-dozen in the class.

Years after he met Dr. Porter and explained the trick and the result. The president turned the thing prettily: "Mr. Blank," answered he, "if you got eight ideas out of each forty pages of my 'Human Intellect,' you got so many more than most of your class, that you deserve your stand."

DAUGGETT'S SILVER.

A Presentation Service Which Was Lost for Twenty Years.

A famous tea set of silver, which cost $1,500, and was presented to John Daggett, now superintendent of the San Francisco mint, in 1872, was placed soon after for safe-keeping in custody of a firm in that city. Thirteen years later Mr. Daggett went for his silver. The box was not to be found.

The senior member of the firm admitted that he "remembered the chest as well as if he had screwed down the lid yesterday."

"I have the screw-driver yet," he added. Safes, cellars, lofts were ransacked, but no chest with a screwed lid was found. Then appeal was made to the courts. The case was shuttledcocked from one to another for seven long years.

The other day the junior partner of the firm dusted an old, unmarked box, which the traditions of the establishment said belonged to people by the name of Ober, who lived in Oakland. It's been here twenty years or more," said he; "I'll see what there is in it." The lock was rusty and a mechanic was called in. Opened, the box revealed Daggett's silver service. It was in the original box and packing. And several men had sworn in court that that lid was screwed down in their presence.

A Big Shower of Meteors.

Of the 14 huge masses of meteoric iron which fell on a spot less than 66 square miles in area, near Fort Duncan, Mexico, the largest is bee-hive shaped and is buried five feet in the soil and rises four feet above the surface. The second mass in point of size has been moved to the national museum at Washington. It weighs over 4,000 pounds. The other 13 pieces weigh from 97 1/2 to 650 pounds. The whole mass of fragments as mentioned above are scattered over an area of 64 square miles with Fort Duncan at about the center of the point of dispersion.

FROM OVER THE WORLD

A General Summary of News Condensed and Clipped From Our Daily Exchanges.

The question of annexing Hawaii is again being agitated.

McKinley for the presidency in 1896 is being extensively agitated by the republican press of the country.

The San Francisco Chronicle says that Tuesday's election was plainly a repudiation of President Cleveland and his policy.

Two trains on the Rock Island in the suburbs of Chicago collided yesterday in which three people were killed and eleven injured.

Bise's defeat for governor of Ohio has removed him as a possibility for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in '96.

The two assigned causes for Democratic losses, from that party's standpoint of view, are a dissatisfaction among the agricultural elements and the apathy of disappointed office seekers.

End one of the new cities in the strip came near being the scene of a wholesale lynching last night. A gang of desperadoes came down and terrorized some of the people by ordering them to vacate their premises. The gang were finally arrested and but for great vigilance would have been mobbed.

A dispatch to the Dallas News says: The greedy aldermen of Chicago actually fought over the chair of the assassinated mayor while it was yet shrouded with funeral crape in efforts to carry out political schemes that were arranged for while services were being held over the dead body of the murdered mayor.

A dispatch from Washington says: "A commission headed by ex-Senator Dawes, of Massachusetts, former chairman of the senate Indian affairs committee, will in a short time, receive instructions from the interior department and will go to the Indian Territory to talk statehood matters to the five civilized tribes.

John Poff, aged 70, residing in the Chickasaw country west of Purcell met with death in a peculiar but horrible manner a few days ago. He was working in a cornfield smoking a pipe when his long gray beard took fire from a spark from his pipe and the fire was communicated to his clothes and the corn husks lying about and before help could arrive he was burned so badly that he died in great agony.

Architect Clarence B. Douglas, formerly of the firm of Bristol Clark & Douglas of Dallas and Gainesville Texas, has returned to the south after and absence of five years in Washington and located in this city where he will follow his profession; Mr. Douglas is well known to the old residents of this section by his connection with much of the best work in north Texas, and as in his previous localities will no doubt impress his individuality on this city with many pretty and substantial monuments to his skill as an Architect.

We call the special attention of the public to our job office. We are prepared to do job work at as low figures, and as nicely as any office in town.
